A Bill to regulate the Procedure of the High Courts in the exercise of their Original Criminal Jurisdiction, and for other purposes.

Whereas it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to the procedure of the High Courts in the exercise of their original criminal jurisdiction, and to extend certain parts of the Code of Criminal Procedure to the Courts of the Police Magistrates and to the Police of the Presidency towns; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

1. This Act may be called "The High Courts' Criminal Procedure Act, 1873."

Short title.

It extends to the whole of British India;

Local extent.

And it shall come into force on the first day of January 1874.

Commencement.

2. The enactments mentioned in the schedule hereto annexed are repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of the said schedule, but not so as to revive any practice thereby abolished.

Repeal of enactments.

And all rules made under any of the said enactments shall be deemed to have been made under this Act, so far as they are consistent herewith.

3. In this Act—

Interpretation-clause.

"High Court" includes all High Courts established or to be established under the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth of Victoria, Chapter 104, the Chief Court of the Panjáb, and such other courts as the Governor-General in Council may from time to time declare to be invested with the powers of a High Court under this Act; and

"High Court."

"Chief Justice" includes also the Senior Judge of a Chief Court.

"Chief Justice."

"Clerk of the Crown" includes also a Crown Prosecutor and any officer specially appointed by the Governor-General in Council or by the local Government to discharge the functions given by this Act to the Clerk of the Crown in respect of any sittings of a High Court in a place other than its usual place of sitting.

"Clerk of the Crown."

"Magistrate" includes also a Police Magistrate in the Presidency towns.

"Magistrate."

CHAPTER II.

OF SESSIONS.

4. For the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction, every High Court shall hold sittings four times at the least in every year on such days and at such convenient intervals of time as the Chief Justice of such Court from time to time appoints.

The time of holding sittings.

5. The High Court shall ordinarily hold its sittings at the seat of the local Government; but it may, from time to time,

Place of holding sittings.

in the case of the High Court at Fort William, with the consent of the Governor-General in Council, in all other cases, with the consent of the local Government, hold sittings at such other places within the local limits of its appellate jurisdiction as the Chief Justice appoints.

Notice of sittings.

Due notice shall be given beforehand in the local Official Gazette of all sittings intended to be held for the exercise of the original criminal jurisdiction of the High Court, and all sittings held in accordance with such notice shall be regular and legal sittings of the High Court.

CHAPTER III.

OF PROCEDURE ON COMMITMENTS.

Consideration and amendment of charge.

6. When any person is committed for trial before a High Court, the Clerk of the Crown, or if there be not a Clerk of the Crown, a Judge of the High Court, shall, on receipt of the charge, peruse and consider it, and may, if it appear necessary or expedient so to do, amend, alter, or add to the same.

Charge to be recorded.

Copy of charge.

The charge, with such amendments, alterations, or additions (if any), shall be recorded in the High Court, and the person charged shall be entitled to have a copy of such charge, with such amendments, alterations, or additions (if any) gratis.

Copies of depositions.

7. The person charged shall also be entitled to copies of the examinations of witnesses upon whose depositions he has been committed, on payment of a reasonable sum for the same, not exceeding one anna for each folio of ninety words.

Effect of charge.

8. Upon charges recorded as aforesaid, persons committed to custody or held to bail shall be deemed to have been brought before the High Court in due course of law, and (subject to the provisions contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure as to the amendment and alteration of charges, and subject also to the provisions of the next following section) shall be tried upon the charges so recorded.

Entry on unsustainable charge.

9. When any charge recorded as aforesaid appears to the High Court, at any time before the commencement of the trial of the person charged, to be clearly unsustainable, an entry to that effect may be made on the charge by a Judge of the Court.

Effect of entry.

Such entry shall have the effect of staying proceedings upon the charge, but shall not operate as an acquittal of the person charged, unless and until three years from the time of making the entry have elapsed, at the expiration of which period, if no fresh charge has been brought on the same matter, he shall be considered as having been acquitted.

Custody pending direction as to place of trial.

10. Pending the directions of the High Court as to the place of trial, every person committed for trial before a High Court shall (if not out on bail) be committed by the Magistrate for intermediate custody to the nearest criminal jail in which he can be most conveniently confined.

Procedure thereafter.

If the trial be directed to be held at the usual place of sitting of the Court, the Magistrate shall bind over the person charged to appear and take his trial at such usual place of sitting, or shall commit him to the jail at such place.

If the High Court direct that the person charged be tried elsewhere than at its usual place of sitting, the Magistrate shall bind him over to appear and take his trial at the place directed, or shall, if necessary, cause him to be removed to the criminal jail at or nearest to the place at which he is directed to be tried; and the officer in charge of such criminal jail shall keep him in safe custody until discharged in due course of law.

Intermediate custody of European British subjects.

10. The High Court may direct that all European British subjects committed or bailed for trial within certain specified districts or during certain specified periods of the year, shall be tried at the usual place of sitting of the Court, or direct that they shall be tried at a particular place named, and may also order that such European British subjects shall, if not bailed, be committed for intermediate custody to a particular jail, being one of the jails appointed by the Government for the reception of such prisoners.

CHAPTER IV.

OF JURIES.

(a) Of Juries generally.

Trials to be by jury.

Number of jurors.

12. All trials under this Act shall be by jury.

The jury shall consist of twelve persons.

Unanimity necessary in Presidency Towns.

If the trial be held in the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, it shall be necessary for a verdict of guilty that such jury be unanimous:

Majority of nine in mofussil.

If the trial be held elsewhere than in the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, a majority of not less than nine, with the concurrence of the Judge, shall suffice for a verdict of guilty.

Acquittal in default of unanimity of majority.

In default of such unanimity or majority with the concurrence of the Judge, the prisoner shall be acquitted.

(b) Of Juries in the Presidency Towns.

Trials before special jury.

13. Every person tried in a Presidency Town upon a charge of having committed an offence punishable with death, or upon any other charge, shall, if a Judge of the High Court so order, be tried before a special jury.

Jurors' book.

14. The jurors' book for the year current when this Act comes into force, shall be taken as containing a correct general list of persons qualified and liable to serve as jurors under this Act:

and those persons whose names are entered in the said jurors' book as being privileged to serve on special juries only, shall be deemed to be persons privileged and liable to serve only as special jurors under this Act during the year for which the said list has been prepared.

Number of special jurors.

15. The names of not more than two hundred persons shall at any one time be entered in the special jurors' list.

Exemption of special jurors.

16. All persons whose names are entered in the "Special Jurors' List" shall be exempted from serving on any other than special juries, but so long only as their names are continued in such special jurors' list.

17. The Clerk of the Crown, or such other Officer as the Chief Justice directs, shall, before the first day of April in each year, and subject to such rules as the High Court from time to time prescribes, prepare a list of all persons qualified and liable to serve as common jurors, and also a list of persons qualified and liable to serve as special jurors only, regard being had, in the preparation of the latter list, to the property, character, and education of the persons whose names are entered therein.

Lists of common and special jurors.

No person shall be entitled to claim to have his name entered in the special jurors' list merely because he may have been entered in the special jurors' list for a previous year.

18. The Clerk of the Crown or other officer appointed by the Chief Justice shall, subject to such rules as aforesaid, have full discretion to prepare the said lists as seems to him to be proper, and there shall be no appeal from, or review of, his decision.

Discretion of officer preparing lists.

19. Preparatory lists of persons qualified or liable to serve as common jurors and as special jurors, respectively, signed by the officer by whom the same have been prepared, shall be published once in the local Official Gazette, before the fifteenth day of April next after their preparation.

Publication of lists.

Revised lists of persons qualified or liable to serve as common jurors and special jurors, respectively, signed as aforesaid, shall be published once in the local Official Gazette, before the first day of May next after their preparation.

Copies of the said lists shall be affixed to some conspicuous part of the Court-house.

20. Out of the names contained in the list aforesaid, there shall be summoned for each sessions thirty-six of those who are qualified and liable to serve on special juries, and seventy-two of those who are qualified and liable to serve on common juries.

Number of jurors to be summoned.

(c) Of Challenges of Jurors in Presidency Towns.

21. A peremptory challenge to the number of twenty in common juries and ten in special juries shall be allowed.

Peremptory challenge.

Save as aforesaid, the following and no others shall be good causes of challenge, whether on behalf of the Crown or by the person charged :—

Challenge on cause.

(1.) Some personal objection, such as alienage, infancy, old age, or deficiency in the qualification required by any law or rule having the force of law for the time being in force :

(2.) Some presumed or actual partialty in the juror :

(3.) A previous conviction of the juror under the Indian Penal Code, or the criminal law administered in the Supreme Courts of Judicature or the Courts of the East India Company previously to the enactment of such Code.

22. The Judge before whom the person charged is about to be tried shall try any challenge, other than a peremptory challenge, and if he allow the challenge, the juror shall be set aside.

Trial of challenge.

23. Save as hereinbefore provided, the High Court shall retain all its present powers respecting the summoning, empanelling, qualification, challenging, and service of jurors in the Presidency Towns :

Powers of Presidency High Court as to jurors.

and shall have power to make such rules on these subjects (consistent with the provisions of this Act) as seem to it to be proper.

All such rules now in force in the High Court shall (so far as they are consistent with this Act) remain in full force until repealed or altered by new rules made under this section.

(d) Of Juries in the Mofussil.

24. Whenever a High Court has given notice of its intention to hold sittings at any place (other than the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay) for the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction, the Court of Session at such place shall take and cause to be taken the measures prescribed by sections four hundred and seven, four hundred and nine, four hundred and ten, four hundred and eleven, and four hundred and twelve, of the Code of Criminal Procedure, for the summoning of jurors.

Summoning jurors.

In addition to the persons so summoned as jurors, the said Court of Session shall, if it think needful, after communication with the commanding officer, cause to be summoned such number of commissioned and non-commissioned officers in the military service resident within ten miles of its place of sitting as the Court considers to be necessary to make up the juries required for the trial of European British subjects charged with offences before the High Court as aforesaid.

Military men not exempt.

All commissioned and non-commissioned officers so summoned shall be liable to serve on such juries notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure ; but no commissioned or non-commissioned officer shall be summoned whom his commanding officer desires to have excused on the ground of urgent military duty or for any other special military reason.

The juries for the trial of European British subjects as aforesaid shall be formed in the manner required by the Code of Criminal Procedure and by this Act, from the persons summoned under the said sections of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and from the commissioned and non-commissioned officers summoned as aforesaid, or, if no such officers have been summoned, then solely frow the persons summoned under the same sections.

25. If any European British subject charged as aforesaid so require before the jury is empannelled, the majority of the jurors shall consist of Europeans or Americans, or both Europeans and Americans.

Jury for trial of European British subjects.

26. In any case in which an European British subject is accused jointly with a person not being an European British subject, and such European British subject is committed for trial before a High Court, the persons so jointly accused shall also be committed for trial before such High Court, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Trial of European British subject and Native jointly charged.

Such persons may be tried together, and the procedure on the trial shall be the same as it would have been had the European British subject been tried separately.

Provisions for European British subject requiring majority of Europeans in jury.

72. In any case before the said High Court in which an European British subject is charged jointly with a person not being an European British subject, and the former, before the jury is empannelled, requires the majority of the jurors to consist of Europeans or Americans, or both Europeans and Americans, the latter person shall be tried together with the former, and the procedure on the trial shall be the same as it would have been had the former been tried separately.

Native may claim separate trial.

Provided that, in any such case, where the person not an European British subject so requires before the said jury is empannelled, he shall be tried separately by a jury of which at least one-half shall consist of persons not being Europeans or Americans.

CHAPTER V.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

High Courts to try as Courts of Sessions.

28. The High Courts shall try as Courts of Session all cases committed to them, and the provisions of this Act shall be applicable to such trials, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

Exemption of High Courts from certain sections of Criminal Procedure Code.

29. The High Courts are exempt from the operation of sections three hundred and thirty-four, three hundred and thirty-five, three hundred and thirty-seven, three hundred and thirty-eight, three hundred and thirty-nine, and three hundred and forty, of the Code of Criminal Procedure; and in any case coming before the Court in the exercise of its ordinary or its extraordinary original criminal jurisdiction, the Judges of such Court shall taken down the evidence, or the substance thereof, in such manner as the Court, by any general rule, from time to time directs.

Certain sentences exempted from provisions of Criminal Procedure Code.

30. So much of section two hundred and eighty-seven of the said Code as requires the confirmation by the High Court of sentences of death passed by a Court of Session, and so much of the same section as requires from the Court a statement of the grounds on which a person convicted of an offence made punishable with death by the Indian Penal Code has been sentenced to a punishment other than death, shall not apply to sentences by the High Court passed in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction.

Provisions as to form of judgment, sentence, or finding not to apply.

31. So much of the thirty-fourth Chapter of the said Code as requires judgment to be passed by a Criminal Court in any particular form, and as requires that the sentence or finding shall be recorded in any particular form, shall not apply to judgments, sentences, or findings in trials before the High Court acting in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction;

but the High Court shall pass judgment and shall record or cause to be recorded the sentence and finding in such form as it thinks proper.

Power to reserve questions.

32. When any person has been convicted of an offence before a Judge of the High Court acting in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction, the Judge, if he think proper, may reserve for the decision of a Court consisting of such Judge and one or more other Judge or Judges of the High Court, any question of law or of the admissibility of evidence which has arisen in the course of the trial of such person.

Procedure where no question reserved;

If the Judge reserve no such question, he shall forward the prisoner, with a copy of his sentence and a warrant for the execution of the same, to the Magistrate or other officer in charge of the jail of the district or place in which the trial was held, and, on the receipt of the warrant, such Magistrate or other officer shall proceed as provided in the three hundred and fifth section of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

and when reserved.

If the Judge reserve any question of law or of the admissibility of evidence, the person convicted shall, pending the decision thereon, be remanded to jail.

Procedure where decision is adverse.

If the decision on the question be adverse to the person convicted, the Court shall send a copy of its sentence and a warrant for the execution of the same to the Magistrate or other officer in charge of the jail to which the prisoner shall have been remanded, and such Magistrate or other officer shall proceed as provided in the same section.

Power to award costs on petitions, &c.

33. Whenever any petition, application, or motion is made in any matter coming before a High Court in the exercise of its criminal jurisdiction, the Court shall have power to award and apportion costs in any manner it may think fit.

False statements in support of petitions, &c.

34. Whenever a High Court requires the statements in support of any such petition, application, or motion to be verified by a declaration in writing, the person making such verification shall, if any such statement is false, and if he either knows or believes it to be false, or does not believe it to be true, be deemed to have intentionally given false evidence in a stage of a judicial proceeding.

Criminal Procedure Code generally applicable.

35. Save as is hereinbefore otherwise provided, the Code of Criminal Procedure shall apply to the constitution and formation of juries for the purpose of trials before the High Court acting in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction, and to trials before such Court, and to sentences by such Court, and to the carrying into execution of such sentences.

CHAPTER VI.

OF OFFENCES BY EUROPEAN BRITISH SUBJECTS.

Punishment of offence in mofussil legally punishable upon conviction by a Magistrate.

36. If any offence which, by any Act of the Governor-General in Council heretofore or hereafter passed, is declared to be punishable upon conviction by a Magistrate, is committed by a European British subject beyond the locals limits of the jurisdiction of the High Courts, the offender, if not otherwise punishable, shall be liable, upon conviction before one of the said High Courts, to the punishment to which by such Act he is declared to be liable upon conviction before a Magistrate.

Punishment of offences committed within local limits.

37. If any offence which, by any Act of the Governor-General in Council heretofore or hereafter passed, is declared to be punishable upon conviction by a Magistrate, is committed by any person within the local limits of the jurisdiction of a High Court, the offender, if not otherwise punishable, shall be liable, upon conviction before such Court, to the punishment to which by such Act he is declared to be liable upon conviction before a Magistrate.

Saving of jurisdiction of Justice of the Peace.

38. Nothing in this chapter extends to any case in which jurisdiction is expressly given to a Justice of the Peace to convict the offender.

Construction of Acts declaring "Magistrate" to include Justice of the Peace.

39. Whenever, in any Act heretofore or hereafter passed by the Governor-General in Council, the word "Magistrate" is declared to include a Justice of the Peace, such Justice of the Peace shall not by virtue of such Act be deemed to have jurisdiction to punish any offence unless the name is committed within the local limits of the ordinary original criminal jurisdiction of a High Court.

CHAPTER VII.

OF POLICE MAGISTRATES IN THE PRESIDENCY TOWNS.

Parts of Criminal Procedure Code to apply in Presidency towns.

40. The following parts of the Code of Criminal Procedure shall apply to the Courts of the Police Magistrates and to the Police of the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, (that is to say)—

Sections three (Pending cases) and four (Definitions) :

Chapter VI (The place of Inquiry and Trial), Sections sixty-three to seventy, both inclusive:

Chapter VII (Of Criminal Jurisdiction over European and British subjects) :

Sections seventy-one to seventy-five (both inclusive), eighty-three, eighty-four, eighty-five, eighty-seven, eighty-eight:

Chapter IX (Of Arrest without Warrant) :

Chapter X (Powers of the Police to investigate) :

Section one hundred and ten, the words "and in the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, any Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police," being inserted after "Magistrate of the first or second class :"

MISCELLANEOUS.

Advocate-General may exhibit informations to High Courts in matters of revenue, &c.

41. The Advocate-General at the several Presidencies of Fort William, Fort St. George, and Bombay, may exhibit, in behalf of the Secretary of State for India in Council, to the local High Court, as occasion shall require, against any person subject to the jurisdiction of the said Courts, any information for any breach of the revenue laws, or for any fine, penalty, forfeiture, debt, or sum of money, committed, incurred, or due by any such person in respect of any such law.

Such proceedings shall be taken upon every such information as may lawfully be taken, in case of an information filed by Her Majesty's

Attorney-General in the Court of Exchequer in England, for any offence committed against the revenue laws of England, or for any fine, penalty, forfeiture, debt, or sum of money due in respect thereof; so far as the circumstances of the case and the course and practice of proceeding in the said Courts respectively will admit.

All fines, penalties, forfeitures, debts, and sums of money, recovered or levied under or by virtue of any such information, shall belong to the Government of India.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Select Committee on the Bill which is now Act X of 1872 (the Code of Criminal Procedure), expressed their opinion that it was desirable that the procedure of the High Courts in the exercise of their original criminal jurisdiction should be regulated by the same law as that which applied to the other Criminal Courts of India. They did not, however, introduce into the Code the requisite provisions on this subject, as it was necessary to obtain the opinions of various authorities before making such a change in the law, and this would have delayed the passing of the Code till after Mr. Stephen had left India. These opinions have now been obtained, and the present Bill is an attempt to embody their result.

It will be seen that the Bill does not purport to regulate the practice of the Courts in issuing prerogative writs; and other omissions will doubtless be pointed out in the course of the careful scrutiny which, it is hoped, the Bill will undergo. On the other hand, it extends the greater part of the Code to the Courts of the Police Magistrates and to the Police of the Presidency Towns.

The Bill is divided into eight chapters, the first of which, amongst other things, repeals portions of the four Statutes and eleven Acts in which the criminal practice of the High Courts (which, for the purpose of the Bill, includes the Chief Court of the Panjáb) is now embodied.

Chapter II deals with Sessions, and is founded on 53 Geo. III, c. 155, s. 102, and Act XIII of 1865, s. 22, and the like enactments for the High Court of the North-Western Provinces and the Chief Court of the Panjáb.

Chapter III of procedure on commitments, embodies the practice introduced by Act XIII of 1865, sections 4, 5, 6, 8, 27, 28, and 31, and followed in Acts XXIV of 1866, sections 3, 5, 6, 8, 9, and IV of 1866, sections 22, 24, 25, 27, 28.

Chapter IV relates to juries. It maintains the rules requiring twelve as the number of all juries, unanimity in the Presidency towns, and, elsewhere, a majority of not less than nine with the concurrence of the Judge (Act XIII of 1865, s. 37). The provisions as to common and special juries in the Presidency towns, and as to challenges of jurors in those towns, are taken from

Act XIII of 1865, sections 11 to 21, both inclusive. The clauses relating to juries in the Mofussil correspond with Act XIII of 1865, sections 35, 36, Act IV of 1866, sections 30, 31, Act XXIV of 1866, sections 11, 12, and Act XIII of 1869, section 1.

Chapter V contains sundry general provisions. It declares that the High Courts shall try as Courts of Session all cases committed to them. But it exempts them from the sections of the Code relating to the taking down of evidence. It renders certain provisions of section 287 of the Code, as to the confirmation of sentences of death and the statement of the grounds of conviction, inapplicable to sentences passed by the High Courts. It relieves them from the requirements of Chapter XXXIV of the Code, as to the form of judgment, sentence, and finding. The rest of the Chapter gives power to reserve questions of law, or of the admissibility of evidence (Act XXIV of 1866, section sixteen), and prescribes the procedure (1) where such questions are, (2) where they are not, reserved. Power is also given to award costs on petitions, &c., made in matters coming before the High Courts in the exercise of their criminal jurisdiction, and provides a punishment for making false statements in support of such petitions.

Except as otherwise provided by the Bill, the Code will apply to the constitution and formation of juries, to trials, to sentences, and to the execution of sentences.

Chapter VI, as to offences by European British subjects, is equivalent to Act XVIII of 1859, as amended by Act XXII of 1870, section three.

Chapter VII extends to the Police Magistrates and the Police of the Presidency Towns, such portions of the Code as seem applicable.

Chapter VIII comprises a single section (equivalent to 53 Geo. III, Cap 155, section 100), empowering the Advocate-General to exhibit informations to the High Courts in matters of revenue.

Circular.

Dated Calcutta, the 5th August 1873.

From—H. L. DAMPIER, Esq., Secretary to the Government of Bengal,

To—All Commissioners and District Officers.

HONORARY MAGISTRATES have been appointed and benches arranged in many districts. In some, Magistrates have objected that class litigation makes it dangerous to do so, and certainly there is so much of class questions in some parts of the country that the Lieutenant-Governor is becoming seriously alarmed, lest by appointing exclusively men of the upper classes these questions should be prejudiced. The arrangements are such in regard to benches, reference of cases, &c., that he has not much fear of actual cases being seriously prejudiced; but the Lieutenant-Governor does somewhat fear the power and influence which the name and trappings of a Magistrate may give in the eyes of an ignorant people, if the Magistrates are too much of one class. That there may be inconveniences in a class magistracy, the experience of the British Islands proves. Even when general class questions were not burning, the English magistracy, as an aristocratic institution, was not free from suspicion of prejudice in game questions and such like. In Ireland, where there were great class questions, it was generally found impossible to allow an aristocratic unpaid magistracy to act; and since class questions have become prominent in England, the country magistracy is found to be a very assailable institution. On all sides the tendency in the United Kingdom now is to doubt the advantage of an unpaid magistracy, and to substitute stipendiary Magistrates. Certainly then His Honor does not wish to found an honorary magistracy on an English model. If the benches are to be useful they must be rather a sort of superior punchayets, among whom all classes are represented, and not one class only. At sudder stations, from among lawyers, merchants, and other residents, as well as zemindars, a variety of classes may be found; but at sub-divisions and outlying places, the Lieutenant-Governor is convinced that the system of entrusting to men selected from among the natives to dispose of the affairs of the natives, whether as Magistrates or in other matters, will not work fairly and usefully unless really representative ryots and such like men as well as men of higher status can be got. If we had the same facilities for obtaining at a reasonable cost stipendiary Magistrates fitted to deal with all cases that we have in Europe, the Lieutenant-Governor would not seek to create Honorary Magistrates. But both on account of the deficiencies of our Courts and with a view to educate the people of the country to manage their own affairs, he is after long experience convinced that it is right to try to obtain Honorary Magistrates and Committee men. The Lieutenant-Governor wishes then to appeal to local officers to make a real and earnest effort to find such men.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor has just had before him a case in which in a particular district the District Magistrate and Judge concur in saying that the Honorary Magistrate system cannot be carried out, because class questions are so burning, that zemindars cannot be entrusted with power, and no good representative ryots can be found, there being, it is stated, nothing but disreputable middlemen and very poor and ignorant ryots. His Honor will probably be obliged to yield to that representation. But then he finds that both officers state that the district in question is quite an exceptional district. The Judge mentions the last district in which he served as one in which good representative ryots abound. After much inquiry the Lieutenant-Governor is convinced that in most districts such men, and good men of the class, are to be found. Again, then, he must express the hope that the local officers will find them and send up their names for Honorary Magistrates, School Committees, Road Committees, Municipal Committees, and all bodies designed in some sort to represent the natives. Until this is well done the whole system will be worse than a failure.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor is convinced that officers will fairly and honestly try to find the right men and to carry out these instructions. If in any district they really cannot do so, he is open to conviction; but he expects to have the assurance that the effort has been made, and confidently believes that wherever the materials exist, a good officer making the effort will find them.

The 25th July 1873.—The following Resolution by the Government of India, in the Financial Department, is published for general information :—

No. 1079, dated Simla, the 20th June 1873.

READ the undermentioned papers relating to a proposal to abolish the system which at present obtains in some places of making payments from Government treasuries on vernacular orders of courts or offices :—

Office memo. to Home Department, No. 1568, dated 29th July 1872.
" " from " " 981, " 3rd June 1873, and enclosures.

RESOLUTION.—In order to avoid the inconvenience and risk which accompanies the payment of money upon proceedings recorded in the vernacular languages, and to ensure caution in the issue of such orders, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that every order issued by a court or office for the payment of money from a Government treasury shall be in English, unless the presiding officer is not acquainted with the English language.

Where the disbursing officer does not understand English, and the officer ordering the payment does, the order for payment shall be both in the vernacular and in English.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the foregoing Resolution be forwarded to the Home Department* for information, and for communication to the several local Governments and administrations.

* Original papers returned, a copy being kept for record.

Also that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to the Comptroller-General and the several Accountants-General and Deputy Accountants-General in independent charge for information and guidance.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given, that the undermentioned plots of lands no longer required by the Government, situated in the district of Beerbhoom, will be put up to sale at the Railway Deputy Collector's Office at Cyntheca, adjoining the East Indian Railway Station, at 11 A.M., on Monday, the 1st day of September 1870, corresponding with 17th Bhaddur 1280, F.S.

The purchasers of these plots will be subject to the following conditions:—

1st.—If the amount of purchase money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the estate to be again put up for sale, at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

3rd.—The plots will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidders.

4th.—The purchasers shall be put in possession on receipt of the orders of the Collector confirming the sales. But such possession shall be liable to be disturbed in case the final sanction of the Member of the Board of Revenue in charge should not be accorded to the proceedings.

BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

At a Half-yearly General Meeting of Subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund held at the Town Hall, Calcutta, on Tuesday, the 29th July 1873.

PRESENT:—The Hon'ble F. L. Beaufort; S. Wauchope, Esq.; The Hon'ble V. H. Schalch; The Hon'ble L. S. Jackson; The Hon'ble H. L. Dampier; J. A. Crawford, Esq.; The Hon'ble Lord H. Ulick Browne; H. A. Cockerell, Esq.; H. A. Mangles, Esq.; R. V. Cockerell, Esq.; W. L. Heeley, Esq., B. A.; The Hon'ble C. E. Bernard; T. J. C. Grant, Esq.; J. Monro, Esq.; R. H. Wilson, Esq., B. A.; P. D. Dickens, Esq., B. A.; H. J. Newbery, Esq., B. A.; J. Westland, Esq.; A. Mackenzie, Esq., B. A.; T. W. Gribble, Esq.; W. M. Souttar, Esq., M. A.; E. H. Ruddock, Esq., B. A.; C. F. Magrath, Esq., B. A.; W. H. Verner, Esq.; H. J. S. Cotton, Esq.; H. Luttman Johnson, Esq.; A. Forbes, Esq., B. A.; W. H. Page, Esq.; L. C. Abbott, Esq.; and C. R. Marindin, Esq.

The Hon'ble L. S. Jackson, in the chair.

The following report by the managers, having been circulated before the meeting to all subscribers in Calcutta, was taken as read:—

"The managers submit their proceedings for the past half-year for the consideration and sanction of the meeting."

"Subject to the approval of the subscribers, they have admitted to the benefits of the Fund the following families—

"The widow of the Reverend R. Crosse (formerly an incumbent on the Fund as the widow of the late Mr. M. J. T. MacMahon, a subscriber who died in 1831) has been re-admitted under the Old Rules from the date of decease of her third husband, viz., 4th December 1871. The private income accruing from the estate of her grandfather is £100, and that of her late husband £266–5–0, or together £366–5–0. She will receive the allowance noted on the margin."

Mrs. Crosse	£ 400	0 0
Private income	„ 366	5 0
	£ 33	15 0

Mrs. Jackson	...	£ 300
Four sons	...	„ 190

"The widow and four sons of the late Mr. Elphinstone Jackson, who died in England on the 3rd February last."

Mrs. Clarke	...	£ 300
Three children	...	„ 260

"The widow and three children (one daughter and two sons) of the late Mr. H. R. Clarke, who died at Futtehpore on the 13th March last."

"Mrs. Dorin applied for admission to the benefits of the Fund as the widow of the late Mr. J. A. Dorin, who retired on an annuity on 1st May 1858, and died in England on the 22nd December last. At the time of retirement, he compounded at married rates for periodical payments of subscription. His wife subsequently died, and he contracted a second marriage on the 29th April 1864, but made no report of the fact to the Fund Office. Had he done so, he would have been called upon to pay fresh subscription on account of this second wife, or to compound on her account at full rates. He would besides have had to pay a fine on account of inequality of age at marriage. Mr. Dorin, however, took no steps whatever to bring this second wife upon the Fund, and the managers have informed her that they regret she has no claim upon it for pension."

"Mr. P. A. Humphrey has incurred the penalty, under Article V (6) of the Rules, of exclusion of his daughter from the benefits of the Fund on account of his not having reported her birth within the prescribed six months."

"Sir G. U. Yule has also incurred the penalty, under Article VI of the Rules, of exclusion of his daughter and son from the benefits of the Fund on account of his not having reported their births within six months. He urges forgetfulness as his excuse."

"The above cases are submitted for the decision of the meeting. The managers recommend that the children in both instances be admitted on payment of a fine of Rs. 100, together with arrear subscriptions, and 8 per cent. interest."

"The next question for which the managers must request consideration is that of the admission of native civilians to the benefits of the Fund. The managers are very clear on the point that those benefits should not be refused to the native gentlemen now in the service in whose covenants the Secretary of State has, though by admitted oversight, inserted the condition of subscription. But in view of the fact that these gentlemen are willing to accept conditions of monogamy, and so far to put themselves on a par with the Service at large, the managers do, in lieu of the rules submitted by them to the meeting of January, propose the adoption of the following addition to Rule II:—

"Native gentlemen who were members of the Bengal Civil Service on the 15th May 1872, and in whose covenants the condition of subscription to the Fund was inserted before that date, shall be admitted as subscribers, on the condition that subscriptions shall not at any time be accepted on behalf of a wife married during the life-time of another wife, or on behalf of a child born of a wife married during the life-time of another wife, and that such wife and such child shall receive no allowance from the Fund."

"Upon the question of the future admission of native civilians to be subscribers to the Fund, the managers are divided in opinion. The majority of the present Board are in favor of falling back upon the promise given by the Secretary of State in his despatch of the 15th May 1872, to the effect that—'The rule as to subscription to the Widows' and Orphans' Fund is henceforward to be regarded as cancelled in the case of natives, in accordance with the Financial despatch of Sir C. Wood of the 30th November, No. 108 of 1864, addressed to the Government of Bombay.' It will accordingly be moved on behalf of the majority of the managers—

"That the Service do express its concurrence in the views adopted by the Secretary of State, both in 1865 and 1872, as to the inapplicability of the present conditions of the Civil Fund to native covenanted civilians, and the expediency of expunging from the covenants of such civilians the engagements relating to the Civil Fund."

"The majority of the managers are led to this conclusion by a consideration of the impolicy of allowing natives of India to join the Fund on equal terms with Europeans, when their conditions of life are so different, and when statistics for determining the liabilities thereby incurred are almost wholly wanting."

"On behalf of the minority of the managers, the following resolution will be moved:—

"That the Service do express the opinion that—

"Natives of India who are or may become members of the Bengal Civil Service may be allowed to subscribe to the Bengal Civil Fund at the rates and upon the conditions now applicable to members who are not natives of India.

"Provided that subscriptions shall not be accepted on behalf of a wife married during the life-time of another wife, or on behalf of a child born of a wife married during the life-time of another wife, and that no such wife or child shall receive any allowance from the Fund.

"Provided also that if hereafter it be reported, after due professional inquiry, that it is necessary, for the protection of the pecuniary interests of the Fund, that natives of India should pay higher rates of subscription than other members, such higher rates of subscription shall be levied from native members, but with prospective effect only."

"To this the majority of the managers object that no data are available for such professional inquiry, and that till these are collected in long course of years, the capital accumulated by the European subscribers will have to meet any excess of liabilities over assets in the case of the native subscribers."

"The minority, on the other hand, are of opinion that the risk is so small as to be appreciable, and that there are even reasons for thinking that native members may bring upon the Fund a smaller liability than others."

"The above proposals were duly notified under Article XVII of the Rules."

"The quinquennial valuations have been prepared in the Fund Office, and show a large surplus even after providing for the possible claim of Government stated in the Financial Office note, and for all present and future deterioration of subscription values. These valuations will be submitted for examination to the actuary, together with the various papers on the Fund drawn up by Mr. Westland. The various modes of disposing of the surplus which may eventually commend themselves to the sense of the Service will also be referred to him for report, and he will at the same time be requested to revise thoroughly the whole of the Fund tables according to the latest data."

"As there can be no reasonable doubt of the existence of a very considerable surplus—the calculations made by the Financial Office and those of the Fund Office being practically conclusive on this point—the managers had proposed, after leaving a margin to cover deterioration of subscription values and other contingencies, to appropriate at once, and in anticipation of the actuary's report, some 14 or 15 lakhs of the surplus fund for the following increased benefits:—

(1).—An increase of motherless children's benefits by 20 per cent. estimated to cost	3,50,000
(2).—An increase of daughters' marriage donations from £300 to £500 estimated to cost	3,01,000
(3).—An increase of sons' pensions from £100 a year to £150, between the ages of 16 and 21, estimated to cost .	3,81,000
(4).—The abolition of the deduction of one-sixth, required in cases where a minimum subscription has not been paid, estimated to cost	4,05,000

They had accordingly given notice that they would at this meeting move the following resolutions:—

(1).—That the following clause be added in Article XXIX of the Rules, after the words "or £100 a year in England," and in Article XXX, after the same words: "and these allowances shall be increased by one-fifth, if, or after, the wife, or widow, of the member shall have died."

(2).—That in Article XXIX at the end, £500 be substituted for £300.

(3).—That in the fourth clause of Article XXX, "sixteenth" be substituted for "twenty-first," and the following clause be added in that Article after the words, "or £100 a year in England," and after the clause proposed in No. (1) above (if adopted)—"From the commencement of the seventeenth to the end of the twenty-first year, Rs. 90 a month in India, or £150 a year in England."

(4).—That Article VII be omitted from the Rules of the Fund, and the words "VII and" omitted from Article XXV.

(5).—That the above alterations, or such of them as are adopted, shall have effect from April 1st, 1873, and shall be subject to cancelment, without retrospective effect, should the professional actuary, to whom the affairs of the Fund are about to be submitted, report that the Fund is not adequate to meet the charges imposed by them.

"With reference to these proposals, a circular, bearing the signature of subscribers in different parts of Bengal, was, within the last week of June, circulated to the Service, in which objection was taken to the managers' suggestions, and subscribers were invited to oppose them at the present meeting. The managers consider that the statements made in that circular are based on a general misapprehension of the facts, but they have not had time to explain the matter fully to the general body of the Service, and they are afraid that many members have, in consequence, been led to vote against proposals which on a full understanding of the case they would have probably supported. While anxious to have their own views, and the grounds on which they rest, fully understood, the managers have no desire to press any subscriber to vote for measures as to the advisability of which he is not convinced. They have, therefore, considered it best not to hurry on at this time the discussion of any important proposals regarding which there appears to be difference of opinion, and they will refrain from bringing forward the resolutions regarding the surplus of which they had given notice. They do this the more readily because the quinquennial valuations have been completed in time to be laid on the table at this meeting, and because it will be necessary, in forwarding these to the actuary, to submit the sense of the Service upon all the various ways of utilising the surplus that it may seem advisable to suggest. There is, for instance, rather a strong feeling among subscribers at home in favor of the entire exemption of annuitants from subscription. The managers trust that during the next six months the subject may be well ventilated, and they believe that it will be seen to be advisable, while so referring the whole matter to the actuary, to give immediate effect to some of the propositions (subject to the actuary's eventual approval) in order to avoid useless accumulation of funds for one or two years more. At any rate the managers will shortly address the Service on the various questions requiring consideration, and at the January meeting, when all branches of the Service are more fully represented than at present, these can be more profitably discussed and settled."

1. It was moved by Mr. H. Cockerell, seconded by Mr. Gribble, and carried unanimously:—

"That the proceedings of the managers in admitting the families of Messrs. MacMahon, E. Jackson, and H. R. Clarke to Fund benefits, and in rejecting the claim of Mrs. Dorin, be confirmed.

2. It was moved by Mr. Dickens, seconded by Mr. Marindin, and carried unanimously:—

"That the children of Mr. P. A. Humphrey and Sir G. U. Yule be brought on the Fund books on payment of a fine of Rs. 100 in each case, together with arrear subscriptions and interest at 8 per cent. to date of payment."

3. It was moved by Mr. Schalch, and seconded by Mr. Westland, on behalf of the managers:

"That the following addition be made to Article II of the Fund Rules:—

"Native gentlemen who were members of the Bengal Civil Service on the 15th May 1872, and in whose covenants the condition of subscription to the Fund was inserted before that date, shall be admitted as subscribers, on the condition that subscriptions shall not at any time be accepted on behalf of a wife married during the life-time of another wife, or on behalf of a child born of a wife married during the life-time of another wife, and that such wife and such child shall receive no allowance from the Fund."

The votes were	For the motion—	20 present and 174 proxies—total	194.
	Against it—	4 present and 47 proxies—total	51.

4. It was then moved by Mr. Monro on behalf of the majority of the managers—

"That the Service do express its concurrence in the views adopted by the Secretary of State, both in 1865 and 1872, as to the inapplicability of the present conditions of the Civil Fund to native covenanted civilians, and the expediency of expunging from the covenants of such civilians the engagements relating to the Civil Fund."

In moving this Resolution, Mr. Monro remarked—

The grounds on which the majority of managers support this proposal are two; one social, the other statistical. Much has been said about liberality which we ought to show in dealing with the subject, and the illiberality which will be displayed, and invidious distinctions which will be drawn, by our supporting the proposal. This is, however, really a mere sentimental consideration, proper perhaps in our dealing with measures for the advancement of natives at large, but out of place and not deserving of weight in discussing the present question. All that we have to consider is whether we, as trustees, directors, and members of a social institution like the Fund, are justified, with reference to the interests of past, present, and future contributors, in admitting to the benefits of the institution a class for whom it was not originally designed, and to whom the extension of the benefits is, in the opinion of many supporters of the institution, considered unadvisable. We protest against the statement that our support of this proposal creates or perpetuates any invidious distinction between native civilians and ourselves. That social differences exist beween Natives and Europeans is an admitted fact which we know and recognize, and which every gentleman opposing the present proposal acts on every day of his life. And, therefore, I do not see why, in recognising these social distinctions, which are not of our creating, with reference to fund matters, we should be considered as drawing any invidious distinction between native civilians and ourselves. So long as the native civilians are under a social system which recognizes and gives legal sanction to such social peculiarities as polygamy, notably kulinism with its abominations, seclusion of females, infant marriages, prohibition of re-marriage of widows, including infant widows, and ten or twelve different kinds of divorce, so long I consider that we are not only justified, but doing nothing more than our duty in holding that native civilians should not be admitted to the Fund. And so long as statistics of native life, both male and female, are practically wanting, and so long as their social life which would enable us to gather some vital statistics is practically unknown to us, so long I consider that we should be acting unwisely and imprudently as men of business in admitting native civilians to the Fund. The argument as to the small amount of damage which admission of natives would do to the Fund is no argument at all. The question is not one of amount, but of principle. Even accepting the argument for what it is worth, I could show if it were worth while that even one or two cases of contested litigation which the Fund might have to conduct, would land us in expenses which, as trustees of such an institution, we have no right, without the strongest reason, to incur, and which we are bound, if possible, to avoid.

Mr. R. Cockerell seconded the motion.

Mr. Bernard moved the following amendment on behalf of a minority of the managers:

"That the Service do express the opinion that—

"Natives of India who are or may become members of the Bengal Civil Service may be allowed to subscribe to the Bengal Civil Fund at the rates and upon the conditions now applicable to members who are not natives of India.

"Provided that subscriptions shall not be accepted on behalf of a wife married during the life-time of another wife, or on behalf of a child born of a wife married during the life-time of another wife, and that no such wife or child shall receive any allowance from the Fund.

"Provided also that if hereafter it be reported, after due professional inquiry, that it is necessary, for the protection of the pecuniary interests of the Fund, that natives of India should pay higher rates of subscription than other members, such higher rates of subscription shall be levied from native members, but with prospective effect only."

In doing so he said—

He was not responsible for the wording of the amendment, nor did he agree altogether in its full scope, but he did agree in the principle of the amendment. He thought it was just, and he also thought it was politic to give the native civilians the advantage of feeling that they belonged in all respects to the honorable service they had joined. The feeling that they had the sympathy of the service would help much to keep them straight and upright in all their dealings. Mr. Bernard did not believe there was any clear ground of expediency for excluding native civilians from the Fund. Bengal civilians, as a rule, were blessed with very large families, whereas Bengalees, especially the class from which native civilians came, had small, very small families. For the rest, Mr Bernard thought that we might provide for striking off the Fund any civilian who committed bigamy, just as the rules struck off from the Fund any wife who committed adultery; we could provide against men marrying infant wives on their death beds; and we could in fact provide fully against all risks. He would, therefore, ask the Service to support the amendment or any modification thereof which might assert the principle that native civilians were to be allowed to join the Civil Fund.

Mr. Heeley seconded the amendment.

Mr. Westland made a few remarks to the effect that—

He wished to take the opportunity of expressing his opinion on the question before the meeting, because he was unable entirely to concur with either the motion or the amendment. He did not see any reason for excluding native civilians from the privileges of the Civil Fund, in so far as these privileges were the effect of concessions made by Government to the Fund. But he considered it extremely unadvisable that the liabilities on account of natives should be a charge on that part of the assets which were subscribed by, and had to meet the liabilities on account of Europeans. He would, therefore, be inclined to answer Government that there was no objection to the admission of native civilians to the Civil Fund, provided that the assets subscribed by them were separated off into an independent branch which might enjoy the same privileges at the hands of Government as the rest of the Fund, but which would alone be chargeable with all payments on their account. He did not deem it necessary, however, to make any motion or amendment to this effect.

The Chairman said that as a mere matter of business he would decline to admit natives until there were means of estimating the effect of their admission on the Fund.

The amendment was then put to the vote—but as only seven members present voted in its favor, it was, on a reference to the Chairman, decided that under Article XVI (17) of the Rules it was not carried.

The original motion was next put with the following result:—

For the motion—20 present 177 proxies—total 197.
Against it— 7 present 39 proxies—total 46.

The motion was carried.

5. The Secretary then made the following statement:—

I have now the honor, by direction of the managers, to lay before you the results of the quinquennial valuations as drawn up in the Fund Office, checked in detail by myself as Secretary, and finally revised by Mr. Westland, and to intimate the course which it is intended to pursue with regard to them. You will have observed from the note by Mr. Westland, circulated with the Fund Office valuation, that even if we substitute for the present subscription values the reduced values found by his new tables, the gross surplus of assets is Rs. 26,87,226, while, according to the actuary's tables, the surplus would, of course, be considerably greater. Mr. Westland refers to a claim of Government against the Fund, and after providing for that, states the net surplus at Rs. 22,35,172. That claim has not, however, been actually advanced, and I am not sure that if it were advanced, it could not be successfully resisted. But to be on the safe side we may be content with assuming that we have a certain surplus of about 22 lakhs of Rupees. This is quite in accordance with the expectations of both the managers and the actuary. At the last quinquennial valuation there was a surplus estimated by Mr. Brown, in accordance with the method of valuation which the managers then followed, at about 10 lakhs, and the Financial Office note shows that even that surplus was underestimated, and that it was more nearly 15 than 10 lakhs, had strictly correct methods of adjustment been then adopted. The only measure taken to dispose of this was a reduction of the rate of subscription for annuitants by 50 per cent., and the question of the increase of the benefits to children was, by the actuary's advice, specifically reserved for the present quinquennial valuation.

The managers had, therefore, as you are aware, proposed to give immediate effect to some benefits of this character, which could safely be estimated to fall within the limit of their surplus, and much of which could they found have been covered even by the balance of surplus of 1868. They had no doubt whatever that this was a perfectly safe course to take, and they believed that it was desirable, because if it is not adopted, the delay in obtaining the actuary's report is certain to involve needless accumulation of funds for at least two years more.

It would seem, however, that some members of the service think that the prospects of promotion therein are so gloomy as to make the present tables of subscription value perfectly worthless, and go so far as to refuse to credit the very existence of a surplus unless the actuary declare to them that it exists. Now, speaking for myself only, I might be allowed to remind the gentlemen who hold those views, that any new table which the actuary may frame will be based on the data of the past, and will estimate for the future solely on those data; no actuary will attempt to do more. His tables cannot possibly foresee the state of things ten years hence except so far as probabilities founded on past experience may be a safe guide, and as a fact, the data now available do not by any means support the theory of our despondent friends to the extent supposed. Desirable as it may be to have the actuary's opinion on other grounds, there can be no doubt on the minds of those who know what a valuation is, and what the real facts as to the data for the tables are, that the results as found by him can differ very little indeed from those as now presented. I have always held that it was important that the tables should be revised, but in the results now laid before you subscriptions had been valued at a very moderate figure. What I urged as necessary last meeting has in effect been done, and though the final opinion of the actuary is required to confirm our valuations, I have little doubt this will come in time. It should be remembered also that five years hence will come another quinquennial period at which you can again test these theories, reduce your benefits or increase your subscriptions. You are not stereotyping the Fund Rules for all time by any action you may now take. Your proper course is now, after leaving such a margin as the actuary may think safe, if he does advise a margin at all, to appropriate the remainder of your surplus in ways that commend themselves to the majority of your body.

That some, if not all, of the benefits proposed by the managers might safely be given in anticipation of the actuary's report, and, subject to his ultimate verdict as to cost, admits, I must contend, of no reasonable doubt. It is for those who advance the converse to give some reason for the faith that is in them by pointing out some definite flaw in the calculations after mastering the subject. That no general attempt has been made so to master it, might, perhaps, be inferred from the fact, that only one complete set of the papers has been applied for at the Fund Office (and that within the last few days) notwithstanding the managers' invitation to inspection and offer of perusal of the few copies they have available.

Thus much I have remarked on my own account. On behalf of the managers, I am to say, that while holding their own views, they have no wish to force them on the Service. They find that a considerable number of members are opposed at present to doing anything without an actuary's formal opinion. The managers desire to have a clear and well considered expression of the wishes of the Service at large on that point, and generally on all the modes of utilising the surplus that may be found possible. They will hold themselves bound by the results of such a reference. The proposals already advertised do not, moreover, it seems, cover sufficient ground, for a very considerable body of subscribers has expressed an opinion in favor of still further relieving annuitants,—as a measure that tells in favor of all classes at last. Others would prefer a bonus to widows. It seems better, therefore, to lay all these questions deliberately before the Service again, and to have a very full expression of its views before the meeting of January next.

The valuations can meantime go to the actuary for examination of the surplus and with full data for a revision of all the tables. Arrangements are already being made to prepare these data for transmission. A subsequent communication can follow after the January meeting, when the views of the Service as to the disposal of the surplus have been ascertained.

The managers, believing that this course is fair to all—fair to themselves, as they have not yet had an opportunity of meeting the allegations in the circular of the 24th June—fair to the Service at large which has not had the whole question properly put before it—fair especially to that large body of subscribers at home, about a third of our whole number, who have not even seen the circular of 24th June, and who have as much a right as we to a voice in the matter—the managers, I say, have resolved for the present to withdraw the resolutions of which they had given notice, and on their behalf I do now so withdraw them. It is hoped that this being done, the gentlemen who had proposed to bind the managers by formal resolution not to do that which, it might perhaps be contended, the rules in fact enjoin, will be content to wait till the whole body of subscribers can pass a deliberate judgment on their proposals. The managers pledge themselves to be guided by the wishes of the Service when fully known, and after having met so far the gentlemen who hold these views, they invite them now to make a fair and reasonable concession in return.

Mr. Cotton, however, rose to move the following resolution :—

"That no surplus be declared or distributed, and that no scheme for increase of benefits or reduction of subscriptions be allowed to come into force until after reference to a professional actuary."

He said :—

The circumstances which led to the proposal of this resolution, and of another resolution which would presently be proposed, had been detailed in a circular dated the 24th June, which had been signed by himself and sixteen other subscribers from different parts of the Presidency, and issued to all the members of the Service then in India. Although the managers had withdrawn their own substantive propositions for this meeting, there was nothing in their memo. dated the 24th July in which that withdrawal was announced, nor was there anything in Mr. Mackenzie's present speech which could be said to indicate an acceptance of the principles of his resolution. On the contrary, the managers in their memo. still directly contemplated "giving immediate effect to some of their propositions." He regretted that this was so, and that the managers had not recognized the wisdom and necessity of the resolutions which in the interest of a very large body of subscribers he considered it his duty to propose. It was well, he thought, for every reason that the managers' own propositions should be withdrawn, but there was no argument that he could see in favor of, and much against, postponing the amendments that he had notified. The chief point that he would now urge in support of his first resolution was the imprudence and unbusiness-like nature of the managers' action in proposing the immediate allotment, at once without waiting for an actuary's advice, of no less than 14 lakhs and 37 thousand rupees of the assets of the Civil Fund. His second argument consisted in the fact, which would be more fully treated in discussing the supplementary resolution, that on the average, the gross salaries of subscribers to the Fund were decreasing in value, and that in consequence of the progressive diminution of salaries and subscriptions, the surplus of the Fund was not so great as the managers supposed.

The whole question should, he said, be thoroughly investigated professionally before the Service committed itself to a course which we might all some day rue. On a matter of such importance it was indispensable to secure and be guided by the best professional advice. For his own part he felt he could not place absolute reliance on the calculations of the gentlemen to whom the managers had been content to refer the investigation, and with whose valuations they were satisfied. He would submit to the meeting some of the discrepancies in estimating the value of the so-called surplus that had already been made. In 1870-71 Mr. Westland, in his Financial note, estimated the surplus after all adjustments to amount to something over 18 lakhs. On 25th March 1873, the managers in their circular said, that the adjusted surplus would probably be shown by the quinquennial valuations to be well over 25 lakhs, and believed that they might safely reckon on a surplus for disposal of more than 20 lakhs. On May 21st 1873, the managers accepted Mr. Westland's estimate, that the adjusted surplus amounted to 26,18,000. Within one month, on June 23rd, Mr. Westland issued a note estimating the surplus at 23,26,000, reducing his former calculations at a stroke by 2,92,000. On July 18th,

Mr. Westland issued a further note, reducing the surplus again to 22,35,172, or Rs. 90,828 less than he had estimated it a month previous, and Rs. 3,72,828 less than he had estimated it two months previous. It would not be necessary, the speaker thought, to refer again to the discrepancies between Mr. Westland and Mr. Monteath's calculations, amounting to a difference of 8 lakhs out of 19 lakhs in their estimate of the cost of increased benefits, as they had already been exposed to the Service in the circular of the 24th June. But he considered it desirable to pay now a passing notice to the discrepancy which existed between Messrs. Westland and Monteath, and between their various calculations of the value of annuitants' subscriptions. The cost of exempting annuitants from their subscriptions was estimated by Mr. Monteath at 7½ lakhs. It was estimated by Mr. Westland at Rs. 12,13,000, and upon this estimation he called upon the members of the Service to pause before they admitted a reduction which involved so very great a loss to the Fund. But in his note of the 23rd of June last, Mr. Westland recalculates the value of this benefit at Rs. 8,98,000. The speaker could desire no more cogent proof of the necessity of entrusting these matters into the hands of more professional persons. It was said, moreover, that an actuary would be two years before he could complete his calculations, yet the managers were content with calculations which had been worked out in this country within as many months. The accounts upon which they were called upon to vote a surplus had been prepared, he would say, with singular precipitation, and he did not hesitate to question their accuracy. He was persuaded that however unworthily he stood there as a representative of all branches of the Service in making his present protest, the scores of letters which he then held in his hand were not necessary to convince him that the common sense and reason of the Service would insist upon a reference to a professional accountant, and condemn any anticipatory declaration of surplus, far more a distribution of surplus. No change involving pecuniary liabilities should be made in the Fund, save under the best professional advice,—that was the key note of his proposal, a note struck not by himself, but taken up as it died away from the lips of a gentleman who that day six months, as a manager, impressed its truth upon the meeting then held in that room, but who as Secretary to the managers, was to-day most prominent in advocating the opposite policy.

The managers had said in their last memo. that it would be necessary, in forwarding the quinquennial valuations to the actuary, to submit with them the sense of the Service upon the various ways of utilizing the surplus. From this way of putting the case he strongly differed. He would say that it was necessary first to have both the amount of the surplus and also the cost of all the proposed benefits estimated by a professional. The Service, in deciding on the merits of the propositions, ought to have the opinion of an actuary before them as to what they will severally cost. At present, as had been amply shown, all was doubt and uncertainty on that point. The managers were driving the Service into what he considered was really a leap in the dark. He feared that the Service would ultimately repent it if his suggestion to make a prior reference of all these points to an actuary was not accepted.

Mr. Cotton was then proceeding to state to the meeting what he said were his own views and those of a large body of supporters, that whatever benefits it might finally be deemed advisable to distribute, should be distributed with retrospective effect from the date of the last quinquennial valuation on the 31st March 1873, when the Chairman remarked that he doubted whether Mr. Cotton was in order in proposing his resolution, and as his speech seemed likely to be very lengthy, and would lead to lengthy replies, he would ask Mr. Cotton to show him that he was in order before he proceeded, and that his resolution came under Article XVII.

A discussion on this ensued, in which Messrs. Wilson, Verner, Magrath, Cotton, and others took part.

By those who supported Mr. Cotton it was urged, that the managers' propositions had been duly advertised, and that it was unnecessary to advertise resolutions which were an amendment on their propositions. At every meeting of the Civil Fund amendments were proposed; it was only at the last meeting that several very important amendments were brought forward and allowed. It was pointed out also that the managers' propositions were not published until the 26th May, and that it was therefore an impossibility to get out a reply which could be duly advertized in the newspapers of all Northern India two months before the date of the present meeting on the 29th July. If Mr. Cotton's resolutions were ruled to be out of order, it would be impossible ever to carry an amendment against the managers where they might have reason to believe that they were in a minority. It was also shown that in the form of proxy, Form C, which had been sent by the managers to all subscribers, a N. B. was added to the effect that —"If any subscriber does not wish to support the managers' proposal as a whole, or has any other proposal to bring forward, he can cancel the above or any part of it, &c., &c. The Secretary will see that all such proposals are duly laid before the meeting." Under this guarantee it was contended that the managers were bound to see that Mr Cotton's proposals were fairly discussed and disposed of. Lastly, it was urged that under Article XVII of the Rules, it was quite unnecessary to advertise in detail each proposition in the newspapers, and that certainly under the advertisement of the managers, which was admittedly correct, any member of the Service was at liberty to propose to the meeting any resolution or amendment "connected with the surplus of the Fund" that he might think fit. The wording of the proxies was very wide in its scope, and would include all such propositions.

On the other hand it appeared that the circular of the 24th June had not been communicated to the Fund Office or to the managers as a body, and it was suggested that the resolution as it stood now, was a substantive motion of a very unusual and sweeping character, such as it had always been held right to advertise. The fact that there had not been time to advertise it was no excuse for breaking the rule, and a special General Meeting might have been called after due notice to meet the case.

The Chairman thought Mr. Cotton was out of order. He held that the resolution proposed by Mr. Cotton, as tending to fetter the action of the managers prescribed by Articles XLII (43) and XLIII (44), and to place the initiative as to the matters referred to in those articles of the Fund Rules in the hands of the subscribers at a meeting, and viewed as an independent proposition, constituted a "new general question" within the meaning of Article XVII (18), and therefore could not be brought forward without the previous notice required by that article.

Mr. Dampier hoped that it would be understood that the present question was one entirely between the Chairman and Mr. Cotton and his supporters as regards the prerogative of the chair; and not one for which the managers were responsible. Speaking for himself as a manager, and he believed for all the managers, he would say that they desired the fullest discussion of the question, so that the views of both parties might be placed fully before the subscribers in general. The rules, however, which regulate public meetings must be obeyed, and it was a generally accepted rule that the Chairman's decision on such points should be absolute. The managers, however, had no desire to get rid of the discussion on the merits, or to gain any advantage for their views by any tour de force, juggles or evasions.

The position taken by the managers was that the questions at issue ought not to be decided until the merits had been so fully placed before the subscribers generally that each might give a vote founded on his own conviction, and this was the real and sincere object with which the managers had taken their present course.

Mr. Verner said—that as the Chairman had ruled that Mr. Cotton's resolution was out of order, inasmuch as it had not been advertised under the seventeenth article of the Civil Fund Rules, he would put to the meeting some proposals that had been duly advertised, leaving it to the meeting to pass any amendments that might seem advisable. He therefore proposed "that the following clause be added in Article XXIX of the rules after the words, or £100 "a year in England, and in Article XXX after the same words, "and these allowances shall be "increased by one-fifth if or after the wife or widow of the member shall have died."

The Chairman rose and said that Mr. Verner was not in order.

Mr. Verner replied that he was at a loss to understand why the Chairman held that he was out of order. The Chairman had refused to allow Mr. Cotton's proposition to be put to the meeting because it had not been advertised, but no such objection was applicable to the proposal that he had just made. That proposal had been advertised in the prescribed way, and, therefore according to the strictest reading of the rules, it could be laid before the meeting. He also wished to point out that the transaction of business and the settlement of pending questions must come to a standstill, if at a meeting formally convened like the present one, the managers or any other person could abruptly close the proceedings simply by withdrawing their propositions. The general purport of the question to be considered had been published so as to meet the requirements of the rules, and it did not matter one iota whether the managers did or did not withdraw their special recommendations. In the present case the managers had issued their programme barely two months before the date fixed by them for the meeting, so that it was impossible for those who were dissatisfied with that programme to comply with the Chairman's reading of the rules. He earnestly hoped that the Chairman would not put aside the real question at issue. He felt sure the majority of the meeting, including many of those opposed to him on the merits, would consider the contention one which he might almost venture to call a quibble. Such a course once adopted would be likely to lead to the most unhappy results, of which not the least would be the effort of every minority to fight a losing cause by means of technical points of order, to the exclusion of the merits of the case and the opinion of the majority.

The Chairman said, he felt bound to hold that the bringing forward of an advertised resolution by a subscriber who had pledged himself by his signature to oppose it, and with the avowed purpose of using it as a means of bringing before the meeting a proposition already declared inadmissible, was a mere evasion of Article XVII (18).

The meeting was then dissolved.

A Bill to regulate the Procedure of the High Courts in the exercise of their Original Criminal Jurisdiction, and for other purposes.

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to the procedure of the High Courts in the exercise of their original criminal jurisdiction, and to extend certain parts of the Code of Criminal Procedure to the Courts of the Police Magistrates and to the Police of the Presidency towns; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called "The High Courts' Criminal Procedure Act, 1873."

Local extent.

It extends to the whole of British India;

Commencement.

And it shall come into force on the first day of January 1874.

Repeal of enactments.

2. The enactments mentioned in the schedule hereto annexed are repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of the said schedule, but not so as to revive any practice thereby abolished.

And all rules made under any of the said enactments shall be deemed to have been made under this Act, so far as they are consistent herewith.

Interpretation-clause.

3. In this Act—

"High Court."

"High Court" includes all High Courts established or to be established under the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth of Victoria, Chapter 104, the Chief Court of the Panjáb, and such other courts as the Governor-General in Council may from time to time declare to be invested with the powers of a High Court under this Act; and

"Chief Justice."

"Chief Justice" includes also the Senior Judge of a Chief Court.

"Clerk of the Crown."

"Clerk of the Crown" includes also a Crown Prosecutor and any officer specially appointed by the Governor-General in Council or by the local Government to discharge the functions given by this Act to the Clerk of the Crown in respect of any sittings of a High Court in a place other than its usual place of sitting.

"Magistrate."

"Magistrate" includes also a Police Magistrate in the Presidency towns.

CHAPTER II.

OF SESSIONS.

The time of holding sittings.

4. For the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction, every High Court shall hold sittings four times at the least in every year on such days and at such convenient intervals of time as the Chief Justice of such Court from time to time appoints.

Place of holding sittings.

5. The High Court shall ordinarily hold its sittings at the seat of the local Government; but it may, from time to time, in the case of the High Court at Fort William, with the consent of the Governor-General in Council, in all other cases, with the consent of the local Government, hold sittings at such other places within the local limits of its appellate jurisdiction as the Chief Justice appoints.

Due notice shall be given beforehand in the local Official Gazette of all sittings intended to be held for the exercise of the original criminal jurisdiction of the High Court, and all sittings held in accordance with such notice shall be regular and legal sittings of the High Court.

Notice of sittings.

CHAPTER III.

OF PROCEDURE ON COMMITMENTS.

6. When any person is committed for trial before a High Court, the Clerk of the Crown, or if there be not a Clerk of the Crown, a Judge of the High Court, shall, on receipt of the charge, peruse and consider it, and may, if it appear necessary or expedient so to do, amend, alter, or add to the same.

Consideration and amendment of charge.

The charge, with such amendments, alterations, or additions (if any), shall be recorded in the High Court, and the person charged shall be entitled to have a copy of such charge, with such amendments, alterations, or additions (if any) gratis.

Charge to be recorded.

Copy of charge.

7. The person charged shall also be entitled to copies of the examinations of witnesses upon whose depositions he has been committed, on payment of a reasonable sum for the same, not exceeding one anna for each folio of ninety words.

Copies of depositions.

8. Upon charges recorded as aforesaid, persons committed to custody or held to bail shall be deemed to have been brought before the High Court in due course of law, and (subject to the provisions contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure as to the amendment and alteration of charges, and subject also to the provisions of the next following section) shall be tried upon the charges so recorded.

Effect of charge.

9. When any charge recorded as aforesaid appears to the High Court, at any time before the commencement of the trial of the person charged, to be clearly unsustainable, an entry to that effect may be made on the charge by a Judge of the Court.

Entry on unsustainable charge.

Such entry shall have the effect of staying proceedings upon the charge, but shall not operate as an acquittal of the person charged, unless and until three years from the time of making the entry have elapsed, at the expiration of which period, if no fresh charge has been brought on the same matter, he shall be considered as having been acquitted.

Effect of entry.

10. Pending the directions of the High Court as to the place of trial, every person committed for trial before a High Court shall (if not out on bail) be committed by the Magistrate for intermediate custody to the nearest criminal jail in which he can be most conveniently confined.

Custody pending direction as to place of trial.

If the trial be directed to be held at the usual place of sitting of the Court, the Magistrate shall bind over the person charged to appear and take his trial at such usual place of sitting, or shall commit him to the jail at such place.

Procedure thereafter.

If the High Court direct that the person charged be tried elsewhere than at its usual place of sitting, the Magistrate shall bind him over to appear and take his trial at the place directed, or shall, if necessary, cause him to be removed to the criminal jail at or nearest to the place at which he is directed to be tried; and the officer in charge of such criminal jail shall keep him in safe custody until discharged in due course of law.

10. The High Court may direct that all European British subjects committed or bailed for trial within certain specified districts or during certain specified periods of the year, shall be tried at the usual place of sitting of the Court, or direct that they shall be tried at a particular place named, and may also order that such European British subjects shall, if not bailed, be committed for intermediate custody to a particular jail, being one of the jails appointed by the Government for the reception of such prisoners.

Intermediate custody of European British subjects.

CHAPTER IV.

OF JURIES.

(a) Of Juries generally.

12. All trials under this Act shall be by jury.

Trials to be by jury.

The jury shall consist of twelve persons.

Number of jurors.

If the trial be held in the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, it shall be necessary for a verdict of guilty that such jury be unanimous:

Unanimity necessary in Presidency Towns.

If the trial be held elsewhere than in the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, a majority of not less than nine, with the concurrence of the Judge, shall suffice for a verdict of guilty.

Majority of nine in mofussil.

In default of such unanimity or majority with the concurrence of the Judge, the prisoner shall be acquitted.

Acquittal in default of unanimity of majority.

(b) Of Juries in the Presidency Towns.

13. Every person tried in a Presidency Town upon a charge of having committed an offence punishable with death, or upon any other charge, shall, if a Judge of the High Court so order, be tried before a special jury.

Trials before special jury.

14. The jurors' book for the year current when this Act comes into force, shall be taken as containing a correct general list of persons qualified and liable to serve as jurors under this Act:

Jurors' book.

and those persons whose names are entered in the said jurors' book as being privileged to serve on special juries only, shall be deemed to be persons privileged and liable to serve only as special jurors under this Act during the year for which the said list has been prepared.

15. The names of not more than two hundred persons shall at any one time be entered in the special jurors' list.

Number of special jurors.

16. All persons whose names are entered in the "Special Jurors' List" shall be exempted from serving on any other than special juries, but so long only as their names are continued in such special jurors' list.

Exemption of special jurors.

Lists of common and special jurors.

17. The Clerk of the Crown, or such other Officer as the Chief Justice directs, shall, before the first day of April in each year, and subject to such rules as the High Court from time to time prescribes, prepare a list of all persons qualified and liable to serve as common jurors, and also a list of persons qualified and liable to serve as special jurors only, regard being had, in the preparation of the latter list, to the property, character, and education of the persons whose names are entered therein.

No person shall be entitled to claim to have his name entered in the special jurors' list merely because he may have been entered in the special jurors' list for a previous year.

Discretion of officer preparing lists.

18. The Clerk of the Crown or other officer appointed by the Chief Justice shall, subject to such rules as aforesaid, have full discretion to prepare the said lists as seems to him to be proper, and there shall be no appeal from, or review of, his decision.

Publication of lists.

19. Preparatory lists of persons qualified or liable to serve as common jurors and as special jurors, respectively, signed by the officer by whom the same have been prepared, shall be published once in the local Official Gazette, before the fifteenth day of April next after their preparation.

Revised lists of persons qualified or liable to serve as common jurors and special jurors, respectively, signed as aforesaid, shall be published once in the local Official Gazette, before the first day of May next after their preparation.

Copies of the said lists shall be affixed to some conspicuous part of the Court-house.

Number of jurors to be summoned.

20. Out of the names contained in the list aforesaid, there shall be summoned for each sessions thirty-six of those who are qualified and liable to serve on special juries, and seventy-two of those who are qualified and liable to serve on common juries.

(c) Of Challenges of Jurors in Presidency Towns.

Peremptory challenge.

21. A peremptory challenge to the number of twenty in common juries and ten in special juries shall be allowed.

Challenge on cause.

Save as aforesaid, the following and no others shall be good causes of challenge, whether on behalf of the Crown or by the person charged :—

(1.) Some personal objection, such as alienage, infancy, old age, or deficiency in the qualification required by any law or rule having the force of law for the time being in force :

(2.) Some presumed or actual partialty in the juror :

(3.) A previous conviction of the juror under the Indian Penal Code, or the criminal law administered in the Supreme Courts of Judicature or the Courts of the East India Company previously to the enactment of such Code.

Trial of challenge.

22. The Judge before whom the person charged is about to be tried shall try any challenge, other than a peremptory challenge, and if he allow the challenge, the juror shall be set aside.

Powers of Presidency High Court as to jurors.

23. Save as hereinbefore provided, the High Court shall retain all its present powers respecting the summoning, empanelling, qualification, challenging, and service of jurors in the Presidency Towns :

and shall have power to make such rules on these subjects (consistent with the provisions of this Act) as seem to it to be proper.

All such rules now in force in the High Court shall (so far as they are consistent with this Act) remain in full force until repealed or altered by new rules made under this section.

(d) Of Juries in the Mofussil.

Summoning jurors.

24. Whenever a High Court has given notice of its intention to hold sittings at any place (other than the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay) for the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction, the Court of Session at such place shall take and cause to be taken the measures prescribed by sections four hundred and seven, four hundred and nine, four hundred and ten, four hundred and eleven, and four hundred and twelve, of the Code of Criminal Procedure, for the summoning of jurors.

Military men not exempt.

In addition to the persons so summoned as jurors, the said Court of Session shall, if it think needful, after communication with the commanding officer, cause to be summoned such number of commissioned and non-commissioned officers in the military service resident within ten miles of its place of sitting as the Court considers to be necessary to make up the juries required for the trial of European British subjects charged with offences before the High Court as aforesaid.

All commissioned and non-commissioned officers so summoned shall be liable to serve on such juries notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure ; but no commissioned or non-commissioned officer shall be summoned whom his commanding officer desires to have excused on the ground of urgent military duty or for any other special military reason.

The juries for the trial of European British subjects as aforesaid shall be formed in the manner required by the Code of Criminal Procedure and by this Act, from the persons summoned under the said sections of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and from the commissioned and non-commissioned officers summoned as aforesaid, or, if no such officers have been summoned, then solely frow the persons summoned under the same sections.

Jury for trial of European British subjects.

25. If any European British subject charged as aforesaid so require before the jury is empannelled, the majority of the jurors shall consist of Europeans or Americans, or both Europeans and Americans.

Trial of European British subject and Native jointly charged.

26. In any case in which an European British subject is accused jointly with a person not being an European British subject, and such European British subject is committed for trial before a High Court, the persons so jointly accused shall also be committed for trial before such High Court, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Such persons may be tried together, and the procedure on the trial shall be the same as it would have been had the European British subject been tried separately.

Provisions for European British subject requiring majority of Europeans in jury.

72. In any case before the said High Court in which an European British subject is charged jointly with a person not being an European British subject, and the former, before the jury is empannelled, requires the majority of the jurors to consist of Europeans or Americans, or both Europeans and Americans, the latter person shall be tried together with the former, and the procedure on the trial shall be the same as it would have been had the former been tried separately.

Native may claim separate trial.

Provided that, in any such case, where the person not an European British subject so requires before the said jury is empannelled, he shall be tried separately by a jury of which at least one-half shall consist of persons not being Europeans or Americans.

CHAPTER V.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

High Courts to try as Courts of Sessions.

28. The High Courts shall try as Courts of Session all cases committed to them, and the provisions of this Act shall be applicable to such trials, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

Exemption of High Courts from certain sections of Criminal Procedure Code.

29. The High Courts are exempt from the operation of sections three hundred and thirty-four, three hundred and thirty-five, three hundred and thirty-seven, three hundred and thirty-eight, three hundred and thirty-nine, and three hundred and forty, of the Code of Criminal Procedure;

and in any case coming before the Court in the exercise of its ordinary or its extraordinary original criminal jurisdiction, the Judges of such Court shall taken down the evidence, or the substance thereof, in such manner as the Court, by any general rule, from time to time directs.

Certain sentences exempted from provisions of Criminal Procedure Code.

30. So much of section two hundred and eighty-seven of the said Code as requires the confirmation by the High Court of sentences of death passed by a Court of Session, and so much of the same section as requires from the Court a statement of the grounds on which a person convicted of an offence made punishable with death by the Indian Penal Code has been sentenced to a punishment other than death, shall not apply to sentences by the High Court passed in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction.

Provisions as to form of judgment, sentence, or finding not to apply.

31. So much of the thirty-fourth Chapter of the said Code as requires judgment to be passed by a Criminal Court in any particular form, and as requires that the sentence or finding shall be recorded in any particular form, shall not apply to judgments, sentences, or findings in trials before the High Court acting in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction;

but the High Court shall pass judgment and shall record or cause to be recorded the sentence and finding in such form as it thinks proper.

Power to reserve questions.

32. When any person has been convicted of an offence before a Judge of the High Court acting in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction, the Judge, if he think proper, may reserve for the decision of a Court consisting of such Judge and one or more other Judge or Judges of the High Court, any question of law or of the admissibility of evidence which has arisen in the course of the trial of such person.

Procedure where no question reserved;

If the Judge reserve no such question, he shall forward the prisoner, with a copy of his sentence and a warrant for the execution of the same, to the Magistrate or other officer in charge of the jail of the district or place in which the trial was held, and, on the receipt of the warrant, such Magistrate or other officer shall proceed as provided in the three hundred and fifth section of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

and when reserved.

If the Judge reserve any question of law or of the admissibility of evidence, the person convicted shall, pending the decision thereon, be remanded to jail.

Procedure where decision is adverse.

If the decision on the question be adverse to the person convicted, the Court shall send a copy of its sentence and a warrant for the execution of the same to the Magistrate or other officer in charge of the jail to which the prisoner shall have been remanded, and such Magistrate or other officer shall proceed as provided in the same section.

Power to award costs on petitions, &c.

33. Whenever any petition, application, or motion is made in any matter coming before a High Court in the exercise of its criminal jurisdiction, the Court shall have power to award and apportion costs in any manner it may think fit.

False statements in support of petitions, &c.

34. Whenever a High Court requires the statements in support of any such petition, application, or motion to be verified by a declaration in writing, the person making such verification shall, if any such statement is false, and if he either knows or believes it to be false, or does not believe it to be true, be deemed to have intentionally given false evidence in a stage of a judicial proceeding.

Criminal Procedure Code generally applicable.

35. Save as is hereinbefore otherwise provided, the Code of Criminal Procedure shall apply to the constitution and formation of juries for the purpose of trials before the High Court acting in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction, and to trials before such Court, and to sentences by such Court, and to the carrying into execution of such sentences.

CHAPTER VI.

OF OFFENCES BY EUROPEAN BRITISH SUBJECTS.

Punishment of offence in mofussil legally punishable upon conviction by a Magistrate.

36. If any offence which, by any Act of the Governor-General in Council heretofore or hereafter passed, is declared to be punishable upon conviction by a Magistrate, is committed by a European British subject beyond the locals limits of the jurisdiction of the High Courts, the offender, if not otherwise punishable, shall be liable, upon conviction before one of the said High Courts, to the punishment to which by such Act he is declared to be liable upon conviction before a Magistrate.

Punishment of offences committed within local limits.

37. If any offence which, by any Act of the Governor-General in Council heretofore or hereafter passed, is declared to be punishable upon conviction by a Magistrate, is committed by any person within the local limits of the jurisdiction of a High Court, the offender, if not otherwise punishable, shall be liable, upon conviction before such Court, to the punishment to which by such Act he is declared to be liable upon conviction before a Magistrate.

Saving of jurisdiction of Justice of the Peace.

38. Nothing in this chapter extends to any case in which jurisdiction is expressly given to a Justice of the Peace to convict the offender.

Construction of Acts declaring "Magistrate" to include Justice of the Peace.

39. Whenever, in any Act heretofore or hereafter passed by the Governor-General in Council, the word "Magistrate" is declared to include a Justice of the Peace, such Justice of the Peace shall not by virtue of such Act be deemed to have jurisdiction to punish any offence unless the name is committed within the local limits of the ordinary original criminal jurisdiction of a High Court.

CHAPTER VII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Advocate-General may exhibit informations to High Courts in matters of revenue, &c.

41. The Advocate-General at the several Presidencies of Fort William, Fort St. George, and Bombay, may exhibit, in behalf of the Secretary of State for India in Council, to the local High Court, as occasion shall require, against any person subject to the jurisdiction of the said Courts, any information for any breach of the revenue laws, or for any fine, penalty, forfeiture, debt, or sum of money, committed, incurred, or due by any such person in respect of any such law.

Such proceedings shall be taken upon every such information as may lawfully be taken, in case of an information filed by Her Majesty's

Attorney-General in the Court of Exchequer in England, for any offience committed against the revenue laws of England, or for any fine, penalty, forfeiture, debt, or sum of money due in respect thereof; so far as the circumstances of the case and the course and practice of proceeding in the said Courts respectively will admit.

All fines, penalties, forfeitures, debts, and sums of money, recovered or levied under or by virtue of any such information, shall belong to the Government of India.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Select Committee on the Bill which is now Act X of 1872 (the Code of Criminal Procedure), expressed their opinion that it was desirable that the procedure of the High Courts in the exercise of their original criminal jurisdiction should be regulated by the same law as that which applied to the other Criminal Courts of India. They did not, however, introduce into the Code the requisite provisions on this subject, as it was necessary to obtain the opinions of various authorities before making such a change in the law, and this would have delayed the passing of the Code till after Mr. Stephen had left India. These opinions have now been obtained, and the present Bill is an attempt to embody their result.

It will be seen that the Bill does not purport to regulate the practice of the Courts in issuing prerogative writs; and other omissions will doubtless be pointed out in the course of the careful scrutiny which, it is hoped, the Bill will undergo. On the other hand, it extends the greater part of the Code to the Courts of the Police Magistrates and to the Police of the Presidency Towns.

The Bill is divided into eight chapters, the first of which, amongst other things, repeals portions of the four Statutes and eleven Acts in which the criminal practice of the High Courts (which, for the purpose of the Bill, includes the Chief Court of the Panjáb) is now embodied.

Chapter II deals with Sessions, and is founded on 53 Geo. III, c. 155, s. 102, and Act XIII of 1865, s. 22, and the like enactments for the High Court of the North-Western Provinces and the Chief Court of the Panjáb.

Chapter III of procedure on commitments, embodies the practice introduced by Act XIII of 1865, sections 4, 5, 6, 8, 27, 28, and 31, and followed in Acts XXIV of 1866, sections 3, 5, 6, 8, 9, and IV of 1866, sections 22, 24, 25, 27, 28.

Chapter IV relates to juries. It maintains the rules requiring twelve as the number of all juries, unanimity in the Presidency towns, and, elsewhere, a majority of not less than nine with the concurrence of the Judge (Act XIII of 1865, s. 37). The provisions as to common and special juries in the Presidency towns, and as to challenges of jurors in those towns, are taken from

Act XIII of 1865, sections 11 to 21, both inclusive. The clauses relating to juries in the Mofussil correspond with Act XIII of 1865, sections 35, 36, Act IV of 1866, sections 30, 31, Act XXIV of 1866, sections 11, 12, and Act XIII of 1869, section 1.

Chapter V contains sundry general provisions. It declares that the High Courts shall try as Courts of Session all cases committed to them. But it exempts them from the sections of the Code relating to the taking down of evidence. It renders certain provisions of section 287 of the Code, as to the confirmation of sentences of death and the statement of the grounds of conviction, inapplicable to sentences passed by the High Courts. It relieves them from the requirements of Chapter XXXIV of the Code, as to the form of judgment, sentence, and finding. The rest of the Chapter gives power to reserve questions of law, or of the admissibility of evidence (Act XXIV of 1866, section sixteen), and prescribes the procedure (1) where such questions are, (2) where they are not, reserved. Power is also given to award costs on petitions, &c., made in matters coming before the High Courts in the exercise of their criminal jurisdiction, and provides a punishment for making false statements in support of such petitions.

Except as otherwise provided by the Bill, the Code will apply to the constitution and formation of juries, to trials, to sentences, and to the execution of sentences.

Chapter VI, as to offences by European British subjects, is equivalent to Act XVIII of 1859, as amended by Act XXII of 1870, section three.

Chapter VII extends to the Police Magistrates and the Police of the Presidency Towns, such portions of the Code as seem applicable.

Chapter VIII comprises a single section (equivalent to 53 Geo. III, Cap 155, section 100), empowering the Advocate-General to exhibit informations to the High Courts in matters of revenue.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS IN THE PATNA DIVISION.

[N.B.—The Government orders on this report were published in last week's Gazette, but the Commissioner's report was omitted. The two are now published together to show how far the primary school scheme answers in Behar.]

No. AA, dated Bankipore, the 17th July 1873.

From—S. C. BAYLEY, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of Patna.
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

IN his resolution of 30th September last, the Lieutenant-Governor expressed a hope that at the end of the year 1872-73 the district officers would be able to report on the first-fruits of the scheme of primary education for which the funds were then granted. The following report, compiled from the periodical reports of the district officers, will show how far our efforts have been successful.

2. I began by issuing a circular summarising the principal points in the new scheme, explaining those where I thought difficulty was likely to occur, and inviting co-operation. I venture to quote the following paragraphs from that circular:—

"The resolution lays down with all possible distinctness what the object is that Government have in view, viz., by a system of grants to multiply and somewhat improve the existing class of indigenous schools, but not to introduce a new kind of school, nor to any extent new subjects of teaching. The great aim and object is to teach reading, writing, and arithmetic in the indigenous language of the province, to practise the boys in the native system of accounts, and teach them something of mensuration, and the native system of land survey, and the instruments to be used, as teachers are men of the indigenous schoolmaster class, who will be content with emoluments of Rs. 8 or Rs. 10 a month, and not the higher class of masters hitherto turned out by our training schools, who will be content neither with the low wages of gurus nor with the native system of teaching. The conditions to be insisted upon are efficiency according to the native standards, and submission to periodical inspections and examinations by Government officers; and, on those conditions being agreed to, grants may be given to existing schools to some extent, and should be offered to a much larger extent to persons willing to start fresh schools where they are wanted.

"Grants should in no case exceed Rs. 5 a month, and generally should be as low as Rs. 2 or Rs. 3 a month, which would probably be quite enough to induce the gurus of existing schools to submit to the conditions to be imposed. The assistance expected by Government from wards' estates and municipalities should not be lost sight of, and you should take full advantage of the Government orders in this respect in the endeavour to establish new schools and to bring the old ones under inspection.

"You will observe that the Lieutenant-Governor does not insist on all the old guru-mohashoys being brought in for training to a training class, but he thinks that for all the new teachers who may be appointed, and for the younger gurus of existing schools, this should also be made a condition.

"As to the nature and standard of teaching, which we should aim at, I commend to your perusal Mr. Clarke's report on indigenous education in Mymensing, which is published as an appendix to the resolution, and I beg that you will bear steadily in mind that existing materials and existing systems are to be made use of as much as possible, and that we should not insist on printed books superseding oral repetition, and writing paper taking the place of the plantain leaf or dust. Even in such things as regular hours and registers of attendance, we should be very tender to native habits and prejudices. I dwell on this subject, not because it is left out of the resolution, but because the subordinate officers of the Education Department, who will in this matter serve as your hands and eyes, have naturally enough acquired a very marked dislike and contempt for the unmethodical and primitive methods of indigenous teaching; and, contrasting it with the improved system under which they have been taught, will, unless carefully checked, endeavour to substitute for it something better perhaps, but wholly different, and acceptable neither to the habits nor the means of the class we wish to reach.

"You should, therefore, draw out a very simple list of the conditions on which grants are to be given, excluding where you think fit, in the case of old gurus or meajees, the enforced attendance for a few months at a training class. You will observe that during this attendance at the training class, the guru will continue to draw the Government grant, though he must provide a substitute for his school."

"Having drawn out these conditions, you should, I think, circulate them as widely as possible during your approaching tour, on which you should be accompanied by the Deputy Inspector of your district, and you should make it your special object to select old schools and establish new ones as you move about, and then and there commence the system of grants which Government wish to introduce. You should direct your sub-divisional officers to assist you in thus carrying out these instructions so far as applicable during their tours, and reporting to you week by week what progress they make; and I request that you will furnish me similarly with monthly reports of the action taken by you to carry out the orders of Government."

3. Besides this, I consulted Dr. Fallon on several subsidiary points which will be discussed in a later portion of this report.

4. The Magistrates commenced operations generally in December, and the few reports I got at the end of that month showed fair progress which my cold weather tour confirmed. This has continued throughout the succeeding months, and the warm interest taken in the scheme by almost all the local officers is exhibited in the results which, fairly successful as they appear in figures, give a very inadequate idea of the difficulties to be overcome in attaining any practical result.

5. The following table shows the total grant given to each district (including the previous grant of July), the number of schools which the grant was expected to aid in each district, and the number actually brought on our books at the end of the year :—

District.	Total grant for 1872-73 and 1873-74.	Approximate number of schools expected to be opened or subsidized.	Number of schools actually brought on our books.
Patna	9,600	163 + 30 = 193	182
Gya	12,000	200 + 38 = 238	369
Shahabad	11,200	190 + 30 = 220	216
Tirhoot	24,000	400 + 70 = 470	418
Sarun	12,000	200 + 30 = 230	269
Chumparun...	8,800	150 + 0 = 150	65
	77,600	1,303 + 198 = 1,501	1,519

6. The return shows a total of 18 more than the estimate. The number started in each district is as follows :—

In Patna	182
„ Gya	369
„ Shahabad	216
„ Tirhoot	418
„ Sarun	269
„ Chumparun	65
Total ...	1,519

7. I have no figures of the exact number of pupils except for Tirhoot. There the average is 18, but generally I should incline to put it somewhat lower, say 16 per school, which gives a total of 24,304 boys receiving primary instruction.

8. I proceed now to note how the orders have been carried out in each district.

9. Patna.—In the beginning of the year 1872-73 there were in this district four Government primary schools, which, with those subsequently opened or aided, makes a total of 186. Of these 58 are in the sudder sub-division, 38 in Dinapore, 40 in Barh, and 50 in Behar, receiving from the State Rs. 178-8, Rs. 127, Rs. 143-8, and Rs. 143, respectively, aggregating Rs. 592 per mensem, or an average of about Rs. 318 per each school. Of the total number of schools subsidized in Patna, five are mukhtubs. There are no wards' estates from which assistance is possible in this district, and no arrangements have yet been made in regard to Government estates.

10. The unexpended balance in the hands of the Magistrate amounts to Rs. 2,634, and with this sum it is his intention "to start training classes for the Sudder and Dinapore sub-divisions at an annual cost of Rs. 420, at Barh and Behar at a cost of Rs, 240 each, and also to start or give aid to 30 mukhtubs on the meajees agreeing to learn arithmetic and mensuration at a cost of Rs. 1,440, thus leaving a sum of Rs. 294 to meet printing, stationery, and other unforseen expenses." I have approved of this proposal for utilizing the unexpended balance.

11. Gya.—The schools opened in this district are as follows :—

In head-quarters sub-division		88
„ Nowada	ditto	111
„ Jehanabad	ditto	86

aggregating 369 schools, or 131 in excess of the number expected.

12. Of the number of schools at Nowada and Jehanabad, as indicated above, four are on Government estates, namely, two at Nowada and two at Jehanabad. Moreover, nine of the schools in the former sub-division have been established against a fund arising from a contribution of Rs. 37 per mensem, made by eight of the principal zemindars of the place. From the same fund the Magistrate hopes to be enabled to open half-a-dozen more schools or raise the pay of some of the gurus, if the contributors do not object to the money being so appropriated. In Jehanabad two zemindars have come forward with an annual subcription of Rs. 30 each, but it has not yet been reported how this sum has been disposed of. I have drawn the attention of the Magistrate to clause 3, paragraph 11 of the Government resolution of the 30th September last, in connection with the management of schools maintained from the contributions of the zemindars, and also informed him that such schools, if possible, should be opened on the estates of the zemindars contributing.

13. The greater number of the schools at Gya are old patshalas, and of the total number (331) opened or aided under the September grant, eight are mukhtubs.

14. The monthly cost to Government of these 331 schools is Rs. 730 per mensem, or less than Rs. 2-8 per each school on an average. The highest grant allowed to old schools is Rs. 2, and that to new schools Rs. 2-8. By thus economizing the resources at his disposal, the Magistrate has been enabled to establish a "considerable number of schools in addition to the number sanctioned, and to provide every village of any pretentions with the means of primary education." The Magistrate adds that "the Government grants, however small, are, so far as he has been able to ascertain, looked on by the gurus as no insignificant addition to their income, and consequently worth contending for."

15. Mr. Palmer has issued instructions to the Deputy Magistrate of Aurungabad to establish a patshala at Pacho khur, "the only village in the Pacho khur Court of Wards, where a patshala ought to exist."

16. Rs. 120 are in the hands of the Magistrate from the Government Estates Improvement Fund for expenditure in furtherance of mass education. He has as yet established four patshalas on the Government estates in his district, of which he has given full particulars :—

Names of patshalas.	Number of pupils now attending.	Hindoos.	Mahommedans.	Amount of Government aid.	Remarks.
				Rs. A.
Phooldih ..	17	6	11	2 8	These schools have only just been opened, and a much larger attendance is expected hereafter.
Toonsihary ...	12	4	8	2 8
Takra ...	11	11	.....	2 8
Bimalpore ...	3	3	.....	2 8

17. Mr. Palmer states that the inspection reports of his Sub-Inspectors are not very intelligent or satisfactory, but so far as they go, they show that real progress is being made, and he is satisfied with the working of the schools on the whole.

18. Shahabad.—The aggregate number of schools opened or subsidized in this district is 216, and includes 17 mukhtubs. The schools are distributed in the four sub-divisions of the zillah as follows:—

Arrah	73
Sasseerm	56
Buxar	51
Bhubooa	36

19. In regard to mukhtubs, the Magistrate in one of his reports stated that he feared "little has been done either in the way of giving Government aid to existing mukhtubs or in establishing new ones, the chief reasons being that so few institutions of this kind are to be met with in the interior, in which more than ten Mahomedans receive education, or in which the meajees are capable of giving instructions in arithmetic, mensuration, and the vernacular."

20. In reply, I gave the Magistrate to understand that I do not want the conditions of giving grants to mukhtubs to be fixed and invariable in the beginning. The object in fixing the conditions is to show the standard which we should work up to, but they need not be insisted upon as necessary preliminaries to a grant in every case.

21. The zemindars in this district have not afforded any pecuniary assistance although a few of them have promised to do so. They have, however, in most cases willingly allowed the use of houses for schools where their villages have been selected for the establishment of these institutions.

22. Mr. Alexander, however, entrusted in a large measure to the zemindars and head villagers the power of nominating teachers, a plan which I do not think was followed in other districts. The qualifications of the nominees of course had to be tested by the Deputy Inspectors.

23. The maximum stipend of Rs. 5 a month has been given only to those teachers who are fully qualified to teach in the Nagree and Kaithee character, and who also possess a fair knowledge of arithmetic and mensuration.

24. The average stipend of the teacher has been from Rs. 2-8 to Rs. 3 a month.

25. It was arranged on Mr. Alexander's suggestion that lest the receipt of a Government stipend should induce the gurus to wax careless of their duties towards their pupils, that stipends should be raised and lowered according to results, and the Sub-Inspectors were expected to keep a register with a page to each guru's name, noting therein the result of their inspections by way of guiding the Magistrate in raising and reducing the stipends.

26. Tirhoot.—Mr. Halliday has furnished a concise report of what has been done by him in furtherance of the scheme, and has assisted me materially with the suggestions made by Mr. Gordon, the Secretary to the District Committee, in regard to some of the subsidiary points which are discussed at the end of this report.

27. His results have for convenience of inspection been tabulated in the annexed statement:—

Average 18 nearly; Rs. 3-3.

* This number appearing to be rather too large with regard to the proportion of Hindus to Mahomedans, the Magistrate has called for an explanation from the sub-divisional officer.

28. This statement shows an average attendance of nearly eighteen pupils to each school, and a monthly cost on account of each Rs. 3-3 to the State.

29. The most remarkable feature of this table is the number of mukhtubs, and for this I am unable to account except by a reference to the number actually in existence before the scheme commenced to work. It will be seen that Mr. Halliday has started new ones in but slightly larger proportion than those he found already existing, though out of all proportion to the numbers of Mahomedans to Hindus. I was rather afraid in the first instance of the interest of the poorer Mahomedans being altogether overlooked, and requested special attention to their requirements; but in Tirhoot this was scarcely necessary. In sanctioning the course Mr. Halliday adopted in giving the maximum grant to meajees, I stipulated for some guarantee of improved teaching on their part, and Mr. Halliday has directed that besides reading and writing they should, in order to retain the grant, teach arithmetic, simple mensuration, and zemindaree accounts. It is very noticeable how large a number of the pupils in the primary schools of the district are Mahomedans; and another point which comes out with special clearness in the reports is the general opposition shown by the Brahmins, Bahbuns, and higher castes generally of Tirhoot to these schools.

30. Another point worth noticing is the great difference between neighbouring sub-divisions in the success with which this scheme has been introduced. Hajipúr has 76 schools for instance against 35 in Tajpúr; Seetamaree, too, shows ninety-six schools and 1,856 pupils, while the neighbouring sub-division of Modhubuny shows only 41 schools and 820 pupils. No doubt the Brahmins in the east of Tirhoot are particularly hard to deal with; but I think the personal energy and influence of the sub-divisional officer has a good deal to do with it, and of all the officers of this division I think Mr. O'Reilly of Seetamaree has taken the most pains and had the most promising results to show. His constant intercourse with the natives, and his ready sympathy with them, has gone a long way towards this result, and by continual visits and personal explanations he has, I hope, raised an interest which will give permanent efficacy to his work.

31. In the Sudder, Seetamaree, and Hajipúr sub-divisions, Mr. Halliday reports the maliks have erected or are erecting huts or sheds for the schools. He has not received any definite reports on this point from the officers in charge of the other sub-divisions.

32. Apart from the schools enumerated in the table given in paragraph 27, there are in this district 22 primary schools supported entirely by the Durbhangah Raj. These schools are established in or near the Raj villages, and educate about 700 boys in Hindustani and Hindi; since the latter part of the last official year a Deputy Inspector has been appointed by the Raj to supervise them, and the cost to the Raj of maintaining these institutions during that year was about Rs. 7,627.

33. Sarun.—Most of the schools opened in this district are new ones, no less than 269 have been set up or aided as marginally noted, being 39 in excess of the expected number. Previous to the introduction of the present scheme there existed two Government patshalas in this district, which, with those established under recent orders makes a total of 271 schools.

In the sudder sub-division	..	185
Total	...	269

34. The aggregate monthly cost to Government on account of these schools amounts to Rs. 800, or Rs. 9,600 per annum, being Rs. 600 over and above the amount of grant sanctioned for the current official year. Taking, however, the grant for 1872-73 and 1873-74 together, Mr. Drummond calculates on a surplus of Rs. 2,139 which he proposes to expend partly in new schools and partly in providing house accommodation, books, maps, and furniture where necessary for the schools already set up, as well as in granting rewards in accordance with the suggestions contained in Government order No. 1091, dated 11th March 1873. I see no objection to accede to the proposal of the Magistrate, but I notice that if he carries out his plans in full a Government grant of Rs. 12,000 would be required annually to keep up the present rate of contribution.

35. Of the total number of schools established in Sarun 15 are mukhtubs.

36. The total sum available from Government and Wards' estates for the object of diffusing primary education in this district amounts to Rs. 236, and from this fund the Magistrate has been instructed to establish 10 or 12 schools.

37. The Court of Wards has sanctioned a special grant of Rs. 4,692 from the assets of the Hutwa Raj for opening 31 schools in the estates of the Raj. Of these 30 have been opened, and are included in the number (84) exhibited against Sewan.

38. Mr. Drummond, in consultation with the manager, decided, however, that the total cost of these schools should not fall on the Raj, and has subsidized them with a Government grant of Rs. 1,100. The object of this was by no means to save the Raj money, but that by associating the Government as a joint contributor with the Rajah, the chance of the latter discontinuing his subscriptions hereafter should be reduced to a minimum.

39. At the recommendation of the manager of the Hutwa estate a number of scholarships (4 or 5) of about Re. 1 each has been sanctioned for each of the Raj schools at an annual outlay of Rs. 1,000 "in order to enable the children of poor parents, who otherwise cannot dispense with their childrens' earnings, to attend school."

40. Chumparun.—This is a very backward district; of the 150 schools assigned for it only 65 have been started, viz.—

In the Sudder sub-division	40
Total ...	65

41. The aid given to the schools vary from Rs. 2 to Rs. 5 per mensem. The only report received from the Magistrate scarcely furnishes any further particulars than those mentioned above.

42. There are no Government or Wards' estates in this district.

43. In the selection of teachers as well as villages for opening new schools or aiding existing ones, the district and local officers have been guided generally by the spirit of the instructions contained in paragraph 11 of the Government Resolution of the 30th September.

44. I have only in one instance come across a man combining the profession of putwaree with that of guru, but very many of the gurus are of that class; potential but not actual putwarees.

45. One of the great difficulties which in some places we have had to contend with has been the selection of good gurus. One sub-divisional officer reported that the applicants whom he had examined could scarcely write their own names, and could not read three lines of print correctly. One sub-divisional officer was induced by this difficulty to employ the police in hunting up candidates for him. The result was as may be imagined, not successful.

46. It has been arranged, as I have before mentioned, that a register should be kept in the Deputy Inspector's office in every district, with a page to each teacher's name, wherein the result of the Deputy Inspector's visit to a school is to be entered, and that the Magistrates should send for and examine this frequently, especially when questions of revising the Government grant come up. I have at the same time distinctly authorized reductions to be made in the stipends of the teachers whenever a falling off in their work is perceptible. This system of paying-by-results will, I trust, prevent from sliding into laziness or a wilful neglect of their duties. This is one possible result of the Government grants. Another actual and very general result, I am sorry to say, has been the refusal of the pupils' parents to contribute any longer. The argument would seem to be that "Government pays the guru, why should we pay him." The guru is helpless; he must keep a certain number of boys together to get Government grant, even if he teach them gratis.

47. By not assigning a larger grant than Rs. 2 or Rs. 2-8, and by continual explanations on the part of Sub-Inspectors and sub-divisional officers, I trust that this may be overcome; it is, however, a serious difficulty to have to deal with at first starting. More than all other difficulties, however, that district officers have had to contend with, they complain of the obstinate incredulity of the people as to any disinterested benefit coming from Government, and their wild credulity as to the motives which actuate us. The state of things is not a happy comment on our rule; but so it is. I quote the following remarks of the district officers.

48. The Magistrate of Patna in his report No. 99, dated 14th February last, paragraph 4, states—

"There has been one instance in which the boys attending a school, all left because a stupid report got about as to why they were being taught, viz., that they were to be shipped off to the Mauritius when they could read and write; in another, the Inspector of Schools, Mr. Fallon, told me he could not get a single boy in a village in which one of these schools had been started to come anywhere near him, till an enlightened Mahomedan who had been in Government service, brought up his son to lead the way, when the others followed—and all because an equally stupid rumour had been circulated; in a third, an old guru, who had been established in his village for years as schoolmaster, returned his first month's salary of Rs. 5 by the peon who took it, and decamped to another village, leaving the school to look after itself; why or wherefore, I have not yet been able to ascertain, and the school is now flourishing under the management of another competent man; but these are all incidents which lead me to think that it is not advisable to push on the work of introduction too rapidly."

49. The same officer in his letter, dated 13th May last, No. 13, paragraph 2, also states—

"In addition to the rumours, which have for some time past been going the round of the district, that all those learning up to a certain standard will be shipped off to the colonies whether they wish it or not, another idea has now taken hold of the people, which has been started through the circulation of the returns to be filled up by the different gurus, which requires their furnishing information regarding the position in life of their pupils and the means of their parents; which is, that the gurus are nothing more or less than paid spies of the Government placed all over the country to acquire information which will allow of Government introducing some new tax." I believe this idea to be distressingly common.

50. The Magistrate of Shahabad in paragraph 7 of his letter No. 846, dated 27th March, remarks—

"Zemindars and their ryots as a body cannot quite understand why Government should expend so much money without the ulterior object of securing benefit to itself in some way; some zemindars think the people are only to be educated in order that when they have acquired a certain amount of knowledge and have so far become useful, they may be taken away from their village and employed elsewhere by Government; others, that the village teachers are really entertained as a means of espionage in regard to what goes on in the village."

51. In paragraph 3 of his letter, No. 141, dated 22nd May 1873, addressed to the Magistrate of Tirhoot, the Assistant Magistrate in charge of the Modhubuny sub-division observes—

"I beg to say that his (Sub-Inspector's) representation to me of his difficulties are stronger than what I put forward in my letter; he says he was everywhere received with distrust, on the ground that it was incredible that Government should give Rs. 5 and Rs. 3 a month gratuitously; there must be some object. And villagers persisted in believing that their children, if sent to such schools, would be transferred to Patna or Calcutta, chiefly as army recruits, and would be obliged to give up their religion."

52. Other Magistrates have spoken of the same things in more general terms.

53. The moral I draw from all this is, not that the scheme should be abandoned, but that it should be persisted in, and introduced more extensively—only gradually and, above all, patiently. I refer to this universal distrust to show that the introduction of the scheme was by no means altogether plain-sailing to the district officers and their subordinates.

54. It is difficult to specify among the district officers any one more deserving of praise than another. They have all (with the single exception of the Magistrate of Chumparun, for whom there were special excuses) taken up the subject with all possible zeal and earnestness, and devoted the early months of the year to this special work, and, as I venture to submit, with a remarkable degree of success. Of the sub-divisional officers, I would bring specially to notice—

Mr. O'Reilly	...	Seetamaree.
Babu Bimolachurn Bhuttacharjee	...	Behar.
Mr. Eyre	...	Sasseeram.
Syud Amir Hossein ...	...	Nowada.

Other sub-divisional officers may have done as well as these, but I have been specially struck by a perusal of their diaries, &c., with the energy and intelligence brought to bear on the subject by these officers.

55. There are some subsidiary points about which correspondence has been and still is going on, which deserve a brief mention here. These are—

56. I.—Indigenous teaching for Mahomedans.—As regards this point, I agree with Dr. Fallon in thinking that simple Hindustani in the Persian character may be used, as the vehicle for conveying primary instruction in the mukhtubs without infringing any of the rules laid down by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor. The language being one and the same, the only question is whether Mahomedan boys may be taught the Persian character. The prejudice against their learning the Nagri without learning the Persian character also is much stronger than I had any idea of, and I recently heard one of the wisest and most enlightened Mahomedans of the day (Syud Ahmud of Benares) at a public meeting of Mahomedans, emphatically repudiate on their part the notion that they would ever consent that their children should be educated in Hindu schools, and through the medium of the Nagri character. I have accordingly authorized the Magistrates to give small grants from Rs. 3 to Rs 5 to mukhtubs teaching more than 10 boys on condition of the meajees learning and introducing into their schools arithmetic, mensuration, and the vernacular as defined above, without at the same time being too strict in the beginning in enforcing the conditions required.

57. II.—Training of Gurus.—In regard to the training of gurus, a beginning has been made in Patna, I believe, and in Chuprah. But so long ago as January last, I raised the whole question of the status on which our model and training schools should be kept up, but have hitherto received no reply; and till that is settled, it is most difficult to organize any general scheme. There is some difficulty in getting the gurus in, apart from their natural antipathy to leaving their houses and going to school for three or six months, in the fact that though they get the Government stipend their substitutes get scarcely any fees and will not stay. I am not anxious to force on this training too vigorously. I would get in the present men where I can, but I would look more to training classes for young men, and to substituting these by degrees for the older set as they fall behind and are weeded out. This is Mr. Gordon's view, and I have no doubt it is a sound one.

58. III.—Education Census.—I have directed an educational census to be taken in two or three representative villages in each sub-division on the basis of the late census papers. There will be no difficulty in this, and it will afford a fair standard of present comparison and future progress. I hope soon to hear the results of this.

59. IV.—Examination Centres.—Dr. Fallon has proposed, in order to facilitate the inspection of these numerous schools, that certain centres should be fixed, at which all pathsalas at a convenient distance, say within a radius of six miles, may be assembled on certain dates previously notified for the purpose of undergoing common examination by the Deputy or Sub-Inspector or by sub-divisional or district officer.

60. I have consulted the Magistrates on this point, and all who have reported are agreed that it would be a mistake. It would entail toil and trouble on the masters as well as the students, and in consequence prove particularly distasteful to them. It would lose the great advantage of inspection on the spot, and the subsidiary advantage of explaining matters to the parents and encouraging the villagers.

61. Mr. Gordon remarks that an examination carefully conducted under the existing system is likely to leave a wholesome impression on the minds of the pupils as well as of their relatives, and local visits of officials repeated as often as possible would help not a little in wiping off the misconceptions and prejudices which are still rife among the people in respect to the new scheme of popular education.

62. V.—Education Durbar.—Another suggestion which Dr. Fallon has made is the institution of an educational durbar. As connected specially with primary education, this would, I submit, be a mistake, and is, if suitable at all, only suitable when we come to deal with the higher education; but apart from this, I am always afraid of such things becoming mere shams, which, instead of commanding respect, would only be a subject of ridicule.

63. I extract a portion from a note by Mr. Gordon on this subject which I think is valuable:—

"With reference to the third point, the institution of an educational durbar, the idea seems to me rather a foolish one so far as regards primary education is concerned. If its objects were only to promote higher education, something perhaps might be said in its favor, but I am confident that such an institution would, practically speaking, confer no benefit whatever on the masses, and do no good towards the furtherance of elementary education. It is not to be supposed that the half-clad boys of primitive patshalas and mukhtubs with their teachers would attend in these durbars, or if they did, would be at all bettered thereby. An assembly of this kind would perhaps be one of the most extraordinary ever seen in India, and as for rewarding in this manner the few philanthropic landholders who may have given Rs. 2 or 3 a month and built a shed for the school, why, there are many other ways open to Government of expressing approval of their conduct. Durbars are liked by those native gentlemen who go in for establishing societies all over the country, who have a taste for pomp and ceremony, who look forward to the robe or title of honor as a reward for their philanthropic exertions. The bestowal of a 'khilat,' or title of honor or distinction, on such persons may be a fitting way of recognizing the great good they have done to their country, but these are not the men who would go among their villagers and point out to them the advantage they will gain by sending their boys to these elementary schools; nay, I believe they would probably rather discourage than encourage them to do so."

"I have pointed out above what I consider the best way of advancing primary education among the masses. Frequent visits to and converse with the people will do much good than holding hundreds of 'durbars.' The idea is a delusion and a snare."

64. One other point only remains which I have had a good deal of discussion about, that is, the means of conveying their pay to the gurus. I called for opinions from the Magistrates to whom the matter is left by Government, and after considering them, I issued the following brief circular which conveys my own opinions on the matter: "I observe that the question of paying their stipends to the gurus and meajees under the new scheme of primary education is left mainly to the discretion of the Magistrates. After consulting the Magistrates of this division, I find that they are unanimous in desiring a monthly, and not a quarterly, payment. It is also tolerably clear from their answers that the existing staff of Sub-Inspectors is utterly insufficient to undertake the duty of making regular payments month by month to each school, and if a system of circles be devised, so as to bring a number of gurus together on a fixed day to meet him, the plan involves a loss of time both to him and to the gurus. I should have liked it to be arranged, wherever possible, that the gurus should come in to the sub-divisional head-quarters to receive their pay, so as to give the sub-divisional officer an opportunity of seeing and speaking with them, and thus tightening their connection with the Government, and for this object I think the loss of two or three days' work in the month would be cheaply purchased. But it seems clear that this plan cannot be carried out universally, and though I hope the Magistrates may adopt it for those schools that are within easy reach, for all others they have apparently to choose between two alternatives, either to let the gurus receive their pay from the thannah, or to adopt the system of circles by which a Sub-Inspector might meet and pay a certain number of gurus on a certain day. If the money were deposited at the thannahs, and the Sub-Inspector was to fix a day for paying all the gurus in the jurisdiction at the thannah, as often as he could come and let the police do it when he was unable, it would combine the advantages of both systems and save the Sub-Inspector from travelling about with large sums of money."

65. I must apologize for the delay in sending in this report and for the length to which it has reached.

No. 2751, dated Calcutta, the 2nd August 1873.

From—C. BERNARD, Esq., Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the General Department.

To—The Commissioner of Patna.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. AA, dated 17th July 1873, and to say that the Lieutenant-Governor thanks you much for the report on primary schools submitted therewith. His Honor has perused it with much gratification as showing that the Government orders have been carried out, and carried out successfully, in your division.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe the high terms in which you have been able to speak of your district officers, except the district officer of Chumparun; and I am to say that he has specially noticed the testimony borne by you to the zeal and energy of the sub-divisional officers noted in the margin.

Mr. O'Reilly, Seetamaree; Babu Bimolachurn Bhuttacharjee, Behar; Mr. Eyre, Sasseeram; Syud Ameer Hossein, Nowada.

3. All districts except Chumparun have done very successfully. The Gya results are especially good in several particulars. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes Chumparun will make up way in future.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that the orders you issued were excellent and judicious, as your orders generally are, and fully carry out the views of Government. It must be expected that there will be difficulties and misconstructions as to anything new in this country, but they soon pass over, and the practical result shows that they have been conquered in this matter so far as to enable the Government to make a good start; that this once done, progress may be as fast as funds and means admit, though neither the funds nor the machinery admit of too rapid a progress, and it might not be politic to attempt to do too much. It may be well to give up for the time any inquiries with a view to classification of parents which excite special suspicions; the simple return recently prescribed for primary schools does not require this kind of information. We must not exaggerate the ignorance of village gurus who cannot read print;—they are not accustomed to read print, and a man not so accustomed may not be able to read it, though really acute in his own way. He will be able to learn the printed character in a week. The gurus are probably not now very good, but if officers steadily enlist all the available resources of the country, make friends instead of enemies of the Brahmins (as they well may) in this enterprise, and improve the material they find, the materials for simple village schoolmasters will, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, be forthcoming in Behar.

5. Orders have been passed and are about to issue regarding normal schools, securing one for every district. His Honor has not yet attempted regular training schools at sub-divisions, but will not interfere with the temporary arrangements of that kind which you have made to set the new schoolmasters going.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor is very glad to say that the Government of India have now sanctioned a liberal percentage on the revenue of Government estates being devoted to schools, roads, and local improvements. He trusts that by this grant the Government will be enabled to do its duty as an improving landlord, and to set a sufficient example to others.

7. The number of primary schools mentioned as kept up by the great Durbhangah estate is hardly so many as the Lieutenant-Governor could have hoped; but attention seems to be directed to the subject in wards' estates, and His Honor hopes this will be fully kept in view in their management.

8. In Gya and some other places, the zemindars seem to contribute fairly, and His Honor trusts that they will be induced to do so more and more; sub-holders, proprietary communities, and village headmen should also be engaged to assist as much as possible.

9. As regards the complaint that parents will not pay teachers when the State does, that is a complaint in many parts of the world. Probably the schoolmasters are very prone to make the most of and exaggerate complaints of this kind. Though the tendency must to some extent be in the direction stated, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that, if the schoolmasters get the aid Government can give, and are left to claim and levy the old-fashioned fees in their own way for their own profit, they will probably manage it. At any rate, every effort should be made to carry out the system with fees, such as gooroos usually levy, or by voluntary contributions, or by self-assessment, so as to avoid the necessity of resorting to a compulsory assessment as long as possible.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of payment by results in Shahabad, as mentioned in paragraph 25 of your report, and hopes that it will be tried elsewhere.

11. His Honor will not now go into details of each district, preferring to let you carry out your plans as you so well can. But there are some peculiarities in what you say regarding Tirhoot, which must be noticed.

The large proportion of Mahomedan schools in a part of the country where the proportion of Mahomedan population is comparatively so small (say one-eighth) is a surprise, and it is more so when we see the contrast in this respect between Tirhoot and all the surrounding districts with apparently similar populations. His Honor would like to know the result of further inquiries on this subject. It should be ascertained whether the facts are spontaneous, or whether the results are influenced by any personal proclivities of our officers. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks Mr. Halliday is wrong in giving the maximum grant to Mahomedan mukhtubs generally in Tirhoot when he does not do so to other schools, if that is what is to be understood. In many parts of the country the Mahomedans are at present markedly at a disadvantage, and any reasonable special assistance to bring them forward is most desirable. But in Behar it is not so. They have there a share of education and office more than in proportion to their numbers; and in Tirhoot, especially, it seems very far from being so. Where the Mahomedans are already as well off or better off than other people in respect of education, there is no reason for specially favoring them or giving them larger grants than others. In Bengal the Lieutenant-Governor might not have objected to such an arrangement; in Behar he does.

12. His Honor will also be anxious to know that the large number of Mahomedan schools thus aided are really, or are in process of being made, useful primary schools, and that middle-class schools or mere mosque religious recitations are not made recipients of primary school funds to too great an extent. His Honor knows that at many mosques boys are well taught, and wherever it be so, if they are well taught, the Government is thoroughly content, whoever the boys be, and whoever teaches them; but we must see that there is practical teaching.

13. Wherever it is the habit of the Mahomedans, the Persian character must be recognised as a vehicle of primary instruction among them, and the Lieutenant-Governor believes it really is so to a great extent in Behar, which differs from Bengal in that respect. But if the Persian or Arabic characters be admitted, there is more need for seeing carefully that the schools receiving grants really are useful primary schools. Also, Hindoos seeking to become lawyers or clerks must not be taught Persian at primary schools, as that is not the Government object. For Hindus of Behar, Hindi only can be admitted to be the primary vernacular.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor is constrained to notice again, as he has noticed in another place, what is said of the hostility of Brahmins and Bahbuns. This seems especially strange with respect to the education we are now seeking to give. All over India the Brahmins are not the enemies of education, and are seldom intractable or sulky people; but just the contrary. In Hindustan proper, no doubt, they have lost their ancient position as the clerical monopolists of written power. His Honor believes that is principally because Persian was made the language of business under the Mahomedans, and they have never taken to that foreign tongue and character. But surely the establishment of Hindee schools, and the invitation to Brahmins and other literate castes to take pay as schoolmasters, is not calculated to excite their hostility. The Bahbuns, again, not unfrequently are educated and ambitious. And in Behar both Bahbuns and Brahmins are just the people who desire to be village headmen, jeyt ryots, or putwarees, and to whom good primary education is especially serviceable. His Honor much trusts soon to hear that these classes, instead of being opposed, are wholly on our side, in this matter of primary education at least.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 9th August 1873.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	Remarks.
BENGAL.
	Western Districts.	1873.
Burdwan Division. 1	Burdwan ...	Aug. 12th*	7·50	Weather cloudy and rainy.	The late rain has done much good to crops. Grain dearer.	Fever prevalent.
2	Bancoorah ...	„ 9th	2·74	Showery.	Generally good ...	Cholera not yet disappeared, but fever cases have been reported.
3	Beerbhoom ...	„ 9th	3·13	Showery. Heavy rains on Friday night and Saturday morning.	Prospects generally favorable. Some local damage to dhan from inundation in eastern part of district.	No increase in fever, small-pox or cholera; sporadic cases of the latter two diseases continue to occur.
4	Midnapore ...	„ 9th	2·12	Rainy and cloudy ...	The rain is said to have been too much for the indigo, and it has been impossible up to latest information to close one of the worst breaches in the Cossye embankment through which water still flows, otherwise the general prospect is encouraging.
5	Hooghly ...	„ 9th	1·02	Cloudy. Occasional light rains.	The prospects of the crops are the same as they were last week—on the whole satisfactory.
	Howrah ...	„ 9th	1·13	Rain during the first four days of the week throughout the district. Weather cool.	Transplantation of amun rice crop is being carried on throughout the district, and in some places it is nearly finished. The jute and sugarcane are good.
	Central Districts.
Presidency Division. 6	24-Pergunnahs ...	„ 12th	0·85	Weather warm and close. Light rains with occasional heavy showers during first four days of the week.	Transplantation of amun progressing rapidly; prospects of all crops good, but more rain is still wanted in Barraset.	Fever peculiar to this season prevailing at Satkhira and Barripore. One case of cholera reported at Barrackpore.
7	Nuddea ...	„ 9th	3·84	The rainfall has been scanty.	The aus dhan and the indigo in the northern part of the district have not been at all good. In the southern and eastern part they have been better. The prospects of amun dhan have much improved. More rain is required all over the district.
8	Jessore ...	„ 9th	1·37	Cloudy and clear alternately; not very much rain.	Generally good. Transplantation of amun going on rapidly.
Rajshahye Divn. 9	Moorshedabad ...	„ 9th	3·44	Cloudy and close with frequent showers of rain.	The prospects of bhadoi continue to improve, but the outturn will be scanty. More rain wanted for amun in the west of the district. Mulberry and sugarcane doing well. Rivers very full and inundating crops, but no water standing on the fields
10	Dinagepore ...	„ 9th	3·19	Tolerably heavy showers throughout the district.	The rain which has fallen has been of great benefit, but more is still required, especially in the south-east portion where, from want of rain, scarcely any cultivation has yet taken place. More rain wanted throughout the district for amun crops.

* Telegram of the 12th August received on the same day.

No	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall Builder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	REMARKS
BENGAL.—(Contd.)
	Central Districts.—(Contd.)	1873.
RAJSHAHYE DIVISION.—(Contd.) 11	Maldah ...	Aug. 9th	2·29	Hot and sultry at first, cloudy and rainy afterwards, with strong easterly winds.	There has been steady and plentiful rain during the week which will much benefit the paddy crops.
12	Rajshahye ...	„ 9th	3·56	Moderate rain throughout the district during the past week.	Prospects of ropa dhan unfavorable in consequence of deficiency of rain; that which is sown broad-cast and the aus dhan are in a more hopeful condition. In some places the latter is being cut. In parts of the Barondra (high land) in the west of the district want of rain has prevented any transplantation of rice, and in some parts the young plants have dried up before transplantation. Mulberry, sugarcane, urhur, and jute are thriving.	A few cases of small-pox reported from Nattore.
13	Rungpore ...	„ 9th	0·78	Cloudy with thunder, but very slight showers.	The spring crop is nearly cut, the outturn will be from 6 to 8 annas only. Very little winter rice has been planted out for want of rain, and the prospects of the crop are very bad.
14	Bograh ..	„ 9th	2·19	More rain has fallen; weather cooler.	The transplanting of amun crop has continued, but much more rain is wanted.
15	Pubna ...	„ 9th	0·71	Weather cool with small showers of rain.	The prospect of amun crops is good; more rain is wanted. Aus is being cut.
COOCH BEHAR DIVN. 16	Darjeeling ...	„ 9th	2·70	Cooler and more bracing than last week. Rainfall still below the mark for the month of August.	In the terai the early rice crop sown in April and May is now well grown, and the cold weather crops are being transplanted; both are progressing favorably. In the hills the crops are doing well.
17	Julpigoree ..	...		.....	.....	Return not received.
	Cooch Behar ...	...	...	.....	.....	Return not received.
	Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVISION 18	Dacca ..	Aug. 12th*	8·36	Rain daily all over the district.	Prospects of crops fair. Rivers gradually rising; more sunshine wanted. Jute generally short.
19	Furreedpore ...	„ 9th	2·2	Cloudy and rainy during the week, sunshine at intervals.	The aus crop, such as it is, is being reaped. The amun and jute crops are on the whole promising.
20	Backergunge .	„ 9th	2·81	Rainy ..	Much improved.
21	Mymensing ...	„ 9th	5·39	Sufficient, but not excessive rain.	The aus rice is being cut and will prove rather a deficient crop. Amun rice crop promises well.
22	Sylhet ...	„ 2nd	8·37	Very wet and cool ...	A good deal of the amun sown earlier in the season has been destroyed from want of rain, but if the present weather continues, there is still every hope of a fair harvest.
23	Cachar ..	„ 2nd	7·0	Cloudy, with rain ...	Pretty fair. The sail dhan is being rapidly planted out. Tea very good.
CHITTAGONG DIVN. 24	Chittagong ..	„ 2nd	12·13	Very heavy rain during the greater part of the week. At the end weather fine, with occasional showers.	The rain will have done an immense deal of good, and it appears to have been general.
25	Noakhally ..	„ 2nd	15·01	Constant heavy rains during the week.	Aus and amun dhan progressing favorably.

* Telegram of the 12th August received on the same day.

	No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	Remarks.
BENGAL.—(Contd.)		Eastern Districts.—(Contd.)	1873.
Chittagong Divn.	26	Tipperah ...	Aug. 9th	5·67	Very satisfactory weather on the whole, though heavier rain is required in the north.	It is difficult to say exactly how far the rain fall has benefited the crops. The probable result is extremely satisfactory.
	27	Chittagong Hill Tracts	„ 2nd	7·03	Almost incessant rain and foggy mornings.	Good.
		Hill Tipperah ...	„ 2nd	2·25	Rainy and cloudy almost throughout the week.	Ploughing and sowing still going on. Prospects good. The jooms in the hills flourishing.
BEHAR.
Patna Division.	28	Patna ...	„ 12th*	9·32	Seasonable weather; heavy rain for the last four days.	Bhadoi crops almost entirely destroyed. Dhan crops, especially in the low lands, reported to have been injured by floods. Extent of loss under inquiry.	Cholera prevalent throughout the district and very bad in Behar.
	29	Gya ...	„ 9th	1·86	Cool, with growing showers daily.	Bhadoi crop has been somewhat injured, but not destroyed. The transplanting of rice is going on everywhere.	Sickness less.
	30	Shahabad ...	„ 9th	2·07	Cloudy and rainy ...	Bhadoi crop promising except in Sasseram where it has suffered much from the late rains. Aughany paddy being transplanted.	Cholera still prevalent in the outlying villages and Sasseram. Some subsided.
	31	Tirhoot ...	„ 9th	2·33	Hot and cloudy ...	Bhadoi crops generally promise well, but dhan is very backward; the young dhan is drying up for want of rain; an early and copious rainfall is very much wanted, especially in the north and north-east of the district.
	32	Sarun ...	„ 9th	1·19	First four days warm, the last three days cloudy with occasional showers. Prevailing wind east.	Rain general throughout the district. Crops all coming on well. The manufacture of indigo (first cuttings) is going on, and will in most of the factories be completed within a fortnight. Paddy seedlings are being transplanted. More rain wanted still for paddy.	Cholera in the town continues and is slightly on the increase. Small-pox decreasing.
	33	Chumparun ...	„ 9th	1·33	Cloudy and rainy. East winds.	Prospects of crops continue favorable; paddy seedlings being transplanted; manufacture of indigo going on briskly. More rain required.	Cholera reported in the south of the district.
Bhaugulpore Division.	34	Monghyr ...	„ 9th	2·74	Seasonable ...	The crops on highlands, though late, are very good; the bhadoi crops on inundated dearah lands has little chance of being gathered; other crops excellent. Subdivisional reports satisfactory.
	35	Bhaugulpore ...	„ 12th*	3·76	Good rain ...	Report from south very good, from north accounts much improved. Bhadoi within reach of Ganges destroyed by flood.	General health good.
	36	Purneah ...	„ 9th	1·57	Showery ...	Unless heavy rain falls soon the aughany crop in the north will be a failure. It is better in the south, but more rain is wanted. The bhadoi has failed in the north.
	37	Sonthal Pergunnahs ...	.....	.....	.....	.....	Return not received.

* Telegram of the 12th August received on the same day.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	Remarks.
ORISSA.		1873.
Orissa Division. 38	Cuttack ...	Aug. 12th	.....	Heavy rain throughout the district.	General prospects of crops good.
39	Pooree ...	„ 2nd	0·84	Cloudy, with moderate rain.	Weeding and transplanting going on in the sarud fields. Beali fields are being weeded. Sugarcane and mandia crops appear promising. More rain much wanted. Khurdha.—Sarud paddy crops appear very flourishing. Transplanting of paddy being busily put in progress. Favorable season for mandia and other miscellaneous crops.
40	Balasore ...	„ 9th	4·48	Cloudy, with frequent heavy showers.	Flourishing. Beali rice is in ear in many places in Bhudruck sub-division.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
41	Hazareebaugh ...	„ 9th	5·05	Rain plentiful throughout the district. Weather cloudy, with easterly wind.	Bhadoi crop has suffered in some parts from excessive rain, but with fine weather now for a short time there would not be much cause of complaint. The rice crop promises to be first-rate.	Cases of small-pox and cholera in all parts of the district and in Hazareebaugh itself.
42	Lohardugga ...	...	...	... ..	.....	Return not received.
43	Singbhoom ...	„ 2nd	4·72	Seasonable. Abundance of rain ha over the district.	Very favorable. All apprehensions entirely removed. Ploughing of the uplands and transplanting proceeding actively.	A few deaths reported from thannahs Ghatsilla, Baharagora, and Kokepara in Dalbhoom.
44	Maunbhoom ...	„ 9th	3·35	Cloudy, with light showers daily.	Prospects of all crops good ...	Cholera and small-pox have almost disappeared.
	ASSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS.
45	Goalparah ...	„ 2nd	5·67	Weather seasonable; rain daily throughout the week.	Cutting asu dhan still continues. The late rain has brightened the prospects of the winter rice crops and done good to other crops.
46	Kamroop ...	...	...	.....	.....	Return not received.
47	Durrung ...	„ 2nd	2·88	Sultry; hot nights and mornings; very little (easterly) breeze.	The ryots are all busy planting paddy. Tea planting prospects continue favorable.	Cattle disease prevalent.
48	Nowgong ...	„ 2nd	7·62	Seasonable weather during the week, with heavy showers at night.	The aus crop has been cut and gathered in. The salee crop doing well. Very suitable weather for tea operations.	Cattle murrain almost died out. One or two solitary cases reported. Death from cholera reported in the Deogooree mouzah, but by latest accounts it was not spreading.
49	Seebsaugor ...	„ 2nd,	0·26	Fair. Maximum temperature, 90·2 in shade.	The sowings for the dhan crops progress but slowly, and are more backward than last season.	The ryots have sustained a great loss in cattle.
50	Luckimpore ...	„ 2nd	1·60	With the exception of two days, the week was comparatively cool for the season; the rainfall light. At North Luckimpore weather cooler, rain in the morning, rest of the day generally cloudy.	Ahoo rice crops almost in, and has been very fine in most parts. Other crops promise well.	Cholera has disappeared, and the general health is good.
51	Naga Hills ..	July 26th	3·83	Most seasonable throughout the district.	Satisfactory reports from all parts of the district.

ASSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS.—(Contd.)		1873.
52	Khasi & Jynteah Hills	Aug. 2nd	2·18	The weather has been heavy throughout the hills, with the exception of Shillong, where, owing to the sheltered position, the fall of rain is always moderate.	Crops are doing well.
53	Garo Hills ...	„ 2nd	2·85	Fair amount of rain during the week. Weather cool.	Prospects of crops continue good. Garos cutting their dhan, which promises to be a fair one.

Published for general information.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anèmometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

The 12th August 1873.—The following Resolution by the Government of India in the Financial Department is published for general information :—

No. 1959, dated Simla, the 31st July 1873.

The Governor-General in Council observes that of late sanction has been frequently asked for immediate expenditure for which no provision has been made in the estimates of the current year.

His Excellency in Council desires to remind local Governments and Heads of Departments that, save for exceptional reasons, such expenditure should not be proposed, and cannot be sanctioned.

Whenever therefore a proposition of this kind is made, the fact that provision has not been made for the desired expenditure in the estimates should be prominently set forth, as well as the particular reasons why it is nevertheless considered indispensably necessary that the outlay should be immediately incurred and should not be postponed to the next financial year. Explanations should also be invariably given why the need for the expenditure was not foreseen in time to obtain sanction for its inclusion in the estimates.

In the absence of such special arguments, the Governor-General in Council will in future assume that it is intended that any expenditure proposed should have effect from the beginning of the following financial year and not earlier.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India, to the several local Governments, to the Heads of Departments under the Financial Department, to the Comptroller-General, and to the several Accountants-General and Deputy Accountants-General in independent charge.

The 19th August 1873.—The following proclamation, regarding the rates of road cess fixed by the Road Cess Committee of Hooghly, and regarding the liabilities and rights of ryots under the District Road Cess Act, has been issued in Bengalee and English to the people of the Hooghly district, and is now published :—

PROCLAMATION.

DISTRICT OF HOOGHLY.

THE road cess leviable under Bengal Act X of 1871 has been imposed by the Road Cess Committee of the district of Hooghly for the road cess year 1873-74, at the rate of one pice per rupee on the assessed value of all lands, and also on mines, &c.; and at the rates following on the houses of persons who do not pay road cess, and on shops.

Dwelling houses estimated to be of the present value of—

				Yearly Cess. Rs.	As.	P.
Not less than Rs.	100	but less than Rs.	500	... 0	8	0
„ „	500	„ „	1,000	... 1	8	0
„ „	1,000	„ „	2,000	... 2	4	0
„ „	2,000 and upwards			... 1	8	0

For every 1,000 or part thereof of estimated present value.

Shops and buildings used for purposes of trade whose estimated present value is more than Rs. 25 and less than Rs. 100, to pay a yearly cess of 8 annas.

But municipalities in which the District Municipal Improvement Act and District Towns' Act are in force, are exempt from all road cess. The road cess is leviable from the zemindars, under-holders, and ryots, with each instalment of revenue or rent due, from and after 1st October next.

The rates at which the tax has been imposed have been notified by the Collector in the district and published in the Gazette, as required by Section 75 of the Act. Notice of the amount payable will also be given to the owner of each estate; and the Board of Revenue will circulate particulars of the modes, rates, and conditions under which the tax is to be levied by and from the various classes of tenure-holders and cultivators.

This proclamation is chiefly to inform the ryots of their liabilities and rights.

From and after 1st October next every ryot in the district of Hooghly is bound to pay to the person to whom his rent is payable, and along with his rent, half the rate of road cess imposed by the committee: that is, the ryot is to pay half of a pice for every rupee of rent. This tax then is of the nature of a cess at half a pice per rupee of rent payable by each ryot. By the provisions of the regulations no other cess is legal or recoverable by law; this one cess only has been imposed by law, and the zemindars and other holders are authorized to levy it at the rate named above.

As regards the house-tax, all house and shopholders are warned that they are not liable to pay the tax in any case unless the house or shop has been included, with the value thereof, in a roll of houses, assessed to the road cess posted in the village as the Act, Section 43, requires. All agricultural ryots and all landholders who carry on no other trade or profession are exempt from this house-tax. All houses of less than Rs. 100 value, and all shops of less than Rs. 25 value, are also exempt from this tax.

All persons assessed to the road cess are informed and assured by the Government that every pice levied under the Act will be spent in the district in which it is raised to improve the local roads, canals, and rivers, in the district, for the benefit of the inhabitants; nothing will be diverted to any other purpose than that which the law directs.

Sub-divisions of the district will be arranged, and a fair proportion of the proceeds of the tax will be apportioned for the petty roads of that sub-division. That money will be distributed and spent by local men, trusted by the inhabitants, who will be selected or elected for the purpose. Every tax-payer is encouraged and invited to claim that the tax shall be fairly applied to the village roads and local paths or water channels in which he is interested. The Government will use every effort to see that such local claims are fairly met, and that every tax-payer derives a fair benefit from the tax which he pays.

Circular.

Dated Calcutta, the 5th August 1873.

From—H. L DAMPIER, ESQ, Secretary to the Government of Bengal,

To—All Commissioners and District Officers.

HONORARY MAGISTRATES have been appointed and benches arranged in many districts. In some, Magistrates have objected that class litigation makes it dangerous to do so, and certainly there is so much of class questions in some parts of the country that the Lieutenant-Governor is becoming seriously alarmed, lest by appointing exclusively men of the upper classes these questions should be prejudiced. The arrangements are such in regard to benches, reference of cases, &c., that he has not much fear of actual cases being seriously prejudiced; but the Lieutenant-Governor does somewhat fear the power and influence which the name and trappings of a Magistrate may give in the eyes of an ignorant people, if the Magistrates are too much of one class. That there may be inconveniences in a class magistracy, the experience of the British Islands proves. Even when general class questions were not burning, the English magistracy, as an aristocratic institution, was not free from suspicion of prejudice in game questions and such like. In Ireland, where there were great class questions, it was generally found impossible to allow an aristocratic unpaid magistracy to act; and since class questions have become prominent in England, the country magistracy is found to be a very assailable institution. On all sides the tendency in the United Kingdom now is to doubt the advantage of an unpaid magistracy, and to substitute stipendiary Magistrates. Certainly then His Honor does not wish to found an honorary magistracy on an English model. If the benches are to be useful they must be rather a sort of superior punchayets, among whom all classes are represented, and not one class only. At sudder stations, from among lawyers, merchants, and other residents, as well as zemindars, a variety of classes may be found; but at sub-divisions and outlying places, the Lieutenant-Governor is convinced that the system of entrusting to men selected from among the natives to dispose of the affairs of the natives, whether as Magistrates or in other matters, will not work fairly and usefully unless really representative ryots and such like men as well as men of higher status can be got. If we had the same facilities for obtaining at a reasonable cost stipendiary Magistrates fitted to deal with all cases that we have in Europe, the Lieutenant-Governor would not seek to create Honorary Magistrates. But both on account of the deficiencies of our Courts and with a view to educate the people of the country to manage their own affairs, he is after long experience convinced that it is right to try to obtain Honorary Magistrates and Committee men. The Lieutenant-Governor wishes then to appeal to local officers to make a real and earnest effort to find such men.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor has just had before him a case in which in a particular district the District Magistrate and Judge concur in saying that the Honorary Magistrate system cannot be carried out, because class questions are so burning, that zemindars cannot be entrusted with power, and no good representative ryots can be found, there being, it is stated, nothing but disreputable middlemen and very poor and ignorant ryots. His Honor will probably be obliged to yield to that representation. But then he finds that both officers state that the district in question is quite an exceptional district. The Judge mentions the last district in which he served as one in which good representative ryots abound. After much inquiry the Lieutenant-Governor is convinced that in most districts such men, and good men of the class, are to be found. Again, then, he must express the hope that the local officers will find them and send up their names for Honorary Magistrates, School Committees, Road Committees, Municipal Committees, and all bodies designed in some sort to represent the natives. Until this is well done the whole system will be worse than a failure.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor is convinced that officers will fairly and honestly try to find the right men and to carry out these instructions. If in any district they really cannot do so, he is open to conviction; but he expects to have the assurance that the effort has been made, and confidently believes that wherever the materials exist, a good officer making the effort will find them.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.

In modification of the rules contained in paragraphs 9 and 10 of Circular Order No. 49, dated 20th September 1839, for the monthly transmission of records from the Courts of Principal Sudder Amins (now Subordinate Judges) and Moonsiffs for deposit in the District Judge's Office, the Court is pleased to direct that, with the exception of contested cases, the records in question be sent in quarterly, by such dates as the District Judge may prescribe, instead of once a month. The records of contested cases will be forwarded monthly as heretofore.

By order of the High Court,

W. M. SOUTTAR,

Registrar.

CIRCULAR MEMO. OF THE HIGH COURT.—CIVIL SIDE.

No. 13.

Dated Calcutta, the 21st July 1873.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.

Whenever a District Judge, on the occurrence of any vacancy in the office of Moonsiff, appoints a person to act in such office, the appointment should be distinguished in the pay abstract by words such as, "Temporary, officiating by order of District Judge, Section 9, Act VI of 1871," and every such appointment should be reported to the Accountant-General as well as to the Court.

CIRCULAR OF THE HIGH COURT.—CRIMINAL SIDE.

No. 9.

Dated Calcutta, the 15th July 1873.

At the instance of the Government of Bengal, the High Court directs that all Sessions Judges and Magistrates, when passing sentences, after their re-arrest, on prisoners who have escaped, will carefully comply with the provisions of Section 316 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and specify in the warrant the date from which sentence is to take effect, whether at once, or after a lapse of a period equivalent to the portion of the prisoner's original sentence which remained unexpired at the time of his escape; the date on which the original sentence, of which the currency was interrupted by the escape, will expire being clearly shown.

Present:
The Hon'ble Sir R. COUCH, Kt., Chief Justice.
The Hon'ble LOUIS S. JACKSON,
" F. A. GLOVER,
" E. G. BIRCH,
Judges of the Court.

By order of the High Court,

W. M. SOUTTAR,

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Ninth Publication.]

THE following Bill as settled by the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 5th April 1873, is by order of the President, published for general information, and will be re-considered by the Council after twelve weeks :—

A Bill to amend the law relating to Embankments and Water-courses.

WHEREAS it is expedient that provision should be made for the better construction, maintenance, and management of embankments and water-courses in the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; It is enacted as follows :—

PART I.

Preliminary.

1. This Act may be called "The Bengal Embankment Act, 1873."

It extends to the whole of the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, except the province of Orissa and the Soonderbuns as defined under the provisions of Clause 2, Section 13, Regulation III of 1828.

And it shall come into force on the day of the passing thereof.

2. From such day Act No. XXXII of 1855 (relating to embankments) and Bengal Act No. VII of 1866 (to make better provision for the acquisition of land for embankments and other matters relating thereto) shall, except so far as relates to the province of Orissa and the said Soonderbuns, be repealed.

Repeal of former Acts.

3. The following words shall, for the purposes of this Act, have the meanings hereby declared, save where, from the context, a contrary intention appears :—

Interpretation.

"Estate" means—(1) Any land or share in land subject to the payment to Government of an annual sum, in respect of which the name of a proprietor is entered on the register, known as the general register of all revenue-paying estates, or in respect of which a separate account may, in pursuance of Section 10 or Section 11 of Act XI of 1859, have been opened;

"Estate."

(2) Any land entered in the register of revenue-free tenures;

(3) Any land acquired under any rules issued by or under authority of Government for the sale, grant, or clearance of waste lands.

"Embankment" includes every bank, dam, wall, and dyke, made or used for excluding water from, or for retaining water upon, any land, and every sluice, spur, groyne, training wall, or other work annexed to or portion of any such embankment, and every bank, dam, dyke, wall, groyne or spur made or erected for the protection of any such embankment or of any land from erosion or overflow by or of rivers, tides, waves, or waters.

"Embankment."

"Water-course" includes a line of drainage, weir, culvert, pipe, or other channel for the passage of water, whether natural or artificial.

"Water-course."

"Zemindar" means all or any of the holders of an estate; and where two or more zemindars are jointly holders thereof, they shall be jointly and severally liable under this Act.

"Zemindar."

"Tenure" includes all interests in land other than estates as above defined, held permanently at a fixed rental or held lakhiraj.

"Tenure."

"Proprietor" means the holder of a tenure.

"Proprietor."

"Public Embankment" means an embankment maintained by the officers of Government.

"Public Embankment."

"Public water-course" means any water-course under the charge of the officers of Government.

"Public water-course."

"The Engineer" means the Superintending Engineer of the Circle in which any embankment is situate.

"The Engineer."

"Collector" means any Collector, Deputy Collector, or other Revenue Officer in independent charge of any district or portion of a district, or specially appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to perform the functions of a Collector under this Act.

"Collector."

"District" means the portion of territory throughout which any person vested with the powers of a Collector is authorized to exercise such powers.

"District."

"Land" includes interests in land and benefits arising out of land and things attached to the earth or permanently fastened to anything attached to the earth.

"Land."

PART II.

Powers of Engineers.

Power to take charge of embankments.

4. The Engineer may cause any embankment which connects public embankments, or forms, by junction with them, part of a line of embankments, or any embankment or water-course which is necessary for the protection or drainage of the neighbouring country, to be taken charge of and kept up by the officers of Government.

Power to remove embankments and obstructions.

5. The Engineer may cause to be removed or altered any permanent or temporary embankment which endangers the stability of a public embankment or any obstruction of any kind which interferes with the general drainage of any tract of land.

Power to change line of embankment.

6. The Engineer may, when necessary, change the line of or lengthen any public embankment; or make a new embankment in the place of or renew any public embankment; or make an embankment in any place in which he may deem such embankment required for the protection of any lands, or for the improvement of any water-course; or make a sluice in any public embankment.

Power to improve drainage.

7. The Engineer may construct any sluice or watercourse, or effect any alteration in any public water-course, when such construction or alteration may be required for the improvement of the health or for the protection of any village or cultivable land.

Applications for sluices to be made to Engineer.

8. If any landholder, farmer, or cultivator, be desirous of having a sluice made in any public embankment for the purpose of drainage or irrigation, he shall make an application in writing to the Engineer of the district in which such embankment is situate. The application shall contain such particulars of the land to be drained or irrigated as may enable the Engineer to judge of the advantage which may be derived from the work.

Power to alter roads and construct water-courses.

9. The Engineer may call upon the person in charge of any road which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land to alter such road, or to construct any water-course under or through such road. In the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Engineer shall prescribe, the said Engineer may forthwith cause the said road to be altered, or the said water-course to be constructed. The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the person in charge of the said road.

Proceedings to obtain new embankment or drainage.

10. Whenever any person is desirous that any new embankment be erected, or that any new water-course be made, or that any water-course be obstructed or diverted, if such embankment or water-course, is likely to interfere with, counteract, or impede, and public embankment or any public water-course he shall apply to the Engineer, and at the time of making such application shall deposit with him a statement of the proposed works.

Power to make repairs.

11. The Engineer may make any repairs in, and may do all acts necessary and proper for the maintenance of any public embankment, public water-course, or other work executed or taken charge of under the provisions of this Act, or of any of the Acts repealed by this Act.

Power to alter railroads and construct water-courses.

12. The Engineer may call upon the manager or other person in charge of any railroad which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land to alter such railroad or to construct any water-course, under or through such railroad. In the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Engineer shall prescribe, the said Engineer may thereupon, with the previous sanction of the Lieutenant-

Governor, cause the said railroad to be altered, or the said water-course to be constructed in such manner as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct. The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the said manager or other person in charge of the said railroad.

Power to make temporary embankment and dams.

13. Whenever any person is desirous that a temporary water-course should be made through, or that a temporary roadway should be made over any public embankment, or that a temporary dam should be constructed in any embanked river, or public water-course, he shall apply to the Executive Engineer of the district, who shall communicate the application to the Engineer, and the Engineer shall pass such orders thereon as he shall think fit. If the proposed work is to be executed by an officer of Government, the applicant, before the commencement of the work, shall deposit the amount estimated by the said Engineer to be necessary to defray the expenses of and incident to making such roadway, or of and incident to making and closing or removing such water-course or dam. If such amount is found insufficient, the said Engineer shall recover the further amount required; and if it exceeds the said amount, such excess shall be returned to the person depositing the same.

Power to remove houses.

14. Whenever the Engineer shall be of opinion that the removal of any trees, houses, huts, or other buildings situated between a public embankment and the river is necessary, he shall make a report to that effect, accompanied by a detailed statement of the trees, houses, huts, or other buildings to be removed, to the Collector of the district in whose jurisdiction the land on which such trees, houses, huts, or other buildings stand, is situated, and the Collector shall report the same to the Lieutenant-Governor in order that proceedings may be taken, under the provisions of "The Land Acquisition Act, 1870," for obtaining possession of such trees, houses, huts, and buildings. Provided always that in case the Engineer be of opinion that the delay required by such proceedings is likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to cause such trees, houses, huts, or buildings to be removed, and in such case the compensation due therefor shall be ascertained and paid in the manner hereinafter provided.

Sluices to be opened under authority of the Engineer.

15. Sluices constructed in any public embankment shall be opened or shut only by or with the general or special permission of the officer in the immediate charge of the embankment, under such orders, either general or special, as he may receive from the Engineer.

Power to appropriate land or earth.

16. In any case where an embanked towpath has heretofore been maintained by Government alongside any canal, river, khal, or channel, the Engineer shall be entitled to appropriate without payment, as heretofore, land or earth for the maintenance, repair or re-construction of such embanked towpath. If in any case the Engineer shall consider it necessary for the purposes of towing to enlarge an existing towpath, or to construct a new towpath, proceedings shall be taken in accordance with the subsequent provisions of this Act relating thereto.

Power to enter and survey land, &c.

17. It shall be lawful for the Engineer, or any person whom he may authorize in that behalf, in order to carry out any of the purposes of this Act,— to enter upon, and survey, and take levels of any land; to dig or bore into the sub-soil;

to do all other acts necessary to ascertain whether the land is adapted to the purpose projected by such Engineer;

Power to mark out line.

to set out the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken, and the intended line of the work proposed to be made thereon;

to mark such levels, boundaries, and line, by placing marks and cutting trenches;

Power to clear land.

and, where otherwise the survey cannot be completed or the levels taken, to cut down and clear away any part of any standing crop, fence, or jungle:

Previous notice of entry.

Provided that no person shall enter into any building or upon any enclosed court or garden attached to a dwelling-house (unless with the consent of the occupier thereof) without previously giving such occupier at least seven days' notice in writing of his intention to do so.

Payment for damage.

The officer so authorized shall at the time of such entry pay or tender payment for all necessary damage to be done as aforesaid; and, in case of dispute as to the sufficiency of the amount so paid or tendered, he shall at once refer the dispute to the decision of the Collector, and such decision shall be final.

PART III.

Reference to the Collector and procedure thereon.

Notice to the Collector.

18. Save as is by this Act otherwise provided, the Engineer, before causing any of the works mentioned in Sections 5 to 10 both inclusive, or any of them, to be executed, shall prepare and submit to the Collector of the district plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a map showing the boundaries of the various estates likely to be affected by the said works, and a notice in writing of his intention to execute such works, and shall not commence any of such works until final order made in respect thereto. Such notice shall be in the form and state the particulars mentioned in Schedule (A) to this Act annexed. Upon the receipt of such notice the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued, which shall be in the form and state the particulars mentioned in Schedule (B). The Collector shall append to such proclamation a list of the estates and villages, mentioned in the said notice, and such others as he may consider likely to be affected by the works proposed.

Publication of proclamation.

19. Every such proclamation shall be published by affixing the same at the cutcherry of the Collector, and in the manner provided in the third clause of Section 63.

Proclamation to be published for thirty days.

20. Every such proclamation shall be published and served not less than thirty days before the day appointed for hearing the persons interested.

Powers on inquiry and appeal.

21. In any inquiry or appeal held under this Act, the Collector and the Commissioner shall respectively have the powers conferred on Courts by the Code of Civil Procedure for compelling the attendance of and for examining witnesses, and for the production of documents.

Hearing of objections to work.

22. The Collector shall, on the day appointed for the hearing, or on any subsequent day to which the hearing shall be adjourned, hear the objections of any persons who may appear, and, after recording any evidence which they may adduce, shall communicate the objections that may be made, together with his opinion thereon and on the proposed works, to the Engineer, who shall return the same with his opinion to the Collector. If the Engineer agree in opinion with the Collector, the Collector shall pass an order accordingly in regard to the execution of the aforesaid works, and notice of such order shall be served on the persons appearing in pursuance of the proclamation. If he differ from the Collector, the case shall be referred to the Commissioner of Revenue, who shall pass such orders thereon as he may deem fit.

Authority to take proceedings where lands likely to be affected by the work are in different districts;

23. If the lands, which are likely to be affected by any such proposed work, are situated within the limits of different districts, the Engineer may report to the Collector of any district within which any portion of such lands is situated, and such Collector may proceed in respect of all the lands likely to be affected by such work; but in such case he shall apply to the Commissioner of the division for authority to proceed in such matter; and the Commissioner of the division, if all the lands are situated within his division, may give authority to any Collector within whose district any portion of such lands is situated to proceed in the same.

or different divisions.

If the districts, within which the lands likely to be affected by any such work are situated, are subject to the Commissioners of different divisions, the Collector to whom the Engineer has submitted his report shall apply to the Commissioner of the division within which his district is situated and such Commissioner may, with the concurrence of the Commissioner to whom the other district is subject, give authority to proceed in such matter.

PART IV.

Procedure in cases of imminent danger to life or property.

Proceedings in emergencies.

24. Whenever the Engineer shall be of opinion that the proceedings commenced by notice under Part III of this Act would cause delay in the exercise of any of the powers by Sections 5, 6, and 7 conferred upon him, likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, he may forthwith commence to exercise such powers without reference to the Collector. Provided that he shall forthwith inform the Collector thereof and of the nature of the danger, and give notice of his intention to continue to exercise such powers. The Collector, in any case where he shall see fit, may direct the Engineer to suspend further action until after the completion of such proceedings and inquiries. The Engineer, as soon as he conveniently may, after giving such notice of his intention, shall give notice in writing to the Collector, together with plans, specifications, estimates, and maps, as provided in Section 18, appending thereto a statement that the work mentioned therein has already been commenced, and thereupon such proceedings and inquiries shall be had as in and by Part III of this Act are directed.

Notice to the Collector.

Power to take possession of land.

25. Whenever any land, or earth from any land the property of any person, is required for the purposes of any works commenced in pursuance of the provisions of the last preceding section, or for the purposes of Section 11 in cases where the Engineer shall be of opinion that proceedings for the acquisition of such land, according to the provisions contained in Section 30, would cause delays as aforesaid, the Engineer shall cause public notice in form in Schedule (C) to be given at convenient places in the locality in which such land is situated, and he may at the same time take possession of the same for the said purposes. Provided that he shall, so soon thereafter as he conveniently may, give notice thereof to the Collector.

Compensation for standing crops and trees.

26. The Engineer shall ascertain and record the nature and estimated value of the crops and trees (if any) standing on such land, and shall offer adequate compensation to the persons interested. If such offer is not accepted, he shall forward the record with a report to the Collector, and the value of such crops and trees shall be allowed for in awarding compensation for the land under the provisions of Section 34.

Power to Executive Engineer to act for Engineer.

27. Whenever the Engineer may be absent, the Executive Engineer of the district may, in case he shall be of opinion that delay for the purpose of obtaining the orders of the Engineer would be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, exercise the powers in and by the three last preceding sections conferred on the Engineer.

Power to restore embankments, &c.

28. Whenever, upon an inquiry had under the provisions of this Part, it has been determined in the final and conclusive order to be passed on such inquiry that anything done by the Engineer was unnecessary, the land or the embankments or drainage shall, so far as any alteration thereof shall appear to be unnecessary, be at the expense of the Government restored as nearly as possible to the state in which they were when the Engineer commenced to act under the provisions of this Part; and any person who shall have sustained loss, damage, or injury by the execution of such works, shall receive compensation from the Government to be assessed and imposed according to the provisions contained in Part V of this Act.

Section 23 to apply to proceedings under this Part.

29. The provisions of Section 23 shall be applicable to proceedings taken under this Part.

PART V.

Acquisition of lands.

Acquisition of land.

30. Whenever in the course of proceedings under this Act, save in those cases in which the Engineer has proceeded under the provisions of Part IV, it appears that land is required for any of the purposes thereof, such purpose shall be deemed to be a public purpose within the meaning of the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, and such proceedings shall be forthwith taken as are directed by the said Act or by any other law for the time being governing the acquisition of lands for public purposes.

When land taken, notice to be published.

31. Whenever any land shall have been taken or used under the provisions of Part IV, the Collector shall, unless he shall direct the Engineer to suspend further action, cause public notice in form in Schedule (D) to be given at convenient places on or near the land so taken, stating that Government has taken possession of the land, and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land shall be made to him. Thereupon the land shall vest absolutely in the Government free from all incumbrances, subject, however, to the claims for compensation to be ascertained in manner as in this Part is provided.

Contents of notice.

32. Such notice shall state the particulars of the land so taken, and shall require all persons interested in the land to appear personally or by agent before the Collector at a time and place therein mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of publication of the notice), and to state the nature of their respective interests in the land, and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for such interest.

Further notice to be served on certain parties.

33. The Collector shall also serve notice to the same effect on the occupier (if any) of such land, and on all such persons known or believed to be interested therein, or to be entitled to act for persons so interested, as reside, or have agents authorized to receive service on their behalf, within the revenue district in which the land is situate.

Proceedings after notice.

34. After service of such notices proceedings shall be had and taken to determine the amount of compensation to be payable in respect of such and, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Compensation for consequential damage.

35. Whenever any land other than land required or taken by the Engineer, or any right of fishery, right of drainage, right of the use of water, or other right or property, shall have been injuriously affected by the due exercise of the powers or provisions of this Act, the person in whom such right is vested may prefer a claim by petition to the Collector for compensation.

Application to be made within a year.

36. No claim shall be entertained which shall be made later than one year next after the completion of the work by which such right is injuriously affected.

Procedure for such compensation.

37. When any such claim is made, proceedings shall be taken in view to determine the amount of compensation, if any, which should be made, and the person to whom the same should be payable, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

38. In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded in such cases, the Judge and Assessors shall take into consideration—

First, the market value of the property injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land;

Secondly, the damage sustained by the claimant by reason of such acquisition injuriously affecting the property;

Thirdly, the consequent diminution of the market value of the property injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land.

But the Judge or Assessors shall not take into consideration—

Matters not to be considered in determining compensation.

First, the degree of urgency which has led to the acquisition;

Secondly, any damage sustained by the claimant, which, if caused by a private person, would not in any suit instituted against such person justify a decree for damages.

Land, &c., taken possession of to vest in Secretary of State.

39. All land, earth, pathways, sluices, gates, bermes, hedges, belonging to or forming part of any embankment or watercourse, of which charge has been or may hereafter be taken by the officers of Government, shall vest in the Government, and shall be held on behalf of the Government in respect of the embankments mentioned in Schedule E annexed to this Act, and in respect of other works on behalf of the persons interested in the lands to be protected or benefited by such embankment or watercourse, subject to the provisions of Section 67; and all monies received on account of such lands shall be payable to the Engineer and credited to the cost of the construction and maintenance of such works respectively.

PART VI.

COST OF WORKS, PROCEEDINGS, &c.

1. Ascertainment thereof.

Embankments in Schedule (E)

40. The provisions in this Part contained shall not apply to any of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (E) to this Act annexed, save so far as any works or repairs are executed therein or in relation thereto under the provisions of Sections 10 and 13 of this Act respectively. All sums payable in respect of any works or repairs executed therein or in relation thereto, except under the provisions of the said sections respectively, shall be paid by the local Government.

Exclusion from schedule.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part III of this Act, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interests to retain any embankment mentioned in Schedule (E), the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that the same shall be no longer included in the said schedule. Provided that the same shall be restored to the said schedule if on any subsequent inquiry similarly conducted it shall be found necessary so to do.

Addition to schedule.

The Lieutenant-Governor may at any time after the passing of this Act, by a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, direct that any embankment not mentioned in Schedule (E) be included in the said schedule, and the provisions of this section shall apply to such embankment.

Contribution of public money towards the maintenance of the embankments in the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (F) to be continued.

41. In accordance with the custom heretofore in force in respect of the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (F) annexed to this Act, the Government shall continue to contribute annually the sum noted therein for each pergunnah respectively towards the maintenance of the embankments thereof.

If such embankments are declared to be public, Collector to keep a separate account.

If the embankments maintained in any such pergunnah shall at any time be declared to be public embankments under the provisions of Section 4, the Collector shall from the date of such declaration keep a separate account for such pergunnah, in which the aforesaid sum shall be credited at the commencement of each financial year. The unexpended balance at the close of each year shall be carried on to the credit of the account in the next succeeding year, and shall be available for the cost of repairing or erecting all the embankments which it may be deemed necessary to maintain in such pergunnah.

Contribution may be discontinued if it be found unnecessary for the public interest to maintain the embankments.

If at any time after the passing of this Act, on an inquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part III, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interest to retain any embankment in either of the said pergunnahs, the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that such contribution shall cease in respect of such pergunnah. Provided that such contribution shall again be made in accordance with the provisions hereinbefore contained, if it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor, on the report of an inquiry similarly conducted, that the maintenance of any embankment in such pergunnah has again become necessary for the public interest.

Estimate and specifications to be prepared.

42. Specifications of any works or repairs to be executed under the provisions of this Act, and estimates of the expenses to be incurred therein or relating thereto, including such proportion of establishment charges as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, shall be prepared by the Engineer as soon after the month of October in each year as may be practicable. And whenever it appears that the actual expenses to be incurred will exceed the amount mentioned in the said estimates by one-tenth, the Engineer shall forthwith prepare further estimates, and, if necessary, further specifications. Copies of all specifications and estimates shall be transmitted to the office of the Collector, together with vernacular translations thereof, or such abstracts thereof as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time direct, and may be examined by any person interested in such works or repairs. Notice of the receipt of specifications and estimates shall be served for all estates chargeable for or likely to be affected by the said works or repairs; and should any objection in regard to the amount of such expenses be preferred by any such person within a period of one month from the date of such notice, the Collector shall communicate the objection, with his own opinion thereupon, to the Engineer, who shall pass such orders as may appear to him reasonable and proper. Such order shall be subject in any case to an appeal by the person making such objection, and to a reference by the Collector to the Commissioner, whose decision shall be final.

Preparation and settlement of accounts.

43. The accounts of the actual expense incurred in executing any works or repairs shall be prepared as soon as possible after the completion thereof. The Engineer shall sign a certificate stating the true amount of all such expenses and the names of the estates chargeable for and of the estates and villages affected by the said works and repairs. Copies of the said accounts and certificates shall be forwarded to the office of the Collector, and may be there examined by any person interested. Notice of the receipt thereof shall be served for the said estates and villages and such others as in the opinion of the Collector are liable to contribute to the payment of the said amount; and if, within thirty days from the service of such notice, any interested person shall object to the accounts on the ground either that the work charged for has not been performed, or that the whole sum charged has not been expended, or that the rates of charge are higher than those mentioned in the estimates, the Collector shall inquire into such objection, and may pass any order thereon subject in any case to an appeal by the objector or to a reference by the Engineer to the Commissioner of division, whose decision shall be final.

Total sum payable.

44. The Collector shall add to the amount appearing in the said certificate all sums which have been paid or have become payable in respect of compensation, costs and expenses under and incidental to any proceedings taken or directed to be taken under Parts III and V of this Act, including costs of all surveys and plans. He shall thereupon make an order specifying the total sum found payable, and in respect of works done under Sections 9, 12, and 13, the persons by whom, or in respect of other works the estates in respect of which, the same is payable to him. If the order is made in respect of work done under Sections 9, 12, or 13, the same shall forthwith be served upon the party or parties liable to pay; otherwise the Collector shall proceed under the provisions in the next chapter contained. Interest may be charged upon any sum paid as compensation from the date of payment thereof at such rate, not exceeding 5 per cent. per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct.

Parties liable to pay.

45. The said total sum, save so far as is otherwise provided in this Act, shall be paid to the Collector by the zemindars of the estates in which are situated the lands benefited or protected by the repairs or works executed. Provided that where any specific sum has hitherto been annually demanded in respect of any embankment not included in Schedule E, and when the said embankment is at the time of this Act coming into operation being maintained by Government, then such special payments shall, after the passing of this Act, thenceforth cease and determine.

Every zemindar, who is liable under this rule for the payment of the whole or a portion of such total sum, shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of every tenure which is declared to be a part of his estate, the sum apportioned to such tenure by the Collector, under the provisions of Section 50. And similarly, every proprietor shall be entitled to recover from the proprietor of any subordinate tenure, which is declared to be a part of his tenure, the sum apportioned to such subordinate tenure by the Collector, under the said provisions.

2. Apportionment thereof.

Notice to be given before apportionment.

46. So soon as the total sum payable as aforesaid has been ascertained, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served for every one of the said estates and villages mentioned in Section 43. Every such notice shall specify the estates and villages aforesaid, and that an inquiry will be held at a day and place therein named for the purpose of apportioning amongst the zemindars and proprietors the said total sum, with interest and the costs of apportionment.

Mode of inquiry as to the proportion chargeable to each estate.

47. On the day fixed in the said notice, which shall not be less than thirty days later than the date of any service of such notice, the Collector shall proceed to make the said inquiry. In making this inquiry he shall receive such evidence as may be tendered by, or on behalf of, the said zemindars and proprietors, and by, or on behalf of, any other persons who may claim to be interested therein.

Names of proprietors.

48. In any such inquiry the Collector shall take down in writing the names of all persons who may claim, or who may be alleged by any party interested, to be proprietors of tenures within any of the estates mentioned in such notice. In default of appearance of any such person, the Collector shall issue and serve a notice calling on him to appear at a date and place therein mentioned, and to show cause against being included in the order of apportionment to be made therein, and shall adjourn the inquiry till such date.

Apportionment amongst zemindars.

49. At such or any subsequently adjourned inquiry, the Collector, if there be only one estate liable, shall charge the zemindar thereof with the total amount payable; and if there be two or more estates, he shall apportion the same amongst the zemindars thereof, rateably in the proportion of the respective benefits derived by such estates from such works or repairs; or in proportion of the areas of the lands benefited or protected thereby, and comprised within such estates respectively; or with the sanction of the local Government in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates, if before the passing of this Act such proportion has been usually adopted.

Provided that the said total amount payable in respect of the embankments on the right bank of the river Gunduk shall be chargeable, in accordance with the custom in force for such estates, to the zemindars of all the estates situated in the district of Sarun, in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates.

Proviso in respect of the pergunnahs in Schedule (F.)

Provided also that the sum standing to the credit of a pergunnah in Schedule (F) in the account kept by the Collector, at the time when the total amount payable is fixed under the provisions of Section 44, shall be deducted from the total amount payable in respect of such portion of any embankment as is situated in such pergunnah; and that the zemindars of the estates situated therein shall be charged only with the balance of the amount (if any) which may remain payable.

Amongst proprietors.

50. The Collector shall, in like manner, apportion, except in respect of the said Gunduk embankments, the amount payable in respect of each estate amongst all the tenures therein, rateably in the proportion of benefit so received or area so benefited or protected, first deducting therefrom such sum as on the like principle of proportion is payable in respect of such portion of the estate as is not included within any tenure.

Where the lands held without payment of rent, not being estates on the register of revenue-free tenures.

51. All lands held without payment of rent, not being estates entered in the register of revenue-free tenures, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of the tenure within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any tenure, then to be a part of the estate within the local boundaries of which they are included; and, if they are not included within the local boundaries of any estate, then to be a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situated, shall, by an order under his seal and signature, declare.

Payable by instalments.

52. The amount apportioned to any estate or tenure, shall be payable in equal instalments on such days as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, provided that no instalment shall exceed four annas for every acre of land in respect of which the same is payable, and that not more than four instalments shall be payable in any one year.

Interest.

Interest shall be charged on the unpaid portion of the said amount from the date of the same becoming due until payment thereof at such rate not exceeding five per cent. per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time determine.

Final order of apportionment.

53. On the completion of the apportionment the Collector shall make an order specifying the estates and tenures, and the several sums payable in respect thereof, the instalments of such sums and the dates on which the same are payable.

3. Recovery thereof.

Orders for payment.

54. The Collector shall, within thirty days from the final order of apportionment, make and serve for every estate therein mentioned an order, stating the amount with interest due in respect thereof, and that the same is payable to him, and the date or dates at which such amount or instalments thereof shall become payable to him.

Recovery from zemindars.

55. If such sum or any instalment thereof be not, pursuant to the said order, paid, the same with interest shall be recoverable as arrears of a demand under the provisions of Bengal Act VII of 1868 (to make further provision for the recovery of arrears of land revenue and public demands recoverable as arrears of land revenue).

From proprietors.

56. Every zemindar or proprietor to whom any sum or instalment thereof is payable under the said order, may recover the same with interest as aforesaid in the manner provided for the recovery of arrears of rent in respect of putnee tenures by the provisions of Clauses 2 and 3 of Section 8, Sections 9, 10, 14, 15, and Clauses 1, 2, and 3 of Section 17 of Regulation VIII of 1819, as amended by Bengal Act VIII of 1865; provided that the right or interest of any person holding from the proprietor of such tenure shall not be affected by any sale held under these provisions. A copy of the said order, certified under the name and seal of the Collector, shall be received in any suit for the recovery of the same as conclusive evidence that the amount was apportioned as therein mentioned, but shall not be evidence as to the existence of, or as to any right in the tenure to which the said amount has been apportioned.

PART VII.

Miscellaneous.

Penalty for obstructing persons in exercise of powers of Act.

57. Whoever wilfully obstructs any person duly authorized under this Act in removing or levelling any embankment, house, hut, or other building, or in the lawful exercise of any of the powers in this Act conferred, shall, in case such obstruction shall not amount to an offence within the provisions of the Indian Penal Code, be liable to imprisonment of either description for any period not exceeding six months, at the discretion of the Magistrate, or to fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, commutable, if not paid, to a period of imprisonment not exceeding six months, or to both.

Penalty on unauthorized interference with embankments or drainage.

58. Every person who, without the previous permission of the Engineer, shall erect, or cause or wilfully permit to be erected, any new embankment, or shall obstruct or divert, or cause or wilfully permit to be obstructed or diverted, any watercourse, if such embankment or water-course is likely to interfere with, counteract, or impede, any public embankment or any public water-course, or shall abet any such act, shall be liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or in default of payment, to imprisonment of either description for a period not exceeding six months.

Penalties for injuring works under Act.

59. No person shall, without due authority cut through, or attempt to cut through, any public embankment, or destroy, or attempt to destroy any such embankment, or open or shut, or obstruct any sluice in any such embankment, or any public water-course; and every person who shall commit any breach of the provisions of this section shall, in case the act shall not amount to mischief within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code, be liable to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding one month, or to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, or to both.

Penalties for diverting rivers or permitting cattle to graze on embankments.

60. Every person who shall make any dam or other obstruction for the purpose of diverting or opposing the current of a river, wherein or whereon there are public embankments, without the permission of the officer in immediate charge of the embankments or shall refuse or neglect to remove any such dam or obstruction when so required by the Engineer, or the Executive Engineer of the district, or shall cut or otherwise alter the banks of any embanked river, or shall remove the earth from any public embankment, or shall drive stakes into it, or by any other wilful act destroy or diminish the efficiency of such embankment; and every person who shall cause or knowingly and wilfully permit any cattle to graze upon any such embankment, or shall tether, or cause or wilfully permit any cattle to be tethered upon any such embankment, or who shall root up any grass or other vegetation growing on any such embankment, shall be liable to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding six months, or to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, or to both.

Obstructions to be removed and damage repaired.

61. Whenever any person is convicted of an offence under either of the three last preceding sections, the convicting Magistrate may order that he shall remove the embankment or obstruction, or repair the damage, in respect of which the conviction is held, within a period to be fixed in such order. If such person neglects or refuses to obey such order within the fixed period, the Engineer may remove such embankment or obstruction or repair such damage, and the cost of such removal or repair shall be levied from such person in addition to any other penalty in the manner provided in Section 307 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Service.

62. Every proclamation, notice or order in and by this Act required to be served may, unless when otherwise provided, be served—

(1) by delivering a copy of the same to the person to whom it is directed, or on failure of such service by posting the said copy on some conspicuous part of the house in which the said person resides, or by delivering the said copy to any agent authorized to appear generally for the person to whom such proclamation, notice or order is directed; or

(3) by posting a copy of the proclamation, notice or order at the mal-cutchery of the estate, village or tenure to which the same relates; or if no such mal-cutchery be found, on some conspicuous place on the said estate, village or tenure, and by delivering, in the case of estates paying their annual revenue by four instalments, another copy thereof to the agent who shall have paid an instalment of revenue next before or after the preparation of such proclamation, notice or order. In all cases where two or more persons are holders of an estate, village or tenure service under this clause shall be deemed to be good and sufficient service on each and all of such persons.

No proceedings to be impeached for want of form.

63. No proceedings under this Act shall be impeached or affected by reason of any mistake in the name of any person thereby rendered liable to pay any sum of money, or in the description of any estate or tenure or land in respect of which he is rendered liable to pay; provided the directions of this Act be in substance and effect complied with; and no proceedings under this Act shall for want of form be quashed or set aside in any Court of Justice.

Power to delegate the authorities of the Engineers.

64. All the powers and authorities vested in the Engineer by any of the sections of this Act, may be exercised by any officer of the Department of Public Works subordinate to him, not being of a grade lower than an Executive Engineer, in cases referred to him by the Engineer. Provided always that it shall be lawful for the Engineer to recall any case so referred and to proceed thereon, either adopting or not adopting any of the proceedings theretofore had thereon, as to him shall seem fit. Provided further, that all reports by such delegated officer shall be submitted to the Engineer before they shall be forwarded to the Collector or any other authority.

Appeal from orders made on objection.

65. Every order passed by the Collector under Sections 22, 44, and 53, shall be appealable to the Commissioner of Revenue, and every order of the Commissioner except when otherwise directed by this Act shall be appealable to the Board of Revenue, but no appeal shall lie against any order mentioned in this section unless the same be presented within one month from the date of the order.

Orders to be final.

66. Subject to the right of appeal abovementioned and to the orders and control of Government, every order passed under the provisions aforesaid shall be final, and shall not be open to revision by any Civil Court.

Disposal of lands no longer required for embankments.

67. Whenever the maintenance of any public embankment, or the retention of any land appropriated to the purposes thereof, may no longer be required, and the permanent relinquishment of the same may be deemed expedient by the Engineer, such land shall be conveyed by the Collector to the proprietor of the land, within the limits of which it may be situated, on payment of the compensation, if any, which was paid for such land when the same was taken for the purpose of the embankment. If the proprietor of such lands refuse or neglect to pay such price within a reasonable time after demand, the same shall be sold by the Collector for such price as he can obtain for the same. All sums obtained for the conveyance of lands under the provisions of this section shall, after the payment of all expenses incurred on account of the same, be applied to the payment of the cost of any new embankment or drainage works affecting the said lands, and in such case the residue only of the cost of such new works shall be charged upon the zemindars of estates benefited as hereinbefore provided.

Collector may delegate any of his powers to a Deputy Collector.

68. A Collector may delegate any of his powers under this Act to a Deputy Collector, but from any order passed by a Deputy Collector to whom powers have been so delegated, an appeal shall lie to the Collector if presented within thirty days of the date of the order.

Jurisdiction.

69. All offences created by this Act shall be inquired into and tried by a Magistrate of the first or second class.

Saving of Bengal Act V of 1871.

70. Nothing in this Act shall affect the provisions of "the Hooghly and Burdwan Drainage Act, 1871."

THE following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the law relating to the emigration of laborers to the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and to regulate contract labor and service, together with the amended Bill, and Act II of 1870 printed in double columns, is by order of the President published for general information :—

WE, the Select Committee appointed to consider the Bill "to amend the law relating to the emigration of laborers to the districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, and to regulate contract labor and service" have the honor to make the following preliminary Report.

From Secretary, Bengal Chamber of Commerce, dated 7th March 1873.
From Offg. Secretary, Landholders' Association, dated 6th March 1873.
From Secretary, India General Steam Navigation Company, Limited, dated 17th March 1873.

From Secretary, Planters' Association, Debrooghur, dated 11th March 1873.
From Superintendent of Labor Transport, Calcutta, dated 17th March 1873.
From Superintendent of Labor Transport, Goalundo, dated 13th idem.
From Medical Inspector, Labor Transport, Calcutta, dated 17th idem.
Remarks and Suggestions by Superintendent of Labor Transport, Calcutta.
From Offg. Magistrate of Sylhet, dated 20th March 1873.
From Deputy Commissioner, Seebsaugur, dated 21st idem.
From Offg. Deputy Commissioner of Cachar, dated 24th idem.
From Offg. Deputy Commissioner of Cachar, dated 31st idem.
From Superintendent of Labor Transport, Calcutta, dated 3rd April 1873.

We have received the papers noted in the margin and considered them in reference to the main features of the Bill, which we have amended accordingly. But we have not had sufficient time to discuss the wording of each clause in detail.

We have made certain verbal and formal alterations in the Bill, and restored the wording of some of the provisions contained in Act II of 1870; for instance, we have struck out section 9 and substituted the provisions contained in section 114 of Act II of 1870.

Emigration.—In place of sections 10 and 11, we have retained section 64 of Act II of 1870, only adding thereto a provision that the Lieutenant-Governor may prohibit emigration if he has reason to believe that a political disturbance is likely to occur in any labor district. We have re-constructed section 13.

Garden-sirdars.—On this subject we have omitted from section 20 of the Bill the provision requiring a garden-sirdar to be furnished with a power of attorney. We have modified the provisions of section 24 which required coolies engaged by a garden-sirdar to be registered before the Magistrate of the district or sub-division of the district, by allowing them to be registered before the Magistrate of the district or sub-division of the district, through which they shall first pass on the road to their destination.

We have given power to the employer, or his representative in Calcutta, to cancel before the Superintendent of Emigration contracts made in the district by a garden-sirdar on payment of the coolies' travelling expenses.

We have struck out section 56 which enacts that a fine imposed on a garden-sirdar shall be recoverable from the employer.

Recruiters.—We have altered section 46, which required the Magistrate to satisfy himself by inquiry that the person to whom a recruiter's license had been granted, was not unfitted by character or otherwise to be a recruiter, before countersigning such license; and we have made it obligatory on the Magistrate to countersign, unless it appears to him that such person is unfit to be employed as a recruiter.

Transport.—We have amended section 71 of the Bill by providing that the penalty prescribed by it for delay in despatching a vessel shall not be incurred, if the delay is occasioned by any casualty of navigation. Section 79 required the master of any licensed vessel to report the arrival of his vessel to the Magistrate at every place at which a vessel is obliged to stop, and to await the answer of the Magistrate. This provision being indefinite, we have in place thereof substituted the following, namely that the master shall be bound to report to the Magistrate immediately on arrival, and to remain during not less than six hours of daylight. In lieu of the power of detention given to the Magistrate by section 82, which is indefinite, we have substituted a clear and distinct power of detention under certain circumstances, not exceeding five days; and we have reconstructed this section. We have also altered section 83 to make it accord with the section preceding.

Localities unfit for residence of laborers.—Being of opinion that the percentage of mortality, upon which the Lieutenant-Governor is enabled to act and declare an estate unfit for the residence of laborers under the terms of section 121, is by itself no certain or safe indication of unfitness for residence, we have considerably modified the section. The power conferred by it is very summary, and we have therefore limited its exercise to cases of unfitness arising from the neglect or default of owners or employers, whenever it may appear that the percentage of mortality mentioned in section 121 is due to that cause. The preceding section provides for two classes of cases in reference to estates—(1) unhealthiness and unfitness arising from condition, (2) unhealthiness and unfitness arising from situation. This section provides machinery for proper and searching inquiry. We have therefore thought it right to limit the exercise of summary powers by the Lieutenant-Governor to the cases mentioned above. We have framed a section in lieu of section 121, basing the action of the Lieutenant-Governor upon the percentage of mortality mentioned in section 121, and we have provided therein for specific inquiries to be made before the Lieutenant-Governor can declare an estate unfit for residence.

Contracts by time-expired laborers.—Chapter 17.—We have omitted this chapter, and we have not re-enacted section 117 of Act II of 1870; being of opinion, upon the information afforded us, that it is not desirable to interfere with the free action of laborers who have served out their time. As a result of this omission we have provided in section 106 that the inspectors are to make returns of all laborers employed on an estate, whether engaged under the Act or not.

Neglect of work and arrears of wages.—Chapter 18.—This chapter is entirely a new provision for the regulation of the relative duties of master and servant. We do not see that such a provision of law is specially necessary in the labor districts. It forms a branch of general law, and should not be dealt with in a law relating to a special subject. We have consequently omitted this chapter.

Chapter 19.—As chapters 17 and 18 have been struck out, this chapter has no application, and it is therefore omitted.

We proposed to insert by way of schedule to the Bill forms of contract and release instead of leaving them to be settled by the Executive Government, as is provided by section 5 of the Bill; but not having had sufficient time and information to frame them, we have allowed the provisions of the Bill in this respect to stand unaltered for the present.

In presenting this preliminary report, we beg to reserve to ourselves the liberty of further considering, altering, and amending the Bill as now amended and placed before the Council.

We recommend that the amended Bill and Act II of 1870 be published in the Calcutta Gazette in double columns, to show the changes proposed in the law.

[See Section LXXVI of the Act, printed opposite Section 116.]

[See Section XCIII of the Act, printed opposite Section 139.]

LIX. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to make rules, prescribing the diet, clothing, medical attendance, and management of laborers in transit by steamers or boats licensed as aforesaid, for regulating the control and issue of stores, and for the control of all officers, cooks, and attendants on board such steamer or boat under the provisions of section LXII. The said Lieutenant-Governor may, from time to time, alter, vary, and revoke such rules; and when and so soon as such rules shall have been published in the Calcutta Gazette, all diet, clothing, medical attendance, and management provided for such laborers which may not be in accordance with the terms of the rules which for the time being may be in force, shall be deemed not to be proper nor sufficient.

Power to make rules regarding diet, clothing, medical attendance, &c., of laborers in transit.

LXXI. Every contract made with any laborer in pursuance of the said Acts III of 1863 and VI of 1865, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, or of this Act, and all arrears of wages under any such contract, shall be a charge upon the lands upon which such laborer shall have been engaged to work. All such arrears of wages shall also be recoverable on a summary application before a Magistrate by a warrant of distress under the hand of such Magistrate, under which a sufficient portion of the movable property of the owner of the lands aforesaid may be distrained and sold to pay the amount of the arrears decreed, and the costs of application and of executing the distress. Any summons issued by the Magistrate on such summary application as aforesaid may be directed to the employer for the time being in charge of the lands. And the owner of such lands for the time being shall have all rights and remedies against such laborer as if such owner for the time being had been originally the party executing such contract as employer Provided that no greater arrears of wages than four months shall be recovered under this section, and no person, after he shall have ceased to be owner of such lands, nor his property nor effects, shall be in any wise liable or responsible for any breach of such contract which may have occurred after he shall have ceased to be such owner.

Contracts to be a charge on and to pass with the land.

[See Section 135 of the Bill.]

CXV. All offences against this Act committed without the town of Calcutta, shall be heard and determined according to the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and all offences against this Act committed within the said Town, shall be heard and determined by a police magistrate of the said town according to the provisions of the law regulating the hearing and determination of offences within the said town, which shall for the time being be in force.

Procedure.

CXIV. For every offence against the provisions of this Act, for which no special penalty or amount of fine is hereinbefore appointed, the offender shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees. Wherever in this Act no special term of imprisonment is appointed in default of payment of the fine, the offender shall be liable to imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term not exceeding one month.

Penalty for any offence not specially provided for.

(14)—To provide for the hospital accommodation and medical care of laborers, and to prescribe the nature, quality, and quantity of medical drugs and other stores to be provided for them.

(15)—To prescribe the form of the certificate of release to be given to the laborer on the determination of his contract.

(16)—And generally to provide for the security, well-being, and protection of emigrants and laborers, and to carry out the purposes of this Act.

All such rules shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall have effect as if they were contained in this Act, and shall be separately printed and sold to the public at 4 annas per copy.

6. Every contract made with an emigrant, laborer, or servant, and all arrears of wages due under any such contract, and all fines imposed on any employer under the provisions of this Act, shall be a charge upon the lands upon which such laborer has been engaged to work.

Contract made with laborer is a charge upon the land;

The owner of such lands, for the time being, shall have all rights and remedies against such laborer, as if such owner had been originally the party executing such contract as employer.

and is transferred with the land.

No person, after he has ceased to be the owner of such lands, nor his property nor effects, shall be in any wise liable or responsible for any breach of such contract which may have occurred after he has ceased to be such owner.

Determination of ownership determines liability.

7. Any engagement or contract made under the provisions of this Act by an emigrant, who is above the age of sixteen years, shall be held valid although he may not be of full legal age.

Any person above the age of 16 years may contract.

8. All offences created by this Act committed without the town of Calcutta shall be inquired into and tried according to the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and all offences against this Act committed within the said town shall be inquired into and tried by a police magistrate of the said town according to the provisions of the laws regulating the investigation and trial of offences within the said town, which are for the time being in force.

Procedure on trial of offences created by Act.

9. For every offence against the provisions of this Act, for which no special penalty or amount of fine is appointed, the offender shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees. Wherever in this Act no special term of imprisonment is appointed in default of payment of the fine, the offender shall be liable to imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term not exceeding one month.

Penalty for any offence not specially provided for.

LXIV.—It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, in case he shall be of opinion that the emigration of native inhabitants of India from any district, or to any particular part of any of the said districts, for the purpose of becoming laborers, is likely to be attended with danger to the health of any native inhabitants so emigrating, to prohibit, by an order under his hand, the emigration of such native inhabitants from such district or to such particular part of the said districts, and from time to time to revoke or vary any such order; and every such order or variation or revocation thereof shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Power to prevent emigration of laborers.

LXV.—Any person who shall knowingly engage any native inhabitant so to emigrate while such emigration shall be so prohibited, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for every laborer who may have been so engaged.

Penalty on engaging emigrant contrary to such order.

Chapter 2.—Restrictions and Appointment of Officers.

10. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, in case he shall be of opinion that the emigration of native inhabitants of India from any district, or to any particular part of any labor district, for the purpose of becoming laborers, is likely to be attended with danger to the health of any native inhabitants so emigrating or others; or if the Lieutenant-Governor has reason to believe that a political disturbance is likely to occur in any labor district, to prohibit, by an order under his hand, the emigration of such native inhabitants from such district, or to such labor district or particular part thereof, and from time to time to revoke or vary any such order; and every such order or variation or revocation thereof shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Power to prevent emigration of laborers.

11. When any notification has been published under the last preceding section, emigration from such district, or to such district, as is specified in such notification, shall be suspended from the day specified therein; but such suspension shall not affect any act done, offence committed, or proceedings commenced before such suspension.

Effect of prohibition.

During the time of such suspension any provisions of this Act prohibiting emigration, or the aiding or abetting of emigration, or the making of any contract for labor to be performed by any native of India in any labor district, shall take effect so far as relates to the district or districts specified in the notification in the same manner and to the same extent as if such emigration had not been authorized.

During suspension, provisions against emigration to be in force as to district specified.

12. With the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council the Lieutenant-Governor may, from time to time, by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, declare that the emigration of natives of India from or through any province subject to his control to any province or district of British India, other than Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, or to any other place in India, for the purpose of laboring therein for hire, shall be regulated by the provisions of this Act as regards any act to be done or any contract to be made within the territory subject to the control of the Lieutenant-Governor.

The provisions of this Act may be declared applicable to emigration to any place in India.

From the date of such notification no contract shall be made with any native of India within the territory subject to the control of the Lieutenant-Governor for labor to be performed in any province, district, or place to which the notification refers, and it shall not be lawful to enable or assist any native of India to emigrate to such province, district, or place, otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this Act. And all persons engaging or contracting with or enabling or assisting, and all agents employed to engage or contract with natives of India to proceed to such province, district, or place, for the purpose of laboring therein for hire, shall be liable to, and all engagements and contracts made with such persons for such purpose shall be made and conducted in accordance with the provisions of this Act, so long as such persons are within the territory subject to the control of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Any province, district, or place to which such notification refers shall be deemed to be a labor-district within the meaning of the term as defined in this Act, as regards acts to be done and contracts to be made within the territory subject to the control of the Lieutenant-Governor. Any notice and any copy of a document, which under the provisions of this Act is required to be sent to the Magistrate of a labor-district, shall be sent to such person as the Lieutenant-Governor or the Governor-General in Council may direct.

Any place the emigration to which is so regulated shall be deemed to be for certain purposes a labor-district.

III. For the purposes of this Act, it shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to appoint superintendents of labor transport and medical inspectors of laborers at any places where he may think proper: and whenever any superintendent or medical inspector shall be so appointed, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, define the local limits within which such superintendent or medical inspector shall exercise the powers and authority conferred on him by this Act. When such local limits shall have been so defined, no other superintendent or medical inspector shall, within those limits, exercise any of the powers vested in a superintendent or medical inspector by this Act.

Lieutenant-Governor may appoint superintendents of labor transport and medical inspectors of laborers.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor may appoint a proper person to be the superintendent of emigration at Calcutta, and may also appoint proper persons to be embarkation agents and medical inspectors of emigrants at any places where he may think proper, and define the local limits within which each such officer shall exercise the powers and authority conferred upon him by this Act. He may at any time suspend or remove any such officer.

Appointment of superintendent of emigration, embarkation agents, and medical inspectors.

The superintendent of emigration, and every embarkation agent, and every medical inspector of emigrants, shall be a public servant within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code.

Every embarkation agent and every medical inspector of emigrants shall be bound to obey all such requisitions, to carry out all such instructions, and to furnish all such reports and returns in respect of his official duties, as the superintendent of emigration may direct.

Such officers public servants.

XI. It shall be lawful for any employer to engage, through or by the agency of a garden-sirdar, native inhabitants of India to proceed to any of the said districts for the purpose of laboring there for hire upon lands of which such employer is in charge.

14. It shall be lawful for any employer to engage, by the agency of a garden-sirdar, or by the agency of a contractor, natives of India to proceed to a labor district for the purpose of laboring therein for hire upon lands of which such employer is in charge.

Employer may engage laborers through a garden-sirdar.

Employer may recruit by garden-sirdar.

V. It shall be lawful for any superintendent appointed under this Act to grant, to such persons, as he may think fit, licenses, in the form set forth in Schedule (A) to this Act annexed, to act as contractors for engaging and supplying persons for the purpose of laboring for hire in the said districts or any or either of them. For every such license a fee not exceeding one hundred rupees (the amount of which fee shall from time to time be fixed by the Government of Bengal) shall be paid to the superintendent granting the same; and every such license shall be in force for one year and no longer.

[See section 27 of Bill and section 5,§3.]

15. Every superintendent of emigration shall license so many fit persons as to him seems necessary to be contractors, and so many persons as to him seems necessary to be recruiters, for engaging and supplying natives of India for the purpose of laboring for hire in a labor district.

Superintendent may grant licenses to contractors.

Superintendent may license contractors and recruiters.

VIII. It shall be lawful for any superintendent to grant to such persons as he may think fit, licenses, in the form set forth in the Schedule (B) to this Act annexed, to act on behalf of some contractor as recruiters for engaging persons to proceed to the said districts for the purpose of laboring for hire. For every such license a fee not exceeding sixteen rupees (the amount of which fee shall from time to time be fixed by the Government of Bengal) shall be paid to the superintendent granting the same; and every such license shall be in force for one year, from the date thereof, and no more.

[See Section 5,§2 of Bill]

Superintendent may license recruiters.

II. From and after the commencement of this Act, whoever shall, otherwise than under the provisions of this Act, engage any native inhabitant of India in any of the provinces subject to the Government of Bengal, to proceed to any or either of the said districts for the purpose of laboring there for hire; and whoever shall, otherwise than under the provisions of this Act, convey any native inhabitant of India through any of the said provinces to any or either of the districts aforesaid for the purpose of laboring there for hire, shall be liable to a fine for every person so engaged or conveyed. Provided always that, save as hereinafter is expressly enacted, nothing in this Act shall apply to any engagement made in any or either of the said districts.

Natives of India shall not be engaged to proceed to Assam, &c., or be conveyed there, save under this Act.

Penalty.

Proviso.

IV. Whoever, not being a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, shall, otherwise than through or by the agency of a contractor or garden-sirdar, engage any native inhabitant of India to proceed to any of the said districts for the purpose of laboring therein for hire; and whoever, not being a contractor, shall enter into any contract to supply, or shall supply, or shall transfer or make over, whether to a recruiter or any other person, any such native inhabitant for the purpose of laboring for hire in any of those districts; and whoever, not being a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, shall enter into any contract to engage, or shall attempt to engage, any such native inhabitant to proceed to any of those districts for the purpose aforesaid; and whoever shall employ or appoint any person other than a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, to engage any such native inhabitant, shall be liable for each offence to fine, or imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term not exceeding three months

No person not licensed as a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, may engage or contract to supply laborers.

Penalty.

XVIII. It shall not be lawful for any native inhabitant of India to be conveyed to or towards any of the said districts, unless and until he shall have entered into a duly registered contract with some person, to serve such person there for a fixed period, which shall in no case exceed the term of three years. Every such contract shall be reduced to writing, and shall specify the monthly amount of wages in money, the period of service, the name of the district in which the service is to be performed, and the price at which rice is to be supplied to the laborer, and shall be in such form as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall prescribe.

[See Section 5, §4 of Bill.]

Every laborer to enter into a written contract to serve for some period not exceeding three years.

XII. Every such garden-sirdar shall, before proceeding to engage any such native inhabitants, personally present to the magistrate in charge of the district, within which are situate the lands of which the employer by whom such garden-sirdar is deputed is in charge, a certificate signed by such employer, in which shall be stated the name and description of such garden-sirdar, the name and description of the lands for the purpose of laboring upon which he is about to engage native inhabitants of India, the district in which he is about to engage such native inhabitants, the number of inhabitants which he is authorized to engage, and whether he is authorized to take such inhabitants to a licensed depôt.

Garden-sirdar to exhibit to magistrate a certificate

16. From and after the commencement of this Act, whoever shall, otherwise than under the provisions of this Act, engage any native inhabitant of India in any of the provinces subject to the Government of Bengal, to proceed to any or either of the labor districts for the purpose of laboring there for hire; and whoever shall, otherwise than under the provisions of this Act, convey any native inhabitant of India through any of the said provinces to any or either of the labor districts for the purpose of laboring there for hire, shall be liable to a fine for every person so engaged or conveyed.

Natives of India shall not be engaged to proceed to the labor districts or be conveyed there, save under this Act.

Penalty.

17. Whoever, not being a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, shall otherwise than through or by the agency of a contractor or garden-sirdar engage any native inhabitant of India to proceed to any of the labor districts for the purpose of laboring therein for hire, and whoever, not being a contractor, shall enter into any contract to supply, or shall supply, or shall transfer or make over, whether to a recruiter or any other person, any such native inhabitant for the purpose of laboring for hire in any of the labor districts; and whoever not being a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, shall enter into any contract to engage, or shall attempt to engage, any such native inhabitant to proceed to any of the labor districts for the purpose aforesaid; and whoever shall employ or appoint any person other than a contractor, recruiter or garden-sirdar, to engage any such native inhabitant, shall be liable for each offence to fine, or imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term not exceeding three months.

No person not licensed as a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, may engage or contract to supply laborers.

Penalty.

18. It shall not be lawful for any native of India to be conveyed to any labor district, unless and until he shall have entered into a contract with some person to serve such person there for a fixed period, which shall in no case exceed the term of three years from the date of his arrival in the labor district. Every such contract shall be reduced to writing; and shall specify the monthly amount of wages in money, the period of service, the name of the district in which the service is to be performed, and the price at which food is to be supplied to the laborer; and shall be in such form as the Lieutenant-Governor shall prescribe; and shall be registered as hereinafter provided.

Chapter 3.—Garden-sirdar.

19. Every garden-sirdar, authorized by an employer under the provisions of section 14 to engage natives of India to proceed to a labor district for the purpose of laboring therein for hire, shall, before proceeding to engage any such emigrants, personally present to the magistrate in charge of the district, within which are situate the lands of the employer, a certificate signed by such employer, in which shall be stated the name and Garden-sirdar to obtain certificate from employer, and to present it to magistrate.

description of such garden-sirdar, the name and description of the lands for the purpose of laboring upon which he is about to engage emigrants, the district in which he is about to engage emigrants, the number of emigrants whom he is authorized to engage, and, if the number of such persons exceeds twenty, the name of the contractor to whose depôt the emigrants engaged by the garden-sirdar shall be conveyed.

XIII. Such Magistrate shall inquire into the facts stated in such certificate, and, upon being satisfied that the same are true, shall, unless it appears to him that the person so presenting such certificate is unfit to be employed for the purpose of engaging such native inhabitants, countersign and date such certificate, and such certificate shall be available for six months after the date last mentioned.

Magistrate to countersign certificate.

20. Such magistrate shall inquire into the facts stated in such certificate, and, upon being satisfied that the same are true, shall, unless it appears to him that the person so presenting such certificate is unfit to be employed for the purpose of engaging emigrants, countersign and date such certificate, and such certificate shall be available for six months from the date last mentioned.

Magistrate after inquiry to countersign it.

A fee not exceeding three rupees shall be paid by the garden-sirdar to the magistrate by whom the certificate is countersigned.

Fee.

XIV. If, under his certificate from his employer, any garden-sirdar is authorized to engage more than twenty native inhabitants, he shall take such inhabitants to some depôt established under the provisions of Section VI, and shall be in all respects, save as regards his license, subject to the provisions of this Act with regard to recruiters.

Garden-sirdar authorized to engage more than twenty inhabitants to be subject to provisions of Act as recruiter.

21. If, under his certificate from his employer, any garden-sirdar is authorized to engage more than twenty emigrants, he shall be in all respects, save as regards his license, subject to the provisions of this Act which relate to recruiters. The following rules of this chapter shall apply to every garden-sirdar who is not authorized to engage more than twenty emigrants.

Garden-sirdar authorised to engage more than twenty emigrants is a recruiter.

Garden-sirdar who is not a Recruiter.

XV. No recruiter, nor garden-sirdar, shall, in any sub-division in charge of a magistrate, engage or attempt to engage native inhabitants of India to become laborers, without having first exhibited his license or certificate to such magistrate and obtained his countersignature thereon. No recruiter, nor garden-sirdar, shall in any sub-division not in charge of a magistrate, nor in any part of a district not being within a sub-division of a district, engage or attempt to engage native inhabitants of India to become laborers without having first exhibited his license or certificate to the magistrate of the district and obtained his countersignature thereon. No recruiter, nor garden-sirdar, shall so engage or attempt to engage such native inhabitants in the town of Calcutta, without having first exhibited his license or certificate to the Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner of Police for the said town, and obtained his countersignature thereon.

Recruiter to obtain countersignature of Magistrate.

22. A garden-sirdar shall not be deemed to have obtained authority in any district to engage or attempt to engage a native of India to become an emigrant, until his certificate has been countersigned by the magistrate of such district or of such division of the district; or to have obtained such authority in Calcutta, until his certificate has been countersigned by the commissioner or the deputy commissioner of police in Calcutta.

Has no authority until certificate is countersigned by magistrate.

XIX. Every garden-sirdar authorized to engage not more than twenty native inhabitants shall bring each native inhabitant engaged by him before the magistrate of the district, or in charge of the sub-division of the district in which the engagement took place, or before some other officer specially authorized in that behalf, or before the superintendent of labor transport at Calcutta, and shall produce his certificate to such magistrate or other officer or superintendent. He shall also state to the magistrate or other officer or superintendent, the names of the inhabitants engaged by him, and produce in respect of each the proposed contract according to the provisions of this Act, ready for execution. Thereupon, the magistrate or other officer or superintendent, shall examine each such native inhabitant with reference to his proposed contract; and if it appears that he understands its nature as regards the locality, period, and nature of the service, the rate of wages, and the price at which rice is to be supplied, and that he is willing to perform the contract, the magistrate or other officer or superintendent, shall register in a book, to be kept in such form as the Lieutenant-Governor shall prescribe, the name of such inhabitant, the place at which it is intended he should embark, and the place at which he is to labor. If the magistrate or other officer or superintendent shall be of opinion that such native inhabitant does not understand the nature of the proposed contract, or that he

Contracts with laborers engaged by garden-sirdars not authorized to engage more than twenty.

23. Every native of India, who enters into an engagement with any garden-sirdar to proceed to a labor district for the purpose of laboring for hire, shall appear with the garden-sirdar before the magistrate of the district or of the division of the district within which the engagement was made or through which he shall first pass on the road to his destination.

Must take each emigrant to magistrate before removal from district.

24. On the appearance of the emigrant the magistrate shall examine him with reference to his engagement; and, if it appears that he understands the nature of it as regards the locality, period, and nature of the service, the rate of wages, and the price at which food is to be supplied, and that he is willing to fulfil the same, the magistrate shall register, in a book to be kept for the purpose

Magistrate to examine emigrant, and if the examination is satisfactory, to register particulars; has been engaged through fraud or misrepresentation, or if the garden-sirdar shall not have produced his certificate, the magistrate or other officer or superintendent, shall refuse to register the name of such inhabitant; otherwise the magistrate or other officer or superintendent shall cause such native inhabitant and the garden-sirdar to sign the contract in duplicate in his presence, and the contract so signed shall be binding on the garden-sirdar's employer.

Copy of registration of contract to be forwarded.

XX. The magistrate or other officer or superintendent, shall forward a copy of every registration made under the last preceding section, and the copy of every contract signed as aforesaid and attested by him, to the magistrate of the district within which the laborer is to labor.

such form as the Lieutenant-Governor shall prescribe, the following particulars, viz.—

(1)—The name, the name of the father, and the age of such emigrant;

(2)—The name of the village or place of which such emigrant is the resident;

(3)—The labor district to which he is engaged to proceed;

(4)—The period of service;

(5)—The rate of wages, and the rate at which food is to be supplied.

but may require medical certificate.

Provided that the magistrate may, if he thinks fit, require the emigrant to appear before such medical officer as he may direct, and may refuse to register such emigrant unless the medical officer certifies in writing that he is in a fit state of health, and able in point of physical condition, to journey to and work for hire in a labor district. The certificate shall be in the form prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

Magistrate, &c., may refuse to register.

25. If the magistrate thinks that the emigrant does not understand the nature of the engagement, or has been induced to enter into the engagement by fraud or misrepresentation, he shall refuse to register him.

Copy of registration to be sent to magistrate of labor district.

26. A certified copy of every such registration shall be forthwith forwarded by the magistrate to the magistrate of the labor district within which the emigrant is engaged to labor.

Fee to be paid for registration.

27. For the registration of every emigrant the garden-sirdar shall pay to the registering officer a fee not exceeding one rupee and eight annas.

After registration contract to be executed.

28. When such registration has been made, the magistrate shall cause the contract of each such emigrant to be executed in duplicate in his presence by the garden-sirdar on behalf of his employer and by the emigrant, and shall attest the execution thereof, and one of the duplicates shall be given to the emigrant, and the other duplicate to the garden-sirdar. The contract shall be written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, and shall be on substantial paper.

Contract to be registered, and copy or abstract sent to superintendent and magistrate.

An abstract of every such contract shall be entered in a register to be kept by the magistrate, and a certified copy of such entry, or of the contract, shall be forwarded by him to the superintendent of emigration, by whom it shall be forwarded, after entry in his own register, to the magistrate of the labor district within which the emigrant contracts to labor.

Proof of contract.

Such certified copy of the entry or of the contract so forwarded shall be admissible in any court as evidence of the contents of the contract.

Contract to be registered and copy or abstract to be sent to magistrate.

The said magistrate or superintendent shall enter in a register to be kept by himself an abstract of every such contract, and shall forward a copy of such

XXVI. Every native inhabitant of India who shall, by any recruiter or garden-sirdar, be brought or induced to come from any province or district not under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of entering into a contract in a district under such control, shall be produced by a recruiter or garden-sirdar for registry under section XIX or for medical examination and registry under sections XXII and XXIII of this Act, as the case may be, at some place within the district subject to the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, into which such native inhabitant shall first come after having been recruited. Provided that such native inhabitant, if engaged under the provisions of section XIX, may be produced by the garden-sirdar for registry at Calcutta.

Registration of laborers coming from a district not within Bengal.

XXX. It shall not be lawful for two or more garden-sirdars not authorized to engage more than twenty native inhabitants, to proceed together towards any of the said districts accompanied by laborers engaged by them or any of them, unless the full number of laborers engaged by both or all such garden-sirdars shall not exceed twenty. Any garden-sirdar guilty of any offence against the provisions of this or the preceding section shall be liable to fine. The provisions of this section shall not apply during such time as the laborers are conveyed by steamer.

Two or more garden-sirdars not to proceed together accompanied by more than twenty laborers.

XXIX. Every garden-sirdar, who engages native inhabitants, shall himself accompany them throughout from the place where they were recruited, to the place at which such native inhabitants are to labor.

Garden-sirdar himself to accompany laborers engaged by him.

XXXII. Any garden-sirdar not authorized to engage more than twenty native inhabitants, who shall take such inhabitants to any of the said districts, shall provide such inhabitants with proper and sufficient food and lodging until arrival at the place of labor; and the provisions of the last preceding section, as regards fines and compensation, shall apply to every case of default by a garden-sirdar under this section.

Garden-sirdar to provide food and lodging.

XXXVI. If, upon the arrival at Calcutta of any native inhabitant engaged by any garden-sirdar not authorized to engage more than twenty native inhabitants, it shall appear to the superintendent that such native inhabitant has suffered any ill-treatment on the journey, the superintendent may order the garden-sirdar by whom such native inhabitant shall have been brought to Calcutta, to pay him such sum of money as to the superintendent shall seem reasonable by way of compensation, or such sum as to the superintendent shall seem necessary in order to enable such native inhabitant to return to the place where he was engaged.

Provision in case of ill-treatment of laborer by garden-sirdar.

entry or of the contract, certified by himself, to the magistrate of the district within which the emigrant has contracted to labor, provided that when such contract has been executed before and registered by a magistrate, he shall forward such copy through the superintendent of emigration who shall also make an entry of it in a register to be kept by himself.

29. The provisions of the six last preceding sections shall be applicable to all natives of India engaged by a garden-sirdar within the town of Calcutta, except that they shall be brought for registration before the superintendent of emigration having authority therein, and not before a magistrate.

Similar provisions for emigrants recruited in Calcutta.

30. Every emigrant who shall be brought or induced to come by any garden-sirdar from any province or district not under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, shall be produced by the garden-sirdar for registry under the provisions of this chapter at some place within the first district, subject to the control of the said Lieutenant-Governor, into which he shall come.

Emigrants recruited in districts not in Bengal.

31. It shall not be lawful for two or more garden-sirdars to proceed together towards a labor district accompanied by emigrants, unless the total number of such emigrants does not exceed twenty, or unless the permission of the superintendent of emigration or embarkation agent shall have been first obtained.

Garden-sirdar cannot proceed with more than 20 emigrants in one batch.

32. Every garden-sirdar who engages emigrants shall personally accompany them throughout their transit from the place in which the engagement was made to the place in which they are to be employed; and shall be bound to provide them with proper and sufficient food and lodging throughout such transit. If it shall appear to any magistrate, on the complaint of any such emigrant, that the garden-sirdar has neglected to provide proper and sufficient food and lodging for or has otherwise ill-treated such emigrant during such transit; or if it be found on examination by a medical officer appointed by a magistrate for such purpose that any such emigrant is not in a fit state of health to proceed to or to labor in a labor district; the magistrate may order the garden-sirdar to pay to such emigrant such sum of money as appears reasonable by way of compensation, or he may cancel the contract and order the garden-sirdar to pay to the emigrant such sum of money as may appear sufficient for the support of such emigrant during his return to the place at which he was engaged.

Garden-sirdar must personally accompany emigrants, and provide food and lodging.

If such not provided, or if emigrant unfit, magistrate may award compensation, or cancel contract.

33. On the arrival in Calcutta of any emigrant whose contract has been executed by a garden-sirdar on behalf of his employer, any person empowered to act as the agent or representative of such employer may require the emigrant to appear before the superintendent of emigration for the purpose of cancelling the contract. The superintendent of emigration shall, on the appearance of such emigrant, declare that the contract is cancelled, if such sum of money as appears to him sufficient for the support of such emigrant (and of any woman, children or aged relatives who may have accompained him with the consent of the garden-sirdar) during his return to the place at which he was engaged be paid to such emigrant in his presence, and not otherwise, and shall make an endorsement to that effect on the contract, and shall attest it with his signature. Provided that the contract of any husband or wife or parent or child of such emigrant, who may have executed a contract at the same time with the same employer, shall also be cancelled and an equal sum of money shall be paid to such person if such person desires it.

Agent in Calcutta may procure order from superintendent of emigration cancelling the contract, on payment of expenses of return.

Not to embark emigrants on any vessel containing more than 20 persons without a pass from the embarkation agent.

34. It shall not be lawful for a garden-sirdar to embark any emigrants on board of a vessel for conveyance to or towards a labor district, if the total number of persons to be on board of such vessel, excluding the crew but including such emigrants, exceeds twenty, or unless such emigrants are furnished with a pass by the embarkation agent in the form set forth in schedule C annexed to this Act.

Pass not to be granted unless medical inspector is satisfied in regard to health.

The embarkation agent shall not grant any such pass to emigrants brought to him by a garden-sirdar until and unless the medical inspector certifies that such emigrants may be allowed to embark without danger to the health of other persons on board the vessel; and for that purpose may detain such emigrants in any depôt for such period as he may consider necessary, and may determine the rate at which the garden-sirdar shall pay to the owner of the depôt the cost of maintaining such emigrants. The expenses necessary for the accommodation, maintenance, medical treatment, and transport of such emigrants, may in such case be advanced by the embarkation agent, and may be recovered from the employer by whom the garden-sirdar is accredited.

Agent may detain emigrants and advance expenses.

Garden-sirdar to report arrival of laborers.

XXI. As soon as possible after the arrival of the garden-sirdar with the laborers at the place of disembarkation, or at the nearest civil station in the district last mentioned, the garden-sirdar shall report himself to the magistrate of that district, and such magistrate shall check the number of laborers landed with the number of those registered, and shall report to the superintendent of labor transport at Calcutta any deaths which may have occurred on the journey. Any garden-sirdar who neglects to report himself as aforesaid, shall be liable to imprisonment of either description which may extend to three months.

Must report arrival in labor district.

35. The garden-sirdar shall without delay report his arrival with emigrants to the magistrate of the labor district. The magistrate shall compare the number of emigrants arriving with the number of whose registration he has received notice, and shall report to the superintendent of emigration any deaths which have occurred during transit.

Penalty for omission to report.

Any garden-sirdar who neglects to report to the magistrate the arrival of such emigrants as above required shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a period which may extend to three months.

Transport rules when applicable.

36. The provisions of chapter 7, excepting sections 82 and 83, shall not apply to the transport of emigrants recruited by

[See Section 5 of Act II of 1870 printed opposite Section 15 of the Bill.]

IX. It shall be lawful for any superintendent, in case of the misconduct of, or the disobedience to, or neglect of, any of the provisions of this Act by a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, to cancel the license or certificate of such contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar.

Superintendent may cancel the license or certificate of a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar.

VII. It shall be the duty of every contractor to afford such information to the superintendent by whom he is licensed, and to make such returns and reports to him as such superintendent, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, may from time to time require.

Contractor to give superintendent such information as he may require.

[See Section 5, § 2 of Bill.]

VI. Every contractor shall forthwith, upon obtaining his license, establish a depôt in a place to be approved of by such superintendent. Every such depôt shall be maintained by such contractor for the reception of native inhabitants of India to be supplied or forwarded by or through him.

Contractors shall keep up depôts, and receive and maintain laborers therein.

All such native inhabitants shall on their arrival at or in the neighbourhood of the depôt so established by the contractor by, through, to, or for, whom they were engaged or forwarded, be forthwith by such contractor taken thereto, and received therein, and shall receive in such depôt, at the expense of such contractor, suitable lodging, food, clothing, and medical attendance, until such native inhabitants shall be declared by the superintendent to be no longer thereto entitled. Every such depôt as aforesaid shall be under the supervision of the superintendent, and shall be open to his inspection and to the inspection of the medical inspector at all times, and shall be managed and regulated by the contractor in accordance with such rules as the superintendent may, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, from time to time make and publish in the Calcutta Gazette in that behalf.

[See Section 5, § 5, 6, 8, 9 of Bill.]

a garden-sirdar when the number of such emigrants does not exceed twenty, unless they have embarked under a pass from the embarkation agent in accordance with the provisions of section 34.

Chapter 4.—Contractor.

37. The license granted to a contractor under section 15 shall be in the form set forth in the schedule (A) annexed to this Act. For every license there shall be paid to the superintendent a fee not exceeding one hundred rupees. No license shall be in force for a longer period than one year; and, in case of misconduct on the part of the contractor, the superintendent may cancel his license before the expiration of the period for which it was granted.

Form of license.

Fee.

Period.

38. It shall be the duty of every contractor to afford such information to the superintendent of emigration, and to make such returns and reports to him as such superintendent, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, may from time to time require.

To give information to superintendent.

39. Every contractor shall be bound to establish and maintain one or more depôts, in such places as the superintendent of emigration may direct, for the reception of all emigrants engaged by a recruiter employed by him. Every depôt shall be under the supervision of the superintendent, and shall be open to his inspection and the inspection of the medical inspector at all times, and shall be managed and regulated by the contractor in accordance with such rules as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time make and publish in the Calcutta Gazette in that behalf.

To establish and maintain depôts.

40. A contractor may without other license act as a recruiter, and shall in such case be subject to all the provisions hereinafter contained which regard recruiters.

May act as recruiter.

41. In addition to the depôts for the reception of emigrants which the contractors are required to maintain, the Lieutenant-Governor may at any time, if he thinks fit, direct that a separate depôt shall be maintained at any place for the reception of emigrants who are or who in the opinion of the medical inspector are likely to be affected with cholera or other disease. Whenever such hospital depôt is established, every contractor may be required to contribute to the expense of establishing and maintaining it in such proportion as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct. Such hospital depôt shall be under the charge of the medical inspector, who shall be competent at any time to direct the transfer thereto of any emigrants on or after their arrival at any depôt.

refusal, or in any way obstructs or resists the transfer of any such emigrant by order of the medical inspector, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description which may extend to six months, or to fine.

Chapter 5.—Recruiter.

VIII. It shall be lawful for any superintendent to grant to such persons as he may think fit, licenses in the form set forth in the Schedule (B) to this Act annexed, to act on behalf of some contractor as recruiters for engaging persons to proceed to the said districts for the purpose of laboring for hire. For every such license a fee not exceeding sixteen rupees (the amount of which fee shall from time to time be fixed by the Government of Bengal) shall be paid to the superintendent granting the same, and every such license shall be in force for one year from the date thereof, and no more.

[See Section 5, § 2 of Bill.]

Superintendent may license recruiters.

42. Every recruiter shall be licensed to obtain laborers from one or more districts, within the provinces subject to the Lieutenant-Governor, to be named in the license, and no license to obtain laborers shall be granted except on the application of a licensed contractor.

License to be given for specified districts.

Granted on application of contractor.

IX. It shall be lawful for any superintendent, in case of the misconduct of, or the disobedience to or neglect of any of the provisions of this Act by a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, to cancel the license or certificate of such contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar.

Superintendent may cancel the license or certificate of a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar.

43. The license granted to a recruiter under section 15 shall be in the form set forth in schedule (B) annexed to this Act. For every license there shall be paid to the superintendent a fee not exceeding sixteen rupees. No license shall be in force for a longer period than one year; and in case of misconduct on the part of the recruiter, the superintendent may cancel his license before the expiration of the period for which it was granted.

Form of license.

X. Every recruiter shall wear a badge, having legibly inscribed thereupon, in the Urdu and Bengali languages, the name of the district or districts to which he is licensed to engage laborers to proceed, and shall hold a written pass signed by the contractor on whose behalf he is licensed to act.

Recruiter to wear a badge.

44. Every recruiter shall wear a badge, having legibly inscribed thereupon, in English and in the vernacular language of the district or districts in which he is licensed to engage laborers, "Recruiter of Emigrants for Assam" (or other place, as the case may be), and shall hold a written pass signed by the contractor on whose behalf he is licensed to act.

Recruiter must wear a badge.

XV. No recruiter, nor garden-sirdar, shall, in any sub-division in charge of a magistrate, engage, or attempt to engage, native inhabitants of India to become laborers, without having first exhibited his license or certificate to such magistrate and obtained his countersignature thereon. No recruiter nor garden-sirdar shall in any sub-division not in charge of a magistrate, nor in any part of a district not being within a sub-division of a district, engage or attempt to engage native inhabitants of India to become laborers without having first exhibited his license or certificate to the magistrate of the district and obtained his countersignature thereon. No recruiter nor garden-sirdar shall so engage, or attempt to engage, such native inhabitants in the town of Calcutta, without having first exhibited his license or certificate to the commissioner or deputy commissioner of police for the said town, and obtained his countersignature thereon.

Recruiter to obtain countersignature of magistrate.

45. A recruiter shall not be deemed to have obtained authority in any district to engage or attempt to engage a native of India to become an emigrant until his license has been countersigned by the magistrate of the district or of the division of the district, or to have obtained such authority in Calcutta until his license has been countersigned by the commissioner or the deputy commissioner of police in Calcutta; and such magistrate or commissioner or deputy commissioner of police shall, unless it appears to him that the person to whom a license has been granted is unfit to be employed as a recruiter, countersign such license.

No authority till license is countersigned by magistrate of recruiting district.

The magistrate or commissioner or deputy commissioner of police may at any time for any sufficient reason withdraw such license, provided that in any such case he shall record his reasons in writing and shall forward a copy thereof without delay to the superintendent of emigration.

Magistrate may withdraw license and suspend recruiting.

XVI. No magistrate, or commissioner or deputy commissioner of police, to whom any recruiter's license, or the certificate of any garden-sirdar authorized to engage more than twenty native inhabitants, shall have been exhibited for countersignature, shall countersign the same until the recruiter or garden-sirdar exhibiting the same shall have satisfied such magistrate, commissioner, or deputy commissioner, that sufficient accommodation has been provided and is available for the native inhabitants of India to be engaged by such recruiter or garden-sirdar pending their removal to a depôt;

Magistrate to require accommodation to be provided before countersigning license of recruiter.

46. No magistrate, to whom any recruiter's license shall have been exhibited for countersignature, shall countersign the same until he shall be satisfied that sufficient accommodation has been provided and is available for such emigrants as may be engaged by such recruiter pending their removal to a depôt.

Recruiter to provide accommodation for emigrants before license is countersigned.

and subject to the aforesaid provision every license or certificate shall be countersigned which is presented for countersignature during such time as such license or certificate is to be in force.

Magistrate to have powers of superintendent over accommodation provided.

XVII. The magistrate in charge of any district or sub-division of a district in which there may be any such accommodation provided, shall have, for the supervision, management, and regulation of such accommodation, all such and the same powers and authorities as are vested in a superintendent of labor transport, for the supervision, management, and regulation of depôts, subject to the powers and the authority of such superintendent.

Laborer recruited in the mofussil shall appear before medical officer for examination and certificate.

XXII. Every native inhabitant of India, who shall, in any place or town within the said provinces, enter into any engagement with any recruiter or any garden-sirdar authorized by his certicate to engage more than twenty native inhabitants, to proceed to any of the said districts, for the purpose of laboring for hire, shall be brought by such recruiter or garden-sirdar before such medical officer (if any) as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may from time to time appoint to examine intending laborers within such place or town. Such medical officer shall thereupon examine the native inhabitant, and if he shall, in the judgment of such medical officer, be in a fit state of health, and able in point of physical condition to journey to, and work for hire in, any of the said districts, the medical officer shall, on payment of a fee not exceeding two annas for each native inhabitant examined, give to the recruiter or garden-sirdar a written certificate to that effect, specifying therein the name of such inhabitant.

And thereupon be brought before the magistrate.

XXIII. Thereupon the recruiter or garden-sirdar shall bring such native inhabitant before some magistrate in the district or town within which the engagement was entered into, and shall at the same time produce to the magistrate such medical certificate as mentioned in the last preceding section, and also his own license or certificate, as the case may be. The recruiter or garden-sirdar shall state to such magistrate the name of the contractor or employer, as the case may be, by whom such recruiter or garden-sirdar is employed, and to whom such native inhabitant is to be forwarded; and such magistrate shall thereupon examine such native inhabitant with reference to his proposed contract to labor; and if it appears that he understands the nature of his proposed contract as regards the locality, period, and nature of the service, the rate of wages, and the price at which rice is to be supplied, and that he is willing to fulfil the same, the magistrate shall register, in a book to be kept for the purpose, in such form as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall prescribe, the name of such native inhabitant and the depôt to which it is intended he shall proceed; but if the magistrate shall be of opinion that such native inhabitant does not understand the nature of his proposed contract, or that he has been recruited by fraud or misrepresentation, or if no such medical certificate as aforesaid is produced by the recruiter or garden-sirdar in respect of such native inhabitant, he shall refuse to register the name of such native inhabitant. Provided that if in any case the recruiter or garden-sirdar shall satisfy the magistrate that a medical certificate could not have been obtained without serious delay or inconvenience, the magistrate may dispense with the production of such certificate.

[See Section 5, § 4 of Bill.]

Magistrate charged with superintendence of accommodation.

The magistrate in charge of any district, or division of a district, in which there may be any such accommodation provided, shall have, for the supervision, management, and regulation of such accommodation, all such and the same powers and authorities as are vested in a superintendent of emigration for the supervision, management, and regulation of depôts subject to the powers and authority of such superintendent.

Emigrant to be taken for examination to medical officer, who may reject.

47. Every native of India, who shall, in any place or town within the said provinces, enter into any engagement with any recruiter to proceed to a labor district, for the purpose of laboring for hire, shall be brought by such recruiter before such medical officer as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time appoint to examine emigrants within such place or town; or, if no such officer has been appointed, before such medical officer as the magistrate may direct. The medical officer shall thereupon examine the native produced by the recruiter, and shall reject such person or shall certify in writing that he is in a fit state of health and able in point of physical condition to journey to and work for hire in a labor district. The certificate shall be in the form prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor, and the recruiter shall pay to the medical officer a fee of two annas for each certificate.

If certified to be fit, emigrant to be taken to magistrate.

48. Every emigrant who is certified by the medical officer, as required in the last preceding section, to be fit to emigrate to a labor district, shall, within forty-eight hours from the delivery to the recruiter of such certificate, appear with the recruiter before a magistrate in the district or town within which the engagement was entered into; and the recruiter shall not remove such emigrant from the said district until he has so appeared.

Magistrate to examine emigrant respecting the engagement.

On the appearance of the emigrant the magistrate, after inspecting the medical certificate, shall examine him with reference to his engagement, and if it appears that he understands the nature of the engagement he has entered into as regards the locality, period, and nature of the service, the rate of wages, and the price at which food is to be supplied, and that he is willing to fulfil the same, the magistrate shall register in a book to be kept for the purpose in such form as the Lieutenant-Governor shall prescribe:—

If satisfied, magistrate will register certain particulars.

(1.) The name, the name of the father, and the age of such emigrant;

(2.) The name of the village or place of which such emigrant is the resident;

(3.) The contractor's depôt to which it is intended that he shall proceed;

(4.) The labor district to which he is engaged to proceed;

(5.) The period of service;

(6.) The rate of wages, and the rate at which food is to be supplied.

If the magistrate thinks that the emigrant does not understand the nature of the engagement, or has been induced to enter into the engagement by fraud or misrepresentation, he shall refuse to register such emigrant.

If dissatisfied, will reject.

49. A certified copy of such registration written on substantial paper, shall be furnished by the magistrate to the emigrant registered.

Copy of registration to be given to emigrant.

50. A certified copy of every such registration and the original certificate of the medical officer shall be forthwith forwarded by the magistrate to the superintendent of emigration.

Copy of registration and medical certificate to be sent to superintendent.

51. For the registration of every emigrant the recruiter shall pay to the officer making the registry a fee not exceeding one rupee and eight annas.

Fee for registration.

52. The provisions of the five preceding sections shall be applicable to all natives of India engaged by recruiters within the town of Calcutta, except that they shall be brought for registration before the superintendent of emigration having authority in that town, and not before a magistrate.

Similar provisions for emigrants recruited in Calcutta.

53. Every native of India who shall by any recruiter be brought or induced to come from any province or district not under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of entering into a contract in a district under such control, shall be produced by the recruiter for medical examination and registry under sections 47 and 48 at some place within the district, subject to the control of the said Lieutenant-Governor, into which such native shall first come after having been engaged.

Emigrants recruited in districts not in Bengal.

54. Every recruiter, who forwards or accompanies any native of India from the district or town in which he has been recruited, or into which, under the last preceding section, he has first come, or who induces any such native to leave such district or town for the purpose of proceeding to a labor district, without being duly registered as above required; or who forwards, accompanies, or induces any such native to proceed to any depôt other than the depôt registered under section 49; shall be punished in respect of every such native so forwarded, accompanied, or induced, with a fine which may extend to fifty rupees, or with imprisonment, of either description, for a term which may extend to one month, or with both.

Penalty for forwarding emigrants without registration.

55. All emigrants proceeding to a depôt shall be accompanied throughout the journey by the recruiter himself, or by a competent person appointed by him with the approval of the magistrate, by whom such emigrants have been registered. The magistrate shall give to the person so appointed a certificate under his signature stating that he has been appointed for the journey to the depôt.

Recruiter must accompany emigrants to depôt, or depute person approved by magistrate.

XXIV. An authentic copy of every registration made under the next preceding section, and all such certificates of a medical officer as aforesaid, shall be forthwith forwarded by the magistrate to the superintendent, within the local limits of whose authority the depôt to which such native inhabitant is about to proceed is situated.

Copy of register to be sent to the superintendent.

XXV. The provisions of the two preceding sections shall be applicable to all native inhabitants within the town of Calcutta, engaged by recruiters or by garden-sirdars authorized by their certificates to engage more than twenty native inhabitants, except that they shall be brought for registration before the superintendent having authority in that town, and not before a magistrate.

Provisions of two preceding sections to apply to natives engaged in Calcutta.

XXVI. Every native inhabitant of India who shall, by any recruiter or garden-sirdar, be brought or induced to come from any province or district not under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of entering into a contract in a district under such control, shall be produced by a recruiter or garden-sirdar for registry under Section XIX or for medical examination and registry under Sections XXII and XXIII of this Act, as the case may be, at some place within the district subject to the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, into which such native inhabitant shall first come after having been recruited. Provided that such native inhabitant, if engaged under the provision of Section XIX, may be produced by the garden-sirdar for registry at Calcutta.

Registration of laborers coming from a district not within Bengal.

XXVII. Every contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, who shall forward, send, or accompany any native inhabitant of India from the district or town in which he may have been recruited, or into which, under the preceding section, he may have first come, before such inhabitant has been duly registered according to the provisions contained in Section XIX or Section XXIII, as the case may be, or who shall induce any such native inhabitant to leave such district or town for the purpose of proceeding to any of the said districts without being so duly registered; or who shall forward, send, accompany, or induce any such native inhabitant to proceed to any depôt other than the depôt registered under Section XXIII; shall be liable, in respect of every such native inhabitant so forwarded, sent, accompanied, or induced, to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and also to imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a term not exceeding one month. Provided always that nothing in this section contained shall subject to any penalty any garden-sirdar not authorized to engage more than twenty native inhabitants, by reason of his accompanying such native inhabitants to or towards Calcutta, for the purpose of there entering into a contract in pursuance of Section XIX.

Penalty for forwarding laborers or allowing them to go without being duly registered, &c.

XXVIII. All native inhabitants of India engaged by any contractor or recruiter to proceed to any of the said districts shall, after they have been registered as aforesaid, and while they are proceeding to a depôt, be accompanied throughout the journey by the contractor or recruiter himself, or by a competent person appointed by him, with the approval of the magistrate, by whom such native inhabitants may have been registered.

Laborers shall be accompanied to depôt by recruiter, or person approved by magistrate.

XXXI. Every contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, authorized to engage more than twenty native inhabitants by or through whom any native inhabitant may be forwarded or accompanied to a depôt, shall, throughout the journey, provide such inhabitant with proper and sufficient food and lodging: and whenever any such native inhabitant shall not be so provided with lodging or food, the contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, by whom such native inhabitant may have been engaged, shall, for each default, and whether he may or may not have personally accompanied such native inhabitant, be liable to fine not exceeding fifty rupees. The whole or any portion of such fine may be awarded to such native inhabitant as compensation.

Contractor, &c., to provide suitable food and lodging, &c.

Penalty on omission to supply lodging and food.

XXXIII. Every contractor shall, within twenty-four hours after the arrival at any depôt of any native inhabitant of India forwarded or brought to him for the purpose of proceeding to any of the said districts, give to the superintendent a notice in writing of such arrival, which notice shall be in such form, and shall contain such particulars, as the superintendent shall prescribe. Every such native inhabitant, in respect of whom no certificate shall have been forwarded in pursuance of Section XXIV, or in respect of whom the superintendent may determine that an examination is desirable, shall, as soon as may be after his arrival, be examined by the medical inspector, who shall give the superintendent a certificate of the state of health of every such native inhabitant examined.

Contractor to give to the superintendent notice of arrival of laborers at depôt.

Medical inspector to inspect laborers on arrival.

XXXIV. If the medical inspector shall certify that any native inhabitant so examined is in such a state of health that his journey to any of the said districts would be dangerous to himself or to others, or that he is unfit for labor in the said districts, the superintendent may order the contractor, or in case of native inhabitants engaged by a garden-sirdar, such garden-sirdar to pay to such native inhabitant such sum as shall to the superintendent seem necessary to enable him to return to the place at which he was registered. Provided always that any such native inhabitant who from his state of health is, in the medical inspector's opinion, unfit to undertake the journey back to the place where he was registered, shall, until he is reported by the medical inspector fit to undertake such journey, be fed, clothed, and lodged at the expense of such contractor, or of such garden-sirdar's employer. If such contractor or garden-sirdar wilfully omits so to feed, clothe, and lodge the native inhabitant, he shal be liable to fine.

If unable to proceed to the district from bad health, laborer to be sent back to place where he was registered.

56. Every recruiter, by whom any emigrant is forwarded or accompanied to a depôt, shall, throughout the journey, provide such emigrant with proper and sufficient food and lodging. If any such emigrant is not so provided with lodging or food, he may complain to a magistrate of any class at any place where the recruiter fails to make such provision, and such recruiter shall be punished by any such magistrate with fine which may extend to fifty rupees. The whole or any portion of such fine may be awarded to such emigrant as compensation. If the fine be not paid within twenty-four hours, the recruiter shall be punished with imprisonment which may extend to one month, and such magistrate may cancel the engagement.

Recruiter must provide food and lodging for emigrants on journey.

Chapter 6.—Depôt.

57. Within twenty-four hours after the arrival at any depôt of any emigrant, the contractor by whom such depôt is maintained shall give to the superintendent of emigration a notice in writing of such arrival, which notice shall be in such form and shall contain such particulars as the superintendent shall prescribe.

Contractor to report arrival of emigrants.

58. The copy of the registration and the medical certificate of every emigrant received by the superintendent as above provided shall be shown to the medical inspector; and all emigrants shall be inspected by the medical inspector as soon as may be after their arrival at the depôt. If he be satisfied of the fitness of an emigrant to journey to and labor in a labor district, he shall countersign the copy of the registration; if he be not satisfied thereof, he shall give a certificate to that effect to the superintendent.

Emigrants to be inspected by medical inspector immediately on arrival.

The medical inspector shall examine any emigrant in regard to whom a medical certificate is not forthcoming, and shall certify whether such emigrant is in his opinion in a fit state of health and able in point of physical condition to journey to and work for hire in a labor district; and if satisfied of his fitness he shall countersign the copy of the registration.

Medical inspector to examine emigrant if medical certificate not given.

59. If the medical inspector shall certify that any emigrant so examined is in such a state of health that his journey to any labor district would be dangerous to himself or to others, or that he is unfit for labor in a labor district, the superintendent may order the contractor, or the garden-sirdar, if such emigrant has been brought to the depôt by a garden-sirdar, to pay to such emigrant such sum as shall to the superintendent seem necessary to enable him to return to the place at which he was registered. Provided tha any such emigrant, who from his state fo health is, in the opinion of the medical inspector, unfit to undertake the journey back to the place where he was registered, shall, in addition to his being conveyed back at the expense of the contractor or garden-sirdar, be entitled to be fed, clothedf lodged, and attended to by and at the expense

Emigrant rejected by medical inspector to be sent back to district of registry.

XXXV. If, upon the arrival of any native inhabitant at a depôt, it shall appear to the superintendent that such native inhabitant has suffered any ill-treatment on the journey, the superintendent may cause him to be removed from the depôt, and may order the contractor or garden-sirdar for or by whom such native inhabitant shall have been taken to such depôt, to pay him such sum of money as to the superintendent shall seem reasonable by way of compensation, or such sum as to the superintendent shall seem necessary in order to enable such native inhabitant to return to the place where he was registered. In the latter case the native inhabitant shall not be bound to enter into a contract.

If laborer be ill-treated, superintendent may remove him from depôt.

XXXVII. Every contract entered into in pursuance of Section XVIII, and not being within the provisions of Section XIX shall, in the presence of the superintendent, be signed in duplicate both by such native inhabitant and by the person with whom he intends to contract, or his agent. Before such native inhabitant signs the contract, the superintendent shall personally explain it to him, and shall attest such contract and certify at the foot thereof that he has personally explained the same. An abstract of every such contract shall be entered by the superintendent in a register to be kept by him for the purpose; and after such abstract has been so entered, one of the duplicates so duly signed and attested as hereinbefore provided shall be given to the laborer, and the other to the person with whom he has contracted, or his agent.

Contract to be explained by superintendent and executed in duplicate, and abstract to be entered in a book by superintendent.

LXX. The superintendent shall send by post a copy, authenticated under his hand, of every abstract entered by him as in Section XXXVII provided, to the magistrate of the district in which the service under such contract is agreed to be performed. Every such copy shall be despatched by the superintendent within seven days after the entry of the abstract. Every abstract and every such copy shall, without further proof thereof, be receivable as primary evidence in every court, whether civil or criminal, as fully as the original contract might or could be.

Copy of abstracts to be sent to magistrate of district where service is to be performed. Abstracts and copies to be evidence.

XXXVIII. If any native inhabitant of India who may, under the provisions hereinbefore contained, have been received into any depôt, shall, without reasonable cause, refuse to execute such contract as shall be tendered to him for execution in conformity with the provisions of the last preceding section, such native inhabitant shall be punished with of such contractor, or of the employer of such garden-sirdar, until he is reported by the medical inspector fit to undertake such journey. If such contractor or garden-sirdar negligently or wilfully omits so to feed, clothe, lodge, and attend to the emigrant, the superintendent may order him to pay to such emigrant such sum of money by way of compensation as may appear reasonable.

60. If, upon the arrival of any emigrant at a depôt, it shall appear to the superintendent of emigration, after personal communication with such emigrant, that such emigrant has suffered any serious ill-treatment, or that the recruiter has failed to provide such emigrant with proper and sufficient food and lodging during transit, the superintendent may cause him to be removed from the depôt, and may order the contractor or garden-sirdar, for or by whom such emigrant shall have been taken to such depôt, to pay him such sum of money as to the superintendent shall seem reasonable by way of compensation, or such sum as to the superintendent shall seem necessary in order to enable such native inhabitant to return to the place where he was registered. In the latter case the native inhabitant shall not be bound to enter into a contract.

Emigrant ill-treated during journey may obtain compensation.

61. Every emigrant, who is passed by the medical inspector as in a fit state of health and able to journey to and labor in a labor district, shall be required to execute a contract before he is forwarded from the depôt. The contract shall be executed in duplicate in the presence of the superintendent of emigration by the emigrant and by the employer to whom he is engaged or his agent, and shall be attested by the superintendent, and one copy thereof shall be given to the emigrant, and the other copy thereof to the employer or his agent. The contract may be written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, and shall be on substantial paper.

If emigrant is passed by medical inspector, contract to be executed,

Provided that no contract shall be executed by an emigrant until the superintendent has satisfied himself by personal explanation of the conditions of the contract and by examination of such emigrant, that the emigrant comprehends the nature of the contract and is willing to bind himself to abide by the conditions thereof.

after personal examination by superintendent.

An abstract of every such contract shall be entered in a register to be kept by the superintendent for the purpose, and a certified copy of such entry, or of the contract shall be forwarded by him within seven days to the magistrate of the labor district to which such emigrant is to proceed.

Contract to be entered in register, and copy sent to magistrate of labor district.

62. Such certified copy of the entry, or of the contract so forwarded, shall be admissible in any court as evidence of the contents of the contract.

Proof of contract.

63. Any emigrant who, without reasonable cause, refuses to execute such contract, shall, if the terms of it correspond with those entered in the register of a fine equal in amount to the entire cost incurred by or on behalf of the contractor or the garden-sirdar's employer in and about bringing such native inhabitant to such depôt, and in default of payment of such fine, with imprisonment with or without hard labor which may extend to two months, and such native inhabitant shall forthwith be discharged from such depôt. A certificate signed by the superintendent that reasonable cause for refusing to execute the contract has not been shown, shall be admissible as primâ facie evidence in any proceeding under this section. Every fine levied under the provisions of this section shall be paid to the contractor or employer by whom or on whose behalf the person from whom such fine shall have been levied was originally registered.

XXXIX. If within thirty-days after the arrival of any native inhabitant of India at a depôt, the contractor or garden-sirdar by whom or on whose behalf such native inhabitant shall have been registered, shall not tender to him for execution such contract as under the provisions of the preceding sections he would be bound to execute, the superintendent may order the contractor or garden-sirdar to pay to such native inhabitant such sum of money as to the superintendent shall seem necessary to enable such native inhabitant to return to the place where he was registered, and in such case such native inhabitant shall not be bound to execute any contract.

Penalty on contractor not providing an employment for laborer.

XL. If any contractor or garden-sirdar who may be ordered, under the provisions of Sections XXXIV, XXXV, XXXVI, or XXXIX, to pay any sum of money, shall, for twenty-four hours, omit to comply with such order, it shall be lawful for the superintendent to advance the amount so ordered to be paid to the person named in such order, and to recover from such contractor or garden-sirdar or his employer the sum so advanced with interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum from the date of such advance, and no further proof shall be required by any court in any suit for the recovery of money so advanced, than that the superintendent made such order as aforesaid, and advanced the money as aforesaid.

Power to enforce payment of monies ordered by superintendent to be paid.

the magistrate of the district in which he was engaged, be punished with a fine equal in amount to the entire cost incurred by, or on behalf of, the contractor, or the garden-sirdar, as the case may be, in engaging, registering, and conveying him to the depôt, and in default of payment of such fine, with imprisonment, with or without hard labor, which may extend to two months, and such emigrant shall forthwith be discharged from such depôt. A certificate signed by the superintendent, that reasonable cause for refusing to execute the contract has not been shown, shall be admissible as primâ facie evidence in any proceeding taken under this section. Every fine levied under the provisions of this section shall be paid to the contractor or garden-sirdar by whom or on whose behalf the person from whom such fine shall have been levied was originally registered.

64. If within thirty days after the arrival of any emigrant at a depôt, the contractor, by whom or on whose behalf such emigrant shall have been registered, does not tender to him for execution such contract as under the provisions of the preceding sections, he would be bound to execute, or if such contractor or the employer of the garden-sirdar, without the consent of the superintendent, refuses to be bound by the agreement made by the recruiter or garden-sirdar with the emigrant, the superintendent may order the contractor or garden-sirdar to pay to such emigrant such sum of money as to the superintendent shall seem necessary to enable such emigrant to return to the place where he was registered, and in such case such emigrant shall not be bound to execute any contract.

Penalty on contractor failing to provide contract.

65. The superintendent may, in any case in which it seems to him proper to do so, institute a suit on behalf of the emigrant against the contractor or the employer of the garden-sirdar for the recovery of damages for any breach of contract. In every such suit the contract entered into by the recruiter shall be deemed to have been entered into by, and to be binding on, the contractor or the employer of the garden-sirdar as the case may be.

Superintendent may file action on behalf of emigrant for any breach of contract.

66. If any contractor or garden-sirdar who may be ordered, under the provisions of sections 59, 60, and 64, to pay any sum of money, shall for twenty-four hours omit to comply with such order, it shall be lawful for the superintendent to advance the amount so ordered to be paid to the person named in such order, and to recover from such contractor or garden-sirdar or his employer the sum so advanced, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum from the date of such advance; and no further proof shall be required by any court in any suit for the recovery of money so advanced than that the superintendent made such order as aforesaid and advanced the money as aforesaid.

Recovery of sums ordered to be paid by superintendent.

67. The superintendent of emigration may punish with fine not exceeding fifty rupees any contractor or recruiter who is guilty of a breach or neglect of any rule contained in this Act, relating to contractors or recruiters, or of any rule prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 5 for the management and regulation of contractors' depôts, and of hospital depôts. Such fines if unpaid shall be recovered on the requisition of the superintendent of emigration by any competent magistrate in the manner prescribed in section 307 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Superintendent may fine a contractor or recruiter.

Chapter 7.—Transport.

XLI. Any laborer whose contracts shall have been executed and entered as hereinbefore provided, may be despatched from time to time to any of the said districts by the contractors in whose depôts they may be, or by the persons whom they may have agreed to serve respectively, but subject always to the provisions of this Act. No laborer shall be so despatched unless the permission of the superintendent shall have been first obtained, and the laborer shall have received a pass as hereinafter mentioned.

Laborers whose contracts are duly executed and entered, may be despatched with consent of superintendent

68. When the contract of any emigrant has been duly executed, he may, with the permission of the superintendent of emigration, be forwarded to the labor district, in which he has engaged to labor, by the contractor in whose depôt he is residing, or by the employer with whom he has made the contract. Every such emigrant or batch of emigrants shall be furnished with a pass in the form set forth in schedule (C) annexed to this Act, signed by the contractor or gaiden-sirdar, and countersigned by the superintendent of emigration and by the embarkation agent at the place at which the laborer embarks, specifying his name and age, the name of his father, the place of his destination, and the name of his employer. Every such pass shall be entered in a book to be kept by the embarkation agent, and shall be dated and numbered in a consecutive series.

Emigrant to be forwarded to labor district with permission of superintendent.

To be furnished with a pass.

XLII. It shall not be lawful for the master of any steamer, or the manjee of any boat, without a license granted by the superintendent withint he local limits of whose authority any laborer may embark, to convey more than twenty laborers at any one time to or towards any of the said districts. A fee not exceeding four annas per laborer (the amount of which fee shall from time to time be fixed by the Government of Bengal) shall be paid for every such license, and it shall be in the discretion of the superintendent to whom application is made to grant or withhold any such license. Every such license shall apply only to one voyage or trip to the said districts or any one or more of those districts, and shall specify the number of laborers which the steamer or boat is licensed to carry, and the number of persons (including the crew) other than laborers whom such steamer or boat is licensed to carry.

Steamer or boat to be licensed to carry laborers.

69. It shall not be lawful for the master of any vessel, without a license granted by the embarkation agent within the local limits of whose authority any emigrant may embark, to convey more than twenty emigrants at any one time to or towards any labor district. A fee not exceeding four annas per emigrant shall be paid for every such license, and it shall be in the discretion of the embarkation agent to whom application is made to grant or withhold any such license. Such license shall be in force for only one voyage to one or more of the labor districts, and shall specify the number of emigrants which the vessel is licensed to carry, and the number of persons (including the crew) other than emigrants whom such vessel is licensed to carry.

Vessel must be licensed to carry emigrants.

Fee for license.

XLIII. The master of any steamer, or the manjee of any boat, in which at one time more than twenty laborers shall be conveyed without a license having been obtained as aforesaid, shall be liable to a fine for every laborer so illegally conveyed.

Penalty for conveying laborers in a steamer or boat without a license.

The master of any vessel, in which at one time more than twenty emigrants are conveyed without a license having been obtained as aforesaid, shall be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

Penalty for carrying without license.

70. Such license shall state the date on which the vessel shall leave the place at which the emigrants are to embark. If the vessel does not leave such place and proceed on its voyage on the day fixed, the master thereof shall be punished with a fine which may extend to five hundred rupees for each day during which the vessel remains at or within five miles of the place of embarkation. Provided that such penalty shall not be incurred if the delay takes place with the sanction of the embarkation agent or is caused by any casualty incidental to or attending navigation.

Penalty for delay in despatching vessel.

XLIV. If the master of any steamer, or the manjee of any boat, shall, after having obtained a license as aforesaid, fraudulently do or suffer to be done any act or thing whereby the state of the steamer or boat may be altered, so that such steamer or boat may be unfit for the accommodation of the Penalty for fraudulent acts, whereby a steamer or boat becomes unfit for the accommodation of the laborers mentioned in a license.

71. If the master of any vessel, after having obtained a license as aforesaid, fraudulently does or suffers to be done any act or thing whereby the state of the vessel is altered, o that such vessel is unfit, number of laborers mentioned in such license, such master or manjee shall be liable to fine.

Fraudulent alteration of vessel after grant of certificate.

XLV. The master of any steamer, or the manjee of any boat, licensed to carry laborers, who shall receive on board his steamer or boat a greater number of laborers, or of other persons than is specified in his license, shall be liable to a fine for every laborer and other person so received in excess of the licensed number. In computing under this Act the number of laborers or other persons on board of any steamer or boat, two children under the age of ten years shall be reckoned as one person only.

Penalty for taking on board greater number of passengers than specified in license.

Two children under ten to count as one person.

XLVI. No master of any steamer, nor manjee of any boat, whether licensed or not, shall take on board any laborer, unless such laborer, or some person accompanying him, shall show a pass signed by some superintendent, or, in the case of native inhabitants engaged by a garden-sirdar, signed by some magistrate or other officer or superintendent acting under the provisions of Section XIX, stating his name and age, and the name of his father, and certifying the place of his destination, and the name of the person with whom he has contracted to labor. A master or manjee shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees for every laborer taken on board without a pass.

No laborer to be taken on board unless he has a pass signed by the superintendent.

XLVIII. Before any steamer or boat, licensed as aforesaid, shall proceed upon any voyage for the said districts, the master or manjee thereof shall deliver to the superintendent a list in duplicate, in a form to be prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, specifying the names, ages, previous occupations, and destinations of all the laborers on board such steamer or boat and the names of the persons with whom they have respectively contracted to labor. The Superintendent shall keep one of the said lists, and shall sign the other (if it be in his opinion correct) and deliver it back to the master or manjee. If the master of any steamer, or the manjee of any boat, shall, after having commenced his voyage, or after having delivered such list to the superintendent, knowingly take on board any laborer whose name shall not have been entered in the list aforesaid, he shall be liable to a fine for every laborer so illegally taken on board.

A list of the laborers on board to be delivered to superintendent.

Penalty for afterwards taking on board laborers not entered in list.

LXII. There shall be laden, under the supervision of the superintendent, on board of every steamer or boat licensed as aforesaid and carrying laborers to any of the said districts, at the time of the embarkation of such laborers, proper and sufficient provisions for the consumption of the said laborers, to the amount, or in the proportion, which shall be prescribed as aforesaid by the Lieutenant-Governor. And any master or manjee who shall commence the voyage without having on board such provisions as aforesaid, or without having on board such medical and other officers, cooks, and other attendants, as the superintendent shall order, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, and in default of payment imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months. Provided always that it shall not be lawful for the superintendent to order that a medical officer shall proceed with any number of laborers less than fifty who may go together to the said districts or any of them.

Sufficient quantity of provisions to be carried on every steamer or boat,

And medical and other officers to be carried.

[See Section 5, § 6, 8, 9 of the Bill.]

in the opinion of the magistrate, for the accommodation of the number of emigrants mentioned in such license, such master shall be liable to fine.

72. The master of any vessel licensed to carry emigrants, who receives on board his vessel a greater number of emigrants, or of other persons, than the number specified in his license, shall be liable to a fine for every emigrant and other person so received in excess of the licensed number. In computing under this Act the number of emigrants or other persons on board of any vessel, two children under the age of ten years shall be reckoned as one person only.

Penalty for receiving on board more passengers than number specified in license.

73. The master of any vessel, whether licensed or not, shall not take on board any emigrant if the number of such emigrants exceeds twenty, unless such emigrant, or some person accompanying him, shall show the pass prescribed by section 68 countersigned by the embarkation agent. The master shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees for every emigrant taken on board without a pass.

No emigrant to be received on board without pass.

74. The master of a licensed vessel carrying emigrants shall not proceed on the voyage towards a labor district until he has received from the embarkation agent a list of all the emigrants on board.

Such list shall contain all the particulars noted in the pass of each such emigrant; but if all the emigrants whose names are entered in any one pass embark on board the same vessel, it shall be sufficient if the number and date of such pass are noted in the list. The embarkation agent and the master of the vessel shall together personally ascertain that the number of emigrants on board corresponds with the number entered in such list.

Embarkation agent to furnish the master with a list of emigrants on board.

List what to contain, to be compared with emigrants by agent and master.

If the master of such vessel allows any emigrant not entered in such list to proceed in the vessel, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

Penalty for admitting emigrants not in list.

The embarkation agent shall send a copy of the said list or an extract from it to the magistrate of the labor district to which any of the emigrants are proceeding.

Copy of list to be sent to magistrate.

75. The master of any vessel carrying emigrants, who leaves a place of embarkation in progress to a labor district without having taken on board such supplies of provisions, clothing, medical drugs, and other stores, and such medical and other officers, and such cooks and other attendants, as are required under the rules prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

Penalty if master proceeds without requisite provisions, medical and other stores, medical and other officers and attendants.

XLVII. If the master of any steamer, or the manjee of any boat, shall, save as hereinafter is provided, cause or permit any laborer finally to leave such steamer or boat at any place other than that named as the destination of such laborer in the pass signed as in the next preceding section is provided, such master or manjee shall be liable to fine for each such offence. Provided always that this section shall not be deemed to prevent the master of any steamer, or the manjee of any boat, from permitting laborers to disembark at any place or places on the voyage, so long as such disembarkation is not intended, or known to be likely to be final; nor to prevent the final disembarkation of any laborers in case of accident or other unavoidable necessity, if such accident or necessity be forthwith reported to the superintendent by whom the license of such steamer or boat was granted, and to the nearest magistrate in the district within which such accident may occur or necessity arise.

No laborer to be allowed finally to leave steamer or boat at any place other than that mentioned in his pass.

Proviso.

XLIX. The master of any steamer, or the manjee of any boat, licensed as aforesaid, having laborers on board, shall immediately on the arrival of such steamer or boat at any station between the places of embarkation and disembarkation of such laborers, at which there may be a magistrate, give immediate notice of such arrival to the magistrate, and it shall be lawful for the magistrate or any officer specially deputed by him on that behalf, at any time while such steamer or boat is within the limits of his jurisdiction, and whether such notice as aforesaid shall have been given or not, to go on board such steamer or boat and inspect the same, and the master and officers of the steamer, or the manjee of the boat, shall be bound to afford such magistrate or other officer all reasonable facility for such inspection, and to give him all such information respecting the laborers or other persons on board thereof as may be reasonably required, and in default of compliance with the provisions aforesaid, such master or manjee may be punished by fine.

Notice of arrival of laborers to be given.

76. No vessel carrying two hundred emigrants shall be allowed to proceed on the voyage unless a medical officer, who is a licentiate in medicine, or who is declared to be qualified for such charge by order of the Lieutenant-Governor, has been appointed to the charge of such emigrants.

Vessel carrying 200 emigrants must carry a qualified medical officer.

77. If the master of any licensed vessel carrying emigrants, save as hereinafter is provided, voluntarily or negligently causes or permits any emigrant finally to leave such vessel at any place other than that named in his pass as the destination of such emigrant, such master shall be liable to fine not exceeding one hundred rupees for each emigrant so disembarked. Provided always that this section shall not be deemed to prevent the master of any vessel from permitting emigrants to disembark at any place or places on the voyage so long as such disembarkation is not intended or known to be likely to be final; nor to prevent the final disembarkation of any emigrants in case of accident or other unavoidable necessity, if such accident or necessity be forthwith reported to the embarkation agent by whom the license of such vessel was granted, and to the nearest magistrate in the district within which such accident may occur or necessity arise.

Emigrant not allowed to leave vessel at any place other than that mentioned in pass.

78. Every licensed vessel carrying emigrants shall stop at every place, in which a magistrate is stationed, intermediate between the places of embarkation and disembarkation of such emigrants, and shall remain during not less than six hours of daylight. The master of every such vessel shall immediately on arrival report to the magistrate the number of emigrants on board, the general state of their health, and the number of deaths (if any) which have occurred among the persons who embarked on such vessel.

Master to report arrival of emigrants at every intermediate station where there is a magistrate.

79. A magistrate may at any time go on board of any such licensed vessel carrying emigrants while within the limits of his jurisdiction, and may inspect the vessel, the emigrants, and all persons on board. The master and officers of such vessel shall be bound to afford to such magistrate all reasonable facility for such inspection, and to give him all such information respecting the emigrants or other persons on board as may be reasonably required, and respecting any deaths which may have occurred on board, and respecting any other facts which may affect the health of the emigrants.

Magistrate may at any time inspect vessel.

Master bound to give all information required.

Any master or other officer who wilfully or negligently omits to give any such information to the magistrate, shall be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

Penalty for omission.

80. On the arrival of such vessel, or at any time while it is within the limits of his jurisdiction, the magistrate may regulate the communication between such Magistrate may regulate communication between vessel and land.

L. It shall be lawful for such magistrate or other officer as aforesaid, if he shall see reasonable ground for so doing, to detain the steamer or boat until he shall have caused the laborers on board thereof to be inspected by the civil medical officer of the district, or, in case of his absence or inability to attend, by some other qualified medical officer, and such medical officer shall inspect the laborers on board such steamer or boat, and shall prepare, sign, and submit to the magistrate or other officer a report respecting the general condition and health of the laborers on board, and shall cause to be detained at such station for medical treatment any laborer who may appear to him to be affected with any infectious or contagious disease, and any laborer who may have been, in pursuance of the provisions hereinafter in that behalf contained, taken beyond his place of destination, in consequence of his being in such a state of health as to be unfit to proceed to the place at which he has contracted to labor.

Power to detain steamers, boats, and laborers.

LII. If disease shall exist among laborers, or intending laborers, while passing through any district, whether by land or by water, on their journey either to a depôt or place of embarkation, or to the place where they are to labor, any magistrate having jurisdiction in such district may require the civil medical officer of the station, or, in his absence, some other qualified medical officer, to report on the health of such laborers or intending laborers, and if in the opinion of such medical officer it may be advisable, may detain such laborer or intending laborers, or any of them, until such time as they shall be able to proceed with safety. In any case in which laborers or intending laborers are detained under the provisions of this section or of Section I or LIII by a magistrate, he shall cause all necessary arrangements to be made for their accommodation, support and medical treatment; and all expenses incurred by him in respect of the laborers so detained, prior to the final disembarkation of the laborers, shall be recoverable, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the contractor by, through, or for whom the laborers shall have been engaged or forwarded; or in the case of laborers, or intending laborers engaged by a garden-sirdar, from the employer from whom such garden-sirdar received his certificate, as money paid to the use of such contractor or employer. If any such expenses shall be incurred in respect of laborers after they shall have finally disembarked, such expenses shall be recoverable, with interest as aforesaid, from the employer under whom such laborers have contracted to serve.

vessel and the land, and may prohibit all persons from leaving the vessel and all persons on land from proceeding on board.

81. A magistrate may, if he has reason to believe that any emigrants on board any vessel within the limits of his jurisdiction are or are likely to be affected with any infectious or contagious disease, detain such vessel, and require the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to inspect the emigrants on board such vessel, and to report on their health, and whether any or what measures are requisite for the removal or prevention of such disease. After the submission of such report the magistrate may detain the vessel for a further period not exceeding 5 days for the purpose of carrying out such measures, if any, recommended by the medical officer in his report, and the magistrate may further detain at such station for medical treatment any emigrant who is affected with any infectious or contagious disease.

Magistrate may detain vessel for inspection and for removal of disease and may detain sick emigrants.

82. A magistrate may, if he has reason to believe that a party of emigrants proceeding by land within the limits of his jurisdiction are or are likely to be affected with any infectious or contagious disease, detain such party and require the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to inspect the emigrants and to report on their health, and whether any and what measures are requisite for the removal or prevention of such disease, and the magistrate may detain at such station for medical treatment such party or such emigrants of the party as are affected with any infectious or contagious disease for such period as the medical officer may certify to be requisite.

Magistrate may detain emigrants proceeding by land.

83. If in any case it appears to the magistrate expedient, with reference to the state of health of any such emigrants, that one or more of them should not be allowed to proceed towards a labor district, he may order the disembarkation and detention of any such person; and in such case he shall cause all necessary arrangements to be made for their accommodation, support, and medical treatment.

Magistrate may detain sick emigrants, and shall arrange for their accommodation and treatment;

All necessary expenses incurred by him in respect of emigrants so detained shall be recovered from the contractor, or the employer by whom the garden-sirdar is accredited, by or for whom such emigrants have been engaged. If any emigrant is removed under the provisions of this section from any vessel, the magistrate shall determine what proportion of the amount paid or to be paid for the conveyance of such emigrant shall be refunded, and may recover such amount if paid from the master of such vessel. If the amount has not been paid, the contract to pay shall be modified in accordance with such order.

expenses how to be recovered;

proportionate reduction from passage-money.

LI. In any case in which, on making such inspection as is in the last preceding section provided, the magistrate shall find that any of the provisions of this Act have not been complied with, he shall report the same to the superintendent by whom the license to carry the laborers was granted to such steamer or boat; and if the circumstances of the case are such as in the magistrate's opinion make it necessary so to do, he may detain the said steamer or boat until the provisions of this Act have been complied with, so far as to make it possible for the voyage to be further prosecuted with safety and reasonable comfort to the laborers.

Infractions of Act to be reported to superintendent.

LIII. Whenever any steamer or boat licensed as aforesaid shall arrive at any civil station, and there shall be on board of such steamer or boat laborers intended to disembark at such station or at some intermediate place at which such steamer or boat would arrive before arriving at the next civil station, the master of such steamer, or the manjee of such boat, shall, previously to the disembarkation of any of the laborers, give notice of such arrival to the magistrate of such station or such officer as shall be appointed by such magistrate in that behalf, and shall exhibit to him the list mentioned in Section XLVIII, so far as it relates to such laborers, and the magistrate or other officer aforesaid shall cause such laborers to be inspected by the civil medical officer of the station, or in his absence by some other qualified medical officer, and it shall be the duty of such medical officer to inspect carefully all such laborers, and after making such inspection, he shall prepare and sign a report in which he shall certify as to the state of health and general condition of every laborer so inspected, and shall cause to be detained at such station for medical treatment any laborer who may be in such a state of health as in his opinion to be unfit to proceed to the place at which he has contracted to labor.

Disembarkation of laborers at a civil station.

84. If it appears to a magistrate making an inspection of any such vessel that the number of emigrants on board is larger than the number specified in the license, he may remove the excess number and detain them until another opportunity of forwarding them to their destination is found. The necessary expense of maintaining such emigrants and of conveying them to their destination shall be recovered from the master of such vessel.

Measures to be taken if excess number of emigrants is found on board.

85. If it appears to a magistrate making an inspection of any such vessel that anything required to be done or provided under the provisions of this Act, or of any rule made by the Lieutenant-Governor under the authority of this Act, has not been done or provided, he may detain such vessel until the omission shall have been supplied.

Vessels may be detained if rules not observed.

86. Whenever any licensed vessel carrying emigrants arrives at a civil station at which it is intended that any of such emigrants shall disembark, the master shall immediately give notice of the arrival to the magistrate, and shall forward to him at the same time the list furnished to him by the embarkation agent under the provisions of section 74, or a copy of so much of the said list as relates to the emigrants who are to disembark. The master shall not permit any such emigrants to leave the vessel without the order of the magistrate.

On arrival of the vessel at the place of disembarkation, the master shall give information to the magistrate.

Immediately on the receipt of such notice the magistrate shall send information of the arrival of the emigrants to the employers with whom they have contracted, or to the agents of such persons. And he shall at the same time direct the civil medical officer of the station, or in his absence some other qualified medical officer, to go on board such vessel and to inspect such emigrants.

Magistrate shall send information to employer or agent, and direct medical inspection.

Such medical officer shall, without delay, make a careful inspection of all such emigrants; and, after making such inspection, shall prepare and sign a report, in which he shall certify the state of health and general condition of each emigrant so inspected.

Report of medical inspection.

87. The magistrate shall detain at the station for medical treatment any emigrant who is, in the opinion of the medical officer, in such a state of health as to be unfit to proceed to the place at which he has contracted to labor.

Sick emigrants to be detained at station.

The provisions of section 83 shall be applicable to emigrants, whom, on their final disembarkation, the magistrate may think proper to detain at the place of disembarkation for medical treatment. Provided that all necessary expenses incurred in respect

Accommodation and treatment of such persons.

Employer to pay expenses.

LIV. The magistrate or other officer aforesaid shall forthwith upon receipt of the notice in Section LIII mentioned, give notice of the arrival of the laborers to be inspected under the provisions of the same section to the persons with whom they shall be under contract to labor, or to the agents of such persons, who shall forthwith take charge of their laborers respectively. It shall be the duty of the magistrate or other officer aforesaid to ascertain whether reasonable provision has been made for the support and lodging of laborers whose place of disembarkation may be at such station from the time of their disembarkation till they reach their final destination; and if the persons with whom they may have contracted shall fail to make such reasonable provision, or if such persons or their respective agents shall not be present at the place of disembarkation, the magistrate or other officer aforesaid may order such arrangements to be made, and incur such expenses, as under the circumstances may seem to him necessary; and the amount of expenses so incurred by him in the disembarkation, or in respect of the food, lodging, medicines, hospital attendance, or clothing of the laborers, shall with interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum, be recoverable by the magistrate or other officer aforesaid from the the respective employers with whom such laborers may have contracted to serve.

Provision to be made for disembarked laborers.

LV. If the place of disembarkation be not a civil station, the laborers who are to disembark at such place, and who shall have been previously inspected according to the provisions of Section LIII, shall, in case the persons with whom they have contracted to labor, or the agents of such persons, be present, be disembarked and given in charge to such persons or agents. Provided always that in case the medical officer in charge of such laborers, if there be any such medical officer, and if there be not, then the master of the steamer in which such laborers have been conveyed, shall be of opinion that any of such laborers are in such a state of health as to be unfit to proceed to the places where they have respectively contracted to labor, or that reasonable provision for the support and lodging of such laborers from the time of their disembarkation till they reach their final destination has not been made, or in case the persons with whom such laborers have contracted to labor, or the agents of such persons, shall not be present, then and in every such case the laborers so unfit to proceed, or for whose support reasonable provision has not been made, or whose employers may not be present personally or by their agents, shall be further conveyed in the steamer to the next civil station, and shall be there disembarked, and the place at which they shall be so disembarked shall for the purposes of this Act be deemed to be their place of disembarkation.

Disembarkation elsewhere than at a civil station. Power to send laborers forward.

of such emigrants shall be recovered from the employer with whom they have contracted.

88. The magistrate shall also ascertain whether reasonable provision has been made for the support and lodging of the emigrants from the time of their disembarkation till they reach their final destination. If he is satisfied that such reasonable provision has been made, he shall make over the emigrants without delay to the employer or his agent for disembarkation, and for conveyance to the place at which they have contracted to labor. But if such reasonable provision has not been made, or if neither the employer nor his agent be present, the magistrate shall order such arrangements to be made, and incur such expenses, as under the circumstances may seem to him necessary; and the amount of expenses so incurred by him in the disembarkation, or in respect of the food, lodging, medicines, hospital attendance, or clothing of the laborers, shall, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, be recoverable by the magistrate from the respective employers with whom such laborers have contracted to serve.

If necessary provision has been made for the support and lodging of the emigrants, they shall be made over to employer or agent.

If not made, or if employer or agent not present, magistrate to make arrangements; expenses recoverable from employers.

89. If it is intended that the emigrants on board of any licensed vessel shall disembark at a place which is not a civil station, the master of such vessel shall report the arrival, as required in section 86, to the magistrate at the last civil station which such vessel will pass before arriving at the said place of disembarkation, and shall not proceed on his voyage until the medical inspection of such emigrants has been made as provided in the said section. When such inspection has been made, the magistrate shall, without delay, authorize the master to proceed on his voyage; provided that he may, if he thinks fit, detain any emigrant who is unfit to proceed under the provisions of section 83.

If emigrants are to disembark at a place other than a civil station, medical inspection to be made at the civil station last preceding.

90. On the arrival of the vessel at a place of disembarkation, which is not a civil station, the emigrants who are to disembark at such place shall, in case the employers with whom they have contracted to labor, or the agents of such persons, be present, be disembarked and given in charge to such employers or agents. Provided that in case the medical officer in charge of such emigrants if there be any such medical officer, and if there be not, then the master of the vessel in which such emigrants have been conveyed, shall be of opinion that any of such emigrants are in such a state of health as to be unfit to proceed to the places where they have respectively contracted to labor, or that reasonable provision for the support and lodging of such emigrants from the time of their disembarkation till they reach their final destination has not been made, or in case the Disembarkation at such place.

If necessary provision not made, emigrants to be carried on to next station.

LVI. Whenever laborer may remain behind or be detained under the provisions of Sections XXXIV, L, LII, or LIII, or may be further conveyed under the provisions of Section LV, it shall be optional with the wife or husband of such laborer, as the case may be, to remain with the laborer so remaining behind or detained, or to be taken forward along with the laborer so further conveyed, whether such wife or husband have contracted to work for hire in any of the said districts or not. If there are any children, they shall also be allowed to remain.

Power to family of detained laborer to remain with him.

LVII. Every medical officer who shall have made any report under the provisions of Sections L, LII, or LIII, shall forthwith submit every such report to the magistrate or other officer, and shall also report to the said magistrate or other officer such particulars respecting every laborer who may have been detained, as under the provisions of Section XLVIII are required to be specified in the list in the said section mentioned.

Medical officer to submit reports to magistrate.

LVIII. The magistrate or other officer aforesaid shall, upon the arrival or detention of any laborers, belonging to a party of more than twenty, despatch without delay to the superintendent by whose permission they were forwarded, a detailed report of the number of laborers who have arrived or been detained, together with a copy of the report (if any) of the civil surgeon or other medical officer, and any observations which such civil surgeon or other medical officer, or such magistrate or other officer aforesaid, may think fit to make as to the state of health and general condition of the laborers.

Magistrate to send detailed report to superintendent.

LX. Every master of a steamer, or medical officer in charge of laborers on board of any boat carrying laborers, who shall wilfully and knowingly neglect or refuse to enforce on board of such steamer or boat such rules as may from time to time be prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor as aforesaid, shall be liable to fine.

Penalty for wilful neglect to enforce such rules.

employers with whom such emigrants have contracted to labor, or the agents of such persons shall not be present, then and in every such case the emigrants so unfit to proceed, or for whose support reasonable provision has not been made, or whose employers may not be present personally or by their agents, shall be further conveyed in the vessel to the next civil station, and shall be there disembarked, and the place at which they shall be so disembarked shall for the purposes of this Act be deemed to be their place of disembarkation.

91. Whenever an emigrant remains behind or is detained under the provisions of sections 59, 83, or 87, or is further conveyed under the provisions of section 90, it shall be optional with the wife or husband of such emigrant, as the case may be, to remain with the emigrant so remaining behind or detained, or to be taken forward along with the emigrant so further conveyed. If there are any children, they shall also be allowed to remain, or be taken forward, with the father or mother.

Family of detained emigrant may remain with him.

92. Every medical officer who is required to make a report under the provisions of this Part shall submit such report to the magistrate, and shall enter therein the name and age of each emigrant, the name of his father, the place of his destination, and the name of his employer, as set forth in the list prepared by the embarkation agent under the provisions of section 74.

Particulars to be entered in the reports of medical officers.

93. Every magistrate shall make a detailed report to the superintendent of emigration of the arrival of all emigrants, and of all proceedings taken and orders passed by him under the provisions of this chapter, and shall forward with such report a copy of every report made to him by a medical officer, relating to emigrants proceeding to a labor district. He shall also forward to the superintendent any observations which he or the medical officer may think fit to make in regard to the state of health and general condition of the emigrants. Whenever such reports or observations relate to emigrants carried in a licensed vessel, the magistrate shall forward them to the embarkation agent by whom such emigrants were despatched, and the agent shall transmit them to the superintendent with any remarks which he may desire to record.

Magistrate to report arrival of all emigrants, and all proceedings, to the superintendent of emigration; in certain cases through the embarkation agent.

94. The magistrate of a district, or of a division of a district, may depute any subordinate magistrate to exercise the powers or perform the duties vested in a magistrate under the provisions of this Part.

Magistrate may depute a subordinate magistrate to discharge the functions of the magistrate.

95. Every master of a vessel, or medical officer in charge of emigrants on board of any vessel carrying emigrants, who shall wilfully or negligently refuse or neglect to obey or to enforce on board of such vessel any rule which is prescribed in this Part, or which may from time to time be prescribed Penalty, if master or medical officer neglects to enforce rules.

LXI. Any offence against any of the provisions of this Act, or any rule to be passed as aforesaid, committed on board of any steamer or boat, may be tried by any magistrate exercising jurisdiction in any place at which laborers may have embarked on board such steamer or boat, or may have disembarked from such steamer or boat, or in any place in which such steamer or boat may be detained under the provisions of this Act.

Jurisdiction over offences committed on board steamer or boat.

CVI. All the provisions of this Act regarding the desertion or unlawful absence of laborers, shall be held applicable to laborers who shall desert while in transit to the district in which they have contracted to labor for hire; and such laborers may be tried either in the district in which they may be apprehended, or in the district in which under their contracts they are bound to labor for hire.

Provisions regarding desertion and unlawful absence to apply to desertion in transit.

LXIII. The provisions with regard to engaged native inhabitants of India and registered laborers contained in Sections XXXI, XXXII, XXXIV, XXXV, XXXVI, L, LI, LII, LIV, and LXII, of this Act shall be applicable to such women, children, and aged relatives of such native inhabitants and laborers as may, with the consent of a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, and with the written permission of the registering magistrate or superintendent, accompany them without having entered into an engagement.

Provisions of Sections XXXI, XXXII, XXXIV, XXXV, XXXVI, L, LI, LII, LIV, and LXII, to apply to children, &c., accompanying laborers.

LXXXII. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal from time to time, by order published as aforesaid, to fix a yearly sum, not exceeding one rupee per laborer, for the purpose of defraying the expense of carrying out the purposes of this Act, and the sum or rate so fixed shall be paid half-yearly by each employer on the last day of July and the last day of January in each year according to the return next before such payment shall be due.

Yearly rate payable to provide for expenses of Act.

by the Lieutenant-Governor as aforesaid, shall be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

96. Any offence against any of the provisions of this Act, or of any rule to be passed as aforesaid, committed on board of any vessel, may be tried by any magistrate exercising jurisdiction in any place at which emigrants may have embarked on board such vessel, or may have disembarked from such vessel, or in any place in which such vessel may be detained under the provisions of this Act.

Jurisdiction, if offence created by this Act is committed on board.

97. Any fine imposed on the master of a vessel under the provisions of this Part may be recovered by the attachment and sale of the vessel.

Vessel liable for fine imposed on master.

98. Any emigrant who deserts, while in transit from the district in which he has been registered to the district in which he has engaged to labor, may be punished by imprisonment of either description for a period which may extend to three months. The charge of such offence may be inquired into and tried in the district in which such emigrant is apprehended, or in the district in which the desertion took place, or in the district in which he was registered.

Punishment of emigrant for desertion.

99. Women, children, and aged relatives of emigrants may be allowed to accompany them, if the recruiter, or contractor, or garden-sirdar, as the case may be, consents to undertake the whole expense of their maintenance and transport during their progress in company with such emigrants to the place in which such emigrants contract to labor. Such consent shall be given at the time of the registration of any such emigrant in the form set forth in schedule (D) annexed to this Act, and shall be countersigned by the magistrate by whom the registration is made, and shall be binding upon the employer with whom the contract of such emigrant has been made. Copies of such document shall be furnished to all persons to whom copies of the registration are required to be furnished.

Women, children, and aged relatives of emigrants accompanying them.

All the preceding sections of this Act which relate to the maintenance, medical care, and transport of emigrants, shall be applicable to such women, children, and aged relatives, and they shall remain with the emigrant whom they accompany, if he be detained under the provisions of sections 59, 83, 87, or 90.

PART III.—LABOR DISTRICTS.

Chapter 8.—Inland Labor Transport Fund.

100. The Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time, by order published in the Calcutta Gazette, fix a yearly rate, not exceeding one rupee and eight annas per laborer, for the purpose of defraying the expense of carrying out the purposes of this Act; and the sum or rate so fixed shall be paid half-yearly by each employer on the last day of July and the last day of January in each year for each laborer entered in the last Annual rate payable by employers.

LXXXIII. If any employer shall fail to comply with the provisions of the last preceding section, it shall be the duty of the collector to notify such default to him; and if within one month from the receipt of such notification, or such longer period as it may, under special circumstances, appear to the collector reasonable, such employer shall not so comply, the collector shall, by distress and sale of any movable property which may be found in the possession or under the charge of such employer, levy the sums so payable.

Employer failing to send in the rate in due time, how to be dealt with.

LXXXIV. If there shall be no such movable property or insufficient movable property so found, the amount shall be recoverable by a civil regular suit, from the person for whose benefit the laborers in respect of whom the same may be payable shall have been employed. In every such suit the Government shall be named as plaintiff, and the cause of action shall be taken to have arisen within the limits of the jurisdiction of any court having jurisdiction at any place where any such laborers may have been employed by such employer.

Power to sue for rate.

CXVI. Subject to the powers hereinbefore conferred on magistrates of awarding fines in whole or in part as compensation to or for the benefit of any complainant or other person, all fines, fees, and rates levied and paid under this Act, shall be applied in defraying the expenses of carrying out the purposes of this Act, in such manner as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall from time to time direct.

Disposal of fines, fees, and rates.

LXXVIII. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to appoint, in any district in which this Act may be in force, so many inspectors and assistant inspectors of laborers as he may think proper, and to define, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, the local limits within which each such inspector and assistant inspector shall exercise the powers and authorities conferred, and perform the duties imposed on him, by this Act. Such inspectors and assistant inspectors may be by the said Lieutenant-Governor vested with all or any of the powers of a magistrate.

Appointment of inspectors and assistant inspectors, and powers of inspectors.

LXXIX. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to assign to such inspectors and assistant inspectors as may be requisite such establishment as may be thought fit; and such assistant inspectors shall perform all the duties and exercise all the powers of an inspector, which they shall be authorized in writing by an inspector to perform or exercise.

Establishment of inspectors and assistant inspectors and powers of assistant inspectors.

LXXX. Every employer shall, on or before the last day of January and the last day of July in each and every year, make out in writing, and deliver to the inspector of laborers of the district, a return of the number of laborers employed by such employer on the last day of the preceding month, and a return of the sickness and mortality among the laborers during the preceding six months, and such returns respectively shall be in such form as may from time to time be prescribed return of laborers furnished by such employer before such date.

The amount so realized shall be credited to a fund, which shall be called the "Inland Labor Transport Fund," and such fund shall be at the disposal of the Lieutenant-Governor for the purposes of this Act.

To be credited to "Inland Labor Transport Fund."

101. If any employer fails to pay the amount for which he is liable under the provisions of the last preceding section, the magistrate shall notify such default to him; and if within one month from the receipt of such notification, or such longer period as may, under special circumstances, appear to the magistrate reasonable, such employer fails to pay the amount, the magistrate shall levy it by distress and sale of any movable property which may be found in the possession or under the charge of such employer. If the full amount has not been recovered by distress and sale, the inspector of laborers or the magistrate on behalf of the Government may sue the employer liable for the same in the civil court having jurisdiction at any place where laborers have been employed by such employer.

Payment of rate how to be enforced.

102. All money realized on account of fees, and on account of fines, forfeitures, and penalties imposed for any offence created by this Act shall, save when otherwise provided under this Act, be credited to the Inland Labor Transport Fund.

All fees, fines, forfeitures, and penalties to be credited to fund.

Chapter 9 —Inspector's Returns and Magistrate's Inspections.

103. The Lieutenant-Governor may appoint in any labor district so many inspectors and assistant inspectors of laborers as he may think proper, and may define, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, the local limits within which each such inspector and assistant inspector shall exercise the powers and authorities conferred, and perform the duties imposed on him by this Act. Such inspectors and assistant inspectors may be by the said Lieutenant-Governor vested with all or any of the powers of a magistrate. Every inspector and assistant inspector shall be a public servant within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code.

Appointment of inspectors and assistant inspectors.

Public servants.

104. The Lieutenant-Governor may authorize inspectors and assistant inspectors to entertain such establishment as he may think fit. An assistant inspector shall perform all such duties and exercise all such powers of an inspector as he is authorized in writing by the inspector to perform or exercise.

Establishment.

Duty of assistant inspector.

105. Every employer shall, on or before the last day of January and the last day of July in each and every year, make out in writing, and deliver to the inspector of laborers, in such forms as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time prescribe, a return of the number of all laborers (as well by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal by an order to be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

LXXXI. If any employer shall refuse, or wilfully omit, duly to send in any such return as mentioned in Section LXXX of this Act, or shall knowingly send in an incorrect return, such employer shall on conviction thereof before a magistrate be liable to fine; and a certificate under the hand of the inspector to whom such return ought to have been sent, stating that such return has not been sent or is incorrect as aforesaid, shall be received as primâ facie evidence of the truth of the facts stated in such certificate.

Penalty for refusing or omitting to send in return or sending in incorrect return.

LXXXV. Every inspector of laborers shall, once within each of such periods as may be fixed for such purpose by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, visit all lands within the limits of his authority, on which there shall be employed any laborers, and inspect every hospital, tent, camp, or building in any way used by any such laborer, and investigate the condition of the laborers employed, and for such purpose the inspector may require that any laborer shall be produced before him with his contract, and may make such inquiries as may to him seem proper. Every such inspector shall keep books, in which, from time to time, shall be entered the number of laborers then under contract with each employer, the number who shall then be sick or missing, or who shall have complained of ill-treatment, the particulars of such complaints, and such other particulars regarding the laborers as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall from time to time direct. Each inspector shall annually make a written report to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal through the commissioner of the division, of the aforesaid particulars; and every such report, as regards the laborers under any particular employer, shall, at all reasonable times, be open to the inspection of such employer or any person by him appointed in writing in that behalf, and the person so inspecting shall be entitled to take a copy of the report so far as it relates to such laborers.

Books to be kept, and periodical visits and reports made by inspector.

[See section 5, § 2,12 of Bill.]

LXXXVI. It shall be lawful for any magistrate exercising jurisdiction in the district, or any person authorized by him in writing in that behalf, at any time to enter and inspect any hospital, tent, or building, wholly or partially used by or for laborers, and to require that any laborer shall be brought before him, and to make any inquiries which he may think proper touching the condition or treatment of any laborer.

Magistrate, or person authorized by him, may inspect any estate at any time.

LXXXVII. If any employer, or other person acting for or under such employer, shall wilfully obstruct or impede any entry, inspection, or inquiry made under either of the two preceding sections, such employer or other person as aforesaid shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for each such offence.

Penalty on person obstructing inspection, &c.

laborers defined by this Act as others) employed by such employer on the last day of the preceding month, and a return of the sickness and mortality among the laborers during the preceding six months.

106. If any employer shall refuse, or wilfully omit, duly to send in any such return, or shall knowingly send in an incorrect return, such employer shall on conviction thereof before a magistrate be liable to fine; and a certificate under the hand of the inspector to whom such return ought to have been sent, stating that such return has not been sent, or is incorrect as aforesaid, shall be received as primâ facie evidence of the truth of the facts stated in such certificate.

Penalty for omission to furnish such report, or for submitting false report.

107. Every inspector of laborers shall, once within each of such periods as may be fixed for such purpose by the Lieutenant-Governor, visit all lands within the limits of his authority on which there shall be employed any laborers, and inspect every hospital, tent, camp, or building in any way used by any such laborers, and investigate the condition of the laborers employed; and for such purpose the inspector may require that any laborer shall be produced before him with his contract, and may make such inquiries as may to him seem proper. Every such inspector shall keep books, in which, from time to time, shall be entered the number of laborers then under contract with each employer, the number who shall then be sick or missing, or who shall have complained of ill-treatment, the particulars of such complaints, and such other particulars regarding the laborers as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time direct. Each inspector shall annually make a written report to the Lieutenant-Governor through the commissioner of the division of the aforesaid particulars; and every such report, as regards the laborers under any particular employer, shall, at all reasonable times, be open to the inspection of such employer or any person by him appointed in writing in that behalf, and the person so inspecting shall be entitled to take a copy of the report so far as it relates to such laborers.

Periodical inspection of laborers to be made by inspector.

Books to be kept by inspector.

Annual report.

Such report open to inspection by employer.

108. It shall be lawful for any magistrate exercising jurisdiction in the district, or any person authorized by him in writing in that behalf, at any time to enter and inspect any hospital, tent, or building, wholly or partially used by or for laborers, and to require that any laborer shall be brought before him, and to make any inquiries which he may think proper touching the condition or treatment of any laborer.

Magistrate may at any time inspect laborers' buildings used by them, &c.

If any employer, or other person acting for or under such employer, wilfully obstructs or impedes any entry, inspection, or inquiry, made under this or the last preceding section, he shall be punished as provided in chapter 10 of the Indian Penal Code.

Penalty for obstructing inspection or inquiry.

LXVI. It shall be lawful for every employer to fix the daily tasks to be executed by the laborers employed by such employer, and to frame a schedule of such daily tasks, and to publish the same by posting a copy thereof in the Bengali language upon the door of each place of payment of the laborers employed by such employer, and by sending a copy thereof in the English language to the inspector.

Power to fix daily tasks.

LXIX. Save as hereinafter is provided, no laborer shall be bound to serve under his contract for a longer period than three years from the time at which he shall have arrived at the place where he is to be employed, nor to work on more than six days in one week, nor for more than six hours consecutively, nor for more than nine hours on any one day.

Maximum amount of labor to be required.

LXVII. If at any time the inspector shall consider such schedule of daily tasks or any part thereof to be unreasonable, he shall refer the consideration of such schedule to a committee consisting of the inspector, of some employer to be nominated by him, and of some person to be nominated by the employer whose schedule is to be considered, or on his default by the inspector.

Inspector may submit schedule to committee.

LXVIII. In case the said committee, or the majority in number thereof, shall be of opinion that the daily tasks in such schedule contained, or any of them, are unreasonable, they shall modify and reduce such daily tasks in such manner as they shall deem reasonable, and such schedule so modified shall be published in manner aforesaid, and every schedule published as aforesaid shall have effect as between the employer and laborers in substitution for any former schedule.

Committee to revise schedule.

LXXXVIII. It shall be lawful for the inspector of laborers, within the local limits of whose authority any laborer may be employed, to suspend, for such period as he shall consider advisable, the contract of such laborer, or any particular term thereof, if such laborer shall be, in the judgment of such inspector, temporarily unfitted for the performance thereof by reason of sickness, pregnancy, or other sufficient cause. Provided that every such suspension shall be endorsed by the inspector on the contract.

Inspector may suspend contract of any laborer temporarily unfitted for labor.

Provided also that every such laborer shall, during such incapacity, receive such subsistence money from his employer as shall be considered sufficient by the inspector, and that the time during which the suspension continues shall not be reckoned as part of the term for which the laborer is bound to serve.

Chapter 10.—Regulation of Labor.

109. Every employer shall from time to time, with the sanction of the inspector previously obtained, fix the daily tasks to be executed by the laborers employed by such employer, and shall frame a schedule of such daily tasks, and publish the same by posting a copy thereof in the Bengali language upon the door of each place of payment of the laborers employed by such employer, and by sending a copy thereof in the English language to the inspector.

Daily tasks to be fixed.

Provided that no laborer shall be required to work more than six days in one week, or more than six consecutive hours, or more than nine hours a day. No deduction shall be made from the wages of a laborer on account of the rest for one day in each week. The obligation to provide on holidays for the care of animals and the necessities of daily life shall not be considered as work.

Maximum of labor.

Rest for one day in the week without loss of pay.

110. The inspector shall at any time on the application of an employer summon a committee for the purpose of considering such schedule of daily tasks, if he declines to sanction such modification thereof as the employer desires. The committee shall consist of the inspector, of some employer to be nominated by him, and of some person to be nominated by the employer on whose application the committee is summoned. Such committee or the majority in number thereof shall have power to make any modification of the schedule which it may deem proper, and the schedule so modified shall be published in manner aforesaid, and every schedule published as aforesaid shall have effect as between the employer and laborers in substitution for any former schedule.

Schedule of tasks may be revised by committee on application of employer.

Chapter 11.—Incapacity for Labor.

111. Any laborer, who is temporarily incapacitated for work by sickness not wilfully caused by himself, or by pregnancy or other sufficient cause, shall be entitled to receive wages for the days during which he is so incapacitated at the rate of two-thirds of the rate of wages stipulated in his contract.

Allowance payable to laborers temporarily incapacitated.

If such incapacity extends over a period of fifteen days, the inspector of laborers, on the application of the employer, may determine the rate at which the wages of such laborer shall be paid, and may declare that the days during which such incapacity continues shall not be accounted as part of the period of the contract. Any order to that effect shall be endorsed on the contract.

If such incapacity extends over 15 days.

An authenticated copy of the order of the inspector under this section shall be accepted by any court as full evidence of the rate of wages to be paid to the laborer for the days to which such order relates.

Proof required in action for arrear of wages.

LXXIX. If it shall be found that any laborer has been compelled to perform any species of labor for which he was at the time unfit, the employer by whom he was so employed shall be liable to fine.

Penalty for compelling laborer to perform work for which he is unfit.

XC. If, in the opinion of the inspector of laborers, any laborer shall be permanently unfitted for the performance of his contract or any material part thereof, the inspector shall certify to that effect in writing, and deliver such certificate to the employer of such laborer or some one on his behalf, and from the date of such certificate the contract of such laborer shall wholly cease and determine. The inspector shall make a return of all such cases of determination of contract in his report under Section LXXXV of this Act. Every laborer, whose contract shall have been determined as aforesaid, shall be entitled to receive from his employer such sum, not exceeding three months' wages, as the inspector may award, and such sum shall be recoverable before a magistrate in the manner hereinafter provided for the recovery of wages.

Power to discharge laborers permanently unfitted for labor.

LXXII. Whenever any laborers shall be employed in any of the said districts, there shall be provided for them sufficient and proper house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, and rice.

Sufficient house accommodation, &c., to be provided.

LXXIII. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to make rules defining the nature of the house accommodation, water-supply, and sanitary arrangements, and rice to be provided for such laborers, and from time to time to alter, vary, and revoke such rules; and when and so soon as such rules shall have been published in the Calcutta Gazette, all house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, and supply of rice which may not be in accordance with the terms of the rules which for the time being may be in force, shall be deemed not to be proper nor sufficient.

Power to make rules defining house accommodation, &c

[See section 5 § 13 of Bill.]

LXXVI.—There shall be provided for all laborers such sufficient hospital accommodation and such medicines of such quality and descriptions, and according to such scale, as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; and if three hundred or more laborers shall be employed by any employer, it shall be the duty of such employer to place in medical charge of such laborers a medical officer holding a medical diploma from some Indian or European collegiate institution authorized to grant diplomas, or an officer for the time being licensed by the local Government to act in such medical charge of laborers.

Hospital, medicines, and medical officer to be provided for laborers.

[See section 5 § 14 of Bill.]

112. In any action brought by a laborer against his employer for arrears of wages, if it appears to the magistrate that the defendant has refused to pay the wages of the complainant at the rate stipulated in the contract on the ground of incapacity for work, except under the rule contained in this section or in accordance with any condition of the contract, the magistrate may award to the complainant in addition to the amount decreed as arrears of wages such damages as he may consider just.

In action for arrear of wages damages may be awarded.

113. If it shall be found that any laborer has been compelled to perform any species of labor for which he was at the time unfit, the employer by whom he was so employed shall be liable to fine.

Penalty for compelling laborer to perform work for which he is unfit.

114. If, in the opinion of the inspector of laborers, any laborer shall be permanently incapacitated for the performance of his contract or any material part thereof, the inspector shall certify to that effect in writing, and deliver such certificate to the employer of such laborer or some one on his behalf, and from the date of such certificate the contract of such laborer shall wholly cease and determine. The inspector shall make a return of all such cases of determination of contract in his report under section 107. Every laborer whose contract shall have been determined as aforesaid, shall be entitled to receive from his employer such sum, not exceeding three months' wages, as the inspector may award, and such sum shall be recoverable before a magistrate in the manner hereinafter provided for the recovery of wages.

Discharge of laborers permanently incapacitated.

Chapter 12.—Necessary Provision for Laborers.

115. Whenever any laborers shall be employed in any labor district, the employer of such laborers shall be bound to provide for them sufficient and proper house accommodation, water-supply, and sanitary arrangements. He shall also be bound to provide good rice or such other food as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct, which the laborer will be entitled to purchase at fixed rates.

Sufficient house accommodation, water-supply, and sanitary arrangements to be provided.

116. Every employer shall be bound to provide for his laborers such sufficient hospital accommodation, and such medicines of such quality and description, and according to such scale, as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor; and if three hundred or more laborers shall be employed by any employer, it shall be the duty of such employer to place in medical charge of such laborers a medical officer holding a medical diploma as licentiate in medicine from some Indian or European collegiate institution authorized to grant diplomas, or an officer for the time being licensed by the local Government to act in such medical charge of laborers. Such medical officer shall ordinarily reside within ten miles from the lands on which the laborers are employed.

Hospital, medicines, &c., to be provided.

LXXIV. It shall be lawful for any inspector or assistant inspector who is himself a magistrate, to institute within his jurisdiction, on the lands in charge of any employer, or at some place within his jurisdiction not more than ten miles distant from such lands, an inquiry whether such employer has provided for his laborers sufficient and proper house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, or rice. On the complaint of any inspector or assistant-inspector, a similar inquiry may be made by any magistrate. Any such inquiry, whether conducted by an inspector or assistant-inspector, or before a magistrate on the complaint of an inspector, or assistant-inspector, shall be dealt with and conducted as a case triable by a magistrate under the Criminal Procedure Code.

Powers of inspector as to house accommodation, &c.,

LXXV. If the employer is convicted of gross neglect in not having provided sufficient and proper house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, or rice, such employer shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees. In any case where proper or sufficient house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, or rice be found not to have been provided, the magistrate may order the employer to provide such proper and sufficient house accommodation, water-supply, sanitary arrangements, and rice. If the employer wilfully omits to comply with such order, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees a day, for every day that such omission continues. In default of payment by the employer of the last mentioned fine, the person on whose account such employer has been acting shall be liable to pay the fine.

Punishment for gross neglect as to house accommodation, &c., and for wilfully omitting to comply with the order of the magistrate in such respect.

LXXVII. Wherever such hospital accommodation, or medical charge, as required by the last preceding sections, or medicines of such quality and descriptions and according to such scale as aforesaid, shall not have been provided, the employer or other person through whose wilful default the same shall not have been provided, shall be liable to a fine for every week during which any such default continues.

Penalty for breach of last section.

CXII. If an inspector of laborers shall at any time have reason to believe that any estate or portion of an estate situated within the limits of his jurisdiction is by reason of climate or situation unfit for human habitation, such inspector shall give notice in writing of his opinion to the magistrate of the district, and such magistrate shall forthwith summon a committee to inquire into the fitness of such estate or portion thereof for human habitation. Such committee shall consist of the magistrate, the inspector of laborers, the medical officer of the district, and at least one employer of laborers resident in the district. Such committee shall proceed, with as little delay as possible, to enquire into the healthiness of the estate or portion thereof to which the inspector's report has reference, and shall hear such evidence on the subject as the owner of such estate or portion of the estate as aforesaid, or the employer or inspector, may desire to place before it; and if such committee, or the major part in number thereof, shall be of opinion that such estate or any portion thereof is unfit for human habitation, it shall record a finding to that effect; and the contract of every laborer who shall have contracted to serve on such estate shall thereupon be null and void as regards such estate or such portion thereof as may be found unfit for human habitation. Provided, however, that every such contract shall continue valid with regard to any other portion of such estate, or to any other estate of the same employer.

If the inspector believe any estate or part thereof to be unfit for habitation, a committee shall be summoned.

117. If from information or complaint or otherwise an inspector or assistant inspector has reason to suspect that any employer has omitted to provide properly and sufficiently for his laborers in accordance with the rules prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor, he may proceed to investigate the facts and circumstances of the case at any place within his jurisdiction not more than ten miles from the lands of such employer; and, if he is vested with any of the powers of a magistrate, may take cognizance of the offence and dispose of the case without any complaint. If he is not vested with any of the powers of a magistrate, he may prefer a complaint to any competent magistrate. All such cases shall be investigated and tried in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Inquiry if reason to suspect that employer has failed to provide as required by the rules.

118. Any employer who voluntarily or negligently omits to provide properly and sufficiently for his laborers in accordance with the rules prescribed under sections 115 and 116, shall be punished by fine which may extend to five hundred rupees and by an additional fine of one hundred rupees for every day during which such omission is continued.

Penalty for such failure.

Chapter 13.—Localities unfit for the residence of Laborers.

119. If an inspector of laborers shall at any time have reason to believe that any estate or portion of an estate situated within the limits of his jurisdiction is in a condition so insalubrious, or in such a situation as to be unfit for the residence of laborers, he shall report his opinion in writing to the magistrate of the district. On the receipt of such information from the inspector of laborers, or from any other source which he may deem reliable, the magistrate shall forthwith summon a committee to inquire whether such estate or portion of estate is unfit for the residence of laborers. Such committee shall consist of the magistrate, the inspector of laborers, the medical officer of the district, and one or more employers of imported laborers, when such persons are available. If the magistrate is unable to procure the service on such committee of any employer of imported laborers, he may, with the sanction of the commissioner of the division, appoint one or more persons whom he may deem qualified.

Inspector to report.

Magistrate to summon committee.

Such committee shall proceed, with as little delay as possible, to inquire into the condition of the estate or portion of estate to which the order appointing the committee has reference, and shall hear such evidence on the subject as the owner of the estate or portion of estate or the employer or inspector may desire to place before it; and if such committee, or the major part in number thereof, is of opinion that such estate or portion of estate is in a condition so insalubrious, or in such a situation as to be unfit for the residence of laborers, it shall record a finding to that effect; and the contract of every laborer who shall have Proceedings of committee.

If committee finds unfit, contract to be void as regards such locality.

contracted to serve on such estate shall thereupon be void as regards such estate or portion of estate as may be found unfit for the residence of laborers.

Proviso as regards other localities.

Provided that every such contract shall continue valid with regard to any other portion of such estate or to any other estate belonging to the same employer.

Lieutenant-Governor how to proceed if mortality in past year exceeds 7 per cent., or if the average of 3 years exceeds 5 per cent.

120. If it shall at any time appear that the number of laborers who have died on any estate or portion of an estate during the preceding twelve months, bears a larger proportion to the whole number of laborers employed thereon during such period than 7 per centum, or if the average annual number of laborers who have died on such estate or portion thereof during the preceding three years bears a larger proportion to the whole number of laborers employed thereon during such period than 5 per centum, it shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to direct the civil medical officer of the district or other qualified medical officer to inquire into and report on the following matters :—

Matters to be inquired into.

(1) The cause or causes of such mortality.

(2) The want (if any) of due care or precaution and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures, on the part of the owner of such estate or portion thereof or the employer, causing or contributing to such mortality.

(3) The fitness or otherwise of such estate or portion thereof for the residence of laborers and the reasons thereof.

Medical officer to report.

Such medical officer shall proceed with as little delay as possible, and shall hear and record such information on the subject of the several matters aforesaid as the owner of such estate or portion thereof or the employer or inspector may desire to place before him, and shall visit and inspect such estate or portion thereof, and shall make his report expressing the reasons of his opinion and transmit the same with the recorded information and notes of his inspection of such estate or portion thereof to the Lieutenant-Governor.

Lieutenant-Governor may declare estate unfit for residence.

If the Lieutenant-Governor, after perusal and consideration of the said report, information, and notes, shall be of opinion that the cause or causes of mortality was not or were not beyond human control, and that the said causes were or any of them was the want of due care or precaution and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures on the part of the owner of such estate or the employer, and that such estate or portion thereof is unfit for the residence of laborers by reason of the want of due care or precaution and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures on the part of the owner of such estate or portion thereof or the employer, it shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to declare in writing that such estate or portion thereof is unfit for the residence of laborers, notwithstanding the report (if any) of a committee appointed under the last preceding section. Such declaration

Contracts to be void as regards that estate.

CXIII. Every employer who shall cause or permit any laborer to reside upon any such estate or portion of an estate as under the provisions of the section last preceding may have been found to be unfit for human habitation, shall be liable to fine. Provided always that in case it shall appear to the inspector that any such estate, or portion of an estate, or any part of such portion, has become fit for human habitation, he shall give under his hand a certificate of such fitness, and no employer shall be liable to fine by reason of his causing or permitting laborers to reside in any place respecting which such certificate of fitness shall have been given.

Penalty on permitting laborers to reside on unhealthy estates.

CI. Any laborer, who shall absent himself from his labor without sufficient cause, may, on conviction, be sentenced to lose all claim to wages or allowances during the period of such absence, and also to forfeit to his employer a sum not exceeding four annas for each day during which such absence shall have continued; and in case such absence shall have exceeded seven days, or in case such laborer shall have been already convicted of the same offence within a period of three months, such laborer shall be furthermore sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for fourteen days

Penalty on laborer for absenting himself without sufficient cause.

CII. If any laborer shall desert or attempt to desert from his employer's service, such employer or any other person acting in his behalf may, without first procuring a warrant, and without the assistance of any police officer (who, nevertheless, shall be bound to give such assistance if called upon to do so), apprehend such laborer wherever he may be found. Provided, nevertheless, that if such laborer be found in the service of another employer, he shall not be arrested without a warrant. Provided also that such employer or other person shall, within a reasonable time from the time of such apprehension, give the said laborer in charge at the nearest police station, and there enter the charge upon which he shall have apprehended such laborer.

Laborer deserting may be apprehended without a warrant.

Proviso.

Further proviso.

CIII. Any laborer so given in charge shall be conveyed, without delay, to the nearest magistrate; and if the place from which such laborer is charged with having deserted be within the jurisdiction of such magistrate, he shall himself adjudicate upon the charge; but if not, he shall forward the said laborer under custody to the magistrate within whose jurisdiction such place may be situated, who shall adjudicate upon such charge.

Laborer, when made over to the police, to be taken before the nearest magistrate.

of the Lieutenant-Governor shall have the same effect as the finding of a committee under the last preceding section.

121. Every employer who shall cause or permit any laborer to reside upon any such estate or portion of an estate as under the provisions of one of the two last preceding sections may have been found to be unfit for human habitation, shall be liable to fine. Provided always that in case it shall appear to the inspector that any such estate, or portion of an estate, or any part of such portion, has become fit for human habitation, he shall, with the sanction of the magistrate of the district, give under his hand a certificate of such fitness, and no employer shall be liable to fine by reason of his causing or permitting laborers to reside in any place respecting which such certificate of fitness shall have been given.

Penalty on employer permitting laborer to reside in locality declared to be unfit.

Chapter 14.—Offences committed by Laborers.

122. Any laborer, who voluntarily and without reasonable cause absents himself from his labor or neglects or refuses to labor as required by his employer, the labor so required being reasonable and proper, may on conviction be sentenced to lose all claim to wages or allowances during the period of such absence, and also to forfeit to his employer a sum not exceeding four annas for each day during which such absence shall have continued; and in case such absence shall have exceeded seven days, or in case such laborer shall have been already convicted of the same offence within a period of three months, such laborer may be furthermore sentenced, at the request of the employer, to rigorous imprisonment for fourteen days.

Absenting himself, or neglecting, or refusing to labor.

Provided that ill-treatment of such laborer by his employer, or the neglect of the employer to fulfil any condition of the contract, may be deemed a reasonable cause for such absence or such neglect or refusal to labor.

Proviso in case of ill-treatment or breach of contract.

123. If any laborer deserts or attempts to desert from his employer's service, such employer or any other person acting in his behalf may, without first procuring a warrant, and without the assistance of any police officer (who, nevertheless, shall be bound to give such assistance if called upon to do so), apprehend such laborer wherever he may be found. Provided, nevertheless, that if such laborer be found in the service of another employer, he shall not be arrested without a warrant. Provided also that such employer or other person shall, within a reasonable time from the time of such apprehension, give the said laborer in charge at the nearest police station, and there enter the charge upon which he shall have apprehended such laborer.

Deserting may be apprehended without warrant.

Any laborer so given in charge shall be conveyed, without delay, to the nearest magistrate; and, if the place from which such laborer is charged with having deserted be within the jurisdiction of such magistrate, he shall himself adjudicate upon the charge; but if not, he shall forward the said laborer, under custody, to the

To be taken to nearest magistrate.

CIV. Every laborer who shall desert from his employer's service shall be liable upon conviction to rigorous imprisonment which may extend to one month, and every laborer who after having been convicted of desertion shall again desert from his employer's service, shall be liable to rigorous imprisonment which may extend to two months; and every laborer who after having been twice convicted of desertion shall again desert, shall be liable to imprisonment which may extend to three months.

Punishment for desertion.

CX. On the expiry of any sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, save as is provided in Section CV, it shall be the duty of the magistrate to make over such laborer to any person appointed on the part of his employer to receive charge of him; and no conviction under this Act, or imprisonment under such conviction, shall, save as aforesaid, be held to operate as a release to any laborer from the terms of his contract. Provided, nevertheless, that the period of imprisonment shall in no case be prolonged by reason of there being no person present on the part of the employer to take charge of the laborer at the expiry of his sentence; but such laborer shall, in that case, be sent to the principal place of business of such employer, and the expense of such conveyance shall be levied from the employer in the manner provided under this Act for the recovery of the rates imposed under this Act.

Conviction not to operate as a release, but on expiry of sentence laborer to be made over to employer.

CV. Whenever any laborer shall have actually suffered imprisonment amounting in the whole to six months for desertion from his employer's service, it shall be lawful for the inspector, and he is hereby required to cancel the contract of such laborer; and every such cancellation shall be by the inspector certified on the back of the contract, and such laborer shall then be at liberty either to enter into a fresh contract with any employer or to return to the district from which he was recruited.

Cancellation of contract by desertion.

CVIII. It shall be lawful for the employer, or any person authorized to act for the employer, of any laborer imprisoned for any offence under this Act, to apply to the magistrate, at any time previous to the expiry of such sentence, that such laborer be made over to him for the purpose of completing his contract, and the magistrate may, if he see good cause, make over or forward such laborer to his employer, and in that case the magistrate shall cancel the remainder of sentence passed on him, and shall endorse on the contract of such laborer a memorandum signed by him of such cancellation.

Portion of sentence may be cancelled if employer apply for return of laborer.

CIX. Every employer who shall obtain an order for the return or forwarding of any laborer who may have deserted, shall pay the expense of the return or forwarding of such laborer, and shall, before the order is issued, deposit with the magistrate such sum as such magistrate may in his discretion deem to be sufficient for defraying the expense of such return or forwarding.

Expense of restoring a deserting laborer to be borne by his employer.

magistrate within whose jurisdiction such place may be situated, who shall adjudicate upon such charge.

124. Every laborer who deserts from his employer's service shall be liable upon conviction to rigorous imprisonment which may extend to one month, and every laborer, who, after having been convicted of desertion, shall again desert from his employer's service, shall be liable to rigorous imprisonment for a period which may extend to two months; and every laborer who, after having been twice convicted of desertion, shall again desert, shall be liable to imprisonment which may extend to three months. Such punishment may be imposed in addition to the forfeiture to which such laborer is liable under section 122.

Punishment.

125. On the expiry of any sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, save as is provided in section 126, it shall be the duty of the magistrate to make over such laborer to any person appointed on the part of his employer to receive charge of him; and no conviction under this Act, or imprisonment under such conviction, shall, save as aforesaid, be held to operate as a release to any laborer from the terms of his contract. Provided, nevertheless, that the period of imprisonment shall in no case be prolonged by reason of there being no person present on the part of the employer to take charge of the laborer at the expiry of his sentence; but such laborer shall in that case be sent to the principal place of business of such employer, and the expense of such conveyance shall be levied from the employer in the manner provided in section 101.

Conviction not to operate as a release.

126. Whenever any laborer shall have actually suffered imprisonment amounting in the whole to six months for desertion from his employer's service, it shall be lawful for the inspector, and he is hereby required, at the written request of the employer, but not otherwise, to cancel the contract of such laborer; and every such cancellation shall be by the inspector certified on the back of the contract, and such laborer shall then be at liberty either to enter into a fresh contract with any employer or to return to the district from which he was recruited.

Contract may be cancelled for repeated desertion on the written request of the employer.

127. The employer, or any person authorized to act for the employer, of any laborer imprisoned for any offence under this Act, may apply to the magistrate, at any time previous to the expiry of such sentence, that such laborer be made over to him for the purpose of completing his contract; and the magistrate may, if he see good cause, make over or forward such laborer to his employer, and in that case the magistrate shall cancel the remainder of the sentence passed on him, and shall endorse on the contract of such laborer a memorandum signed by him of such cancellation.

Portion of sentence may be cancelled on application of employer.

128. Every employer who obtains an order for the deportation of any laborer who has deserted, shall pay the expense incurred in such deportation, and shall, before the order is issued, deposit with the Expense of restoring deserting laborers to be paid by employer.

CXI. The duration of every unlawful absence from labor, of which any laborer may be convicted, and every sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, shall be endorsed on the contract at the time of its being passed, by the officer passing it; and no such period of imprisonment or unlawful absence so endorsed shall be reckoned as part of the term for which the laborer is bound to serve, but such term shall extend to such further period as shall be equivalent to the aggregate amount of the imprisonment and unlawful absence so endorsed.

Time of unlawful absence and of imprisonment to be included in term of laborer.

CVII. Any person who shall knowingly and wilfully entice away, harbour, or employ, or attempt to entice from his employment, any laborer, before such laborer shall have been lawfully released from his contract, shall be liable to a fine, the whole or any portion of which may be awarded to the employer of such laborer.

Penalty for enticing away, harbouring, or employing laborers under contract to another person.

XCIV. If any laborer shall state to his employer, or to any person acting for such employer, that he desires to make a complaint to the inspector of laborers of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act on the part of such employer or other person, the person to whom such statement shall have been made shall, within forty-eight hours, send notice thereof in writing to the inspector, and in default of so doing, such person shall be liable to fine.

If laborer desire to complain, employer to give notice to inspector.

XCV. Whenever any inspector of laborers shall receive such notice in writing as aforesaid, or whenever any complaint of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid, shall be made to him by any laborer against his employer or any person acting for such employer, or whenever the inspector shall have other reasonable grounds for believing that any such personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid has been suffered by a laborer, such inspector shall forthwith, if the place in which such offence has been committed is not situate within the limits of his own authority, give notice thereof in writing to the inspector within the limits of whose authority such place is situated; and if such place be situated within the limits of his own authority, then such inspector shall, so soon as conveniently may be, proceed to some place not more than ten miles in a direct line from the principal place of business of such employer, and make full inquiry into the matter complained of.

Inspector how to proceed on receipt of notice of complaint

XCVI. For the purposes of such inquiry, it shall be lawful for any inspector, if he think fit, to summon such laborer as aforesaid, as well as any witnesses; and if any employer shall in any way obstruct the service of, or obedience to, such summons, or if any witness summoned shall neglect to attend, such employer or witness shall be liable to fine.

Inspector may summon the complainant and his witnesses. Penalty for obstructing service of, or obedience to, summons.

magistrate such sum as such magistrate may in his discretion deem to be sufficient for defraying the expense of such deportation.

129. The duration of every unlawful absence from labor, of which any laborer may be convicted, and every sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, shall be endorsed on the contract, at the time of its being passed, by the officer passing it; and no such period of imprisonment or unlawful absence so endorsed shall be reckoned as part of the term for which the laborer is bound to serve, but such term shall extend to such further period as shall be equivalent to the aggregate amount of the imprisonment and unlawful absence so endorsed.

Time of unlawful absence or imprisonment to be excluded from contract period.

130. Any person who knowingly entices away, harbours, or employs, or attempts to entice from his employment, any laborer, before such laborer shall have been lawfully released from his contract, shall be liable to a fine, the whole or any portion of which may be awarded to the employer of such laborer.

Other person enticing away, harbouring, or employing laborer under contract.

Chapter 15.—Complaints made by Laborers.

131. If any laborer states to his employer, or to any person acting for such employer, that he desires to make a complaint to the inspector of laborers of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act on the part of such employer or other person, the person to whom such statement is made shall, within forty-eight hours, send notice thereof in writing to the inspector, and in default of so doing, such person shall be liable to fine.

Employer to give notice to inspector if laborer wishes to complain of personal ill-usage or breach of contract.

132. Whenever any inspector of laborers receives such notice in writing as aforesaid, or whenever any complaint of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid, is made to him by any laborer against his employer or any person acting for such employer, or whenever the inspector has other reasonable grounds for believing that any such personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid has been suffered by a laborer, such inspector shall forthwith, if the place in which such offence has been committed is not situated within the limits of his own authority, give notice thereof in writing to the inspector within the limits of whose authority such place is situated; and if such place be situated within the limits of his own authority, then such inspector shall, so soon as conveniently may be, proceed to some place not more than ten miles in a direct line from the principal place of business of such employer, and make full inquiry into the matter complained of.

Inspector how to proceed on receipt of notice, or if complaint is made to him, or if he has reason to believe that there is ground for a complaint.

For the purposes of such inquiry the inspector may summon such laborer and any witnesses. If any employer, or other person acting for or under such employer, in any way wilfully obstructs the service of, or obedience to, such summons; or if the laborer or any witness summoned neglects to attend as required in such summons; he shall be punished as provided in chapter 10 of the Indian Penal Code.

XCVII. If, upon such inquiry made on the complaint of a laborer, the inspector shall be of opinion that the complaint is untrue or frivolous, he shall enter in his book the particulars of such complaint, and a short statement of the grounds of his opinion respecting it, and shall dismiss the complaint, and in such case shall endorse on the employer's copy of the contract of such complainant the number of days during which such complainant has been absent from work in consequence of such inquiry, and such number of days shall be added to the period for which such complainant had contracted to serve, and every such endorsement shall be conclusive evidence that such laborer has absented himself from his labor without sufficient cause during the number of days which shall be so endorsed.

Inspector how to proceed if the complaint be untrue or frivolous.

133. If, upon such inquiry made on the complaint of a laborer, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is untrue or frivolous, he shall enter in his book the particulars of such complaint, and a short statement of the grounds of his opinion respecting it, and shall dismiss the complaint, and in such case shall endorse on the employer's copy of the contract of such complainant the number of days during which such complainant has been absent from work in consequence of such inquiry, and such number of days shall be added to the period of the contract of such complainant; and every such endorsement shall be conclusive evidence that such laborer has absented himself from his labor without sufficient cause during the number of days which shall be so endorsed.

If complaint is untrue or frivolous.

XCVIII. If, upon inquiry as aforesaid, the inspector shall be of opinion that the complaint is well founded, he shall, if a magistrate, dispose of the case according to due course of law. If the inspector shall not be a magistrate he shall without delay send the complainant and his witnesses to the nearest magistrate, and such magistrate shall thereupon dispose of the case in due course of law.

Inspector how to proceed if the complaint be well-founded.

134. If, upon inquiry as aforesaid, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is well-founded, he shall, if a magistrate, dispose of the case according to due course of law. If the inspector shall not be a magistrate, he shall without delay send the complainant and his witnesses to the nearest magistrate, and such magistrate shall thereupon dispose of the case in due course of law.

If complaint is well-founded.

XCIX. If, upon the complaint of any laborer, it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear to an amount exceeding the total of such laborer's wages for two months, it shall be lawful for such magistrate to award to such laborer the amount which shall appear to be then due to him; and also, by way of compensation, such further sum, not exceeding that amount, as shall appear to the magistrate to be just; and, in case of default, the collector shall, upon the requisition of the magistrate, levy the entire sum in the manner prescribed in Section LXXXIII.

Recovery of wages. Compensation to be given if wages for more than two months are due.

135. If, upon the complaint of any laborer, it is proved to the satisfaction of the magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear to an amount exceeding the rate of such laborer's wages for one month, such magistrate shall award to such laborer the amount which shall appear to be then due to him; and if it is proved that the wages of such laborer are in arrear to an amount exceeding the total of such laborer's wages for two months, the magistrate shall award also, by way of compensation, such further sum, not exceeding that amount, as shall appear to the magistrate to be just; and in case of default, the magistrate shall levy the entire sum by distress and sale of the movable property belonging to or under the charge of the employer.

Recovery of arrears of wages.

Compensation may be given if arrear is for two months.

C. If any employer, or any person placed in authority over any laborer by such employer, shall be convicted of any offence causing injury to the person or property of such laborer triable under the Code of Criminal Procedure by the Court of Session; or if any such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall be twice convicted of any such offence against such laborer triable, under the said Code by a magistrate; or if it shall be proved befor a magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear to an amount exceeding the total of such laborer's wages for four months; or if a magistrate shall, on the report of the inspector and after due enquiry, upon oath, in the presence of the parties, be satisfied that any laborer has been compelled to perform any labor while he was unfit for it, or has been subjected to ill-usage by such employer or any other person placed in authority over the laborer by such employer, it shall be lawful for the magistrate, if he think fit, on the application of the laborer, in each of such cases, to cancel the contract of such laborer, and to award to him compensation not exceeding thirty rupees, and every such cancelment shall be certified by the magistrate on the back of such contract.

Contract to be cancelled if employer be convicted by the Court of Session, or be twice convicted by a magistrate, of an offence against the laborer, or if wages be not paid for more than four months, or if laborer have been ill-used.

136. If any employer, or any person placed in authority over any laborer by such employer, shall be convicted of any offence causing injury to the person or property of such laborer triable under the Code of Criminal Procedure by the Court of Session; or if any such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall be twice convicted of any such offence against such laborer, triable under the said Code, by a magistrate; or if it shall be proved before a magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear to an amount exceeding the total of such laborer's wages for four months; or if a magistrate shall, on the report of the inspector and after due inquiry, upon oath, in the presence of the parties, be satisfied that any or if gross ill-usage is proved.

Chapter 16.—Determination of Contract.

XCI. Every laborer who shall have completed the term of his contract, shall be forthwith permitted by his employer to appear before the inspector, to have the completion of his contract registered. If such employer shall detain such laborer after the completion of his contract, or shall fail to give notice of such completion to the inspector within one month after the date of such completion, such employer shall be liable to fine

Laborer who has completed his contract to be permitted to have such completion registered.

137. Every laborer who has completed the term of his contract, shall be forthwith entitled to appear before the inspector in order that the completion of his contract may be registered. If an employer detains such laborer after the completion of his contract, or fails to give notice of such completion to the inspector within one month after the date of such completion, such employer shall be liable to fine.

Laborer may appear before the inspector to register completion of contract.

Penalty if employer detains, or omits to report.

XCII. If any laborer shall be able and desirous to redeem the unexpired term of his contract of service by payment of a sum equivalent to the value thereof, such laborer may demand to be taken or allowed to go before the inspector of laborers within the local limits of whose authority he may be employed, and on his depositing such sum in the hands of such inspector, such inspector shall give notice to the employer that such laborer requires him within one week to show cause why the contract of such laborer should not be released; and in case no sufficient cause shall be shown, such inspector shall require the production of the contract of such laborer and endorse thereon a certificate of release by purchase, and shall hold the sum in deposit on account of the employer of such laborer. If any employer, or other person authorized to act for the employer, shall neglect to comply with such demand as aforesaid, such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall be liable to fine. The value of the unexpired term of contract shall be deemed to be the aggregate amount of one rupee for every month of the unexpired portion of the first year, of three rupees for every such month of the second year, and of five rupees for every such month of the third year, of the original term of the laborer's engagement.

Power to redeem contract.

138. If any laborer is able and desirous to redeem the unexpired term of his contract of service by payment of a sum equivalent to the value thereof, such laborer may demand to be taken or allowed to go before the inspector of laborers within the local limits of whose authority he may be employed, and on his depositing such sum in the hands of such inspector, such inspector shall give notice to the employer that such laborer requires him within one week to show cause why the contract of such laborer should not be released; and, in case no sufficient cause should be shown, such inspector shall require the production of the contract of such laborer, and endorse thereon a certificate of release by purchase, and shall hold the sum in deposit on account of the employer of such laborer. If any employer, or other person authorized to act for the employer, shall neglect to comply with such demand as aforesaid, such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall be liable to fine.

Power to redeem contract.

Value of unexpired term of contract.

The value of the unexpired term of contract shall be deemed to be the aggregate amount of one rupee for every month of the unexpired portion of the first year, of three rupees for every such month of the second year, and of five rupees for every such month of the third year, of the original term of the laborer's engagement.

XCIII. Every laborer whose contract shall have been completed, determined, released by purchase as aforesaid, or rescinded by the mutual assent of the parties thereto, shall be entitled to receive forthwith from the inspector a certificate of release in such form as may from time to time be prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal by an order to be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

A certificate to be given to laborer whose contract has determined or been completed, or who has purchased release therefrom.

139. Every laborer, the period of whose contract has expired, or who has redeemed his contract by purchase, or whose contract has been rescinded by the mutual assent of the parties thereto, shall be entitled to receive forthwith from the inspector a certificate of release in such form as may from time to time be prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

Certificate to be given of determination of contract.

140. Every laborer, the term of whose contract has expired, or who has been legally released from his contract, whether such expiry or release has been certified as above required or not, shall be deemed to be wholly exempted from the provisions of this Part.

Laborer, whose contract period has expired, or who has been otherwise released, exempted from operation of this Part.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 7th August 1873, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XII OF 1873.

An Act for the Repeal of certain Obsolete Enactments.

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient that the enactments mentioned in the schedule to this Act, which have ceased to be in force otherwise than by express and specific repeal, or have by lapse of time and change of circumstances become unnecessary, or which merely repeal prior enactments, should be expressly and specifically repealed; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Enactments in schedule repealed.

1. The enactments described in the schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of the same schedule :

Provided that the repeal by this Act of any enactment shall not affect any Statute, Act, or Regulation in which such enactment has been applied, incorporated, or referred to :

And this Act shall not affect the validity or invalidity of anything already done or suffered, or any indemnity already granted, or any right or title already acquired or accrued, or any remedy or proceeding in respect thereof, or the proof of any past act or thing.

Nor shall this Act affect any principle or rule of law, or established jurisdiction, form, or course of pleading, practice, or procedure, or existing usage, custom, privilege, restriction, exemption, office, or appointment, notwithstanding that the same respectively may have been in any manner affirmed, recognised, or derived by, in, or from any enactment hereby repealed :

Nor shall this Act provide or restore any jurisdiction, office, custom, privilege, restriction, exemption, usage, or practice not now existing or in force.

Short title.

Commencement

2. This Act may be cited as "The Repealing Act, 1873"; and it shall come into force on the passing thereof.

SCHEDULE

A Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Native Passenger Ships and Coasting Steamers.

Whereas it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to Native Passenger Ships and Coasting Steamers; It is hereby enacted as follows.

Preamble.

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY

1. This Act may be called "The Native Passenger Ships and Coasting Steamers' Act, 1873."

Short title

2. It extends to the whole of British India, and applies (a) to all subjects of Her Majesty within the dominions of Princes and States in India in alliance with Her Majesty, (b) to all Native Indian subjects of Her Majesty without and beyond British India.

Extent and application of Act

But nothing herein contained applies—

(a). to any Ship-of-War or Transport belonging to or in the service of, Her Majesty;

(b). to any Ship-of-War belonging to any Foreign Prince or State;

and if the Local Government exempt (as it may from time to time), from the operation of this Act for any period not exceeding one year, any steamer or class of steamers carrying not more than sixty passengers being Natives of Asia or Africa, nothing herein contained shall apply to such steamer or class of steamers during such period.

3. This Act shall come into force on the first day of January 1874.

Commencement.

4. On and from that day the Acts specified in the Schedule hereto annexed shall be repealed.

Repeal of Acts.

But all ports, places and officers appointed, and all certificates granted, under any of the said Acts, shall be deemed to be respectively appointed and granted under this Act and the last clause of section 1 of Act No. II of 1860 (to amend the law relating to the Carriage of Passengers by Sea) shall be read as follows:—

"Voyages from Ports in British India to Ports in the Red Sea or Persian Gulf, under the Native Passenger Ships and Coasting Steamers' Act, 1873"

Interpretation-clause.

5. In this Act—

"Magistrate"

The word "Magistrate" means a person exercising powers not inferior to those of a Magistrate of the second class, and includes a Justice of the Peace, and, at the Port of Aden, the Political Resident and his Assistants:

"Local Government."

The words "Local Government" mean the person or persons for the time being immediately administering the Executive Government of the territories where the Port or place in question is situate:

"Master."

The word "Master" includes every person having command or charge of a vessel:

"Passengers"

The word "Passengers" does not include a person in attendance on another person who is not a native of India.

"Native Passenger Ship"

The words "Native Passenger Ship" mean a vessel, whether propelled by wind or steam, carrying more than thirty natives of Asia or Africa as passengers, on any of the following voyages (that is to say):—

(a.) from any place under the Government of the Governor of Fort St. George in Council, or of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal	to	Ceylon, or any place on the Eastern coast of the Bay of Bengal, or in the Straits of Malacca, or to the eastward thereof;
(b.) from Ceylon or any place on the Eastern coast of the Bay of Bengal, or in the Straits of Malacca, or to the eastward thereof	to	any place under the Government of the Governor of Fort St. George in Council, or the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal;
(c.) from any place in British India, or in the dominions of Princes or States in India in alliance with Her Majesty	to	any place in the Red Sea or Persian Gulf;

(d.) from any place in the Red Sea or Persian Gulf } to { any place in British India or the said dominions.

CHAPTER II.

RULES AS TO NATIVE PASSENGER SHIPS.

Native Passenger Ship to sail only from ports appointed by Government.

6. No Native Passenger Ship shall depart or proceed upon any voyage mentioned in section 5 from any Port or place within British India or the said dominions other than such Ports and places as the Local Government may from time to time appoint in this behalf;

and after any Native Passenger Ship has departed or proceeded upon any such voyage from a Port or place so appointed, no person shall be received on board as a passenger, except at some other Port or place so appointed.

Not to sail without certificate.

7. No Native Pas-enger Ship shall depart or proceed upon any such voyage from any Port or place appointed under this Act, until the Master has obtained a certificate from an officer authorized to grant the same.

Appointment of officers.

8. Within British India, the Local Government shall appoint such persons as it may deem proper to exercise or perform the powers and duties conferred and imposed by this Act.

Master to give notice of day of sailing, &c.

9. The Master of any Native Passenger Ship sailing from any Port or place appointed under this Act, shall give notice to the proper officer that the Ship is to carry Native Passengers, and of her destination, and of the proposed day of sailing.

Such notice shall be given not less than three days before the proposed day of sailing.

Power to enter and inspect Ship.

10. After receiving such notice, the officer aforesaid, or any person authorized by him, shall be at liberty at all times to enter and inspect the Ship and the fittings, provisions, and stores therein.

Ship may be surveyed.

11. The officer aforesaid may, if he think fit, cause the Ship to be surveyed at the expense of the Master by a competent Surveyor, who shall report whether the Ship is, in his opinion, sea-worthy and fit for her intended voyage.

Officer to be satisfied, before giving certificate.

12. The officer aforesaid shall not give his certificate, unless he be satisfied—

That the Ship is sea-worthy.

(1). That the Ship is sea-worthy and properly manned, equipped, fitted, and ventilated; and has not on board any cargo likely, from its quality, quantity, or mode of stowage, to prejudice the health or safety of the passengers:

That the space between-decks for passengers is sufficient:

(2). That the space appropriated to the passengers in the between-decks contains not less than such number of superficial and cubical feet of space for every adult passenger on board (that is to say, for every passenger above twelve years of age, and for every two passengers between the ages of one year and twelve years) as may from time to time be prescribed under section 6.

That the space on the upper-deck is sufficient.

(3). That a space of four superficial feet per adult is left clear on the upper-deck for the use of the passengers:

That there is a due supply of provisions.

(4). That provisions, fuel, and water have been placed on board, of good quality, properly packed, and sufficient to supply the passengers on board during the declared duration of the intended voyage, according to the scale for the time being prescribed under section 46

Number of passengers.

13. No such Ship shall carry any greater number of passengers than, together with the Master and crew, shall amount to such proportion to the registered or estimated tonnage of the Ship, as may for the time being be prescribed under section 46.

List of passengers.

14. The Master of any such Ship, before departing or proceeding on any such voyage from any Port or place in British India, shall sign two lists specifying (as accurately as may be) the names of all the passengers, and stating the number of the crew; and shall deliver them to the officer aforesaid, who shall thereupon (after having first mustered the passengers and compared the number and names of such passengers with the lists) countersign and return to the Master one of such lists.

The Master shall note in writing on such last-mentioned list, and on any additional list to be made under this Act, the date and supposed cause of death of any passenger who may die on the voyage, and shall forthwith, on the arrival of the Ship at her destination, or at any Port at which it may be intended to land passengers, and before any passengers are landed, produce the list, with any additions thereto made, to any person lawfully exercising Consular authority on behalf of Her Majesty at the Port of arrival, if it be a Foreign Port, or to the Chief Officer of Customs, or the officer (if any) appointed under this Act, at any Port or place at which it is intended to land the passengers, or any of them.

Ship taking additional passengers and touching at intermediate Port.

15. If, after the Ship has departed or proceeded on any such voyage, any additional passengers are taken on board at a Port or place within British India, or the said dominions, appointed under this Act for the embarkation of passengers, or if such Ship, upon her voyage, touch or arrive at any such Port, having previously received on board additional passengers at any place beyond British India, or the said dominions, the Master shall obtain a fresh certificate from the officer at such Port, and shall make lists of all such additional passengers; and all the provisions hereinbefore contained in that behalf shall be applicable to any certificate granted or list made under this section.

Information to be sent to Ports of embarkation.

16. The Chief Officer of Customs, or the officer (if any) appointed under this Act, at any Port or place within British India, at which the Ship touches or arrives, shall, with advertence to the requirements of this Act, send any particulars which he may deem important respecting the Ship and the passengers conveyed therein, to the officer at the Port from which the Ship commenced her voyage, and also to the officer at any other Port within British India or the said dominions where the passengers or any of them embarked.

Quantity of provisions to be shipped.

17. Every Native Passenger Ship, at the time of departure from the Port or place at which passengers are embarked under this Act, shall have on board good and wholesome provisions for the use and consumption of the passengers, over and above the victualling of the crew, to the amount or in the proportion for the time being prescribed by rules made under section 46.

Contract by passengers for supply of their own provisions.

18. The requirements of this Act respecting the supply of provisions for passengers shall not, except as to the supply of water, be applicable to any passenger who has contracted to furnish his own provisions, and who has, in the opinion of such officer as the Local Government appoints in this behalf, actually furnished such provisions of the quality and to the amount for the time being prescribed by rules made under section 46.

Bond when Ship clears for Port in Red Sea.

19. In the case of every Native Passenger Ship sailing from any Port within British India to any Port in the Red Sea, the officer whose duty it is to grant a port-clearance for any such Ship, shall not grant such clearance unless and until the Owner, Agent, or Master of such Ship, and two sureties resident in British India have by a joint and several bond, become bound unto the Secretary of State for India in Council in the penal sum of five thousand rupees, conditioned to be void if the said Ship touches at Aden on her outward and also on her homeward voyage, and does not leave that Port without having obtained from the proper authority a clean bill of health.

Ships sailing to or from Port in Red Sea to touch at Aden.

20. Every Ship carrying more than thirty passengers being Natives of Asia or Africa, and sailing from any Port east of the Cape of Good Hope to any Port in the Red Sea, or sailing from any Port in the Red Sea to any Port east of the Cape of Good Hope, shall touch at Aden, and shall not leave that Port without having obtained from the proper authority a clean bill of health.

Bill of health.

21. No bill of health shall be granted under section 19 or section 20 in case the Ship has on board a greater number of passengers or persons than in the proportion prescribed for the time being under section 46.

CHAPTER III.

COASTING STEAMERS.

Certificates to be furnished to coasting Steamers intended to carry passengers.

22. Steamers intended to carry passengers on coasting voyages from or to any Port or place within British India, shall, before proceeding on such voyages, be furnished with certificates granted in manner hereinafter provided.

Certificates how granted, &c.

23. Every such certificate shall be granted at the discretion of an officer authorized by the Local Government to grant the same, and shall remain in force for the period therein specified, unless sooner revoked.

The officer so authorized shall not grant such certificate, or suffer the same to remain in force, unless he is satisfied, by survey, that such Steamer is sea-worthy and properly equipped with boats and otherwise, and that the engines and machinery are in a fit state to enable her to proceed on her voyage.

The certificate shall state the limits (if any) within which the Steamer is to ply, and the number of Native Passengers which the Steamer is permitted to carry: such number to be subject to such conditions and variations according to the time of year, the nature of the voyage, and the cargo carried, as the case requires.

The survey mentioned in this section shall be made at least twice in each year at the expense of the Master or Owner, and upon payment of a fee not exceeding twenty rupees.

Copy of certificate to be exhibited.

24. The Owner or Master of any such Steamer shall put up in a conspicuous part of the Ship, so as to be visible to persons on board the same, a copy of the said certificate, and shall keep it in such position so long as the certificate remains in force.

Grant or revocation of certificate to be subject to control of Government.

25. In granting or revoking any certificate under this Act, the officer granting or revoking the same shall be subject to the control of the Local Government, or of any intermediate authority which that Government may appoint.

CHAPTER IV.

PENALTIES.

Penalty for ship unlawfully departing.

26 If any Native Passenger Ship departs or proceeds upon a voyage from any Port or place within British India, or the said dominions, in contravention of the provisions of section 6 or section 7, or if any person is received as a passenger on board a Native Passenger Ship in contravention of the provisions of section 6,

the Owner or Master shall, for every passenger conveyed on a Ship so departing or proceeding, or for every passenger so received on board, be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or to imprisonment not exceeding one month, or to both;

and the Ship, if found within two years in any place within British India, may be seized and detained by any Chief Officer of Customs until the penalties incurred under this Act have been adjudicated, and the payment of the fines imposed under this Act, with all costs, has been enforced under the provisions hereinafter contained.

Penalty for opposing entry on or inspection of ships.

27. Any person impeding or refusing to allow the entry or inspection mentioned in section 10 shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for each offence, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, or to both.

Penalty for non-compliance with requirements as to list of passengers.

28. Any Master failing to comply with any of the requirements of section 14, as to the list of passengers, or wilfully making any false entry in any such list,

shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for each offence, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, or to both.

Penalty for failing to obtain fresh certificate for additional passengers taken.

29. Any Master wilfully failing to obtain any such fresh certificate, or to make any such list of additional passengers, as are mentioned in section 15 shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, or to both.

Penalty for fraudulent alteration in Ship after certificate obtained.

30. Any Master who, after having obtained a certificate under section 6 or section 15 fraudulently does or suffers to be done anything whereby such certificate becomes inapplicable to the altered state of the Ship, its passengers, or other matters to which such certificate relates, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two thousand rupees, or to imprisonment not exceeding six months, or to both.

Penalty for failing to supply passengers with prescribed provisions.

31. Any Master wilfully, and without satisfactory excuse, omitting to supply to every passenger the allowance of food and water prescribed by any rule made under section 46 and for the time being in force shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees for every passenger who has sustained detriment by such omission.

Penalty on Ships bringing excessive number of passengers from certain Foreign Ports to Indian Ports.

32. If any Ship, bringing passengers from any Port or place east of the Cape of Good Hope, and not within British India, or the said dominions, to any Port or place within British India, or the said dominions, has on board a greater number of passengers or persons than in the proportion prescribed by rules made under this Act, the Master of such Ship shall, in addition to any other penalty which he may have incurred under the provisions of this Act, be liable for each person in excess of such proportion, to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, or to imprisonment not exceeding one month, or to both.

Penalty for not exhibiting copy of certificate.

33. Any Owner or Master wilfully failing to comply with the requirements of section 24 as to the copy of the certificate, shall for each offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding a month, or to both.

Penalty for not obtaining bill of health.

34. The Master of any ship described in section 20 wilfully failing to touch at Aden, or leaving that Port without having obtained the bill of health therein mentioned, shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding two thousand rupees, or to imprisonment not exceeding six months, or to both.

Penalty for excess in Steamer of number specified in certificate.

35. If any steamer to which this Act applies has on board any number of passengers which, having regard to the time of the year and other circumstances is greater than the number allowed by the certificate, the Owner or Master shall, for every passenger over and above the number allowed by the certificate, be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees, or to imprisonment not exceeding one week, or to both.

Penalty for Steamer proceeding without certificate.

36. If any such Steamer proceeds on any such voyage as is mentioned in section 22 without such certificate as aforesaid, the Owner or Master shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding three months, or to both.

Penalty on Master of Native Passenger Ship, bound from Turkish to Indian Port, entering latter without Clean Bill of Health in breach of Convention.

37. Whenever a Convention has been entered into between the Government of Her Majesty the Queen and the Turkish Government, that every Master of a Native Passenger Ship leaving a Turkish Port or place, and bound for any Port or place in British India (whether such Ship be owned by a subject of Her Majesty or not), shall execute a bond to secure that he shall touch at Aden, and not proceed thence without a clean Bill of Health, obtained in the manner provided in section 20 any Master of any such ship, whether he be a subject of Her Majesty or not, who comes into any other Port or place in British India without such clean Bill of Health, may be taken by the officer in charge of such Port or place before any Magistrate having local jurisdiction; and on proof that such Master has come from a Turkish Port or place, such Magistrate shall presume that such bond was duly executed by such Master, and in default of production of such clean Bill of Health, shall presume that the penalty mentioned in such bond has been incurred; and may award the full amount or any part of such penalty against such Master, and, in default of payment of such penalty, may recover it as though it were a fine imposed under this Act.

Penalty on landing passenger at a place other than that at which he has contracted to land.

38. If any Native Passenger in any Ship be landed at any Port or place other than the Port or place at which he may have contracted to land, unless with his previous consent, or unless such landing is made necessary by perils of the sea or other unavoidable accident, the Master shall, for each offence, be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred rupees, or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding a month, or to both.

Adjudication of offences.

39. All offences against this Act shall be punishable in a summary manner by a Magistrate.

Fine leviable by distress on Ship.

If the person on whom any fine is imposed under this Act is the Master or Owner of a Ship, and the fine is not paid at the time and in the manner prescribed by the order of payment, the Magistrate may, in addition to the means prescribed by law for enforcing payment, direct, by warrant, the amount remaining unpaid to be levied by distress and sale of the said Ship, her tackle, furniture and apparel.

Jurisdiction.

40. For the purpose of the adjudication of penalties under this Act, every offence hereunder shall be deemed to have been committed within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Magistrate of the place where the offender is found.

Report of Consul, &c., admissible in evidence.

41. In any proceeding for the adjudication of any penalty incurred under this Act, any document purporting to be a report of such particulars as are referred to in section 16 or a copy of the proceedings of any Court of Justice duly authenticated, and also any like document purporting to be made and signed by any person lawfully exercising Consular authority on behalf of Her Majesty in any foreign Port, shall be received in evidence, if the same appears to have been officially transmitted to any officer at or near the place where the proceeding under this Act is had.

By whom proceedings for penalties to be instituted.

42. The penalties to which Masters, and Owners of Ships are liable by this Act, shall be enforced only by information laid at the instance of the officers appointed to grant certificates under this Act; or, at any Port or place where there is no such officer, by the Chief Officer of Customs.

Application of fines.

43. Any Magistrate imposing any fine under this Act may, if he thinks fit, direct the whole or any part thereof to be applied in compensating any person for any detriment which he may have sustained by the Act, or default in respect of which such fine is imposed, or in or towards payment of the expenses of the proceedings.

Passenger's right to sue preserved.

44. Nothing in this Act contained shall take away or abridge any right to sue which may accrue to any Native Passenger, or to any other person, in respect of the breach or non-performance of any contract made with the Master or Owner of the Ship, or his Agent.

Depositions receivable when witnesses cannot be produced

45. Whenever, in the course of any legal proceeding instituted under this Act at any Port or place in British India, the testimony of any witness is required in relation to the subject-matter of such proceeding, any deposition that he may have previously made in relation to the same subject matter before any Justice or Magistrate in Her Majesty's dominions (including all parts of India other than those subject to the same Local Government as the Port or place where such proceedings are instituted), or any British Consular Officer elsewhere, shall, if authenticated by the signature of the Justice, Magistrate, or Consular Officer, be admissible in evidence on due proof that such witness cannot be found within the jurisdiction of the Court in which such proceeding is instituted:

Provided that, if the proceeding is criminal, such deposition shall not be admissible unless it was made in the presence of the person accused, and the fact that it was so made is certified by the Justice, Magistrate, or Consular Officer.

It shall not be necessary in any case to prove the signature or official character of the person appearing to have signed any such deposition; and in any criminal proceeding such certificate as aforesaid shall, unless the contrary is proved, be sufficient evidence of the accused having been present in manner thereby certified.

CHAPTER V.

SUBSIDIARY RULES.

Power to make rules as to number of passengers, provisions, &c.

46. Within British India, the Local Government may, from time to time, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, make rules consistent with this Act, to regulate, in the case of any vessel or class of vessels to which this Act applies, all or any of the following matters:—

(a). the maximum number of passengers to be carried on board;

(b). the number of cubic feet of space to be contained in the space appropriated to the passengers;

(c). the scale on which provisions, fuel and water are to be supplied to the passengers;

(d). the medical stores and medical attendance to be provided on board;

(e). the number of boats, anchors, and cables to be provided on board;

(f). the instruments for purposes of navigation to be supplied;

(g). and, generally, to carry out the provisions of this Act.

All such rules shall be published in the local official Gazette, and in such other manner as the Local Government thinks fit, and shall thereupon have the force of law.

Length of voyage to be fixed by proclamation.

47. The Local Government may, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, from time to time declare, by notification in the official Gazette, what shall be deemed to be, for the purposes of this Act, the duration of the voyage of any vessel or class of vessels from any place in British India, or the said dominions, to any other Port or place.

SCHEDULE.

(See Section 4.)

Number and year.	Title.
XXV of 1859 ...	An Act to prevent the over-crowding of Vessels carrying Native Passengers in the Bay of Bengal.
XII of 1870 ...	An Act for the regulation of Native Passenger Ships, and of Steam Vessels intended to convey Passengers on coasting voyages.
XII of 1872 ...	An Act to amend Act XII of 1870 (The Native Passenger Ships Act).
Madras Act II of 1862.	An Act to extend the provisions of Act XXV of 1859, entitled An Act to prevent the over-crowding of Vessels carrying Native Passengers in the Bay of Bengal.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to consolidate the four Acts relating to Native Passenger Ships and Coasting Steamers, and at the same time to make the following amendments:—

The present Act XII of 1870 does not apply to Steamers under contract with the Government of any European States. The Bill will apply in the first instance to such Steamers, but the Local Government is empowered to exclude them from its operation.

The present law does not apply to voyages to or from any place in the Lower Provinces, except Chittagong and Ports in Orissa, or to voyages to or from places to the east of the Straits of Malacca. The Bill applies to such voyages.

Under the present law, the rules as to the maximum number of passengers to be carried, the space to be appropriated to them, the scale on which provisions, fuel and water are to be supplied, are laid down inflexibly in the Acts themselves. This has been found inconvenient, and the Bill, in lieu thereof, enables the Local Government, with the sanction of the Government of India, from time to time to regulate these matters, in the case of any vessel or class of vessels, by rules published in the official Gazette.

HOWRAH LIGHTING RATE.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the further report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the levy of a lighting-rate in Howrah be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee. He said it would be in the recollection of hon'ble members that on the last occasion when the Bill was before the Council, it was remanded to the Select Committee for a definite object, which object had been adopted by the Council in opposition to the principle of the Bill as first presented by the Select Committee. Practically, the instruction to the Select Committee was to frame the Bill so that no portion of the cost of lighting any given tract should fall on the general rates of the Howrah Municipality; that the benefited tract should pay entirely, and under all circumstances, the whole cost of its own lighting. And the Council having adopted that principle, raised the maximum of taxation to three per cent., so that no part of the cost might possibly devolve upon the general revenues. In framing the Bill in accordance with these instructions, the Select Committee found it absolutely necessary to separate the case of the tract in which lighting already existed and in regard to which, so to say, the Council was not free. It was bound by certain obligations which had been already incurred. It would not have been giving effect to the principle adopted by the Council if, for that tract which was already lighted, the Select Committee had fixed a maximum of three per cent. Whatever would be the cost of efficient lighting there, as approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, must, according to the principle adopted by the Council, be paid by the inhabitants of that particular tract. Therefore the Committee had separated that particular tract from the rest of the town by the proviso which the Council would see in the second part of Section 3, which imposed no maximum rate at all as to that part of the town which was already lighted.

Regarding the rest of the town to which, possibly, gas-lighting might be extended in future, the Committee had absolutely followed the instructions of the Council, which were to fix a maximum of three per cent. That was adopted in opposition to the Select Committee's former report as a whole.

There was only one more remark which Mr. Dampier would make. So much had been said of the poor population of Howrah, and the natives having to pay (an enormous number of them, some 97,000) for the benefit of a few Europeans, that he might as well give the Council the figures which had been supplied to him as to the effect of the Act within the tract already lighted. In that tract, he was informed, there were 3,200 houses occupied by natives, who, at two per cent., would have paid Rs. 4,200, or an average of about Re. 1-5 for each house. The houses occupied by Europeans numbered 281, and they would pay, at two per cent., Rs. 12,994, so that each native house would have got for Re. 1-5 precisely the same advantage of lighting as each European house would have by paying Rs. 46-2 or thereabouts. The same proportions would of course hold good at whatever amount the rate might be levied. He merely mentioned this to remove an impression which might have been left by the argument that 97,000 natives would suffer for the benefit of a few Europeans. He would now leave the motion in the hands of the Council.

The motion was agreed to.

The Hon'ble Baboo Digumber Mitter moved that in Section 3, line 7, the words "two per centum" be substituted for "three per centum." He must admit the soundness of the views which had dictated His Honor the President to oppose the amendment he moved at the last meeting of the Council proposing to fix the lighting-rate at three per cent. instead of two. As a general lighting-rate, there could be no question that three per cent. was extravagantly high for Howrah, when the Calcutta maximum rate was only two per cent. But he then thought that we had no other choice in the matter. The annual sum contracted for with the Gas Company must in the first instance be provided for, and that out of the proceeds of the rate levied within the gas area, which, according to the facts then before us, he found could not be done if the rate were fixed at two per cent. And rather than sacrifice the sound and righteous principle which for the purposes of this Bill we had laid down in Committee, and which had been unanimously agreed to by the Council, he proposed that the rate be raised to three per cent., the proceeds of which, he calculated, would just cover the required amount. We subsequently discovered, however, that the amount leviable according to the estimate furnished by the Chairman of the Howrah Municipality was contingent upon 36 more lights being added to the present number, to render the whole of the given gas area accessible to the rate, according to the conditions prescribed in the Bill. This would entail an additional charge of nearly Rs. 4,000, so that the total amount we had to provide for as the first charge on the lighting-rate was, in round numbers, Rs. 25,000, which even a rate of three per cent. would not cover. Again, if the Howrah memorialists were to be believed, each per cent. of the rate represented Rs. 4,500, and not Rs.7,000 as the Chairman of the Municipality estimated. In this state of uncertainty the Select Committee thought that they had no other alternative left than to recommend the rather unusual course of leaving the determination of the rate to be levied within the gas area, to the discretion of the Commissioners. The contract amount, however, being thus specially provided for, there was no longer any necessity for keeping the general lighting-rate at such an unreasonably high figure as three per cent. If a rate of two per cent. was found insufficient for the further extension of gas-lighting on the terms and conditions prescribed in the Bill, that of itself was a sufficient proof that the Municipality was not rich enough to afford the luxury, and must do without it.

The Hon'ble Mr. Dampier said that the position was rather curious. The hon'ble member who, at the previous debate, had forced up the rate from two to three per cent., now wished the Council to return to two per cent., and Mr. Dampier, who originally appeared as the advocate of two per cent., now appeared as the advocate of three per cent. He need not add that the inconsistency was on the surface only; both his hon'ble friend and Mr. Dampier himself had valid reasons for the course they had taken. The Bill had now taken a different shape, and there were new elements to be considered. Now, his reason for now advocating three per cent. was this. When there was a possibility of the cost of lighting any area overflowing, so to speak, the proceeds of the maximum rate to be levied under the Bill, he thought that it would be proper that anything above the two per cent. should be contributed from the general rates. But now the Council had absolutely refused to allow any contribution to be made under any circumstances from the general rates; and therefore to fix a maximum of two per cent. would, as far as he could judge, be futile, and make the clause practically inoperative. As things went, he did not believe that for many years it would be possible to make any extension of gas-lighting in Howrah if a two per cent. rate was fixed as a maximum. It was not meant that there was to be any immediate extension and that three per cent. was to be levied at once. But even if three per cent. were insufficient now, it might be expected that within a reasonable time the value of property in Howrah would have so far increased that the rate would be sufficient, at any rate in the more advanced portions of the town to which it would naturally be desirable first to extend gas-lighting. To limit the rate to two per cent. would be putting off any further extension sine die. For these reasons he would oppose the amendment.

The Hon'ble Rajah Joteendro Mohun Tagore said he would support the amendment which had been proposed. The circumstances under which, at the last sitting of the Council, a rate of three per cent. was proposed, had, he thought, considerably changed. The rate, it would be remembered, was raised from two to three per cent. on the ground that a two per cent. rate would not be sufficient to meet the required amount which had been contracted for with the Gas Company. But now that the area which had been lighted had been, as it were, made into a separate tract, and a special provision for it had been introduced in the Bill, he did not see why an exceptionally high rate of three per cent.—a higher rate, in fact, than was levied in Calcutta,—was to be imposed in Howrah. If it was found hereafter, as it was feared, that a two per cent. rate was not sufficient for the purpose of lighting other portions of Howrah than that already lighted, it was much better, he thought, that there should be no extention of gas-light than that an exceptionally high rate should be imposed on the people for a benefit which they did not seem to appreciate For these reasons he would support the motion.

His Honor the President said that to him, as President of the Council, the course which the Bill had taken was somewhat a lesson, that from the first he should not permit amendments to be brought forward without due and sufficient notice, in order that both the Council and the mover of the amendment himself should first consider the effect of the amendment in all its bearings. We were now in a somewhat curious position, inasmuch as the hon'ble member who moved and carried an amendment increasing the rate from two to three per cent., had now moved that we should go back again to two per cent. His Honor understood the situation to be this. We were assured by the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill—and His Honor believed the hon'ble member had given good ground for his assurance—that in reality, as things now stood in Howrah, it was impossible to light any portion of the municipality by a rate not exceeding two per cent.; that, he believed, was a fact. On the other hand, we were met by the hon'ble mover of the amendment, supported by the Hon'ble Rajah Joteendro Mohun Tagore, with the argument that if you could not light Howrah by a rate of two per cent., it was better not to light it at all. It seemed to His Honor that we were in this position—we must either pass a rate of three per cent. as recommended by the Select Committee, or we must indefinitely postpone the lighting of Howrah by gas beyond the portion already lighted. He understood the effect of the amendment would be this, that until the rest of Howrah was much richer and more populated than it was now, until a rate of two per cent. would produce a much larger sum than it would do now, the rest of Howrah could not be lighted with gas. The question then for the Council to decide was, would they give permission to the Municipality and the Government to light Howrah with gas by means of a rate not exceeding three per cent., or would they say that the town should not be lighted at all until it increased so much in wealth and population that a rate of two per cent. would be sufficient? His Honor must leave the Council to decide that question.

His Honor the President having asked whether the hon'ble mover of the amendment had any remarks to offer in reply,

The Hon'ble Baboo Digumber Mitter observed that His Honor had given a very correct analysis of what had been urged on either side, and Baboo Digumber Mitter had therefore nothing further to add to what he had already said in support of the amendment.

The question was then put, and the Council divided:—

Ayes 2.	Noes 6.
The Hon'ble Baboo Digumber Mitter.	The Hon'ble Moulvi Abdool Lutcef.
„ „ Rajah Joteendro Mohun Tagore.	„ „ Mr. Bernard.
	„ „ Lord Ulick Browne.
	„ „ Mr. Dampier.
	„ „ The Acting Advocate-General.
	His Honor the President.

So the motion was negatived.

The Hon'ble Lord Ulick Browne said, before the Council left Section 3, there was one point on which he should like to have an explanation from the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill. The section as altered by the Select Committee made a distinction as regards the portion of the town now lighted and that portion which should be left hereafter to be lighted. As regards the portion already lighted, the section as it stood provided that—

"It shall be lawful for the Municipal Commissioners to impose a rate sufficient to defray the whole expense of lighting such portion."

And as regards the rest of the town, it shall only "be lawful to impose an annual rate not exceeding three per cent." Now, he had ascertained from the Magistrate of Howrah that under the contract with the Gas Company the Municipality were bound, in case they extended the area of gas-lighting, to deal with the same Gas Company, and to pay the same rate of Rs. 100 for each lamp lighted by gas, exclusive of the cost of maintaining the lamp-posts. That being so, if a rate of three per cent. was insufficient to pay for the cost of lighting the area now lighted, three per cent. would be insufficient to pay for lighting successive areas hereafter. He thought that was a point which required explanation as regards the distinction made in the section between the parts of Howrah already lighted and the parts to be lighted hereafter.

The Hon'ble Mr. Dampier said, the answer to the question put by the hon'ble member was, that the fact of three per cent. being insufficient to pay the cost of lighting the present area, having a very limited number of lamps, was not in itself conclusive that three per cent. would be insufficient, even in view of the existing contract, to make extensions. For in order to light this first tract which now had the benefit of gas, it was necessary for the Gas Company to set up large works. He was given to understand that the Company had in the gas works made provision for lighting a number of lamps which would suffice for all parts of Howrah which were ever likely to be lighted. They were obliged so to fix the price of the few lamps first lighted that there might be some little return on the capital outlay of setting up these large gas works which eventually were to suffice for all demands. He was given to understand that the present profits of the Gas Company were very small indeed, and every extra lamp lighted would be an object to them. It was their interest to meet any proposal of the Municipality to extend the lighting by saying—"If you wish to extend the number of your lamps, although you are bound by your contract to come to us, and not bring in another company at a cheaper rate, still, as an inducement to you to extend your lighting, we will reduce the cost for each lamp as much as we can." That was the reason why, although a three per cent. rate was insufficient to pay for the cost of the portion already lighted, it would not necessarily be insufficient for future extensions.

The Hon'ble Mr. Dampier then moved that the Bill be passed.

The motion was agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to a day of which notice would be given.

HOOGHLY FEVER, AND THE CONDITION OF THE RYOTS.

RESOLUTION.

STATISTICAL DEPARTMENT.

Calcutta, the 19th August, 1873.

1. THE Lieutenant-Governor submitted to the Government of India some months back a very valuable note by Colonel Haig, R.E., Secretary to this Government in the Irrigation Department, proposing certain schemes for draining and irrigating the water-logged country lying between the Damooda and Hooghly rivers. The epidemic, known as the Burdwan fever, had specially affected the tract between these two rivers, and Colonel Haig's note discussed the physical and material condition of the people of this tract. That note was at the time communicated to the Press

2. The Government of India, in orders dated the 22nd July, 1873, dealing with Colonel Haig's note, desired that a particular enquiry should be made into the theory held by Colonel Haig and Dr. Sanders, that the lower classes of the Hooghly and Burdwan districts were under-fed and ill-nourished, and so predisposed to fever. The Lieutenant-Governor has recorded a minute showing what direction enquiry should at first take, and how it should be made. His Honor now directs that extracts from the correspondence marginally noted be published with a copy of his minute. Instructions will be issued to the Magistrates of Howrah and Midnapore, Hooghly and Burdwan, to make very careful enquiries into the points suggested in the specially populous thannahs of Howrah and Midnapore noticed in the minute, and in the parts of Hooghly and Burdwan specially affected by the fever. The Commissioner of the Division will be requested to superintend and aid these enquiries, and the Magistrates' reports of results will be submitted through him. The Commissioner of Police for Calcutta will be asked to co-operate in the enquiry to any extent in his power. The Magistrates may employ on this duty the most competent officers, who are best acquainted with the people and the language in any department under them. If they have no such officers under them, the Lieutenant-Governor will try to supply them from other districts.

Bengal Irrigation Department letter No 403, dated 12th March, 1873, paragraph 1
Government of India orders No. 178, dated 22nd July, 1873, paragraphs 1-4 and 6-12.
Bengal Irrigation Department letter No. 11271, dated 4th August, 1873, paragraphs 1 and 8.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the Magistrates will take up the business at once, and report as early as possible to the Commissioner what officer or officers they will depute, and what instructions they may give as to the order or manner in which the enquiries should be begun.

4 The Lieutenant-Governor further draws the attention of all officers of Government, and of the public generally, to these papers, and especially to the questions suggested by the Government of India in paragraph 12 of their letter of 22nd July. He trusts that all Commissioners of Divisions, and Magistrates of Districts will collect and collate all the information on these enormously important questions which they and their subordinates can obtain, and will submit them to Government in a clear and compact form. This Government also particularly invites practical information touching these questions from all persons who have a thorough knowledge and experience of the condition of the people.

Extract from a letter from LIEUTENANT-COLONEL F. T HAIG, R.E., Officiating Joint-Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Public Works Department, Irrigation Branch, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department,—No 4031E, dated Fort William, the 12th March 1873.

I AM directed by the Lieutenant-Governor to forward herewith a note* by Colonel Haig on the drainage and water-supply of the Hooghly district. His Honor desires me to say that this note will at least inform the Government of India of the efforts which have been made to get information on this most important subject; of the self-sacrificing work of our engineers regardless of risk and exposure; and of the views of so able and competent an officer as Colonel Haig. The questions raised are, however, of extreme difficulty.

* Dated 27th February 1873

A section enabling Government to extend to other schemes of drainage the provisions of the Dancoonee Drainage Bill (Act V B. C., of 1871) was at one time embodied by the Committee in the Embankment Bill now before the Bengal Council, but the native members have since taken another view, and that section has been retired for the present. The subject will be further considered. Any expression of the feelings of the Government of India on the subject would be very acceptable.

* * * * * * *

Extract from a letter from A. O. HUME, Esq., C.B., Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Agriculture, Revenue and Commerce, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal.—(No. 178, dated Simla, the 22nd July 1873.)

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letters Nos. 403IE and 387I, dated 12th March, forwarding copy of Colonel Haig's note on the drainage and water-supply of the district of Hooghly.

2. Colonel Haig's able and thoughtful note discusses the whole question of the causes of the epidemic fever which has for years ravaged these tracts, and the means by which the sources of the fever may be removed, or its effects mitigated. The note is a valuable addition to the information already in possession of the Government of India on a subject which has engaged its attention for years, and the conclusions at which he has arrived merit the most careful consideration. He proposes briefly:—

1*st*.—The extension to various parts of the suffering districts of an elaborate system of drainage similar to the Dhancoonee drainage project now in course of execution.

2*nd*.—A small irrigation canal about 12 miles in length to lead the waters of the Damoodah into two of its former channels, the Kana Nuddee and the Kana Damoodah.

3. The drainage scheme is of so extensive a nature, and the questions involved are so complicated, the results seem so problematical, and the expenditure which will be required is so great, that the Governor-General in Council desires to postpone action on this part of the case until he is enabled to consider the matter in the light of fuller information than is at present available. It is specially desirable to know what are the prospects of success of the Dhancoonee project. His Excellency in Council believes that the result will be sufficiently ascertained during the present season, and as the plans and estimates of the other schemes could not be matured until the close of the monsoon, the adjournment of present action will involve no real delay.

4. Meanwhile the surveys connected with these schemes should be vigorously prosecuted, and to this end the establishments required by the Lieutenant-Governor have already been placed at His Honor's disposal by the Public Works Department.

* * * * * * *

6. The executive measures immediately required being thus disposed of, I am now to invite the attention of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor to the general question of the causes of the epidemic dealt with in Colonel Haig's note, and to request that the most careful inquiries may be made into the subject with a view, if possible, to devise some effectual remedy.

7. Colonel Haig discusses this subject in paragraphs 31—43 of his report, and his conclusions, briefly stated, are that bad water and malarial poisoning are but secondary causes, and that the main cause of the lamentable mortality which has prevailed is the want of stamina in the people enabling them to resist the fever. He says that the district is over-populated, and does not produce sufficient food for the inhabitants, who are impoverished, underfed, and inadequately clothed, and that the consequent absence of vital energy is the real cause of the remarkable fatality of the epidemic. In this opinion Colonel Haig is corroborated by Dr. Saunders.

8. The Government of India does not now for the first time hear such opinions expressed. In a memorial addressed to it a few years ago by the Calcutta Missionary Conference, of which Dr. Murray Mitchell, a very moderate-minded man, was President, the condition of the cultivating classes in Bengal was thus described :—"It is with difficulty the Bengal ryot procures at any time the necessaries of life, and his chronic poverty is aggravated by the recurrence from time to time of such calamities as hurricanes, droughts, inundations, and epidemics both of men and cattle." Reports on the subject were called for from the district officers in Bengal, and from their replies it appeared that on the whole they considered the statements made to have been exaggerated. These proceedings were reported to the Secretary of State in June 1871 by the Government of India, and the opinion was expressed that in some districts at any rate there was "a very considerable foundation of truth in the description of the condition of the people given by the Missionaries." It was added that the evidence was incomplete, and that the question would commend itself to the careful attention of the Lieutenant-Governor, who had then recently assumed his office.

9. In his reply the Secretary of State noticed the subject as one of extreme importance, which His Grace was convinced, would receive early and careful consideration from the Government of Bengal, and said that he awaited with interest the result of the Lieutenant-Governor's inquiries and deliberations. This despatch was communicated to the Government of Bengal with the letter from the Home Department, No. 390 (Education), dated the 27th September 1871.

10. No further correspondence has since taken place on the subject, but it seems to the Governor-General in Council that the matter should now at once be taken up in a comprehensive way, for the concurrence of two such authorities as Colonel Haig and Dr. Saunders with the opinion of the Missionaries, so far as regards the condition of the people in Burdwan, affords a very strong ground in favor of further inquiry.

11. The Governor-General in Council is disposed to think, from reports which have recently been transmitted by the Government of Bengal, that the condition of the ryot varies greatly in different parts of Bengal; that in some parts he is well-to-do, and in others very poor indeed. What the Government of India desires is, if possible, to ascertain the causes of the difference, and then to judge if they are removable by the action of Government. If it should appear that the distress is caused by over-population, it seems to the Governor-General in Council that the most effectual remedy would be some scheme of inland, or indeed any, emigration.

12. It is possible that the Lieutenant-Governor is in possession of some further information upon this subject, and the Governor-General in Council therefore wishes to leave the form which the inquiry should take to His Honor's decision; but it seems to His Excellency in Council that if all local sources of information have not been yet drawn upon, it is highly desirable to consult the Government officials who have experience of the locality, and also non-officials—missionaries, landholders, and others—who have had opportunities of forming a judgment I am to state further that among other questions which may suggest themselves, those which follow require complete answers after deliberate investigation :—

(1).—Did the great bulk of those who have died of the fever belong to the poorer classes? Have more died of the sub-tenants and labourers of occupancy ryots than of these latter? What has been the average amount of food procured by these lower classes during the past few years?

(2). Has the fever attacked and been as fatal in its results to the population of any thinly populated district; and if so, were the lower classes there better off than in Hooghly and Burdwan?

(3) Have the people of any district in which the lower classes were certainly sufficiently fed suffered in the same way?

(4) Have the people of any very densely populated district escaped this fever; and if so, are there any climatic or industrial or agricultural differences between this and the districts that have suffered to account for this immunity?

(5) In the districts that have suffered, are there grounds for supposing that in local sub-divisions, where population was most dense, or their pecuniary condition worst, the mortality was highest?

(6) What is the usual food of the mass of the people? What is estimated to be the weight of rice eaten ordinarily by each man, woman, and child? and how many meals are eaten daily?

(7) Is there any ground for thinking that the people stint themselves in such necessaries as rice, salt, &c.

(8) Has there been during the last generation or two, say since 1840, any change in the habits of the people in this respect? Do they, for instance, eat less often, or less in quantity, or inferior food? Are they more careful in the consumption of food?

(9) Has the rate of daily wages fallen or risen? Have daily laborers any difficulty in procuring the means of subsistence? Are beggars or paupers common?

(10) Are the people clothed more poorly than twenty years ago? Have they more difficulty in getting clothes? Do they renew their clothes less often?

(11) Are there any symptoms of pressure upon the land? Are rents rising, and are there many applicants for any vacant lands?

(12) Would the people be willing to emigrate to other parts of India, or to Burmah, or Assam, if assisted by the Government to do so?

Extract from a letter from LIEUTENANT-COLONEL H. W. GULLIVER, R.E., Officiating Joint-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department, Irregation Branch, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce,—No. 11271, dated Fort William, the 4th August 1873.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 178, dated 22nd instant, on the subject of the drainage and water-supply of the Hooghly district.

* * * * * * *

8. With respect to the rest of your letter, I am to say that the Lieutenant-Governor did not discuss Colonel Haig's view that the fever is in great part due to poverty and over-population, because he thinks it absolutely certain that, however these causes may aggravate and intensify the disease, it is a specific disease which marches over the country, whether there are or are not conditions, which we certainly cannot speedily cure, and which, when it does come, attacks the well-to-do as well as the very poor. The Lieutenant-Governor assumes, therefore, that we must do what we can to deal with the specific evil of the fever, independent of much wider questions affecting the whole population in this and many other respects, which must at the same time have his very earnest attention. He proposes then to send the papers to the General Department, to which these wider questions belong, in order that the suggestions made may be there dealt with; this letter, therefore, is confined to the matter which appertains to the Irrigation Department.

MINUTE.

HOOGHLY FEVER AND CONDITION OF THE RYOTS.

I PURPOSELY did not continue any direct inquiry after the Secretary of States' despatch of September 1871, regarding the condition of the ryots of Bengal, because I did not think that we should get much more by asking the same questions again so soon, and because the main end and object of all my measures and inquiries has in fact been to approach to a solution of this one great question. We have progressed somewhat, and we hope to progress much more, towards knowing something of the numbers and classes of the population, of tenures and rents, rates of wages and prices of food, and other things affecting the condition of the people. The local officers have been specially desired to give us in their periodical reports all that they know of these things and of the general condition of the people, from year to year.

2. The annual administration reports now coming in from the different divisions contain much that throws great light on these subjects, and all this must be collated with reference to this inquiry. The report of the Burdwan division, in which Hooghly-cum-Howrah, Burdwan and Midnapore are comprised, has not yet been received.

3. As respects the condition of the people of these provinces, one broad general assertion may I think be hazarded, viz., that they are as a rule comparatively better off in the east, and worse off in the west. They are better off in the former in two respects, which may be more or less inter-related as cause and consequence.

(1) The rate of wages is higher in the east at the same time that food is for the most part cheaper (Orissa in the west perhaps excepted with respect to cheapness of food); and (2) rents in the east are less screwed up to rack-rent pitch, and probably are lighter in comparison to the productiveness of the soil and the remunerative character of such staples as jute, &c., &c.

4. I made a special inquiry on this subject of rents, and we have received a mass of figures, but they are very wide and vague, and require much sifting before we can say more than the above. I take it the rent questions, which are cropping up in eastern districts, do not imply that rents are more racked there than elsewhere, but that the people have not yet submitted to rack-renting to the same extent as elsewhere.

5. It is certain that if the practical working of the permanent settlement had accorded with the theory of the Regulations of 1793, if the ryots had fixity of rent as the zemindars have fixity of revenue, the people of Bengal would now be the easiest in India; but it is far otherwise, and the degree to which rents have been racked in different districts is a great degree the measure of the comfort or discomfort of the people.

6. In districts to the West, where labor is cheap and land is dear, there is this distinction, that the people of some districts emigrate freely, or what is more common than regular emigration (the emigration proper is in such a population insignificant), they go to other parts of the country for temporary service and labor, or go at certain seasons to districts where hands are scarce, like bands of Irish reapers in former days.

The people of both Behar and Orissa thus largely supplement their home means. The people of Chota Nagpore (perhaps of all the countries in India that in which labor is cheapest) do so still more largely, and seem in their own country to be pretty well-off in their very simple way. This facility of emigrating or going out for labor extends wherever the aboriginal blood predominates; e.g., into the Raneegunge portion of Burdwan, Bancoorah, Beerbhoom, and upper Midnapore. But the fever tract is to the east of this in an Aryan country.

7. The census returns show the district of Hooghly and a few thannahs of Midnapore (now invaded by the fever), with two or three thannahs of Burdwan, to be the most populous tracts in these provinces—probably in India.

8. Then comes the question, what proportion of the whole are towns-people and non-agriculturalists? I fear that the census returns are not very reliable on this point, since so many people both cultivate and follow more or less some other occupation that it is very difficult to secure uniformity of practice in the classification. The agricultural laborers, too, have not been distinguished from non-agricultural laborers so well as we could wish. Also the statements of the Registrar-General do not give information on these points in a very accessible form. No doubt we must make allowance for the towns and great villages, containing a large town mercantile and fishing population, which fringe the river Hooghly in the Hooghly District, including Howrah in that term.

9. But apart from this we find in the back-lying thannahs an immense population, notwithstanding that here is the low country so much covered with water that great drainage and reclamation works are suggested. Similarly, in Midnapore, Mr. Harrison remarks that the most crowded thannahs are those in the pit of the low land between the great rivers. I do not take Doomjoor (with a population rate of 1,417 per mile) the thannah next to Howrah because that might be supposed to be suburban, though I am assured that it is really quite rural. Passing this over we have the thannahs of—

Juggutbullubpore	... 1,070	Of Hooghly.
Amptah	... 1,093
Khanakool, and	... 939
Chandeepore (or Oolaberiah)	.. 941
Dasspore	... 1,311	Of Midnapore.
Panchkoorah	... 999
Debra	... 1,016

which seem to form a low-lying water-tract, stretching from behind Howrah to near Midnapore, without a single town and still with an average population fully equal to or exceeding 1,000 per square mile of gross area. The figures opposite each thannah give the rate of population per mile.

10. There can be no doubt that this is an extremely dense rural population. It considerably exceeds the densest of the Behar districts, Sarun, where considerable rural tracts have a population of about 900 per square mile.

11. Still, living as the rural Bengallees do in scattered villages, the country population is not so thick as necessarily to affect health. If their health is affected by population, it must be either through poverty or owing to unsanitary habits. This very populated tract is in close proximity to, and in very easy river communication with Calcutta, where there is a great demand for labor, and labor fetches a good price.

12. I believe that in these low lands there is not much rich garden cultivation; it is, I think, chiefly a rice country; and rice, as cultivated in Bengal, is a crop that requires comparatively little labor. If this be so, it would seem that so great a population cannot be profitably employed on so scant and water-logged a soil; and if the people are really unusually poor, the question will be whether it is because they won't go out and work, and prefer to stay at home on their patches of ground and starve. This may be tested by finding whether the people of this part of the country work in Calcutta, or otherwise go out for labor. I have been told by men who ought to know that, in fact, many of them do work in Calcutta, and that they are not specially poor as compared to other Bengal ryots. This is, however, a view opposed to the opinions of Colonel Haig and Dr. Saunders, and the facts must be sifted. I am inclined to think that it will be found that the people of this part of Bengal do not emigrate, although they may work in Calcutta, and that so long as they are not killed down by disease they go on increasing at home.

13. Since it seems to be the case that the country, which has been the scene of Colonel Haig's inquiry, and much of which has also suffered from the fever, is really the most excessive in point of population in the country, and seeing that information regarding the country at large can but come in very gradually from many sources, I think it will be best in the first instance to confine our special inquiries, in fulfilment of the wishes of the Government of India, to the fever districts and the specially populous tracts which I have mentioned, while we will at the same time publish the papers and invite information from officials and non-officials.

14. It will be ascertained how far the questions propounded by the Government of India can be answered from the records of inquiries and reports already made, and special means will be taken to obtain information on those questions which cannot be sufficiently answered.

15. With respect to the densely populated tract, I propose first to analyse very specially the population returns, to ascertain who the people of those tracts are, what occupations they follow, and how they are distributed in villages large or small.

16 I would then ask—Are these people particularly poor as compared to the people of other districts, and if so, why? What are the prevailing rates of wages and prices of food? Are they hard worked in their ordinary agricultural pursuits, or have they time on their hands? Are they rack-rented? and would put the other questions suggested by the Government of India. Especially, I would very carefully inquire whether they work in Calcutta, Howrah, or elsewhere, and whether they emigrate at all? I think special local inquiry on these points must be made by intelligent officers so as to get at the facts with greater precision than we have them from parts of the country which are not thus specialised.

17. Some special inquiry must be made regarding the class of weavers who are, I believe, numerous in some parts of Hooghly, Burdwan, and Midnapore; since theirs is a down-going trade, and it may be that they specially suffer.

18. I may observe that while, on the one hand, some road cess returns sent in by the Commissioner of Burdwan would seem to show that the average holding of each ryot in Hooghly and Burdwan is unexpectedly small, on the other hand, I notice that in the proceedings of the Hooghly Road Cess Committee Baboo Joykishen Mookerjee is said to have stated that much land is lying untilled for want of people to cultivate it, which would seem to imply that, since the fever at any rate, excess of population is not in his view the evil. Yet the census was taken after most of the ravage of fever in Hooghly had occurred.

19. I am very much struck, in comparing the population returns with the map, to observe that the highest population almost exactly corresponds with the tract marked by Colonel Haig in the deepest colors as most in want of drainage and improvement, and with a similar tract in Midnapore, which has similarly suffered from flood, and the difficulty of carrying off the water, as I myself witnessed a few months ago. Colonel Haig gives a vivid and, I may say, horrible description of the tract, as one in which there is absolutely no healthy flow of water whatever, and no escape—a hollow in which the water stagnates, and a mass of decaying vegetation festers in it; where noxious fumes exhale in the hot weather, while the damp of the raw cold weather and extremes of temperature then prevailing render it still more unwholesome. Yet, in these reeking swamps, the human race seems to have multiplied to a greater extent than anywhere in India—perhaps in the world. It seems as if it may be almost said that we cannot have too much water in this country, and that in such conditions in this climate, all sanitary science notwithstanding, the human race will multiply till it is wasted by great calamities. As it is, Colonel Haig truly observes that up to this time there has been much less fever in these reeking swamps than in the higher parts of Burdwan and Hooghly, where there is a sensible natural drainage.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 16th August 1873.

No.	District	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	Remarks.
BENGAL.
	Western Districts.	1873.
Burdwan Division. 1	Burdwan ...	Aug. 19th*	3·31	Weather hot ...	Crops injured in places by floods.	Fever prevalent
2	Bancoorah ...	„ 16th	7·54	Heavy long continued rain on the 10th, showery the rest of the week.	Very good in the greater part of the district. The prospects of the out-turn of indigo have been injured by the rain.
3	Beerbhoom ...	„ 16th	9·53	Heavy rain all over the district throughout the week.	Prospects of crops generally good. Considerable local damage to dhan from overflowing of More and Adjae, but not sufficient to seriously affect the general out-turn.	No increase of fever reported. Cholera still linger in some villages.
4	Midnapore ...	„ 16th	1·52	Showery ...	Rainfall sufficient and seasonable, but the Cossye, which is constantly in half flood still inundates Kasijorah through one of the breaches, which the executive engineer has not yet been able to repair.
5	Hooghly ..	„ 16th	3·30	Cloudy and rainy for the first five days of the week and then clear.	The prospects of the crops are on the whole satisfactory.
	Howrah ...	„ 16th	3 4	Rain almost every day of the week throughout the district. Weather cool.	Transplantation of amun rice crop is carried on throughout the district. Jute being cut in some places. Sugarcane good.
	Central Districts.
Presidency Division. 6	24-Pergunnahs ...	„ 19th	4·62	Weather very close. Showery with occasional heavy falls of rain.	Transplantation of amun progressing satisfactorily and aus coming into ear.	General health good. Fever of the ordinary type still prevalent at Satkherah and Barripore.
7	Nuddea ...	„ 16th	8·26	There has been a good deal of rain.	The rice promises fairly. In some places the sudden heavy rain has drowned it a little. In the east the indigo promises well, but elsewhere the produce is deficient.
8	Jessore ...	„ 16th	8·75	Cloudy and rainy. Wind usually from the south-west.	In Nurrail the indigo is said to be damaged by the excessive rain, and it is necessary to cut it though yielding but half produce on account of the rise of floods. The aus crop is also said to be injured there by the same causes, but generally the prospects of rice crop are good.
Rajshahye Div. 9	Moorshedabad ...	„ 16th	3·85	A good deal of rain and generally cloudy.	Prospects of crops improving, especially of aus. Sugarcane and mulberry doing well.
10	Dinagepore ...	...	...	...	.....	Return not received.
11	Maldah ...	„ 16th	3·41	Cloudy, rain almost daily.	There has been a fair amount of rain during the past week which will greatly benefit the crops. In Goregoribah thannah the rising of the Ganges will probably cause some loss.

* Telegram of the 19th August received on the same day.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	Remarks.
BENGAL.—(Contd.)
	Central Districts.—(Contd.)	1873.
Rajshahye Division.—(Contd.) 12	Rajshahye ...	Aug. 16th	3·65	There has been moderate rain throughout the district during the past week; west winds in latter part of week.	The prospects of the ropa dhan are still unfavorable through want of heavy rain which is also much needed for the other rice crops. The latter, however, amun and aus, are in better condition than the ropa. Mulberry, sugarcane, urhur, and jute continue to thrive.
13	Rungpore ...	„ 16th	7·22	Rain general throughout the district.	Transplanting of rice is being carried on vigorously Sugarcane favorable, jute a fair average
14	Bograh ..	„ 16th	4·78	Much more rain has fallen.	The prospects of the amun rice crops have improved considerably in consequence of the late acceptable supply of rain. Transplantation continues.
15	Pubna ...	„ 16th	3·88	Much rain, which has done good.	The jute near Serajgunge is dark and bad in color. That coming from a distance very good. The prospect of rice crops is fair.
Cooch Behar Division. 16	Darjeeling ...	„ 16th	7·10	Seasonable; plenty of rain	In the terai the early crops are now ripening, the out-turn is not expected to be so good as was anticipated, but the loss will not be serious. Three-fourths of the cold weather crops has been transplanted. The want of sufficient rain will, it is supposed, slightly affect the out-turn of their crop also. In the hills the crops are progressing favorably.
17	Julpigoree ..	„ 16th	3·22	Cloudy, showery and seasonable.	Good dhan. Bhadoi which is being cut is an average crop; here and there it has suffered from want of rains.
	Cooch Behar ...	„ 16th	2·94	Showery, heavy clouds and prospects of abundant rain at end of week.	Favorable. Planting out of amun dhan going on.
	Eastern Districts.
Dacca Division. 18	Dacca ...	„ 19th	4·43	Rain daily.	Prospects of crops good, except in west of district.
19	Furreedpore ...	„ 16th	5·08	Rainy and cloudy throughout the week.	The aus crop is still being reaped, the out-turn it is expected will be about half of other years. The continued wet weather and the want of sunshine during the week have been a source of great anxiety everywhere, owing to the crop reaped being at present stocked in a moist state, sunshine being necessary to dry them before thrashing, unless, therefore, a few dry days occur very soon, it is feared much of the grain will ferment and spoil. The amun crop is doing well. Rivers have slightly fallen.
20	Backergunge ...	„ 16th	8·59	Rainy.	Good.
21	Mymensing ...	„ 16th	4·22	There has been abundant, but not excessive rain.	The crops are doing pretty well.
22	Sylhet ...	„ 9th	4·87	Cool and showery ...	More rain wanted for the amun crop. Rivers and haors still low.
23	Cachar ...	„ 9th	3·52	Weather seasonable, cloudy with rain.	Crops looking tolerably well. Tea operations good.

BENGAL.—(Contd.)		1873.
	Eastern Districts.—(Contd.)
Chittagong Divn. 24	Chittagong ...	Aug. 9th	6·25	Rainy and cloudy ...	Ploughing is still going on, and reports are favorable, though a few low lying places on the south of the district are under water.
25	Noakhally ...	„ 9th	4·4	Cloudy and rainy ...	Aus dhan is being gathered in and the transplantation of the amun dhan nearly completed.
26	Tipperah ...	„ 16th	7·06	Constant rain in nine Police stations, under head-quarters. Rainfall to the northward disproportionately small. Rainfall at Brahmunberiah ... 2·83	Very favorable at head-quarters, but heavy rain is much wanted in the sub-division.
27	Chittagong Hill Tracts	„ 9th	7·21	Continuous and heavy rains.	Good.
	Hill Tipperah ...	„ 9th	4·77	Heavy rain throughout the week, weather cloudy and very warm.	Sowing still going on, the cultivators are all hard at work. Prospects good.
BEHAR.
Patna Division. 28	Patna ..	„ 19th*	1·55	Fair weather ...	River is fast going down, reports from the interior of the district as regards the damage done to the crops by the floods much the same as last week.	Cholera prevalent throughout the district and very bad in the town of Behar.
29	Gya ...	„ 16th	0·72	Gloomy and cool ...	Bhadoi crops much injured by excess of water. Paddy promising. Transplanting in full swing.
30	Shahabad ...	„ 16th	7·44	Seasonable. On the whole less rain.	The heavy rain and floods have been unfavorable to the bhadoi crop, but of benefit to the aghany. No return from Sasseram.	Cholera still prevailing in different parts of the district.
31	Tirhoot ...	„ 16th	1·96	Cloudy, occasional showers and interval of sunshine.	There has been heavy rain in the north of the district. The rain that has fallen in the north-east may save dhan to some extent, but the crop cannot possibly be an average one. Bhadoi crops are favorably progressing.	Cholera prevails.
32	Sarun ...	„ 16th	8·04	First five days cloudy with continuous rain the last three days fair and seasonable. Prevailing wind west.	Rain generally throughout the district. Crops all coming on well. Manufacture of indigo (1st cuttings) going on briskly. The transplantation of paddy seedlings is fast pushed on and will shortly be completed. Indian corn and paddy in the churs and low lands have suffered to some extent from continuous heavy rain within the jurisdiction of Thannahs Deghowra, Pursa, and outpost Durkha in the sudder sub-division.	Cholera continues. Small-pox decreasing.
33	Chumparun ..	„ 16th	7·52	Cloudy and rainy, west winds.	The heavy rain which fell during the week has been of great benefit to the Bhadoi crops.	Cholera still reported in the south of the district.
Bhagulpore Divn. 34	Monghyr ..	„ 16th	7·52	Seasonable ...	A good deal of makai crops on low lands have been spoilt by the heavy rains, but the rice crops on high lands are excellent. Reports from sub-divisions favorable.
35	Bhaugulpore ..	„ 19th*	0·45	Fine with west wind ...	Excellent report of all crops from south, more rain wanted in the north.	General health very good.
36	Purneah ...	„ 16th	4·44	Heavy rain only in the early part of the week.	Prospects much better than last week, but more rain is wanted especially in Kishengunge.

* Telegram of the 19th August received on the same day.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	Remarks.
BEHAR.—(Contd.)		1873.
Bhaugulpore Divn. 37	Sonthal Pergunnahs ...	Aug. 16th	4·12	Rain fell every day during the week with intervals of sunshine.	All crops are going on well at present; generah in the sudder sub-division will be a good but not full crop. In Godda it is said to be particularly fine. Dhan everywhere promises to be excellent. Weather for planting it out has been all that could be desired.
ORISSA.
Orissa Division. 38	Cuttack ...	„ 19th*	1·22	Weather hot, rain at Jajpore, Kendraparah, and Juggutsinghpore sub-divisions.	Prospects of the crops fair.
39	Pooree ...	„ 9th	7·26	Rain has fallen every day Rainfall at Khoorda 5·24.	Weeding and transplanting still going on in sarud fields of Pergunnahs Rahang, Chowbiskud, Malood, and others. Weeding is also going on in beali fields of Pergunnah Serain, Oldhar, Kurlo, and others. Sugarcane seems promising in Pergunnahs Oldhar, Pachemduai, and others. Cotton is being gathered in Pergunnahs Antarodh and Athais. The late rain has been beneficial for the cold weather crops. Khoorda—sarud paddy very promising Weeding finished and transplanting still going on Other miscellaneous cold weather crops are also florishing.
40	Balasore ...	„ 16th	2·71	Showery; air close ...	Promising. The beali crop is in ear, and the sarud is being harrowed The Baiturni is in high floods, and the country near its mouth is inundated, but damage to rice is not anticipated.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
41	Hazareebaugh ...	„ 16th	3·51	Rainy throughout the district.	Bhadoi crop has suffered from excessive rain, the rice crop is being rapidly transplanted and promises well.	Small-pox is reported from all parts, but cholera seems to be on the decline.
42	Lohardugga ...	„ 16th	4·90	Rainy; seasonable ...	The prospects continue favorable, but in Palamow there has been rather too much rain for the makai, goondli, and kodo crops, all of which have suffered a good deal.
43	Singbhoom ...	„ 9th	4·01	Seasonable. Rain universal all over the district.	Very favorable. All progressing well.	A few cases of cholera.
44	Maunbhoom ...	„ 16th	7·26	Favorable. Heavy rain during the days with fine nights.	All the crops are doing well, transplanting nearly finished.	Cholera has almost disappeared, and small-pox entirely.
ASSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS.
45	Goalparah ...	„ 9th	1·68	First two days dry and sunny and the remaining part of the week cloudy and rainy; weather somewhat cool and pleasant.	Transplantation of winter crops is getting on well, though rain is yet sadly wanted in some places. Other crops looking well.
46	Kamroop ...	...	...	.....	.....	Return not received.

* Telegram of the 19th August received on the same day.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	Remarks.
ASSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS.—(Contd.)		1873.
47	Durrung ...	Aug. 9th	3·41	Temperature high, easterly winds prevailing with frequent south-west squalls.	Weather continues favorable for planting paddy.	Cattle disease continues; much sickness in the district, but no cholera cases reported.
48	Nowgong ...	„ 9th	4·31	Rainfall scanty in Sudder station and not what it should be, but heavy and continued rain has fallen to the east of the district.	More rain wanted or the Salee crop will suffer. Tea operations very favorable up to date.	Some cases of cholera still reported in the Chapari mehals and a few cases of cattle murrain. A great deal of low fever and dysentery flying about.
49	Seebsaugor ...	„ 9th	1·08	Fair with small showers at night. Average temperature in shade 92°.	Dhan cultivation is progressing; tea doing well.	Cattle disease decreasing.
50	Luckimpore ...	„ 9th	3·33	Rain fell every night but one during the week. Days cloudy but hot	Crops doing well. Grand weather for tea.	General health good. Cholera disappeared.
51	Naga Hills ...	„ 1st	3·02	Seasonable and was all that could be wished for on account of the crops.	The most of the terrai dhan has been planted and is looking well. The early joom dhan is coming into ears, and a fair crop is expected The pathar land is being rapidly planted out with salee dhan.	Not altogether unhealthy.
52	Khasi & Jynteah Hills	„ 9th	2·60	Rain has fallen heavier during the past week, but it is still below the average in most part of the hills.	The paddy cultivation is healthy and other standing crops are coming on well, but in places from want of the usual amount of rain they are backward.
53	Garo Hills ...	„ 9th	3·30	There has been a good deal of rain, some heavy showers; on two occasions there were sharp storms of wind.	The more forward of the dhan is cut, that which is more backward looks very fair. Vegetables abundant. The young cotton so far looks well.

• Velocity of wind in miles per hour.

† The greater part of the rain here recorded apparently as having fallen between 10th and 16th on the 13th, really fell in the early morning before A.M. The officer in charge of the observatory explains that the fall "could not measured" at the usual hour as at 10 A.M., was drizzling.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

The following order, issued by the Government of India in the Legislative Department, is republished for general information :—

No. 7.—Simla, the 11th August 1873.—Notification.—The following Statute is published for general information :—

36 VICTORIA, CHAPTER 17.

An Act to provide for the Redemption or Commutation of the Dividend on the Capital Stock of the East India Company, and for the transfer of the Security Fund of the India Company to the Secretary of State in Council of India, and for the Dissolution of the East India Company,—(15th May 1873.)

WHEREAS it is expedient that provision should be made for the redemption or commutation of the Dividend on the Capital Stock of the East India Company, and for the transfer of the Security Fund of the India Company to the Secretary of State in Council of India, and for the Dissolution of the East India Company :

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in the present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same as follows :—

1. This Act may be cited as "The East India Stock Dividend Redemption Act, 1873."

2. In this Act—

"East India Stock" means the Capital Stock of the East India Company :

The expression "Proprietors of East India Stock" means and includes all persons, bodies, politic or corporate, and executors or administrators of all persons in whose names any portion or share of East India Stock may be standing in the books kept for or on behalf of the East India Company by the Governor and Company of the Bank of England.

3. The Dividend now payable by law to the East India Company on East India Stock shall be redeemed or commuted as hereinafter mentioned.

4. The Dividend now payable by law to the East India Company on East India Stock shall continue payable until the Thirtieth day of April One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and no longer.

Provided always that a proportionate part of the said Dividend, and no more, shall become due for the period from the Sixth day of January One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, to the Thirtieth day of April in the same year; and the payment of such proportionate part shall be made as near as may be in the manner in which the half-yearly payments of the said Dividend are now made, and all powers of attorney in force at the time of the passing of this Act, or which may hereafter be granted, for the receipt of Dividends to accrue on East India Stock, shall, unless legally revoked, enable the Attorney or Attorneys therein named to receive the proportionate part of the Dividend which will become due on the Thirtieth day of April One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

5. The Secretary of State in Council of India may offer for the acceptance of the proprietors of East India Stock, by way of commutation for their respective portions or shares of the Dividend thereon, any stocks, funds, or securities which the Secretary of State in Council may have power to dispose of, or may be authorized by any Act or Parliament to create and issue; and any such offer may be made upon such terms and subject to such conditions as the Secretary of State in Council shall think fit.

6. The Secretary of State in Council may prescribe the manner in which the assents of the proprietors of East India Stock to accept any of such Stocks, Funds, or Securities as may be offered in respect of the proposed commutation are to be signified, and the period within which such assents are to be given, and may order that the transfer books of East India Stock be closed from such date as may, in the opinion of the Secretary of State in Council, be necessary or convenient.

7. Upon the requisition of the Secretary of State in Council, the East India Company shall furnish the Secretary of State in Council with all necessary information as to the proprietors of East India Stock, and shall permit any person or persons appointed by the Secretary of State in Council to have free access to the books kept for or on behalf of the said Company by the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, and to take copies thereof or extracts therefrom.

8. The Secretary of State in Council may offer the proposed commutation either directly to the proprietors of East India Stock or to the East India Company, for the purpose of being communicated to the proprietors.

9. In case the offer of the proposed commutation shall be made to the East India Company, the said Company shall comply with such instructions as may from time to time be given by the Secretary of State in Council, and shall furnish such Certificates under the Seal of the said Company as the Secretary of State in Council may require.

10. Her Majesty's Paymaster-General and the Accountant-General of the Court of Chancery in Ireland may, within such period as may be prescribed by the Secretary of State in Council, signify to the Secretary of State in Council, or to the East India Company, as the case may be, on behalf of any person or persons interested in East India Stock, standing in the books kept for or on behalf of the said Company as aforesaid to the account of the Paymaster-General for the time being on behalf of the Court of Chancery, or in the name of the said Accountant-General respectively, such assent as the said Paymaster-General and Accountant-General respectively, may be directed to give by the Courts of Chancery in England and Ireland respectively, to accept and receive in lieu of such East India Stock such Stocks, Funds, or Securities as may be offered for the acceptance of the proprietors of East India Stock by the Secretary of State in Council, and orders may be made in a summary way by the Courts of Chancery in England and Ireland, upon the application by summons in Chambers of persons interested, for directing the said Paymaster-General and Accountant-General respectively as to signifying or not signifying such assent, and otherwise in relation thereto.

After the expiration of the period prescribed by the Secretary of State in Council as aforesaid, the Courts of Chancery in England and Ireland respectively may by General Order direct the said Paymaster-General and Accountant-General respectively, within such further period as may be prescribed by the Secretary of State in Council, to signify, on behalf of the persons interested in East India Stock standing in the books kept for or on behalf of the said Company as aforesaid to the Account of the Paymaster-General for the time being on behalf of the Court of Chancery, or in the name of the said Accountant-General respectively, in respect of which no special orders shall have been made under the provision hereinbefore contained, their assent to accept and receive in lieu of such East India Stock such of the Stocks, Funds, or Securities offered for the acceptance of the proprietors of East India Stock by the Secretary of State in Council as the said Courts of Chancery respectively shall think fit; and the Dividends to accrue on such Stocks, Funds, or Securities as may be accepted in lieu of East India Stock, under this provision, shall continue to be paid and dealt with in like manner as the Dividends on such East India Stock would have been paid and dealt with in case this Act had not been passed until the Court of Chancery shall make further Order therein; and the said Paymaster-General and Accountant-General respectively shall be fully indemnified against all actions, suits, or proceedings for or in respect of any act, matter, or thing done by them respectively in pursuance of this Act.

11. All executors, administrators, guardians, and trustees, and all committees of the estates of idiots and lunatics, who, as such, shall have the control over any portion or share of East India Stock, standing either in their own names or in the name or names of any testator or intestate, infant, idiot, or lunatic, or other person or persons, may signify such assent as aforesaid, at any time within such period as may be prescribed by the Secretary of State in Council; and all executors, administrators, guardians, trustees, and committees signifying such assent shall be severally and respectively indemnified in respect thereof: Provided always, that an assent for the purposes aforesaid, signed by one of such executors, administrators, guardians, trustees, or committees for and on behalf of himself and the others or other of them, shall be sufficient, and shall be binding and conclusive upon the others and other of them, and shall be acted upon by the Secretary of State in Council, as if the same had been signed by the whole of such executors, administrators, guardians, trustees, and committees, unless some one or more of them shall give notice to the Secretary of State in Council, or to the East India Company, as the case may be, previously to the expiration of the period to be prescribed by the Secretary of State in Council for signifying such assent, of his, her, or their dissent therefrom.

12. Provided always, that in all cases in which any trustee, executor, or administrator shall hold or be entitled to any portion or share of East India Stock upon trust for or for the benefit of any person or persons having a limited interest therein, or who may be under legal disability in respect thereof, no such trustee, executor, or administrator shall be at liberty to give notice of his assent to receive in lieu thereof any of the Stocks, Funds, or Securities which may be offered by the Secretary of State in Council for the acceptance of the proprietors of East India Stock by way of commutation as aforesaid, without the consent in writing of all persons beneficially interested in such Stock if competent and willing to consent, but if such persons shall not agree, or if any of such persons shall be under legal disability, or if the trust be such that persons yet unborn may become interested under the same, then, and in any of such cases, every such trustee, executor, or administrator shall commute the Stock so held by him in such manner only as a Judge of the Court of Chancery in England or Ireland, or of the Court of Session in Scotland, shall direct: Provided also, that all applications for such purpose as last aforesaid, and every other application hereby authorised to be made to the Courts of Chancery in England and Ireland respectively, and to the Court of Session in Scotland, may be heard and disposed of in such manner, on the attendance of such parties, and on such evidence as the Judge shall think fit, who shall have power to direct by whom or in what way the costs and expenses of such applications respectively shall be borne and defrayed.

13. All proprietors of East India Stock who shall not signify their assents to commute their respective shares of the Dividend on the said Stock, in accordance with the terms of commutation to be proposed by the Secretary of State in Council, shall, on the Thirtieth day of April One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, receive from the Secretary of State in Council the sum of Two hundred pounds sterling for every One hundred pounds of the said Stock, and so in proportion for any greater or less amount: Provided always, that the payment to such account as may be directed to be opened by the Secretary of State in Council at the Bank of England for the use of the proprietors of East India Stock entitled thereto of any money payable under this provision in respect of the said Stock, shall be a full discharge of the amount so paid, and the proprietors of the said stock, or their agents duly authorized, shall be at liberty to demand and receive payment from the said Bank, upon application for that purpose on or at any time after the said Thirtieth day of April One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, of the sum so paid for the use of such proprietors respectively.

14. The payment to such Account as aforesaid at the Bank of England for the use of the proprietors of East India Stock entitled thereto of the total amount payable in respect of the said Stock shall be deemed to be a payment to the East India Company, within the meaning of the twelfth Section of the Act third and fourth William the fourth, chapter eighty-five, and a sufficient compliance with the provisions of the said section in that behalf.

15. The Commissioners for the Reduction of the National Debt shall, immediately after the passing of this Act, transfer all Stocks standing in their names on account of the security Fund of the India Company to such Accounts as may be necessary to be raised in the Books of the Governor and Company of the Bank of England in respect of such Stocks, and all such Accounts respectively shall be intituled "The Stock Account of the Secretary of State in Council of India in respect of the Security Fund of the India Company," and such Commissioners shall also immediately after the passing of this Act pay all moneys, if any, in thier possession at that time on account of the Security Fund of the India Company, into the Bank of England to the credit of an Account to be opened by the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, to be intituled "The Account of the Secretary of State in Council of India in respect of the Security Fund of the India Company."

16. The Secretary of State in Council, by Letter of Attorney executed by two Members of the Council, and countersigned by the Secretary of State or one of his Under-Secretaries, or his Assistant Under-Secretary, may authorize all or any of the Cashiers of the Bank of England to sell and transfer all or any part of the Stock or Stocks standing, or that may thereafter stand, in the Books of the said Bank to the Accounts intituled "The Stock Account of the Secretary of State in Council of India in respect of the Security Fund of the India Company," and to purchase and accept Stock on the said Accounts, and to receive the Dividends due and to become due on the several Stocks standing, or that may thereafter stand, on the said Accounts, and by any writing signed by two Members of the Council and countersigned as aforesaid, may direct the application of the moneys to be received in respect of such sales and Dividends; but no Stock shall be purchased or sold and transferred by any of the said Cashiers, under the authority of such General Letter of Attorney, except upon an order directed to the Chief Cashier and Chief Accountant of the Bank of England from time to time, and duly signed and countersigned as aforesaid.

17. The account to be intituled "The Account of the Secretary of State in Council of India in respect of the Security Fund of the India Company," to be opened at the Bank of England pursuant to this Act, shall be drawn upon by such person or persons, and in such manner as may from time to time be directed by the Secretary of State in Council, and the said Account shall be deemed a Public Account.

18. No part of the Stocks to be transferred to the Accounts to be intituled "The Stock Account of the Secretary of State in Council of India in respect of the Security Fund of the India Company," or of the Dividends to accrue due on such Stocks, or of the moneys to be paid to the Account to be intituled "The Account of the Secretary of State in Council of India in respect of the Security Fund of the India Company," or of the cash to arise from the temporary investment of moneys standing to such last-mentioned Account, shall be applied to any purposes other than the redemption or commutation of the Dividend on East India Stock, or the accumulation of a fund for the redemption of such Dividend, unless and until the total amount payable for the use of proprietors of East India Stock who shall not signify their assents to commute their respective shares of the Dividend on the said Stock shall have been actually paid to such account as shall be raised at the Bank of England in pursuance of the directions in that behalf hereinbefore contained.

19. In every case in which any person or persons shall, at the time of the passing of this Act, be bound by the condition of any bond or obligation, or by the terms of any instrument in writing, or by any agreement or contract, to transfer any amount of East India Stock, the condition of such bond or obligation, or the terms of such instrument in writing, or such agreement or contract shall, unless such option and notice be declared and given as hereinafter provided, be deemed in law and equity to be satisfied by making a transfer of such an amount of any Stocks, Funds, or Securities which may be offered by the Secretary of State in Council for the acceptance of the proprietors of East India Stock, by way of commutation as aforesaid, as would upon an assent by a person entitled thereto be receivable in respect of such an amount of East India Stock as under such condition, terms, agreement, or contract should be transferred; and where any person or persons shall, at the time of the passing of this Act, be bound by the condition of any bond or obligation, or by the terms of any instrument in writing, or by any agreement or contract, to pay half-yearly sums equal to the Dividends on any specified amount of East India Stock, every such bond, obligation, instrument, agreement, or contract shall be satisfied by the payment of half-yearly sums equal to the Dividends of or upon such amount of any Stocks, Funds, or Securities which may be offered by the Secretary of State in Council for the acceptance of the proprietors of East India Stock, by way of commutation as aforesaid, as would upon an assent by a person entitled thereto be receivable in respect of such specified amount of East India Stock.

20. In every case in which any East India Stock shall have been transferred by way of loan, upon any condition in any bond or instrument, or under or upon any agreement or contract for the payment of such loan, by the replacing the amount of Stock so transferred, the person or persons who shall have made any such loan, his or their executors, administrators, or assigns, may declare an option, and give notice thereof in writing, and thereby require—but at the times, and on the terms, at and on which he or they might have required a re-transfer of the Stock so lent—there payment of Two hundred pounds sterling for every One hundred pounds of East India Stock so transferred by way of loan as aforesaid, and so in proportion for any greater or less amount; and every bond, obligation, instrument, agreement, or contract given, entered into, or made upon any such loan or contract, shall be deemed in every such case, in law and in equity, to entitle the person or persons who shall have made any such loan, his or their executors, administrators, or assigns, to such repayment in money, and in the meantime to receive interest according to the original contract, and to demand and recover the same respectively in any Court in which any action, suit, process, or proceeding may be brought, instituted, or carried on upon any such bond, obligation, instrument, agreement, or contract, anything in any such bond or obligation, instrument, or agreement, or contract, to the contrary notwithstanding.

21. Every power of attorney in force at the time of the passing of this Act or which may hereafter be granted for the sale or transfer of any East India Stock, shall, unless legally revoked, remain in full force, for the purpose of enabling the attorney or attorneys therein named to give a legal discharge for the money which will become payable for the redemption of the Dividend on such Stock, in case an assent to accept other Stocks, Funds, or Securities in lieu thereof may not have been signified under the provisions of this Act, or to assent to accept in lieu of the Dividend on such East India Stock any Stocks, Funds, or Securities which may be offered by the Secretary of State in Council for the acceptance of the proprietors of East India Stock, by way of commutation as aforesaid, and to sell or transfer the same accordingly.

Every power of attorney in force at the time of the passing of this Act or which may hereafter be granted for the receipt of any Dividends to accrue on any East India Stock, shall unless legally revoked, remain in full force, for the purpose of enabling the attorney or attorneys therein named to receive the Dividends to accrue on any Stocks, Funds, or Securities that may be accepted in lieu of the Dividend on such East India Stock, under the provisions of this Act.

22. All trusts, whether created by will or otherwise, existing either in whole or in part, and all directions contained in any will remaining unexecuted at the time of the passing of this Act, as to any East India Stock, the Dividend now payable on which may under this Act be commuted into other Stocks, Funds, or Securities, or as to the payment of distribution of any Dividends thereon, or as to the transfer of any such East India Stock in any events specified in any such trusts or will, shall extend and be deemed and construed in all cases and in all Courts of Law and Equity in the United Kingdom or elsewhere in any dominions or territories belonging to Her Majesty to extend and to apply to all Stocks, Funds, or Securities accepted in lieu of any East India Stock, subject to or affected by any such trusts or will, for all purposes and in all cases in which such trusts or to which any such directions can be made applicable: Provided always, that in cases in which any proportions or parts of any such East India Stock are required to be transferred under any such trusts, or under the provisions of or directions contained in any will, or any proporsion or part of any Dividend arising from and out of any such Stock is required to be paid or distributed, the transfer of any Stocks, Funds, or Securities received by way of commutation of the Dividend on such East India Stock, and equivalent at the rate at which such commutation was effected, and the payment and distribution of the Dividends payable upon such Stocks, Funds, or Securities, shall be and be deemed and taken in all Courts and for all purposes to be a due execution of such trusts, or of the directions contained in any such will, and shall fully discharge the trustee or trustees or executor or executors making the same, who are hereby declared to be and are hereby fully indemnified in respect of such execution of any such trusts and executorship as aforesaid.

23 In every case in which any question may have arisen or may arise upon the execution of any trusts, or upon any distributions which may have been or may be made, or may remain to be made, by any trustees, executors, or administrators of or in relation to or arising out of any East India Stock which may have been vested in any trustees, or which may have been distributable by any executors or administrators, or as to the application of any residue thereof, or as to the distribution or application of any Stocks, Funds, or Securities that may be accepted in lieu of the Dividend on any East India Stock under the provisions of this Act, whether as to the powers or authorities of any such trustees, executors, or administrators, or as to the relative interests of any persons entitled under any such trusts or under wills to receive any annuities charged upon or arising or payable out of the proceeds of any such East India Stock, and of any persons interested in any residue of any such Stock, whether under any specific provision relating to any such trusts, or contained in any wills, or arising out of the execution of any wills by any executors, or the distribution of any estates by any administrators, and in all other cases whatsoever in which any question may arise in consequence of commutation under this Act, such trustees, executors, or administrators, and any persons entitled to or interested in any East India Stock, the Dividend on which is commuted under this Act, or any Stocks, Funds, or Securities accepted in lieu of the dividend on such East India Stock commuted under this Act, whether in reversion or otherwise, may make application to the Court of Chancery in England, or the Court of Chancery in Ireland, or to the Court of Session in Scotland, in a summary way, by motion or petition, or summons at Chambers; and the Courts of Chancery in England or Ireland respectively, or the Court of Session in Scotland, may make general orders in relation to any such question, or special orders in a summary way upon any such application or as to any other matter or thing relating to any such Stock, Stocks, Funds, or Securities, or to any Dividend thereon, and all trustees, executors, administrators, and other persons acting under any orders made by any of such Courts respectively, or whose acts shall be confirmed by any of such Courts respectively, if done before any application made to any of the said Courts respectively, shall be and are hereby fully indemnified against all actions, suits, or proceedings for or in respect of any act, matter or thing done by them respectively in pursuance of or under any such order, or which shall be confirmed by any such order; and in case any action, suit, or other proceeding be commenced or instituted against any such trustee, executor, administrator, or other person for or in respect of any such act, matter, or thing, the Court in which such action, suit, or proceeding shall be commenced, or shall be pending, shall upon summary application stay such action, suit, or proceeding, and make such order relative to the costs thereof as such Court may think expedient.

24. All principal sums of money payable to any proprietors of East India Stock, the Dividend whereon is redeemed in pursuance of this Act, which shall not be claimed for ten years after the Thirtieth day of April One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, or for such period after the Thirtieth day of April One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, as with the period immediately preceding the said Thirtieth day of April, during which the Dividends on such Stock shall not have been claimed, shall make up ten years, shall be transferred to the Account of the Secretary of State in Council at the Bank of England.

25. Immediately after every such transfer as last aforesaid the name or names in which the Stock stood on the Thirtieth day of April One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, the residence and description of the parties, the amount transferred, and the date of transfer, shall be entered on a list to be kept for the purpose by the Secretary of State in Council, which list shall be open for inspection at such place and at such times as the Secretary of State in Council shall appoint.

26. On the Thirtieth day of May One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four the East India Company shall pay to the Account of the Secretary of State in Council at the Bank of England all Dividends that have become payable on any portions or shares of East India Stock on or since the Sixth day of July One thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, which shall not have been claimed for ten years before the said Thirtieth day of May One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, together with all dividends accrued due within the said period of ten years in respect of the same portions or shares of stock and then remaining unclaimed.

27. All other dividends on any portions or shares of East India Stock remaining unclaimed on the said Thirtieth day of May One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four shall be paid by the East India Company to an Account to be opened at the Bank of England and to be intituled "East India Stock Dividend Account;" and such Dividends, when claimed within the period of ten years from the date of the same having accrued due, shall be paid by the Bank of England out of such Account. Any Dividend on that Account, if and when unclaimed for the period of ten years from the date of such Dividend having accrued due, and all Dividends subsequently accrued due in respect of the same portion or share of Stock and unclaimed, shall be transferred to the Account of the Secretary of State in Council at the Bank of England.

28. All principal sums of money and Dividends transferred or paid to the Account of the Secretary of State in Council, in pursuance of the directions hereinbefore contained, shall be held by the Secretary of State in Council and applied as part of the revenues of India, subject to the claims of the parties entitled thereto.

29. The Secretary of State in Council shall pay any principal sums of money and Dividends so transferred or paid to the Account of the Secretary of State in Council to any person showing his right thereto to the satisfaction of the Secretary of State in Council.

But in case the Secretary of State in Council is not satisfied of the right of any person claiming to be entitled to any such principal moneys or Dividends, the claimant may apply by petition in respect thereof in a summary way to the Court of Chancery.

The petition shall be served upon the Solicitor to the India Office, and the Court shall make such order thereon (for payment of the principal moneys and Dividends to which the petition relates, or otherwise), and in respect of the costs of the application, as to the Court seems just.

30. Principal sums exceeding the sum of Twenty pounds shall not be paid, nor shall Dividends exceeding Twenty pounds in the whole be paid to a claimant under the preceding section of this Act, until three months after application made for the same, nor until public notice has been given thereof as hereinafter provided.

31. The Secretary of State in Council shall require the applicant to give such public notice as the Secretary of State in Council shall think fit by advertisements in one or more newspapers circulating in London and elsewhere.

Every such notice shall state the name or names, residence, and description of the person or persons in whose name or names the Stock stood on the Thirtieth day of April One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, the amount of the Stock, the name of the claimant, and the time at which payment of the principal money due in respect thereof and of the Dividends, if any, will be made, if no other claimant sooner appears and makes out his claim.

Where any such payment is ordered by the Court of Chancery the notice shall also state the purport of the order.

32. At any time before payment to a claimant any person may apply to the Court of Chancery by Motion or Petition to rescind or vary any order made for such payment.

33. Where any principal moneys or Dividends having been paid as aforesaid to a claimant by the Secretary of State in Council are afterwards claimed by another person, the Secretary of State in Council shall not be responsible for the same to such other claimant, but such other claimant may have recourse against the person to whom payment was made.

34. Provided that if in any case a new claimant establishes his title to any principal moneys or Dividends paid to a former claimant, and is unable to obtain payment thereof from the former claimant, the Court of Chancery shall, on application by petition by the new claimant, verified as the Court requires, order the Secretary of State in Council to pay to the new claimant such sum of money, or make such other order on the application, as the Court thinks just.

35. Upon or as soon as conveniently may be after the Thirtieth day of April One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, all such books and documents as concern the ownership of Shares in East India Stock, and the payments to the proprietors of East India Stock of their respective shares of the Dividend thereon, shall be delivered into the care and custody of the Secretary of State in Council, as the Secretary of State in Council may direct.

36. On the First day of June One thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and on payment by the East India Company of all unclaimed Dividends on East India Stock to such accounts as are hereinbefore mentioned in pursuance of the directions hereinbefore contained, the powers of the East India Company shall cease, and the said Company shall be dissolved.

37. This Act shall be and is hereby declared to be a full and complete indemnity and discharge to the East India Company, and the Directors thereof, and the Commissioners for the Reduction of the National Debt, and the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, their officers and servants, and every of them, for all things done or permitted to be done pursuant thereto, and the same shall not be questioned or impeached in any Court of Law or Equity whatever to their prejudice or detriment.

No. 139.—Simla, the 5th August 1873.—Notifications.—Revenue.—The following Regulation is published for general information:—

BENGAL EASTERN FRONTIER REGULATION I OF 1873.

A Regulation for the peace and government of certain districts on the Eastern Frontier of Bengal.

WHEREAS the Secretary of State for India in Council has by Resolution in Council declared the provisions of Act XXXIII Vic., Cap. 3, Section 1, to be applicable to the districts of Kamroop, Durrung, Nowgong, Seebsaugor, Luckimpore, Garo Hills, Khasi and Jynteah Hills, Naga Hills, Cachar, and Chittagong Hills;

And whereas the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has proposed to the Governor-General in Council a draft of the following Regulation, together with the reasons for proposing the same, for the peace and government of the said districts;

And whereas the Governor-General in Council has taken such draft and reasons into consideration, and has approved of such draft, and the same has received the Governor-General's assent;—

The following Regulation is now published in the Gazette of India, and will be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and will thereupon have the force of law, under the thirty-third of Victoria, Chapter III:—

1. This Regulation shall extend to the districts named in the preamble, and shall come into force on the 1st of November 1873.

2. It shall be lawful for the Local Government of Bengal, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to prescribe, and from time to time to alter, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, a line to be called "The Inner Line" in each or any of the above-named districts.

The Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, prohibit all British subjects, or any class of British subjects, or any persons residing in or passing through such districts from going beyond such line without a pass under the hand and seal of the chief Executive Officer of such district, or of such other officer as he may authorize to grant such pass; and the Local Government may from time to time cancel or vary such prohibition.

3. Any British subject or other person so prohibited, who, after "The Inner Line" has been prescribed and notified in accordance with Section 2 of this Regulation, goes beyond such line without a pass, shall be liable on conviction before a Magistrate to a fine not exceeding Rupees 100 for the first offence, and to a fine not exceeding Rupees 500, or to simple or rigorous imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, or to both, for each subsequent offence.

4. The Local Government may from time to time prescribe by notification in the Calcutta Gazette a form of pass for each district, and may in such form fix such restrictions or conditions as the Local Government may deem fit, and may require the payment of such dues and fees for such passes as to the Local Government may seem proper. Any holder of such a pass shall, on breach of any such restriction or condition, be liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding Rupees 100 for a first offence, and to a fine not exceeding Rupees 500, or to simple or rigorous imprisonment, which may extend to three months, or to both, for each subsequent offence.

5. Any rubber, wax, ivory, or other jungle product found in the possession of any person convicted of an offence under this Regulation, may be confiscated to Government by an order to be passed at the time of conviction by the Magistrate.

6. The chief Executive Officer of any district comprised in any notification as aforesaid may, subject to the approval of the Local Government, authorize, by a written instrument under his hand, any public servant to arrest and bring before him with the least practicable delay—

Firstly.—Any person prohibited from crossing "The Inner Line" prescribed for such district, if such person shall be found beyond the line, and when asked to produce his pass shall refuse or be unable so to do.

Secondly.—Any person to whom a pass may have been granted, and who has committed any infraction of its conditions.

7. It shall not be lawful for any British subject or other person, not being a native of the district comprised in the preamble of this Regulation, to acquire any interest in land or the product of land beyond the said "Inner Line" without the sanction of the Local Government or such officer as the Local Government shall appoint in this behalf. Any interest so acquired may be dealt with as the Local Government or its said officer shall direct. The Local Government may also, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, extend the prohibition contained in this section to any class of persons, natives of the said districts, and may from time to time in like manner cancel or vary such extension.

8. Whoever, without the written permission of an officer authorized by the Local Government to grant such permission, kills or captures or attempts to kill or capture, or abets, within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code, the killing or capturing of a wild elephant in any of the districts to which this Regulation extends, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 200 for every such elephant, and any elephant so killed or captured shall be confiscated to Government: Provided that no person who kills, or attempts to kill, or abets the killing of an elephant in protection of himself, his houses, or his crops shall be liable to punishment under this section; and provided also, that every person who in the like case captures, or attempts to capture, or abets the capture of an elephant, shall be exempt from fine under this section, but shall, if the elephant be captured, be bound to surrender it to Government, or to pay such royalty thereon as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

9. It shall be competent for the Local Government to make rules for the issue of licenses to kill or capture elephants, and for all purposes connected with the capture of elephants.

10. The prosecution for every offence punishable under Section 8 of this Regulation shall be commenced within six calendar months after the offence is committed.

11. Offences against this Regulation may be tried by Magistrates of the first or second class, and shall be bailable.

No. 1794.—The 11th August 1873.—The following Extract from the London Gazette, dated Friday, the 27th of June 1873, is published for general information :—

At the Court at Windsor, the 26th day of June 1873.

PRESENT.

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the Session of Parliament holden in thirty-third and thirty-fourth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for amending the law relating to the extradition of criminals," it was amongst other things enacted, that where an arrangement has been made with any foreign State with respect to the surrender to such State of any fugitive criminals, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, direct that the said Act shall apply in the case of such foreign State; and that Her Majesty may, by the same or any subsequent Order, limit the operation of the Order and restrict the same to fugitive criminals who are in or suspected of being in the part of Her Majesty's dominions specified in the order, and render the operation thereof subject to such conditions, exceptions, and qualifications as may be deemed expedient:

And whereas a Treaty was concluded on the thirty-first day of March last between Her Majesty and the King of Denmark for the mutual extradition of fugitive criminals, which Treaty is in the terms following :—

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Majesty the King of Demark, having judged it expedient, with a view to the better administration of justice, and to the prevention of crime within their respective territories and jurisdictions, that persons charged with or convicted of the crimes hereinafter enumerated, and being fugitives from justice, should, under certain circumstances, be reciprocally delivered up; their said Majesties have named as their Plenipotentaries to conclude a Treaty for this purpose, that is to say :

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Sir Charles Lennox Wyke, Knight Commander of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Her Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to His Majesty the King of Demark :

And His Majesty the King of Demark, Baron Otto Ditley Rosenorn-Lehn, Knight Commander of the Order of the Danebrog and Danebrogsmand, His Majesty's Minister for Foreign Affairs .

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon the following Articles :—

Da Hans Majestæt Kongen af Danmark og Hendes Majestæt Dronningen af det forenede Kongerige Storbritannien og Irland, til bedre Haandhævelse af Retsplein og til Forebyggelse af Forbrydelser indenfor deres respektive Territorier og Statsgebeter, have anseet det for gavnligt, at Personer, som ere anklagede for eller overbeviste om at have gjort sig skyldige i de nedenfor angivne Forbrydelser og ved Flugt have unddraget sig Retsforfolgning, blive under visse Omstændigheder gjensidigen udleverede, saa have bemeldte Majestæter til i dette Oiemed at afslutte en Traktat udnævnt til deres Befuldmægtigede :

Hendes Majestæt Dronningen af det forenede Kongerige Storbritannien og Irland, Sir Charles Lennox Wyke, Kommandeur af Bath-Ordenen, Hendes Majestæts overordenlige Gesandt og befuldmægtigede Minister hos Hans Majestæt Kongen af Danmark :

Og Hans Majestæt Kongen af Danmark, Baron Otto Ditlev Rosenörn-Lehn, Kommandeur af Danebrog og Danebrogsmand, Hans Majestæts Udenrigsminister :

Hvilke, efter gjensidig Meddelelse af deres respektive Fuldmagter, der befandtes i god og rigtig Form, ere komne overeens om følgende Artikler :—

ARTICLE I.

It is agreed that Her Britannic Majesty and His Majesty the King of Denmark shall, on requisition made in their name by their respective Diplomatic Agents, deliver up to each other reciprocally, any persons, except native born or naturalized subjects of the Party upon whom the requisition may be made, who, being accused or convicted of any of the crimes hereinafter specified, committed within the territories of the requiring party shall be found within the territories of the other party :—

1. Murder, or attempt or conspiracy to murder.
2. Manslaughter.
3. Counterfeiting or altering money, or uttering counterfeit or altered money.
4. Forgery, or counterfeiting, or altering or uttering what is forged or counterfeited or altered.

19. Revolt or conspiracy to revolt by two or more persons on board a ship on the high seas against the authority of the master.

Provided that the surrender shall be made only when, in the case of a person accused, the commission of the crime shall be so established as that the laws of the country where the fugitive or person so accused shall be found would justify his apprehension and commitment for trial if the crime had been there committed; and, in the case of a person alleged to have been convicted, on such evidence as, according to the laws of the country where he is found, would prove that he had been convicted.

ARTICLE II.

In the dominions of Her Britannic Majesty, other than the Colonies or foreign possessions of Her Majesty, the manner of proceeding shall be as follows:—

I. In the case of a person accused—

The requisition for the surrender shall be made to Her Britannic Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs by the Minister or other Diplomatic Agent of His Majesty the King of Denmark at London, accompanied by (1) a warrant or other equivalent judicial document for the arrest of the accused, issued by a Judge or Magistrate duly authorized to take cognizance of the acts charged against him in Denmark; (2) duly authenticated depositions or statements taken on oath before such Judge or Magistrate, clearly setting forth the acts on account of which the fugitive is demanded; and (3) a description of the person claimed, and any other particulars which may serve to identify him. The said Secretary of State shall transmit such documents to Her Britannic Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, who shall, then by order under his hand and seal, signify to some Police Magistrate in London that such requisition der begaaes af en Depositarius, Bankier, Agent, Faktor, Værge, Kurator eller af et Selskabs Bestyrer, Medlem eller offentlige Betjente.

18. Voldsgjerninger ombord paa et Skibe in rum Sö udövede i den Hensigt at dræb eller tilföie en större Legemsbeskadigelse.
19. Mytteri ombord paa et Skib i rum Sö mod Skibsförerens Myndighed eller derpaa rettet Sammenrottelse af to eller flere Personer.

Udleveringen af en Person, der er anklaget for en Forbrydelse, skal dog ikkun da finde Sted, naar der er tilveiebragt et saadant Bevis for Udförelsen af denne, at der efter det Lands Love, hvor den Undvegne eller Anklagede antræffes, deri vilde indeholdes tilstrækkelig Hjemmel til at paagribe ham og stille ham for Retten, hvis Forbrydelsen var begaaet i dette Land. Ligeledes skal Udleveringen af en Person, der angives at være domfældt alene finde Sted efter Forelæggelse af et saadant Retsdokument, som ifölge det Lands Love, hvor han antræffes, vilde afgive Bevis for hans Domfældelse.

ARTIKEL II.

I Hendes Britiske Majestæts Lande, med Undtagelse af Hendes Majestæts Kolonier eller Bilande, skal följende Fremgangsmaade anvendes:—

I. I det Tilfælde, at den Person, der fordres udleveret, er anklaget—

Skal Begjæringen om Udlevering skee til Hendes Britiske Majestæts förste Statssecretair for de udenlandske Anliggender ved Hans Majestæt Kongen af Danmarks Gesandt eller diplomatiske Agent i London og denne Begjæring skal være ledsaget (1) af en Fængslingskjendelse eller et andet tilsvarende Retsdokument angaaende den Paagjældendes Fængsling, udsedt af en Dommer eller anden Retsembedsmand, som er behörig bemyndiget til at gjöre de Handlinger, der lægges den Paagjældende til Last i Danmark, til Gjenstand for Undersogelse; (2) af behörig legaliserede Udsagn og Forklaringer, som under Eed ere afgivne for en saadan Dommer eller Retsembedsmand, og som give en klar Fremstilling af de Handlinger, paa Grund af hvilke Udleveringen er begjært, samt endelig; (3) af en Beskrivelse af den Person, der fordres udleveret, og af en Meddelelse af andre Data, som kunne tjenee til at godtgjore hans Identitet. Bemeldte Statsse-has been made and require him, if there be due cause, to issue his warrant for the apprehension of the fugitive.

On the receipt of such order from the Secretary of State, and on the production of such evidence as would, in the opinion of the Magistrate, justify the issue of the warrant if the crime had been committed in the United Kingdom, he shall issue his warrant accordingly.

When the fugitive shall have been apprehended in virtue of such warrant, he shall be brought before the Police Magistrate who issued it, or some other Police Magistrate in London. If the evidence to be then produced shall be such as to justify, according to the law of England, the committal for trial of the prisoner, if the crime of which he is accused had been committed in England, the Police Magistrate shall commit him to prison to await the warrant of the Secretary of State for his surrender; sending immediately to the Secretary of State a certificate of the committal and a report upon the case.

After the expiration of a period from the committal of the prisoner, which shall never be less than fifteen days, the Secretary of State shall, by order under his hand and seal, order the fugitive criminal to be surrendered to such person as may be duly authorized to receive him on the part of the Government of His Majesty the King of Denmark.

II. In the case of a person convicted—

The course of proceeding shall be the same as in the preceding case of a person accused, except that the document to be produced by the Minister or other Diplomatic Agent of His Danish Majesty in support of his requisition, shall clearly set forth the crime of which the person claimed has been convicted, and state the fact, place, and date of his conviction. The evidence to be produced before the Police Magistrate shall be such as would, according to the law of England, prove that the prisoner was convicted of the crime charged.

After the Police Magistrate shall have committed the accused or convicted person to prison to await the order of a Secretary of State for his surrender, such person shall have the right to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. If he should so apply, his surrender must be deferred until after the decision of cretair skal fremsende disse Dokumenter til Hendes Britiske Majestæts første Statssecretair for de indenrigske Forhold, og denne skal da ved en med sin Underskrift og sit Segl forsynet Ordre meddele en Politimyndighed i London, at en Begjæring som den ovennævnte er fremsat, og paalægge ham, hvis han finder den behorig begrundet, at udstede en Befaling om den Undvegnes Paagribelse.

Naar den nævnte Politimyndighed har modtaget en saadan Befaling fra Statssecretairen, og naar den finder det Bevis, der fremlægges for den, at være af saadan Beskaffenhed, at det vilde retfærdiggjore Udstedelsen af en Anholdelsesbefaling, hvis Forbrydelsen var bleven begaaet i det Forenede Kongerige, skal den udstede en saadan Anholdelsesbefaling i Overeensstemmelse dermed.

Naar den Undvegne er bleven anholdt ifolge denne Anholdelsesbefaling, skal han stilles for den Politimyndighed, som udstedte den, eller for en andeu Politimyndighed i London. Dersom det Bevis, der føres for denne, er af saadan Beskaffenhed, at det efter England's Love vilde berettige til at bringe den Anholdte for Domstolene, hvis den Forbrydelse, som han sigtes for, var bleven begaaet i England, skal Politimynigheden sætte ham i Fængsel for der at afvente Statssecretairens Befaling om hans Udlevering. Attest om Fængslingsbefalingen samt eu Beretning om Sagen skal ufortovet sendes til Statssecretairen.

Efter Udlöbet af en vis Tid efter Fængslingen, hvilken Tid aldrig man være kortee end Femten Dage, skal Statssecretairen ved en under sin Haand og sit Segl udfærdiget Befaling beordre den undvegne Forbryder udleveret til den Person, som af Hans Majestæt Kongen af Danmarks Regjering maatte være tilbörlig bemyndiget til at modtage ham.

II. I det Tilfælde at den Person, der fordres udleveret, er domfældt—

Skal Fremgangsmaaden være de samme som i det foregaaende Tilfælde, hvor den Paagjændende var anklaget, dog med Undtagelse at, her det Dokument, som Hans Majestæt Kongen af Danmarks Minister eller diplomatiske Agent har at overlevere til Stötte for sin Begjæring, paa en tydelig Maade skal fremstille den Forbrydelse, for hvilken den Person, der fordres udleveret, er domfældt, og derhos angive den Handling, for hvilken, Stedet hvor og Tiden naar han er bleven dömt. De Bevisligheder, der skulle fremlægges for Politimyndigheden, skulle være af saadan Beskaffenhed, at de efter Englands Love vilde begrunde den Fængsledes Domfældelse for den Forbrydelse, som han er sigtet for.

Efter at Politimyndigheden har befalet, at den anklagede eller domfældte Person skal sættes i Fængsel for der at afvente Statssecretairens Befaling angaaende hans Udlevering, skal den Fængslede have Ret til at forlange "a writ of habeas corpus." Hvis den Fængslede gjör Brug af denne Ret, skal the Court upon the return to the writ, and even then can only take place if the decision is adverse to the applicant. In the latter case the Court may at once order his delivery to the person authorized to receive him, without the order of a Secretary of State for his surrender, or commit him to prison to await such order.

ARTICLE III.

In the dominions of His Majesty the King of Denmark other than the Colonies or foreign possessions of His said Majesty, the manner of proceeding shall be as follows:—

I. In the case of a person accused—

The requisition for the surrender shall be made to the Minister for Foreign Affairs of His Majesty the King of Denmark by the Minister or other Diplomatic Agent of Her Britannic Majesty at Copenhagen, accompanied by (1) a warrant for the arrest of the accused, issued by a Judge or Magistrate duly authorized to take cognizance of the acts charged against him in Great Britain; (2) duly authenticated depositions or statements taken on oath before such Judge or Magistrate, clearly setting forth the acts on account of which the fugitive is demanded; and (3) a description of the person claimed, and any other particulars which may serve to identify him.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs of His Majesty the King of Denmark shall transmit such requisition for surrender to the Minister of Justice of His Majesty the King of Denmark, who, after having ascertained that the crime therein specified is one of those enumerated in the present treaty, and satisfied himself that the evidence produced is such as, according to Danish law, would justify the committal for trial of the individual demanded, if the crime had been committed in Denmark, shall take the necessary measures for causing the fugitive to be delivered to the person charged to receive him by the Government of Her Britannic Majesty.

II. In the case of a person convicted—

The course of proceeding shall be the same as in the preceding case of a person accused, except that the warrant to be transmitted by the Minister or other Diplomatic Agent of Her Britannic Majesty in support of his requisition, shall clearly set forth the crime of which the person claimed has been convicted, and state the fact, place, and date of his conviction. The evidence to be produced shall be such as would, according to the laws of Denmark, prove that the prisoner was convicted of the crime charged.

Udleveringen opsættes, indtil Retten har afgivet sin Kjendelse, og ikkun finde Sted, hvis Kjendelsen gaaer den Fængslede imod. I sidste Tilfælde kan Retten enten strax beordre den Fængsledes Udlevering til den dertil bemyndigede Person, uden at afvente Statssecretairens Befaling om hans Udlevering eller paany lade ham sette i Fængsel for der at oppebie denne Befaling.

ARTIKEL III.

I Hans Majestæt Kongen af Danmarks Lande, med Undtagelse af Kolonierne og andre Bilande, skal følgende Fremgangsmaade anvendes:—

I. I det Tilfælde at den Person, der fordres udleveret, er anklaget—

Skal Begjæringen om Udlevering skee til Hans Majestæt Kongen af Danmarks Udenrigsminister ved Hendes Britiske Majestæts Minister eller diplomatiske Agent i Kjöbenhavn, og denne Begjæring skal være ledsaget (1) af en Fængslingskjendelse, der er udstedt af en Dommer eller anden Retsembedsmand, som er behörig bemyndiget til at gjöre de Handlinger, der lægges ham til Last i Storbritannien, til Gjenstand for Undersögelse; (2) af behörig legaliserede Udsagn og Forklaringer, der ere edeligen afgivne for en saadan Dommer eller Retsembedsmand, og som give en tydelig Fremstilling af de Handlinger, paa Grund af hvilke Udleveringen er begjært; og (3) af en Beskrivelse af den Person, der fordres udleveret, og af en Meddelese af andre Data, som kunne tjene til at godtgjore hans Identitet.

Hans Majestæt Kongen af Danmarks Udenrigsminister fremsender den saaledes modtagne Udleveringsbegjæring til Hans Majestæt Kongen af Danmarks Justitsminister, der, naar han efter anstillet Undersögelse finder, at Udleveringsbegjæringen har Medhold i denne Traktat, og at det Bevis, der fremlægges, er af saadan Beskaffenhed, at det efter Danmarks Love vilde berettige til at bringe den Person, hvis Udlevering begjæres, for Domstolene, saafremt den Forbrydelse, for hvilken hav sigtes, vas bleven begaaet i Danmark, træffer de fornödne Foranstaltninger til den Undvegnes Udlevering til den Person, som af Hendes Britiske Majestæts Regjering er tilbörligt bemyndiget til at modtage ham.

II. I det Tilfælde at den Person, der fordres udleveret, domfældt—

Skal Fremgangsmaaden være den samme som i det foregaaende Tilfælde, hvor den Paagjældenne var anklaget, dog med Undtagelse af, at her det Dokument, som Hendes Britiske Majestæts Minister eller diplomatiske Agent har at overlevere til Stötte for sin Begjæring, paa en tydelig Maade skal fremstille den Forbrydelse, for hvilken den Person, som fordres udleveret, er domfældt, og derhos angive den Handling, for hvilken, samt Stedet hvor og Tiden naar han er bleven dömt. De Bevisligheder, der skulle fremlægges, skulle være af saadan Beskaffenhed, at de efter de danske Love vilde begrunde den Fængsledes Domfældelse, for den Forbrydelse, hvilken han sigtes.

ARTICLE IV.

A fugitive criminal may, however, be apprehended under a warrant issued by any Police Magistrate, Justice of the Peace, or other competent authority in either country, on such information or complaint, and such evidence, or after such proceedings as would, in the opinion of the person issuing the warrant, justify the issue of a warrant, if the crime had been committed or the prisoner convicted, in that part of the dominions of the two contracting parties in which he exercises jurisdiction: Provided, however, that in the United Kingdom the accused shall, in such case, be sent as speedily as possible before a Police Magistrate in London; and that in the dominions of His Majesty the King of Denmark, the case shall be immediately submitted to the Minister of Justice of His Majesty the King of Denmark; and provided, also, that the individual arrested shall in either country be discharged, if within fifteen days a requisition shall not have been made for his surrender by the Diplomatic Agent of his country, in the manner directed by Articles II and III of this Treaty.

The same rule shall apply to the cases of persons accused or convicted of any of the crimes specified in this Treaty, committed on the high seas, on board a vessel of either country, which may come into a port of the other.

ARTIKEL IV.

En undvegen Forbryder kan imidlertid blive anholdt ifölge en Anholdelsesbefaling, der er bleven udstedt af en Politimyndighed, Fredsdommer eller anden kompetent Myndighed, i et af de to Lande ifölge saadan Anmeldelse eller Klage og saadanne Beviligheder samt under Iagttagelse af den formlige Fremgangsmaade, som efter dens Mening, der udsteder Anholdelsesbefalingen, vilde retfærdiggjöre sammes Udstedelse, dersom Forbrydelsen var bleven begaaet eller Forbryderen domfældti den Del af de kontraherende Parters Territorium, hvor vedkommende Myndighed re kompetent. Dette kan dog kun skee paa den Betingelse, at i saadant Tilfælde den Anklagede i det Forenede Kongerige saa hurtigt som muligt stilles for en Politimyndighed i London, og at Sagen i Hans Majestæt Kongen af Denmarks Lande uopholdelig forelægges for Hans Majestæts Justitsminister, samt at i begge Lande den anholdte Person skal löslades, dersom der ikke inden femten Dages Forlöb skeer en Begjæring om hans Udlevering ved hans Lands diplomatiske Agent paa den Maade, som er angiven i Artiklerne II og III i denne Traktat.

Den samme Regel skal komme til Anvendelse paa Personer, der ere anklagede eller domfældte for nogen af de i denne Traktat opregnede Forbrydelser, naar disse ere begaaede i rum Sö ombord paa et af de to Landes Skibe, og dette maatte være löbet ind i en Havn i det andet land.

ARTICLE V.

If the fugitive criminal who has been committed to prison be not surrendered and conveyed away within two months after such committal (or within two months after the decision of the Court, upon the return to a writ of habeas corpus in the United Kingdom), he shall be discharged from custody, unless sufficient cause be shown to the contrary.

ARTIKEL V.

Dersom den undvegne Forbryder, som er bleven fængslet, ikke er bleven udleveret og bortfört inden to Maaneder efter Fængsling en (eller inden to Maaneder efter den Domstols Kjendelse, som i det Forenede Kongerige er afsagt ifölge "writ of habeas corpus,") skal han löslades af Fængslet, medmindre der kan paavises tilstrækkelig Grund til det Modsatte.

ARTICLE VI.

When any person shall have been surrendered by either of the High Contracting Parties to the other, such persons shall not, until he has been restored or had an opportunity of returning to the country from whence he was surrendered, be triable or tried for any offence committed in the other country prior to the surrender, other than the particular offence on account of which he was surrendered.

ARTIKEL VI.

Naar en Person er bleven udleveret af den ene af de kontraherende Parter til den anden, skal han, saalænge han ikke er bleven tilbageleveret eller har havt Leilighed til at vende tilbage til det Land, hvorfra han er bleven udleveret, ikke kunne drages til Ansvar eller dömmes for nogen anden Forbrydelse, som han forinden Udleveringen maatte have begaaet i det andet Land, end den, paa Grund af hvilken han blev udleveret.

ARTICLE VII.

No accused or convicted person shall be surrendered, if the offence in respect of which his surrender is demanded shall be deemed

ARTICLE VIII.

Warrants, depositions, or statements on oath, issued or taken in the dominions of either of the two High Contracting Parties, and copies thereof, and certificates of or judicial documents stating the fact of conviction, shall be received in evidence in proceedings in the dominions of the other, if purporting to be signed or certified by a Judge, Magistrate, or officer of the country where they were issued or taken, and provided they are authenticated by the oath of some witness, or by being sealed with the official seal of the Minister of Justice, or some other Minister of State.

ARTICLE IX.

The surrender shall not take place if, since the commission of the acts charged, the accusation, or the conviction, exemption from prosecution or punishment has been acquired by lapse of time, according to the laws of the country where the accused or convicted person shall have taken refuge.

ARTICLE X.

If the individual claimed should be under prosecution, or in custody, for a crime or offence committed in the country where he may have taken refuge, his surrender may be deferred until he shall have been set at liberty in due course of law.

In case he should be proceeded against or detained in such country, on account of obligations contracted towards private individuals, his surrender shall nevertheless take place, the injured party retaining his right to prosecute his claims before the competent authority.

ARTICLE XI.

Every article found in the possession of the individual claimed at the time of his arrest shall be seized, in order to be delivered up with his person at the time when the surrender shall be made. Such delivery shall not be limited to the property or articles obtained by stealing or by fraudulent bankruptcy, but shall extend to everything that

ARTIKEL VIII.

Fænglings-og Anholdelsesbefalinger, Forklaringer og edelige Vidnesbyrd, der ere udstedte eller optagne i et af de to höie kontraherende Parters Lande, eller Afskrifter af saadanne, og Attester og Retsdokumenter, som godtgjöre Domfældelsen, skulle tages for gyldige ved Retsforhandlingen i det andet Land, dersom de vise sig at være underskrevne eller bekræftede af en Dommer, Retsbetjent eller anden Embedsmand i det Land, hvor de ere udstedte eller optagne, under Forudsætning af at de ere bekræftede ved Vidners Ed eller ved at være forsynede med Justitsministerens eller en anden Ministers officielle Segl.

ARTIKEL IX.

Udleveringen skal ikke finde Sted, dersom der, efter at Gjerningen er bleven begaaet, eller Anklagen er reist, eller Dommen er fældet, er forloben saa lang Tid, at Retsforfölgningen eller Straffen er bleven forældet ifolge det Lands Love, hvor den Anklagede eller Domfældte her taget Tilflugt.

ARTIKEL X.

Dersom den Person, som fordres udleveret maatte være under Retsforfölgning eller i Fængsel for en Forbrydelse eller en Forseelse, som er bleven begaaet i det Land, hvor han har taget Tilflugt, kan hans Udlevering udsættes, indtil han atter lovligen er bleven lösladt.

Dersom der maatte være anlagt Sag imod ham, eller dersom han maatte være arresteret i dette Land formedelst Forpligtelser, som han maatte have paadraget sig imod private Personer, skal hans Udlevering ikke destomindre finde Sted, men den formeentlig forurettede Part beholder Ret til at forfölge sin Sag for den kompetente Myndighed.

ARTIKEL XI.

Enhver Gjenstand, som findes i den Persons Besiddelse, der fordres udleveret, paa den Tid, han fængsles, skal tages i Forvaring, for derefter, samtidig med hans Udlevering, at blive afleveret. Denne Aflevering skal ikke indskrænke sig til den Eiendom og de Gjenstande, som ere erhvervede ved Tyveri eller svigagtig Fallit, men skal udstrække sig til enhver Ting, som kan tjene som Bevis for Forbrydelsen. Den skal fremdeles finde Sted, selv om Udleveringen, efterat der er bleven givet Betaling til samme, forhindres paa Grund af den Persons Undvigelse eller Död som fordres udleveret.

ARTICLE XII.

Each of the two Contracting Parties shall defray the expenses occasioned by the arrest within its territories, the detention, and the conveyance to its frontier, of the persons whom it may consent to surrender in pursuance of the present Treaty.

ARTIKEL XII.

Enhver af de to kontraherende Parter skal indenfor sit Territorium betale de Omkostninger, som foranlediges ved Anholdelsen, Fængslingen og Transporten til dens Grænser af de Personer, til hvis Udlevering den ifölge nærværende Traktat maatte give sit Samtykke.

ARTICLE XIII.

The stipulations of the present Treaty shall be applicable to the Colonies or foreign Possessions of the two High Contracting Parties, in the following manner:—

The requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal who has taken refuge in a Colony or foreign Possession of either of the two Contracting Parties, shall be made to the Governor or Chief Authority of such Colony or Possession by the Chief Consular Officer of the other Party in such Colony or Possession; or, if the fugitive has escaped from a Colony or foreign Possession of the Party on whose behalf the requisition is made, by the Governor or Chief Authority of such Colony or Possession.

Such requisitions may be disposed of, subject always, as nearly as may be to the provisions of this Treaty, by the respective Governors or Chief Authorities, who, however, shall be at liberty either to grant the surrender, or to refer the matter to their Government.

Her Britannic Majesty and His Majesty the King of Denmark shall, however, be at liberty to make special arrangements in their Colonies and foreign Possessions for the surrender of criminals who may take refuge therein, on the basis, as nearly as may be, of the provisions of the present Treaty.

ARTIKEL XIII.

Bestmmelserne i næværende Traktat skulle komme til Anvendelse paa de to höie kontraherende Parters Kolonier eller Bilande paa följgende Maade:—

Begjæringen om Udlevering af en undvegen Forbryder, som har taget Tilflugt til en Koloni eller til et Biland, der tilhörer en af de to Kontraherende Parter, skal skee til Gouverneuren eller den den overordnede Myndighed paa saadan Koloni eller Biland ved den anden Parts överste konsulare Embedsmand i vedkommende Koloni eller Biland, eller, hvis Undvigelsen har fundet Sted fra en Koloni eller et Biland, der tilhörer den Part, i hvis Navn Udleveringen begjæres, ved Gouverneuren eller den överste Myndighed i den paagjældende Koloni eller Biland.

Saadanne Begjæringen om Udlevering kunne afgjöres, dog i saa nöje Overeensstemmelse som muligt med Forskrifterne i denne Traktat, af de respektive Gouverneurer eller överste Myndigheder, men det skal dog staae dem frit for enten at samtykke i Udleveringen eller at henvise Sagen til deres Regjeringer.

Hans Majestæt Kongen af Danmark og Hendes Britiske Majestæt skulle dog ogsaa have Ret til at træffe særlige Bestemmelser for deres Koloniers og Bilandes Vedkommende angaaende Udleveringen af de Forbrydere, som maatte tage deres Tilflugt til disse, hvilke Bestemmelser dog skulle holdes saa nær som muligt til Forskrifterne i nærværende Traktat.

ARTICLE XIV.

The present Treaty shall come into operation ten days after its publication, in conformity with the forms prescribed by the laws of the High Contracting Parties.

After the Treaty shall so have been brought into operation, the Convention concluded between the High Contracting Parties on the 15th of April 1862, shall be considered as cancelled, except as to any proceeding that may have already been taken or commenced in virtue thereof.

ARTIKEL XIV.

Den næværende Traktat skal træde i Kraft 10 Dage efter dens Offentliggjörelse i Overeensstemmelse med de Former, som ere foreskrevne ved Lovgivningen i hvert af de höie kontraherende Parters Lande.

Naar denne Traktat saaledes er traadt i Kraft, skal den imellem de höie kontraherende Parter under 15 April 1862 afsluttede Konvention ansees som ophævet, undtagen forsaavidt der maatte være bleven foretaget eller paabegyndt noget Skridt i Overeensstemmelse med samme.

Either Party may at any time terminate the Treaty on giving to the other six months' notice of its intention.

Enhver af de to Parter kan til enhver Tid sætte Traktaten ud af Kraft, naar denne Hensigt er bleven meddelt den anden 6 Maaneder i Forveien.

ARTICLE XV.

ARTIKEL XV.

The present Treaty shall be ratified, and the ratification shall be exchanged at Copenhagen as soon as may be within four weeks from the date of signature.

In witness whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seals of their arms.

Done at Copenhagen, the thirty-first day of March, in the year of Our Lord One thousand eight hundred and seventy-three.

Denne Traktat skal ratificeres, og Ratifikationerne skulle udvexles i Kjöbenhavn saasnart som muligt i Löbet af fire Uger fra Traktatens Undertegning.

Til Bekræftelse heraf have de respective Befuldmægtigede undertegnet denne Traktat og paatrykt samme deres Vaabensegl.

Givet i Kjöbenhavn den 31 Marts i Herrens Aar Atten Hundrede og Tre og Halvfjerds-sindstyve.

(L.S.) CHARLES LENNOX WYKE.
(L.S.) O. D. ROSENORN-LEHN.

And whereas the ratifications of the said Treaty were exchanged at Copenhagen on the twenty-sixth day of April last:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, and in virtue of the authority committed to Her by the said recited Act, doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the seventh day of July, One thousand eight hundred and seventy-three the said Act shall apply in the case of the said Treaty with the King of Denmark.

The 12th August 1873.—The following Resolution by the Government of India in the Financial Department is published for general information :—

No. 1959, dated Simla, the 31st July 1873.

The Governor-General in Council observes that of late sanction has been frequently asked for immediate expenditure for which no provision has been made in the estimates of the current year.

His Excellency in Council desires to remind local Governments and Heads of Departments that, save for exceptional reasons, such expenditure should not be proposed, and cannot be sanctioned.

Whenever therefore a proposition of this kind is made, the fact that provision has not been made for the desired expenditure in the estimates should be prominently set forth, as well as the particular reasons why it is nevertheless considered indispensably necessary that the outlay should be immediately incurred and should not be postponed to the next financial year. Explanations should also be invariably given why the need for the expenditure was not foreseen in time to obtain sanction for its inclusion in the estimates.

In the absence of such special arguments, the Governor-General in Council will in future assume that it is intended that any expenditure proposed should have effect from the beginning of the following financial year and not earlier.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India, to the several local Governments, to the Heads of Departments under the Financial Department, to the Comptroller-General, and to the several Accountants-General and Deputy Accountants-General in independent charge.

The 19th August 1873.—The following proclamation, regarding the rates of road cess fixed by the Road Cess Committee of Hooghly, and regarding the liabilities and rights of ryots under the District Road Cess Act, has been issued in Bengali and English to the people of the Hooghly district, and is now published :—

PROCLAMATION.

DISTRICT OF HOOGHLY.

THE road cess leviable under Bengal Act X of 1871 has been imposed by the Road Cess Committee of the district of Hooghly for the road cess year 1873-74, at the rate of one pice per rupee on the assessed value of all lands, and also on mines, &c.; and at the rates following on the houses of persons who do not pay road cess, and on shops :—

Dwelling houses estimated to be of the present value of—

						Yearly Cess. Rs.	A.	P.
Not less than Rs.	100	but less than Rs.	500	...	...	0	8	0
,, ,,	500	,, ,,	1,000	...	...	1	8	0
,, ,,	1,000	,, ,,	2,000	...	...	2	4	0
	2,000 and upwards	...	...	...	...	1	8	0

for every 1,000 or part thereof of estimated present value.

Shops and buildings used for purposes of trade whose estimated present value is more than Rs. 25 and less than Rs. 100, to pay a yearly cess of 8 annas.

But municipalities in which the District Municipal Improvement Act and District Towns' Act are in force, are exempt from all road cess. The road cess is leviable from the zemindars, under-holders, and ryots, with each instalment of revenue or rent due, from and after 1st October next.

The rates at which the tax has been imposed have been notified by the Collector in the district and published in the Gazette, as required by Section 75 of the Act. Notice of the amount payable will also be given to the owner of each estate; and the Board of Revenue will circulate particulars of the modes, rates, and conditions under which the tax is to be levied by and from the various classes of tenure-holders and cultivators.

This proclamation is chiefly to inform the ryots of their liabilities and rights.

From and after 1st October next every ryot in the district of Hooghly is bound to pay to the person to whom his rent is payable, and along with his rent, half the rate of road cess imposed by the committee: that is, the ryot is to pay half of a pice for every rupee of rent. This tax then is of the nature of a cess at half a pice per rupee of rent payable by each ryot. By the provisions of the regulations no other cess is legal or recoverable by law; this one cess only has been imposed by law, and the zemindars and other holders are authorized to levy it at the rate named above.

As regards the house-tax, all house and shopholders are warned that they are not liable to pay the tax in any case unless the house or shop has been included, with the value thereof, in a roll of houses, assessed to the road cess posted in the village as the Act, Section 43, requires. All agricultural ryots and all landholders who carry on no other trade or profession are exempt from this house-tax. All houses of less than Rs. 100 value, and all shops of less than Rs. 25 value, are also exempt from this tax.

All persons assessed to the road cess are informed and assured by the Government that every pice levied under the Act will be spent in the district in which it is raised to improve the local roads, canals, and rivers, in the district, for the benefit of the inhabitants; nothing will be diverted to any other purpose than that which the law directs.

Sub-divisions of the district will be arranged, and a fair proportion of the proceeds of the tax will be apportioned for the petty roads of that sub-division. That money will be distributed and spent by local men, trusted by the inhabitants, who will be selected or elected for the purpose. Every tax-payer is encouraged and invited to claim that the tax shall be fairly applied to the village roads and local paths or water channels in which he is interested. The Government will use every effort to see that such local claims are fairly met, and that every tax-payer derives a fair benefit from the tax which he pays.

NOTIFICATION.

The 18th August 1873.—Under the provisions of Section 70, Act X (B.C.) of 1871 the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to determine that the meetings of the Road Cess Committees, under the said section, for the preparation of estimates of their income and expenditure for the cess year commencing from the 1st October 1874, shall be held in the month of July 1874, and in the month of July of every subsequent year till further orders. This notification will be applicable to every district to which the District Road Cess Act shall have been extended by the Lieutenant-Governor, under the provisions of Section 1 of the Act.

From—R. B. CHAPMAN, Esq., Secy. to the Govt. of India, Financial Department,

To—The Comptroller-General and to all Accountants-General.

Applications for sanction for expenditure are sometimes made to Accountants-General or to the Comptroller-General, and by these officers forwarded to the local Government or the Government of India, as the case may be.

2. This procedure is wrong in principle and often inconvenient in its results.

3. In future, therefore, whenever such an application, or any application for relaxation of the Leave or Pension Rules and the like, reaches an officer in the Account Department, he should simply return it, referring the officer making it to the proper executive authority.

The correspondence reproduced below is forwarded for the information and guidance of Sessions Judges and Magistrates.

By order of the High Court,

Extract (paragraphs 1, 2, and 3) from a letter from the Officiating Additional Sessions Judge of ——— No. 162, dated 10*th July* 1873.

(1.) In all criminal cases which come before me from Native Deputy Magistrates, I find that while all the witnesses' depositions are written by the Deputy Magistrates with their own hands, directly the confession of a prisoner has to be recorded, the Magistrate allows a Mohurir to write it, and contents himself with making English notes of the substance of the confession, though it is needless to remark that the importance of having an accurate record of the statement made is far the greater with respect to confessions

(2.) I wrote six months ago to the Magistrate of ——— on the subject a letter, a copy of which I enclose; but I do not find that any attention is paid to it, and the matter has just been prominently brought to my notice at the recent Sessions at when a Deputy Magistrate admitted before me, when I examined him about a confession recorded in his presence, that he allowed the Police Officer, who had brought in the man, to be present while the confession was recorded by a Mohurrir and to suggest questions to be put to the confessing prisoner.

(3.) I asked the Deputy Magistrate why he had not written the confession himself. He said that the law did not make it compulsory on him to do so.

From W. M. SOUTTAR, Esq., Registrar of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, to the Officiating Additional Sessions Judge of ——— No. 1047, dated Calcutta, the 30*th July* 1873.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 162, dated 10th instant, in which you suggest the issue of instructions with a view to secure the recording of confessions by Magistrates with their own hands.

2. I am to observe in reply that the Court are unable to take away by order a discretion which the law (Section 346, Criminal Procedure Code) allows a Magistrate; for this matter does not come within Section 335. But they agree with you that it is not proper to allow the Police Officer, who brought the prisoner, to be present while the confession is being recorded by a Mohurrir, and to suggest questions to be put to the confessing prisoner. The Court would not be much inclined to attach weight to a confession obtained under such circumstances, though the confession might be admissible; but the course taken suggests that the Deputy Magistrate was not really conducting the inquiry himself.

A question having been raised as to whether there should be any refund, and, if so, how it should be effected, of the value of court fee stamps filed on account of process which are not eventually issued, and of postage labels put in on account of letters which have not been despatched, the High Court is pleased to prescribe, for general adoption by all Civil authorities subject to it, the course indicated below as obviating the necessity for any refund at all.

2. As regards stamps furnished by parties for processes, the Court directs that when the stamps are put in, as they ought to be, with an application for process, the process shall be prepared and the stamp affixed to it and immediately punched, leaving the party to issue it or not as he thinks fit. Postage labels ought not to be received unless and until the party desires that the process should be actually transmitted by post, and in that case the process shall be so transmitted.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor having approved of the Registrar of the High Court being relieved of the duty of checking contingent bills of Small Cause Courts, and of the audit for these, as it is for all other Courts of inferior rank, being entrusted to District Judges, the Court is pleased to direct that all bills for travelling allowance, stationery charges, and other contingent expenditure incurred by the Courts of Small Causes in a District be submitted in future to the Judge of that District, instead of, as heretofore, to the High Court.

2. At the desire of the Lieutenant-Governor, the Court will however continue to retain, for the present, the control of the general expenditure on account of contingent charges of Small Cause Courts: and it is accordingly directed that Small Cause Court Judges apply, before the beginning of each official year, for general sanction to the scale of contingent expenditure estimated for, with a view to the preparation of the Budget for the year. The scale in question must be submitted for the approval of the Court, in time for check and control being exercised upon it, before it is included in the Budget.

3. A copy of the scale in each case, after it has received the sanction of the Financial Department in the Budget, will be forwarded by the Accountant-General for the information and guidance of the District Judge within whose District the Small Cause Courts to which it relates are situated.

4. The present instructions supersede, as far as Small Cause Courts are concerned, the orders contained in the Circular Orders specified on the margin, to which, nevertheless, the attention of District Judges is drawn as giving information regarding the system under which the Court has heretofore audited the contingent bills in question, which it will henceforward be their duty to countersign and pass.

RULES FOR THE EXAMINATION OF CANDIDATES FOR SURVEY TEACHERSHIPS.

1. AN examination of candidates for certificates of qualification for employment as survey teachers will be held at the Presidency College, and at such other stations as the Director of Public Instruction may appoint, on the first Monday in February and August.

2. Candidates desirous of appearing at the examination must give notice to the Principal of the Presidency College of their intention one month before the date fixed for the examination, and they must state at the same time in what language they wish to be examined.

3. Each candidate for examination in English must forward with his application a fee of Rs. 4; and each candidate for examination in a vernacular language must forward with his application a fee of Rs. 2.

4. A paper of questions will be given in each of the following subjects.—

I. Surveying.—Including surveying by chain only, compass and chain, and by the plane table.

II. Mensuration—Of lines, surfaces, and solids.

III. Drawing.—Geometrical construction of figures, scales, plans, elevations, and sections of simple buildings or bridges.

Each candidate will also be required to make a survey of a piece of ground to be selected by the officer in charge of the examination, or by some person or persons appointed for the purpose by the Commissioner of the Division. This survey should be executed with the chain and compass, and should be of such extent as to occupy not less than three hours, during which time the persons in charge of this part of the examination should be present on the ground.

The field-book on the completion of the survey will be given to the officer in charge of the examination, and it will be plotted in his presence: as soon as the work of plotting is finished, the field-book and plan will be at once despatched to the Principal of the Presidency College.

5. The paper examination will take place on the same day all over Bengal. It is not necessary that the surveys should take place at the time of the paper examination; but they ought not to be delayed more than a month after the paper examination.

6. Full marks for each of the papers will be 100, and for the practical surveying 200; and in order to pass, a candidate must obtain half marks in each branch.

Acts of the Legislative Council of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 7th August 1873, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XII OF 1873.

An Act for the Repeal of certain Obsolete Enactments.

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient that the enactments mentioned in the schedule to this Act, which have ceased to be in force otherwise than by express and specific repeal, or have by lapse of time and change of circumstances become unnecessary, or which merely repeal prior enactments, should be expressly and specifically repealed; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Enactments in schedule repealed

1. The enactments described in the schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of the same schedule:

Provided that the repeal by this Act of any enactment shall not affect any Statute, Act, or Regulation in which such enactment has been applied, incorporated, or referred to:

And this Act shall not affect the validity or invalidity of anything already done or suffered, or any indemnity already granted, or any right or title already acquired or accrued, or any remedy or proceeding in respect thereof, or the proof of any past act or thing.

Nor shall this Act affect any principle or rule of law, or established jurisdiction, form, or course of pleading, practice, or procedure, or existing usage, custom, privilege, restriction, exemption, office, or appointment, notwithstanding that the same respectively may have been in any manner affirmed, recognised, or derived by, in, or from any enactment hereby repealed:

Nor shall this Act provide or restore any jurisdiction, office, custom, privilege, restriction, exemption, usage, or practice not now existing or in force.

Short title.

Commencement.

2. This Act may be cited as "The Repealing Act, 1873"; and it shall come into force on the passing thereof.

SCHEDULE.

A Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Native Passenger Ships and Coasting Steamers.

Whereas it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to Native Passenger Ships and Coasting Steamers; It is hereby enacted as follows:

Preamble.

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

1. This Act may be called "The Native Passenger Ships and Coasting Steamers' Act, 1873."

Short title.

2. It extends to the whole of British India, and applies (a) to all subjects of Her Majesty within the dominions of Princes and States in India in alliance with Her Majesty, (b) to all Native Indian subjects of Her Majesty without and beyond British India.

Extent and application of Act.

But nothing herein contained applies—

(a). to any Ship-of-War or Transport belonging to, or in the service of, Her Majesty;

(b). to any Ship-of-War belonging to any Foreign Prince or State;

and if the Local Government exempt (as it may from time to time), from the operation of this Act for any period not exceeding one year, any steamer or class of steamers carrying not more than sixty passengers being Natives of Asia or Africa, nothing herein contained shall apply to such steamer or class of steamers during such period.

3. This Act shall come into force on the first day of January 1874.

Commencement.

4. On and from that day the Acts specified in the Schedule hereto annexed shall be repealed.

Repeal of Acts.

But all ports, places and officers appointed, and all certificates granted, under any of the said Acts, shall be deemed to be respectively appointed and granted under this Act.

and the last clause of section 1 of Act No. II of 1860 (to amend the law relating to the Carriage of Passengers by Sea) shall be read as follows:—

"Voyages from Ports in British India to Ports in the Red Sea or Persian Gulf, under the Native Passenger Ships and Coasting Steamers' Act, 1873."

Interpretation-clause.

5. In this Act—

"Magistrate."

The word "Magistrate" means a person exercising powers not inferior to those of a Magistrate of the second class, and includes a Justice of the Peace, and, at the Port of Aden, the Political Resident and his Assistants:

"Local Government."

The words "Local Government" mean the person or persons for the time being immediately administering the Executive Government of the territories where the Port or place in question is situate:

"Master."

The word "Master" includes every person having command or charge of a vessel:

"Passengers."

The word "Passengers" does not include a person in attendance on another person who is not a native of India.

"Native Passenger Ship."

The words "Native Passenger Ship" mean a vessel, whether propelled by wind or steam, carrying more than thirty natives of Asia or Africa as passengers, on any of the following voyages (that is to say):—

(a.) from any place under the Government of the Governor of Fort St. George in Council, or of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal	to	Ceylon, or any place on the Eastern coast of the Bay of Bengal, or in the Straits of Malacca, or to the eastward thereof;
(b.) from Ceylon or any place on the Eastern coast of the Bay of Bengal, or in the Straits of Malacca, or to the eastward thereof	to	any place under the Government of the Governor of Fort St. George in Council, or the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal;
(c.) from any place in British India, or in the dominions of Princes or States in India in alliance with Her Majesty	to	any place in the Red Sea or Persian Gulf;

(d.) from any place in the Red Sea or Persian Gulf } to { any place in British India or the said dominions.

CHAPTER II.

RULES AS TO NATIVE PASSENGER SHIPS.

Native Passenger Ship to sail only from ports appointed by Government.

6. No Native Passenger Ship shall depart or proceed upon any voyage mentioned in section 5 from any Port or place within British India or the said dominions other than such Ports and places as the Local Government may from time to time appoint in this behalf;

and after any Native Passenger Ship has departed or proceeded upon any such voyage from a Port or place so appointed, no person shall be received on board as a passenger, except at some other Port or place so appointed.

Not to sail without certificate.

7. No Native Passenger Ship shall depart or proceed upon any such voyage from any Port or place appointed under this Act, until the Master has obtained a certificate from an officer authorized to grant the same.

Appointment of officers.

8. Within British India, the Local Government shall appoint such persons as it may deem proper to exercise or perform the powers and duties conferred and imposed by this Act.

Master to give notice of day of sailing, &c.

9. The Master of any Native Passenger Ship sailing from any Port or place appointed under this Act, shall give notice to the proper officer that the Ship is to carry Native Passengers, and of her destination, and of the proposed day of sailing.

Such notice shall be given not less than three days before the proposed day of sailing.

Power to enter and inspect Ship.

10. After receiving such notice, the officer aforesaid, or any person authorized by him, shall be at liberty at all times to enter and inspect the Ship and the fittings, provisions, and stores therein.

Ship may be surveyed.

11. The officer aforesaid may, if he think fit, cause the Ship to be surveyed at the expense of the Master by a competent Surveyor, who shall report whether the Ship is, in his opinion, sea-worthy and fit for her intended voyage.

Officer to be satisfied, before giving certificate.

12. The officer aforesaid shall not give his certificate, unless he be satisfied—

That the Ship is sea-worthy.

(1). That the Ship is sea-worthy and properly manned, equipped, fitted, and ventilated; and has not on board any cargo likely, from its quality, quantity, or mode of stowage, to prejudice the health or safety of the passengers:

That the space between-decks for passengers is sufficient.

(2). That the space appropriated to the passengers in the between-decks contains not less than such number of superficial and cubical feet of space for every adult passenger on board (that is to say, for every passenger above twelve years of age, and for every two passengers between the ages of one year and twelve years) as may from time to time be prescribed under section 6.

That the space on the upper-deck is sufficient.

(3). That a space of four superficial feet per adult is left clear on the upper-deck for the use of the passengers:

That there is a due supply of provisions.

(4). That provisions, fuel, and water have been placed on board, of good quality, properly packed, and sufficient to supply the passengers on board during the declared duration of the intended voyage, according to the scale for the time being prescribed under section 46.

Number of passengers.

13. No such Ship shall carry any greater number of passengers than, together with the Master and crew, shall amount to such proportion to the registered or estimated tonnage of the Ship, as may for the time being be prescribed under section 46.

List of passengers.

14. The Master of any such Ship, before departing or proceeding on any such voyage from any Port or place in British India, shall sign two lists specifying (as accurately as may be) the names of all the passengers, and stating the number of the crew; and shall deliver them to the officer aforesaid, who shall thereupon (after having first mustered the passengers and compared the number and names of such passengers with the lists) countersign and return to the Master one of such lists.

The Master shall note in writing on such last-mentioned list, and on any additional list to be made under this Act, the date and supposed cause of death of any passenger who may die on the voyage, and shall forthwith, on the arrival of the Ship at her destination, or at any Port at which it may be intended to land passengers, and before any passengers are landed, produce the list, with any additions thereto made, to any person lawfully exercising Consular authority on behalf of Her Majesty at the Port of arrival, if it be a Foreign Port, or to the Chief Officer of Customs, or the officer (if any) appointed under this Act, at any Port or place at which it is intended to land the passengers, or any of them.

Ship taking additional passengers and touching at intermediate Port.

15. If, after the Ship has departed or proceeded on any such voyage, any additional passengers are taken on board at a Port or place within British India, or the said dominions, appointed under this Act for the embarkation of passengers, or if such Ship, upon her voyage, touch or arrive at any such Port, having previously received on board additional passengers at any place beyond British India, or the said dominions,

the Master shall obtain a fresh certificate from the officer at such Port, and shall make lists of all such additional passengers; and all the provisions hereinbefore contained in that behalf shall be applicable to any certificate granted or list made under this section.

Information to be sent to Ports of embarkation.

16. The Chief Officer of Customs, or the officer (if any) appointed under this Act, at any Port or place within British India, at which the Ship touches or arrives, shall, with advertence to the requirements of this Act, send any particulars which he may deem important respecting the Ship and the passengers conveyed therein, to the officer at the Port from which the Ship commenced her voyage, and also to the officer at any other Port within British India or the said dominions where the passengers or any of them embarked.

Quantity of provisions to be shipped.

17. Every Native Passenger Ship, at the time of departure from the Port or place at which passengers are embarked under this Act, shall have on board good and wholesome provisions for the use and consumption of the passengers, over and above the victualling of the crew, to the amount or in the proportion for the time being prescribed by rules made under section 46.

Contract by passengers for supply of their own provisions.

18. The requirements of this Act respecting the supply of provisions for passengers shall not, except as to the supply of water, be applicable to any passenger who has contracted to furnish his own provisions, and who has, in the opinion of such officer as the Local Government appoints in this behalf, actually furnished such provisions of the quality and to the amount for the time being prescribed by rules made under section 46.

Bond when Ship clears for Port in Red Sea.

19. In the case of every Native Passenger Ship sailing from any Port within British India to any Port in the Red Sea, the officer whose duty it is to grant a port-clearance for any such Ship, shall not grant such clearance unless and until the Owner, Agent, or Master of such Ship, and two sureties resident in British India have by a joint and several bond, become bound unto the Secretary of State for India in Council in the penal sum of five thousand rupees, conditioned to be void if the said Ship touches at Aden on her outward and also on her homeward voyage, and does not leave that Port without having obtained from the proper authority a clean bill of health.

Ships sailing to or from Port in Red Sea to touch at Aden.

20. Every Ship carrying more than thirty passengers being Natives of Asia or Africa, and sailing from any Port east of the Cape of Good Hope to any Port in the Red Sea, or sailing from any Port in the Red Sea to any Port east of the Cape of Good Hope, shall touch at Aden, and shall not leave that Port without having obtained from the proper authority a clean bill of health.

Bill of health.

21. No bill of health shall be granted under section 19 or section 20 in case the Ship has on board a greater number of passengers or persons than in the proportion prescribed for the time being under section 46.

CHAPTER III.

COASTING STEAMERS.

Certificates to be furnished to coasting Steamers intended to carry passengers.

22. Steamers intended to carry passengers on coasting voyages from or to any Port or place within British India, shall, before proceeding on such voyages, be furnished with certificates granted in manner hereinafter provided.

Certificates how granted, &c.

23. Every such certificate shall be granted at the discretion of an officer authorized by the Local Government to grant the same, and shall remain in force for the period therein specified, unless sooner revoked.

The officer so authorized shall not grant such certificate, or suffer the same to remain in force, unless he is satisfied, by survey, that such Steamer is sea-worthy and properly equipped with boats and otherwise, and that the engines and machinery are in a fit state to enable her to proceed on her voyage.

The certificate shall state the limits (if any) within which the Steamer is to ply, and the number of Native Passengers which the Steamer is permitted to carry: such number to be subject to such conditions and variations according to the time of year, the nature of the voyage, and the cargo carried, as the case requires.

The survey mentioned in this section shall be made at least twice in each year at the expense of the Master or Owner, and upon payment of a fee not exceeding twenty rupees.

Copy of certificate to be exhibited.

24. The Owner or Master of any such Steamer shall put up in a conspicuous part of the Ship, so as to be visible to persons on board the same, a copy of the said certificate, and shall keep it in such position so long as the certificate remains in force.

Grant or revocation of certificate to be subject to control of Government.

25. In granting or revoking any certificate under this Act, the officer granting or revoking the same shall be subject to the control of the Local Government, or of any intermediate authority which that Government may appoint.

CHAPTER IV.

PENALTIES.

Penalty for ship unlawfully departing.

26. If any Native Passenger Ship departs or proceeds upon a voyage from any Port or place within British India, or the said dominions, in contravention of the provisions of section 6 or section 7, or if any person is received as a passenger on board a Native Passenger Ship in contravention of the provisions of section 6,

the Owner or Master shall, for every passenger conveyed on a Ship so departing or proceeding, or for every passenger so received on board, be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, or to imprisonment not exceeding one month, or to both;

and the Ship, if found within two years in any place within British India, may be seized and detained by any Chief Officer of Customs until the penalties incurred under this Act have been adjudicated, and the payment of the fines imposed under this Act, with all costs, has been enforced under the provisions hereinafter contained.

Penalty for opposing entry on or inspection of ships.

27. Any person impeding or refusing to allow the entry or inspection mentioned in section 10 shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for each offence, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, or to both.

Penalty for non-compliance with requirements as to list of passengers.

28. Any Master failing to comply with any of the requirements of section 14, as to the list of passengers, or wilfully making any false entry in any such list,

shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for each offence, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, or to both.

Penalty for failing to obtain fresh certificate for additional passengers taken.

29. Any Master wilfully failing to obtain any such fresh certificate, or to make any such list of additional passengers as are mentioned in section 15, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, for to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, or to both.

Penalty for fraudulent alteration in Ship after certificate obtained.

30. Any Master who, after having obtained a certificate under section 6 or section 15, fraudulently does or suffers to be done anything whereby such certificate becomes inapplicable to the altered state of the Ship, its passengers, or other matters to which such certificate relates, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two thousand rupees, or to imprisonment not exceeding six months, or to both.

Penalty for failing to supply passengers with prescribed provisions.

31. Any Master wilfully, and without satisfactory excuse, omitting to supply to every passenger the allowance of food and water prescribed by any rule made under section 46 and for the time being in force shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees for every passenger who has sustained detriment by such omission.

Penalty on Ships bringing excessive number of passengers from certain Foreign Ports to Indian Ports.

32. If any Ship, bringing passengers from any Port or place east of the Cape of Good Hope, and not within British India, or the said dominions, to any Port or place within British India, or the said dominions, has on board a greater number of passengers or persons than in the proportion prescribed by rules made under this Act, the Master of such Ship shall, in addition to any other penalty which he may have incurred under the provisions of this Act, be liable for each person in excess of such proportion to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, or to imprisonment not exceeding one month, or to both.

Penalty for not exhibiting copy of certificate.

33. Any Owner or Master wilfully failing to comply with the requirements of section 24 as to the copy of the certificate, shall, for each offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding a month, or to both.

Penalty for not obtaining bill of health.

34. The Master of any ship described in section 20 wilfully failing to touch at Aden, or leaving that Port without having obtained the bill of health therein mentioned, shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding two thousand rupees, or to imprisonment not exceeding six months, or to both.

Penalty for excess in Steamer of number specified in certificate.

35. If any steamer to which this Act applies has on board any number of passengers which, having regard to the time of the year and other circumstances, is greater than the number allowed by the certificate, the Owner or Master shall, for every passenger over and above the number allowed by the certificate, be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees, or to imprisonment not exceeding one week, or to both.

Penalty for Steamer proceeding without certificate.

36. If any such Steamer proceeds on any such voyage as is mentioned in section 22 without such certificate as aforesaid, the Owner or Master shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding three months, or to both.

Penalty on Master of Native Passenger Ship, bound from Turkish to Indian Port, entering latter without clean bill of health in breach of Convention.

37. Whenever a Convention has been entered into between the Government of Her Majesty the Queen and the Turkish Government, that every Master of a Native Passenger Ship leaving a Turkish Port or place, and bound for any Port or place in British India (whether such Ship be owned by a subject of Her Majesty or not), shall execute a bond to secure that he shall touch at Aden, and not proceed thence without a clean bill of health, obtained in the manner provided in section 20, any Master of any such ship, whether he be a subject of Her Majesty or not, who comes into any other Port or place in British India without such clean bill of health, may be taken by the officer in charge of such Port or place before any Magistrate having local jurisdiction;

and on proof that such Master has come from a Turkish Port or place, such Magistrate shall presume that such bond was duly executed by such Master, and in default of production of such clean bill of health, shall presume that the penalty mentioned in such bond has been incurred; and may award the full amount or any part of such penalty against such Master, and, in default of payment of such penalty, may recover it as though it were a fine imposed under this Act.

Penalty on landing passenger at a place other than that at which he has contracted to land.

38. If any Native Passenger in any Ship be landed at any Port or place other than the Port or place at which he may have contracted to land, unless with his previous consent, or unless such landing is made necessary by perils of the sea or other unavoidable accident, the Master shall, for each offence, be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred rupees, or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding a month, or to both.

Adjudication of offences.

39. All offences against this Act shall be punishable in a summary manner by a Magistrate.

Fine leviable by distress on Ship.

If the person on whom any fine is imposed under this Act is the Master or Owner of a Ship, and the fine is not paid at the time and in the manner prescribed by the order of payment, the Magistrate may, in addition to the means prescribed by law for enforcing payment, direct, by warrant, the amount remaining unpaid to be levied by distress and sale of the said Ship, her tackle, furniture, and apparel.

Jurisdiction.

40. For the purpose of the adjudication of penalties under this Act, every offence hereunder shall be deemed to have been committed within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Magistrate of the place where the offender is found.

Report of Consul, &c., admissible in evidence.

41 In any proceeding for the adjudication of any penalty incurred under this Act, any document purporting to be a report of such particulars as are referred to in section 16

or a copy of the proceedings of any Court of Justice duly authenticated, and also any like document purporting to be made and signed by any person lawfully exercising Consular authority on behalf of Her Majesty in any foreign Port, shall be received in evidence, if the same appears to have been officially transmitted to any officer at or near the place where the proceeding under this Act is had.

By whom proceedings for penalties to be instituted.

42. The penalties to which Masters and Owners of Ships are liable by this Act shall be enforced only by information laid at the instance of the officers appointed to grant certificates under this Act; or, at any Port or place where there is no such officer, by the Chief Officer of Customs.

Application of fines.

43. Any Magistrate imposing any fine under this Act may, if he thinks fit, direct the whole or any part thereof to be applied in compensating any person for any detriment which he may have sustained by the Act, or default in respect of which such fine is imposed, or in or towards payment of the expenses of the proceedings.

Passenger's right to sue preserved.

44. Nothing in this Act contained shall take away or abridge any right to sue which may accrue to any Native Passenger, or to any other person, in respect of the breach or non-performance of any contract made with the Master or Owner of the Ship, or his Agent.

Depositions receivable when witnesses cannot be produced.

45. Whenever, in the course of any legal proceeding instituted under this Act at any Port or place in British India, the testimony of any witness is required in relation to the subject-matter of such proceeding, any deposition that he may have previously made in relation to the same subject-matter before any Justice or Magistrate in Her Majesty's dominions (including all parts of India other than those subject to the same Local Government as the Port or place where such proceedings are instituted), or any British Consular Officer elsewhere, shall, if authenticated by the signature of the Justice, Magistrate, or Consular Officer, be admissible in evidence on due proof that such witness cannot be found within the jurisdiction of the Court in which such proceeding is instituted:

Provided that, if the proceeding is criminal, such deposition shall not be admissible unless it was made in the presence of the person accused, and the fact that it was so made is certified by the Justice, Magistrate, or Consular Officer.

It shall not be necessary in any case to prove the signature or official character of the person appearing to have signed any such deposition; and in any criminal proceeding such certificate as aforesaid shall, unless the contrary is proved, be sufficient evidence of the accused having been present in manner thereby certified.

CHAPTER V.

SUBSIDIARY RULES.

Power to make rules as to number of passengers, provisions, &c.

46. Within British India the Local Government may, from time to time, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, make rules consistent with this Act, to regulate, in the case of any vessel or class of vessels to which this Act applies, all or any of the following matters:—

(a). the maximum number of passengers to be carried on board;

(b). the number of cubic feet of space to be contained in the space appropriated to the passengers;

(c). the scale on which provisions, fuel and water are to be supplied to the passengers;

(d). the medical stores and medical attendance to be provided on board;

(e). the number of boats, anchors, and cables to be provided on board;

(f). the instruments for purposes of navigation to be supplied;

(g). and, generally, to carry out the provisions of this Act.

All such rules shall be published in the local official Gazette, and in such other manner as the Local Government thinks fit, and shall thereupon have the force of law.

Length of voyage to be fixed by proclamation.

47. The Local Government may, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, from time to time declare, by notification in the official Gazette, what shall be deemed to be, for the purposes of this Act, the duration of the voyage of any vessel or class of vessels from any place in British India, or the said dominions, to any other Port or place.

SCHEDULE.

(See Section 4.)

Number and year.	Title.
XXV of 1859 ...	An Act to prevent the overcrowding of Vessels carrying Native Passengers in the Bay of Bengal.
XII of 1870 ...	An Act for the regulation of Native Passenger Ships, and of Steam Vessels intended to convey Passengers on coasting voyages.
XII of 1872 ...	An Act to amend Act XII of 1870 (The Native Passenger Ships Act).
Madras Act II of 1862.	An Act to extend the provisions of Act XXV of 1859, entitled An Act to prevent the overcrowding of Vessels carrying Native Passengers in the Bay of Bengal.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to consolidate the four Acts relating to Native Passenger Ships and Coasting Steamers, and at the same time to make the following amendments:—

The present Act XII of 1870 does not apply to Steamers under contract with the Government of any European States. The Bill will apply in the first instance to such Steamers, but

Local Government is empowered to exclude them from its operation.

The present law does not apply to voyages to or from any place in the Lower Provinces, except Chittagong and Ports in Orissa, or to voyages to or from places to the east of the Straits of Malacca. The Bill applies to such voyages.

Under the present law, the rules as to the maximum number of passengers to be carried, the space to be appropriated to them, the scale on which provisions, fuel and water are to be supplied, are laid down inflexibly in the Acts themselves. This has been found inconvenient, and the Bill, in lieu thereof, enables the Local Government, with the sanction of the Government of India, from time to time to regulate these matters, in the case of any vessel or class of vessels, by rules published in the official Gazette.

A Bill to consolidate and amend the Law relating to European Vagrancy.

Whereas it is expedient to consolidate and amend the Laws relating to persons of European extraction who wander in a destitute condition throughout India; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

PART I.

PRELIMINARY.

1. This Act may be called "The European Vagrancy Act, 1873."

Short title.

It extends to the whole of British India and to the dominions of Princes and States in India in alliance with Her Majesty;

Local extent.

And it shall come into force at once: Provided that sections four to sixteen (both inclusive), nineteen, twenty, twenty-four, and twenty-nine shall not come into force in Coorg, or in the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, or in any of the dominions of the Princes and States in India in alliance with Her Majesty not situate within the limits of any Presidency, Lieutenant-Governorship, or Chief Commissionership in British India, until such day or respective days as the Governor-General in Council from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoints in this behalf.

Commencement.

2. Acts No. XXI of 1869 (to provide against European Vagrancy) and No. XXVIII of 1871 (to amend the European Vagrancy Act, 1869) are hereby repealed.

Repeal of Acts.

But all appointments and orders made, workhouses provided, certificates given, powers conferred, rules prescribed, and exemptions granted under the former Act, shall be deemed to have been respectively made, provided, given, conferred, prescribed, and granted under this Act.

Interpretation-clause.

3. In this Act—

"Person of European extraction" includes Americans and Australasians:

"Person of European extraction."

"Vagrant" means a person of European extraction found asking for alms, or wandering about without any employment or visible means of subsistence:

"Vagrant."

"Master of a ship" includes any person in charge of a decked vessel:

"Master of a ship."

And in Parts III and V of this Act "Magistrate" means, within the limits of the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, a Magistrate of Police, and, outside those limits, a person exercising powers under the Code of Criminal Procedure not less than those of a Magistrate of the second class.

"Magistrate."

PART II.

PROCEDURE.

4. Any Police officer may within the limits of the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, require any person who is apparently a vagrant to accompany him or any other Police officer to, and to appear before, the nearest Magistrate of Police, and may, without those limits, require any such person to accompany him or any other Police officer to, and to appear before, the nearest Justice of the Peace exercising the powers of a Magistrate of the first class under the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Power to require apparent vagrant to go before Magistrate

5. The Magistrate of Police or Justice shall make a summary inquiry into the circumstances and character of the alleged vagrant; and if he is satisfied that such person is a vagrant, he shall record in his office a declaration to that effect.

Summary inquiry into vagrant's circumstances.

If he is further of opinion that the vagrant is not likely to obtain employment at once, or if he has reason to believe that a declaration of vagrancy has on any former occasion been recorded in respect of such vagrant, he shall require the vagrant to go to a Government workhouse, and shall draw up an order to that effect.

Order to go to workhouse.

The vagrant shall then be placed in charge of the Police for the purpose of being forwarded to the workhouse, and the said order shall be a sufficient authority to the Police for retaining him in their charge while he is on his way to the workhouse, and to the governor of the workhouse for receiving and detaining such vagrant.

6. Where the officer making the inquiry mentioned in section five is of opinion that the vagrant is likely to obtain employment in any place subject to the local Government, or (when the vagrant is in any part of the said dominions) in any place subject to the nearest local Government, such officer may in his discretion forward the vagrant to such place in charge of the Police and draw up an order to that effect.

Forwarding vagrant to place of employment.

Such order shall be a sufficient authority to the Police for retaining the vagrant in their charge while he is on his way to such place of employment.

7. Upon his arrival at the place of employment, the vagrant shall be taken before the nearest Magistrate of Police or Justice of the Peace exercising powers as aforesaid, to whom the order for transmission shall be delivered.

Assistance to obtain employment.

Such officer shall thereupon, to the best of his ability, assist the vagrant in seeking employment, and may in the meantime, if he think fit, keep the vagrant in the charge of the Police.

Should the vagrant fail to obtain suitable employment within a reasonable time not exceeding fifteen days from such arrival, such officer shall forward him to a Government workhouse in the manner provided by section five.

8. Every person while in charge of the Police, whether before inquiry as to his vagrancy, or while he is on his way, under section five, to the workhouse, or, under section six, to a place of employment, shall be entitled to an allowance for his subsistence at the rate of eight annas per diem.

Subsistence allowance.

The Magistrate of Police or Justice, before whom any vagrant is taken under section seven, may, if he think fit, order the vagrant to receive a similar allowance while he is seeking employment.

The local Government shall cause such allowance to be paid out of such funds at its disposal and in such manner as it may from time to time direct.

Power to give certificates.

9. Any Magistrate of Police or Justice of the Peace exercising powers as aforesaid may, on being satisfied that any person of European extraction is not likely to become a vagrant, give such person a certificate under his hand stating that for a certain time (mentioning it) not exceeding six months from the date of the certificate, and within certain limits (mentioning them), nothing in sections four, five, six, and seven shall apply to the holder of such certificate; and thereupon (subject to the provisions contained in sections twenty-three and twenty-four) nothing in sections four, five, six, and seven shall apply to such person for such time and within such limits as aforesaid.

Form of certificate.

Every such certificate shall be in the form set forth in the first schedule to this Act annexed, or as near thereto as circumstances will admit.

Power to invest certain officials with jurisdiction of Justices under sections 6, 7, 8, and 9.

10. The local Government may from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, invest any Justice of the Peace, District Superintendent of Police, or Assistant District Superintendent of Police, with the jurisdiction and powers conferred by this Part on a Justice of the Peace exercising powers as aforesaid.

PART III.

GOVERNMENT WORKHOUSES.

Provision of Government workhouses.

11. The local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, may provide workhouses with their necessary furniture and establishment, at such places as it may think proper, for the temporary reception of vagrants, or may, by writing under the hand of a Secretary to such Government, certify any building, or part of a building, not provided as a workhouse under the former part of this section, to be fit for a workhouse for the purposes of this Act. Every such certificate shall be published in the local official Gazette, and thereupon such building or part of a building shall, until the local Government otherwise orders, be deemed a Government workhouse under this Act.

Scale of diet.

The local Government shall allow the same scale of diet for the support of vagrants received in such workhouses as is for the time being allowed for Europeans confined in the local prisons or penitentiaries.

Superintendence of workhouses.

12. Every such workhouse shall be under the immediate charge of a governor, who shall be appointed, and may be suspended or removed, by the local Government.

Every such governor shall, if the local Government think fit, be subject to the orders of a Committee of Management appointed from time to time by such Government, or, in the absence of a Committee, to the orders of such officer as the Local Government from time to time appoints in this behalf.

Search of vagrants.

13. Every such governor may order that any vagrant admitted to the workhouse under his charge shall be searched, and that the vagrant's bundles, packages, and other effects shall be inspected, and may direct that any money then found with or on the vagrant, shall be applied (subject to the orders of the local Government) towards the expense of carrying this Act into execution, and may order that all or any of the said effects shall be sold, and that the produce of the sale be applied as aforesaid, but subject to the like orders.

Discipline.

14. Vagrants admitted to workhouses under this Act shall be subject to such rules of management and discipline as may from time to time be prescribed by the local Government with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council.

Any governor of a workhouse (if authorised in this behalf by the local Government) may punish any vagrant who knowingly disobeys or neglects any such rule—

(a) by imprisoning him in solitary confinement for any time not exceeding seven days,

(c) by hard labour for any time not exceeding seven days.

And any such vagrant shall also, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punishable with rigorous imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months.

Refusal to accept employment.

15. The governor and the Committee of Management (if any) of every such workhouse shall use his and their best endeavours to obtain outside the workhouse suitable employ for the vagrants admitted thereto.

When such employment is obtained, any such vagrant refusing or neglecting to avail himself thereof, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punishable with rigorous imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month.

PART IV.

REMOVAL FROM INDIA.

Removal of vagrants.

16. If after the lapse of a reasonable time no suitable employment is obtainable for any such vagrant, the local Government may either (when

Cost of removal.

he has entered into such agreement as hereinafter mentioned) cause him to be removed from British India in manner hereinafter provided, the cost of such removal being paid by Government;

Agreements with vagrants.

17. Any vagrant or other person of European extraction may enter into an agreement in writing with the Secretary of State for India in Council, binding himself—

(a) to proceed to such port in British India as shall be mentioned in the agreement;

(b) there to embark on board such ship and at such time as is directed by an officer appointed in this behalf by the local Government of the territories in which such port is situate, for the purpose of being removed from India at the expense of the said Secretary of State in Council;

(c) to remain on board such ship until she has arrived at her port of destination; and

(d) not to return to India until five years have elapsed from the date of such embarkation.

Every such agreement may be on unstamped paper, and shall be in the form set forth in the second schedule to this Act annexed, or as near thereto as circumstances admit.

Form of agreement.

18. The local Government of the territories in which the said port is situate, may enter into such contracts for conveyance or otherwise, and perform such other acts as may be necessary to carry out such agreement on the part of the said Secretary of State in Council.

Power to perform agreement.

PART V.

PENALTIES.

19. Any person refusing or failing to accompany a Police officer to, or to appear before, a Magistrate of Police or Justice of the Peace, for the purpose of preliminary inquiry, when required so to do under section four, shall be punishable, whether he be or be not an European British subject, on conviction before a Magistrate with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month, or with fine, or with both.

Refusal to go before Magistrate.

And any person who, when required under section four to accompany a Police officer to, or to appear before, a Magistrate of Police or Justice of the Peace, commits an offence punishable under section three hundred and fifty-three of the Indian Penal Code, may, whether he be or be not an European British subject, be tried by a Magistrate for such offence.

Assaulting Police.

20. Any vagrant who escapes from the Police while committed to their charge under the orders specified in sections five and six,

Escaping from Police.

or who leaves a workhouse, under this Act, without permission from the governor,

Quitting workhouse without leave.

or who having with such permission left a workhouse for a limited time or a specified purpose, fails to return on the expiration of such time or when such purpose has been accomplished or proves to be impracticable,

Failing to return to workhouse.

shall for every such offence be punishable, on conviction before a Magistrate, with rigorous imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years.

21. Any person entering into an agreement under section seventeen, and failing to proceed in pursuance thereof to the port therein mentioned,

Failing to proceed to port of embarkation.

or refusing to embark when directed so to do under the same section,

Refusing to go on board-ship.

or escaping from the ship in which he has so embarked before she has reached her port of destination,

Escaping from ship.

shall for every such offence be punishable, whether he be, or be not, an European British subject, on conviction before a Magistrate, with rigorous imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months.

22. Any person returning to India within five years of the date of his embarkation, pursuant to any agreement entered into under section seventeen, unless specially permitted so to do by the Secretary of State for India, shall for every such offence be punishable, whether he be or be not an European British subject, on conviction before a Magistrate, with rigorous imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years.

Returning to India.

23. Any person of European extraction found asking for alms when he has sufficient means of subsistence,

Begging.

or asking for alms in a threatening or insolent manner, or continuing to ask for alms of any person after he has been required to desist, shall be punishable, whether he be or be not an European British subject, on conviction before a Magistrate, with rigorous imprisonment for a term not exceeding one month for the first offence, two months for the second, and three months for any subsequent offence.

24. Every person imprisoned under sections nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, or twenty-three, shall, at the end of his term of imprisonment, be placed before the nearest Magistrate of Police or Justice of the Peace exercising powers as aforesaid, who shall, if he think fit, forthwith deal with him in the manner prescribed by sections five and six.

Procedure on close of imprisonment.

The order of transmission shall certify the fact of the previous conviction.

25. Every master of a ship landing or allowing to land in any part of British India any person of European extraction who has been convicted in any other part of Her Majesty's dominions of felony, or of an offence which, if committed in England, would be felony, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable, for every such person so landed or allowed to land, to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees and not less than one hundred rupees, and, in default of payment, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two months, unless the defendant satisfy the Magistrate by evidence (which the defendant is hereby declared competent to give), that he had made due inquiry as to the person so landed, or allowed to land, and that he had no reason to believe that such person had been convicted as aforesaid.

Penalty on shipmaster bringing European convicts to India.

The Governor-General in Council may from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, exempt from the operation of the former part of this section the masters of any class of ships, on such terms as to the Governor-General in Council seem fit, and either in respect of all or of any of the persons on board such ships.

Power to exempt certain shipmasters.

The Governor-General in Council may in like manner revoke any exemption made under this section.

26. All fines imposed under this Act may be recovered, if for offences committed outside the local limits of the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, in the manner prescribed by the Code of Criminal Procedure, and if for offences committed within those limits, in the manner prescribed by any Act regulating the Police of such towns in force for the time being.

Recovery of fines.

All fines recovered under this Act shall be paid to the credit of the Government of India, or as the Governor-General in Council from time to time directs.

Payment of fine.

27. All prosecutions under this Act may be instituted and conducted by such officer as the local Government from time to time appoints in this behalf.

Prosecutions

28. In imposing penalties under this Part and Part III of this Act no person shall exceed the limits of jurisdiction prescribed for him by the Code of Criminal Procedure in the case of offenders not being European British subjects.

Limits of jurisdiction.

29. No proceeding under this Act shall be deemed invalid by reason only that the Magistrate of Police or Justice, before whom a person, apparently a vagrant, was required to appear, or before whom a person was placed under section twenty-four, was not the nearest.

Validity of proceedings where Magistrate is not the nearest.

PART VI.

MISCELLANEOUS.

30. Any European British subject who, upon the summary inquiry mentioned in section five, has been determined to be a vagrant, or who has been convicted under section twenty-two or section twenty-three, shall, so long as he remains in India, be subject, beyond the limits of the said towns, to the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure (other than those contained in Chapter XXXVIII of the same Code) applicable to an European not being a British subject.

Deprivation of privileges of European British subjects under Criminal Procedure Code.

If from any cause he is committed or held to bail by a Justice of the Peace to take his trial before a High Court, he shall not be at liberty to object to the jurisdiction of such Justice of the Peace or High Court on the ground of anything contained in the former part of this section.

An office copy of the declaration recorded under section five shall be primâ facie evidence that the European British subject named therein has been, upon such inquiry, determined to be a vagrant.

31. Whenever any person of European extraction lands in India, or being a Non-Commissioned Officer or Soldier in Her Majesty's Army, leaves that Army in India, under an engagement to serve any other person, or any Company, Association, or body of persons in any capacity, Liability of importers of Europeans or employers of soldiers becoming vagrants.

and whenever a sailor of European extraction, not being a British subject, is discharged from his ship in any British Indian port, and becomes chargeable to the State as a vagrant within one year after his arrival in India or leaving the Army, or discharge from his ship, as the case may be, then the person, or Company, Association, or Body, to serve whom he has so landed in India or left the Army, or, in the case of a sailor, the person who is at the date of the discharge the owner or agent of the ship from which the sailor has been so discharged, shall be liable to pay to the Government the cost of his removal under this Act, and all other charges incurred by the State in consequence of his becoming a vagrant.

Such costs and charges shall be recoverable by suit as if an express agreement to repay them had been entered into with the Secretary of State for India in Council, by the person, Company, Association, Body, owner, or agent chargeable.

Recovery of charges.

32. When any person of European extraction lands in India, being or having been during his passage to India, or from one Indian port to another, in charge of, or in attendance upon, any animal, and becomes chargeable to the State as a vagrant within one year after his arrival in India, then Liability of consignee in case of Europeans who arrive in charge of animals and become vagrants.

the consignee of such animal,

or the agents in India for the sale of such animal, or, if such consignee or agent cannot be found, the agent to whom the ship in which such animal arrived in India was consigned, shall be liable to pay to the Government the cost of such person's removal under this Act, and all other charges incurred by the State in consequence of his becoming a vagrant.

Any such consignee or agent shall be entitled to charge the consignor or principal for any payment to the Government under this section.

For the purposes of this section 'consignee' includes any person who undertakes to dispose of such animal for the benefit to the consignor, and

"Consignee" defined.

'Agent' includes any person who undertakes the agency of such ship, though it may not have been consigned to him.

"Agent" defined.

33. The powers and duties conferred and imposed by sections sixteen and eighteen, on a local Government, may be exercised and performed by such class of officers as the local Government from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, appoints in this behalf.

Exercise of powers conferred on local Government.

34. The powers and duties conferred and imposed by this Act on Magistrates, Justices of the Peace exercising the powers of a Magistrate of the first class, and Police officers, respectively, may, in places beyond the limits of British India, be exercised and performed by such persons respectively as the Governor-General in Council from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoints in this behalf.

Exercise in Native State of powers conferred on Magistrates, Justices, and Police.

35. The Governor-General in Council may from time to time make rules, consistent with this Act, for the guidance of officers in matters connected with its enforcement.

Power to make rules for guidance of officers.

All such rules shall be published in the Gazette of India, and shall thereupon have the force of law.

THE FIRST SCHEDULE.

(See section 9.)

WHEREAS E. F. of a person of European extraction and holder of this certificate, has appeared before me and satisfied me that he is not likely to become a vagrant within the meaning of the European Vagrancy Act, 1873, THESE ARE TO CERTIFY that for the space of months from the date hereof and within the Province [or District] of nothing in sections four, five, six, and seven of the same Act shall be deemed to apply to him, unless he is found asking for alms when he has sufficient means of subsistence, or asking for alms in a threatening or insolent manner, or continuing to ask for alms of any person after he has been required to desist: IN ANY OF WHICH CASES he shall be liable to be imprisoned and otherwise dealt with as provided in sections twenty-three and twenty-four of the said Act.

(Signed) G. H.

Dated this day of 18 .

Magistrate of Police for the Town of or Justice of the Peace for exercising the full power of a Magistrate.

THE SECOND SCHEDULE.

(See section 17.)

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT made this day of 18 BETWEEN the Secretary of State for India in Council of the one part and C. D. of, &c., [the vagrant] of the other part: Each of the parties hereto (so far as relates to the acts on his own part to be performed) hereby agrees with the other of them as follows:—

1. The said C. D shall proceed forthwith to the port of [the port of embarkation.

2. The said C. D. shall there embark on board such ship and at such time as an officer appointed in this behalf by the Local Government shall direct.

3. The said C. D. shall remain on board such ship until she shall have arrived at her port of destination.

4. The said C. D. shall not return to India until five years shall have elapsed from the date of such embarkation, unless specially permitted so to return by the said Secretary of State.

5. The said Secretary of State in Council shall defray the cost of the transit of the said C. D. to the said port, and of his lodging and subsistence during such transit and during his detention (if any) at the same port, and shall contract with the owner of the said ship, or his agent, for the passage of the said C. D. on board the said ship, and for his subsistence during the voyage for which he shall embark as aforesaid.

In witness whereof A. B. (by order of the Governor-General of India in Council [or the Governor of in Council, or the Lieutenant-Governor of , or the Chief Commissioner of], on behalf of the said Secretary of State in Council), and the said C. D. have hereunto set their hands the day and year first above written.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The primary object of this Bill is to make three amendments in the European Vagrancy Act (XXI of 1869) first, to enable the governors of workhouses to punish vagrants disobeying rules by solitary confinement, by reduction of diet, or by hard labor; secondly, to provide a punishment for vagrants who, with the governor's permission, leave a workhouse for a limited time, or a specified purpose, but fail to return on the expiration of such time, or when such purpose has been accomplished or proves impracticable; and thirdly, to render the owners and agents of ships from which foreign European sailors are discharged in British Indian ports, liable in case such sailors become vagrants.

These changes have been recommended by the Local Governments which have had most experience in the working of the Act.

The opportunity has been taken to amend section one of Act XXVIII of 1871, which does not provide for the case of an Australian who lands in India having been in charge of horses, not "during his passage to India," but during his passage from one port in British India to another.

As the Vagrancy Act has been already amended, it is thought preferable to adopt the method of repealing and re-enacting with the necessary modifications, rather than to add a third Act to the two in which the law on the subject is now contained.

1. The Board of Revenue brought to the notice of Government the illegal exactions practised upon their ryots by the zemindars in several districts, and under the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor the circular above referred to was issued to Commissioners of Divisions to ascertain whether similar practices prevailed in other districts also. Commissioners were requested to state clearly the extent to which such practices existed, and the manner in which they should be checked.

2. The replies of the Commissioners, which have now been received and considered by His Honor, make it clear that, in spite of the law, cesses in large numbers are levied from ryots by almost every zemindar in the country; the fact being that owing to the absence of sufficient agency in Bengal, those parts of the regulations which give rights and privileges to zemindars have not only been maintained, but stretched to the utmost; while those parts which restrained them and limited their rights have been utterly set at naught.

3. This system of illegal exactions is now, however, in such universal vogue, is so deeply rooted, and so many social relations depend thereon, that it becomes a question whether it is desirable that Government should by any general or very stringent measures interfere to put a stop to them. It must be thoroughly understood, however, that the Government, in hesitating to adopt severe or extreme measures, in no degree recognizes or legalizes these cesses. Illegal, irrecoverable by law, and prohibited by law, they must remain; but it may perhaps be better, under all the circumstances except in extreme cases, not directly to interfere. As the people get better protected, better educated, and better able to understand and protect their own rights and position, things will no doubt to some extent adjust themselves.

4. For the present, then, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that it will be sufficient to direct that Magistrate-Collectors should be careful to interfere in the case of any extreme oppression. In any case in which any duress or violence is used by zemindars or others to enforce illegal cesses, the Magistrate should interfere promptly; treating the matter as an extortion; and wherever in any particular estate the zemindar, by any means, manages to collect from his ryots inordinate cesses, exceeding those sanctioned by the usages of that part of the country, measures should be taken to inquire and ascertain the facts to protect and instruct the ryots as to their rights, and generally to put a stop to such oppressions by every legal and proper means.

5. His Honor will also take advantage of the opportunity offered by the publication of the road cess rules to make it generally known to the people that excepting that one cess, of which the burden on the ryots will be strictly limited in each district, all other cesses are illegal and irrecoverable by law.

6. A copy of this resolution and connected papers will be forwarded to the Board of Revenue for information.

A copy of the resolution will be transmitted to Commissioners of Divisions for the information and guidance of the Magistrates and Collectors.

The whole of the papers will also be laid before the Government of India, under cover of a separate letter, for such notice as may be deemed necessary.

I AM directed to submit, for the information of the Government of India, a copy of the papers noted on the margin, containing information gathered from the Commissioners of Divisions as to the levy of illegal cesses by the zemindars of Bengal from the cultivators, together with a copy of a resolution which the Lieutenant-Governor has recorded thereon. I am to ask whether the action taken by His Honor has the approval of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, and to inquire if any further orders are considered necessary.

2. I am to observe that these papers show conclusively what a drop in the ocean our legal road cess is compared to the mass of cesses illegally exacted from the people by the zemindars of Bengal.

3. I am also to draw attention to the universal levy of the "dâk khurcha" to reimburse the zemindars for the zemindari dâk-tax, as showing how futile it has been to put a cess on the zemindars and not on the ryots, and how unlikely it is that, as things now stand, the ryots would have got off the road cess even if they had been exempted by law.

No. 681, dated Simla, the 18th August 1873.

From—A. O. HUME, ESQ., C B., Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Agriculture, Revenue and Commerce,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 30th May 1873, No. 1483, addressed to the Home Department, forwarding copy of a Resolution recorded by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, and of the correspondence cited in the preamble thereof, on the subject of the levy of illegal cesses by zemindars in Bengal from the cultivators on their estates.

2. From the reports submitted by the Commissioners of Divisions, it appears that cesses which are not recognized by law are extensively levied throughout the whole Presidency, but that they vary very materially both as to character and amount. The Lieutenant-Governor has arrived at the conclusion that any direct interference by Government with the levy of these cesses would be inexpedient excepting in extreme cases. His Honor has therefore considered it sufficient for the present to—

"direct that Magistrate-Collectors should be careful to interfere in the case of any extreme oppression. In any case in which any duress or violence is used by zemindars or others to enforce illegal cesses, the Magistrate should interfere promptly, treating the matter as an extortion; and wherever, in any particular estate, the zemindar by any means manages to collect from his ryots inordinate cesses, exceeding those sanctioned by the usages of that part of the country, measures should be taken to inquire and ascertain the facts, to instruct and protect the ryots as to their rights, and generally to put a stop to such oppressions by every legal and proper means." (Para. 4 of the Resolution.)

His Honor also proposes to take advantage of the opportunity offered by the publication of the road cess rules to give some further explanation to the people with respect to their liability by law to the payment of cesses.

3. His Excellency the Governor-General in Council entirely approves the orders issued and the action proposed to be taken by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, and His Excellency is of opinion that for the present no further orders are called for on this subject.

MEDICAL SCHOOLS IN THE INTERIOR OF BENGAL AND THE CALCUTTA MEDICAL COLLEGE.

The letter addressed by this Government to the Government of India, Home Department, on the 11th August 1873, renewing the proposal that a sum of six lakhs offered in 1871-72, half by the Government of India and half by the Bengal Government, should be spent in making additions and improvements to the Medical College Hospital buildings.

RESOLUTION.—In the year 1869 there was much discussion and correspondence regarding the best way of giving instruction to the rapidly increasing numbers of Bengalees who desired to enter the medical profession. It was agreed by all that the Calcutta Medical College was not capable of indefinite enlargement. It was held by some that small classes of medical students might very well receive at district dispensaries such elementary teaching in medicine as would enable them to settle in their own districts as medical practitioners and to treat usefully the ordinary Indian diseases. Others held that inexpensive medical schools might be attached to the head-quarters of each division; while the majority of medical men were of opinion that nothing short of the standard of medical education now given would fit men to be licensed as medical practitioners. The papers of this discussion were laid before the Government of India in 1869 by Sir William Grey, who explained his object to be the "training up of a body of local practitioners able to apply simple remedies to ordinary diseases, such as cholera, small-pox, and epidemic fever, and who should displace the present ignorant native koberajes." The Bengal Government at the same time proposed to attach medical classes to the Mitford Hospital at Dacca under the superintendence of the Civil Surgeon. The Government of India left it to the Lieutenant-Governor's discretion to adopt the course deemed best, and said that no further imperial grant could at that time be given for the promotion of medical education in Bengal. No local funds, however, were available for the proposed objects, and the proposals of 1869 were not carried out.

2. From time to time the Medical College authorities have represented that the college premises and lecture-rooms were quite insufficient for their purpose; that the College Hospital was in many respects unsuitable; and that a new hospital and college were required at a cost of a very large sum of money. The necessity of a very considerable improvement of the hospital and extension of the college was urged by the present Lieutenant-Governor in 1871, and the Government of India was pleased to accede to the Lieutenant-Governor's proposal that a sum of six lakhs or £60,000 should be given, half from the imperial and half from provincial funds, for the improvement and enlargement of the hospital and college. This sum was, however, deemed insufficient by the college authorities; and the proposal was on that account unfructuous. During the last few weeks the Lieutenant-Governor has informed the college authorities that in his opinion the time has come when he must do the best he can with six lakhs, if that sum can be made available, and he has invited their assistance and suggestions.

3. The proposed extensions of the College Hospital and college class-rooms will, however, not meet the difficulty now caused by the unmanageable numbers of the Medical College classes, nor the want felt for increased medical instruction in many parts of Bengal. The necessity that Government should deal very early with this matter was strongly brought to the notice of the Lieutenant-Governor by the Inspector-General of Hospitals and by the Medical College authorities in the month of May last. The Lieutenant-Governor caused selections from the previous correspondence to be circulated to officers of the Medical College and to other civil and medical officers; and he also invited a full expression of opinion from the Inspector-General of Hospitals upon the best way of meeting this difficulty. The replies to this reference have now been considered by the Lieutenant-Governor. Dr. Campbell Brown's report, which is very full and interesting, shows that three questions press for very early disposal, namely—

(1) The improvement of the vernacular classes at the Calcutta Medical College.

(2) The establishment of vernacular medical schools at other places in Bengal.

(3) The completion of a series of vernacular text-books of medicine and surgery with the least possible delay.

4. Taking these three subjects in order, the Lieutenant-Governor comes first to—

The improvement of the vernacular classes at the Calcutta Medical College.

At present the pupils in the Medical College consist of—

Primary class students	..	433	Who are instructed in English up to a high standard.
Hospital apprentices ..	..	41
Casual students ..	..	12
Licentiate class students	..	440	Who are instructed in Bengalee up to the standard required for a native doctor's diploma.
Native apothecary class	..	332
Native medical pupils	..	136	Who are instructed in Hindustanee up to the native doctor's standard.
Total	..	1,394

The two classes of students who are taught in Bengalee attend exactly the same lectures, learn the same subjects, and are examined in the same subjects for the most part. Drs. D. B. Smith and Cutcliffe recommend that the two classes be blended into one under the title of the licentiate class. It seems to be generally admitted that such an amalgamation is desirable; and the Lieutenant-Governor approves of its being carried out. The Medical Department will decide what title had best to be given to the amalgamated Bengalee classes; but the alteration had better not be carried out until the fee rates have been revised and the other proposals regarding the Calcutta vernacular classes have been finally settled.

5. But whatever may be the final arrangements of the vernacular classes, the main facts for the present purpose are that we have at the Medical College 1,400 students, whose numbers increase 25 per cent. every year; that the hospital at which these students receive clinical teaching makes up 137 beds; that nearly 500 of the students receive a high education through the medium of the English language, and from selected and highly paid European professors; that nearly 800 students receive a shorter and less complete medical education in Bengalee at the hands of the selected but less highly paid native teachers; and that about 130 pupils, mostly up-country men, receive the same education in Hindustanee at the hands of the same teachers that instruct the Bengalee classes. Dr. Campbell Brown tells us that for every hundred medical students there ought to be 50 beds in the hospital at which bedside teaching is given, and he tells us also that 500 students is about as large a number as one set of lecturers can satisfactorily teach, and that at any rate 1,000 must be the maximum number which any single medical school should contain. The College Principal and Professors tell us in the plainest language that, with the present overcrowded classes, one half of the students actually cannot hear what a lecturer says, still fewer can understand the demonstrations, and any real bedside teaching or tutorial instruction by question and answer is, for all but the few attentive, clever students, almost impossible. The consequences are that only 31 per cent. of the Medical College students ever pass and gain their diploma; and (as in the case mentioned by Dr. C. Macnamara) even a passed student who had got his diploma has received no practical teaching, and "did not know where to place his stethoscope in order that he might listen to the sounds at the apex of the heart; at last fixed on a point above the right nipple, and then started off with a bit of some lecture about the sounds of the heart."

6. It seems to the Lieutenant-Governor abundantly clear that we cannot continue to keep the increasing Bengalee classes attached to the Medical College Hospital. We are bound, if we teach them at all and give them diplomas, to attach them to a hospital where they can have some real bedside teaching, and to provide enough teachers and lecture-rooms, so that each student may get some real tutorial instruction from a competent man, before he is launched into the world with a Government license to treat his country-men for all manner of diseases. It is also clear that the Medical College Hospital, its accommodation, and its European staff of professors, is not more than sufficient for the 500 students of the English classes, who are rapidly increasing in numbers, and who receive the highest medical education we can give. The Bengalee classes must be accommodated elsewhere, where they can have plenty of room and care, and receive regular clinical teaching. The only institution in Calcutta to which they could be attached is the Pauper Hospital at Sealdah, which makes up 300 beds, and near which there is ample space. This hospital is supported by the Calcutta Municipality; but the Lieutenant-Governor believes the Justices will readily agree to its becoming the seat of so important an institution as the vernacular branch of the Medical College. He would hope, too, that the attention, which the hospital would receive in connection with such an institution, may lead to some decrease of the sad mortality which occurs there.

7. If the Justices have no objection, the Lieutenant-Governor would propose to take immediate steps for providing the requisite lecture-rooms and buildings for the accommodation of the vernacular classes at the Sealdah Hospital. He would hope that the Government of India may be able to render available, for the time at least, some of the buildings designed for the Port Canning Railway. The Sealdah classes would continue to be a branch of the Medical College, and would enjoy the advantage of the supervision of the Principal and the College Council; but they would have ample accommodation, and their teachers would be able to give them clinical instruction. The difficulty as to the insufficient number of teachers could be overcome in part by relieving the teachers of the Bengalee classes of the Hindustanee pupils who may possibly be eventually transferred to medical schools where Hindustanee is the vernacular, a large proportion of them being military students from the Upper Provinces. The vernacular teachers who now give a double set of lectures, one set in Bengalee and one set in Hindustanee, would be able, when the Hindustanee students are transferred, to give their full time to teaching the Bengalee students. It would probably be necessary to have a selected European medical officer, or a first-rate native officer on almost as high pay, as Superintendent at Sealdah, to maintain discipline and direct the classes. The appointment of the Police Surgeon, who has now charge of the Sealdah Hospital, might perhaps be re-arranged in connection with the scheme, if the Justices agree. A native House Surgeon might be substituted for the Apothecary now resident at the hospital. The total extra cost of the Branch Medical College at Sealdah would probably not be very excessive, while the fees received from the classes are already large. The vernacular teachers would be transferred as they stand to Sealdah; but the Lieutenant-Governor fears it would not be possible to reduce the European staff of the Medical College, because the professors would have the full English classes they now teach, which number about 500 students, and which are rapidly increasing.

8. The Lieutenant-Governor now comes to the second point, namely—

The establishment of Vernacular Medical Schools at other places in Bengal.

Dr. Campbell Brown tells us that the present Medical College supplies the actual wants of the public service, and that it is also supplying a small number of men who settle down in Bengal villages and towns as private practitioners. The number of these practitioners in some of the centres of population is already considerable, as will be seen from the following passage in Dr. Brown's report. He writes—

"Some idea of the number of practitioners who may possibly settle among the people may be gained from the following facts, which I have derived from recent inspection reports submitted by Deputy Surgeon-General H. B. Buckle, C. B. In the town of Hooghly (and Chinsura), with 34,761 inhabitants, there are, besides men in Government employ and native koberajes, 23 private practitioners, or 1 to every 1,511 persons. Of these, 5 belong to the Sub-Assistant Surgeon Class, 5 to the Native Doctor Class, 13 to the Compounder Class. In the town of Jessore, with 8,152 inhabitants, there are 5 private practitioners, or 1 to every 1,630 inhabitants. Of these, 1 was a native doctor, 1 a compounder, 2 are failed students, and 1 a nondiscript. In the town of Kishnaghur, with 26,150 inhabitants, there are 14 private practitioners, or 1 to every 1,910 persons. Of these, 2 belong to the Sub-Assistant Surgeon Class, 2 are rejected students, 2 native doctors, 3 compounders, and 5 servants to private dispensaries. Taking these places as representative, it appears that 1 practitioner in every 2,000 inhabitants can earn a living. Were a similar proportion to obtain throughout Bengal, there would be 34,000 medical practitioners, and to meet losses by death, it would be necessary to provide about 900 men yearly."

The great and constant increase of students at the Medical College shows that the profession of medicine is becoming popular; and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that it is also fairly lucrative, for he has been told that most of the practitioners mentioned in the foregoing extract are believed to earn from Rs. 50 to Rs. 200 a month. Seeing how very much there is of remediable illness and disease in Bengal, the Government cannot but view with satisfaction the fact that private practitioners of scientific medicine are spreading themselves among the more advanced districts and towns of Bengal. And the Lieutenant-Governor believes it to be the bounden duty of Government to make the best arrangements possible for teaching young men who wish to study medicine.

9. One-third of the Medical College students are said to come from Dacca and its neighbourhood, notwithstanding the expenses and other drawbacks incident to young men coming to live in Calcutta. It seems quite certain that if medical schools were established at places like Dacca and Patna, the classes would very soon fill. At any rate it is absolutely necessary to establish such schools and relieve the Calcutta Bengalee classes, which already number nearly 800 pupils, and will at the recent rate of increase reach 1,100 or 1,200 in another two years. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that it is absolutely necessary to establish vernacular medical schools at Dacca and at Patna at once. At Dacca there is the Mitford Hospital to which the school could be attached; it already makes up some sixty beds, and its accommodation will have to be enlarged when the Dacca school students exceed 200 in number. At Patna the hospital will have to be in some degree enlarged at the expense of Government in order to meet the requirements of the medical school.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor would prefer to have a separate medical officer in charge of each of these new schools; for the civil surgeoncies of Dacca and Patna have already very much work. But such a separate officer would add very greatly to the cost of the schools. The Agra school has been managed successfully by the Civil Surgeon for a number of years; and if the Medical Department think it possible, the new schools might be opened under the general supervision of the Civil Surgeon at Dacca and Patna, competent native medical officers being placed at their head, and the Sub-Assistant Surgeons now employed being utilized. If this be done, then the cost of each of these schools might probably not be very excessive. For the native teachers and the hospital house surgeons at the vernacular schools of medicine, the best plan will be to give a staff allowance, in addition to their grade of the officer employed. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that Dr. Brown inclines to this plan, as being calculated to keep good and contented men, rather than to a consolidated allowance, such as is given to the present Calcutta teachers.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor thus accepts the view held by the majority of officers consulted, that we must keep the level of our vernacular medical teaching at least up to the standard laid down for the Calcutta vernacular classes. At the same time he considers that there is much in what

Dr. C. Macnamara says in the following extract regarding the advantages of teaching apprentices at district hospitals and dispensaries. Dr. Macnamara writes:—

"What we require on the part of the professor is that he should gain some personal knowledge of his pupils, instructing them when in class somewhat after the fashion of the Oxford tutors, and referring them to existing vernacular text-books in place of lectures, except perhaps on the subject of chemistry and anatomy. Beyond this it is not wise to bring a number of ignorant native youths from their homes to study in a place like the Medical College, where they are practically beyond the supervision of their superiors and exposed to all the evil influences of a city like Calcutta. Many of them take to bad habits, and some lose self-respect so far as to becoming actual beggars. Most of them have little regard for their superiors, and ultimately turn out a set of practitioners much inferior in every way to the old class of native doctors, who were trained by our Civil Surgeons and regimental medical officers, but who had not enjoyed the advantages of a college education.

"For the purposes described in Mr. Eden's letter, it would be better to revert to our former practice of training local practitioners rather than extend the Medical College system of education to Dacca, Patna, or anywhere else. I would advocate the scheme of affording young men an opportunity of gaining an elementary but practical knowledge of their work in our various charitable dispensaries and the jail hospitals of the districts in which they reside. There are several advantages in schools of this kind; in the first place, the influence of friends and relations is brought to bear on the pupil; the student learns the habits, dialect, diseases, and the power of resistance to disease of the class of people he is brought in contact with; and what is very important, he thus comes immediately under the eye of his superiors. If a decent fellow, he catches more or less of their tone, and if a bad man, his faults are quickly detected, and he is turned out of the place. Every district charitable dispensary should be capable of holding twenty beds besides having attached to it a residence for the Sub-Assistant Surgeon, and an out-patient department. I would not permit more than ten pupils at a time to study at any one dispensary, and they should be allowed a monthly stipend from Government."

The Lieutenant-Governor would not wish to insist upon the plan being tried everywhere. But he considers it might be made a very useful parallel system, and perhaps it might in some way supplement our medical school teaching. He would ask the Inspector-General of Hospitals to suggest arrangements under which Civil Surgeons might receive, as practical apprentices in the district hospitals, students who have passed the College course.

The Lieutenant-Governor would be disposed to advise that a smaller course than otherwise of theoretical study should be accepted from students who also serve one year's apprenticeship at a district hospital before they are granted a license to practise and receive a certificate of practical efficiency. But on this point Sir George Campbell would wish to receive an expression of the Inspector-General's views. It is possible that the system (referred to in Dr. Brown's 12th paragraph) whereby candidates for the hospital assistant class are obliged to undergo "one year's training in a hospital or dispensary" may be preferable. But whether it comes at the beginning or the end of the school course, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that such practical training should be very specially encouraged.

12. There remains the question of fees. At present, in one branch of the vernacular classes a student pays Rs. 10 entrance and Rs. 3 monthly fee, while in the other he pays Rs. 2 entrance and Rs. 2 monthly fee. Dr. D. B. Smith recommends that the fee for the Calcutta vernacular classes should be the same, and that the Dacca and Patna fees should be somewhat lower, so as to attract students to the local schools. The Lieutenant-Governor's views have already been expressed regarding the amalgamation of the Calcutta classes, subject, however, to final report from the Inspector-General of Hospitals. He considers that the monthly fees for the Calcutta vernacular medical classes may very well be put at Rs. 4; the primary class and casual student fees being raised in proportion. At other Government institutions of Calcutta, the fees are, at the Presidency College Rs. 12 a month, at the Engineering College Rs. 5, and at the Hindoo School Rs. 4 a month. The medical vernacular classes may therefore very well pay Rs. 4 all round; at the Dacca and Patna schools the fee to begin with should not be more than one or two rupees a month and Rs. 5 for the license.

13. The third subject pressing for immediate disposal is—

The completion of a series of vernacular text-books in medicine with the least possible delay.

Dr. Campbell Brown, Dr. D. B. Smith, and the other members of the Medical College Council, lay very much stress on the absolute necessity for preparing these text-books without delay. The Lieutenant-Governor finds that in the years 1868-70 there was discussion on this subject, and that a committee, consisting of the Director of Public Instruction, some Hindoo and Mohamedan gentlemen, and four Medical College Professors, were appointed to procure the preparation of a set of medical text-books in Bengalee. It does not appear that anything has been done by this committee. At any rate the requirement is now more urgent than it ever was. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that the best way will be for Government to grant a considerable sum to be expended as rewards for prize text-books. He would ask the Inspector-General of Hospitals to favor him with a draft of such a notice as might be issued, giving rewards in suitable proportions for text-books or hand-books in the several subjects. Sir George Campbell considers that one of the most useful medical works we could have would be a good hand-book on Indian drugs and indigenous materials used or capable of being used as medicine. He believes it to be the opinion of medical men well qualified to judge that there is an extreme need for a good vernacular hand-book of this kind. It would have to be considered whether a maximum and minimum length should not be set down for each text-book; whether the prize-book should be in English, or in Bengalee, or in both; if in English, how we should get over the difficulty of getting a really scientific, accurate, and intelligible translation of an English prize text-book. As English books will be common to all India, it may be hoped that the Government of India will bear their cost, this Government bearing the cost of translation. The jury who may be appointed to award prizes should have power to award to any deserving but unsuccessful candidate such sum as would recompense him for the cost of compiling and translating his work. The Inspector-General of Hospitals would consider whether the prize-book should be the property of Government, or whether it should be made a condition that the author should bring out a good Bengalee edition of his work at a low price to be fixed by the jury before he received the whole of the reward. The Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to receive at an early date a draft of the notice which should be issued to invite competition. The books will take some time to prepare, and intending competitors should not be hurried; still the need for the text-books is very emergent. The task of the jury who will have to adjudge the prizes will be heavy; and the Inspector-General of Hospitals will consider whether any remuneration should be offered to them.

14. There is one difficulty connected with the vernacular text-book question, on which there was some discussion in the correspondence of 1868-71, namely, the best way of translating or conveying the meaning of scientific terms. Dr. C. Macnamara, in the letter cited at the head of this resolution, describes the method which he and other medical writers (both English and native) recommend to be—

"To employ Bengalee words to express the technical terms made use of, if any such words exist; if not, to transliterate the English or Latin term used, giving in brackets the word in the Roman character, so as to facilitate its proper pronunciation."

This method has been actually employed and found to answer. The Lieutenant-Governor would wish this system to be adopted in all text-books or hand-books competing for the Government prize; he believes it to be practically the best and simplest for pupils and for ordinary readers. He would, however, add this caution to the rule as set out by Dr Macnamara, namely, that the vernacular words used must be real vernacular words understood by all decently-educated people, and not inventions from Arabic or Sanskrit. When there is no really vernacular word for a particular scientific term, instead of coining a new word, the English word must be taken; it should be transliterated and also given in the Roman character after the manner described by Dr. Macnamara.

16. Lastly, the question has to be settled how the cost of these arrangements can be met. The Lieutenant-Governor fears that as matters now stand, the provincial funds can hardly bear the charge; for already Bengal spends on medical charges 11½ lakhs a year; whereas in the decentralization order of 1870-71, the Bengal assignment for medical services was only 9½ lakhs. Still he is convinced that the arrangements now proposed must be made, if medical education in Bengal is to go on at all, and he hopes that the Government of India may be pleased to help in the matter. A copy of this resolution, together with a full statement of the financial bearings of the question, will be laid before His Excellency the Viceroy in Council.

17. Meanwhile the several authorities will be moved to consider and report upon the best way of giving effect to the present orders—

(1) The Chairman of the Justices will be moved to ask the Justices of Calcutta if they will agree to the Pauper Hospital being used for the purposes of the vernacular branch of the Medical College, on the understanding that Government bears all charges over and above what the Justices now spend.

(2) The Commissioners of Dacca and Patna will be moved to appoint committees, on which there should, if possible, be a native medical officer as member, to report upon the site, plans, and cost of additions to the hospital at Patna, and of lecture-rooms and dissecting-rooms at Dacca and Patna close to the hospital. The committees' reports should be submitted with the Commissioner's opinion.

(3) The Commissioner of the Presidency Division, in communication with the Medical College Principal and Council and the Consulting Engineer for State Railways will be moved to report upon the ground, buildings, and cost, and any possible adaptation of buildings required for the vernacular classes at Sealdah, for their Superintendent, and for all their requirements. They will submit their report through the Inspector-General of Hospitals, who is requested to give them any instructions which may be necessary upon subsidiary points.

(4) The Commissioner of Police will be asked to report upon the best site for the Lock-Hospital, when the vernacular classes move to Sealdah. Possibly that Lock-Hospital may be abolished, the accommodation in the Lock-Hospitals being now, it is believed, more than is required.

(5) The Inspector-General of Hospitals will be moved to report, either separately or otherwise, as he may see fit—

(a) In detail after consulting such officers as he may see fit, upon the establishments required for the Sealdah classes and for the medical schools at Dacca and Patna; and upon the feasibility of putting the outside schools under the Civil Surgeon.

(b) Upon the question of the fees to be levied at the Calcutta and other schools, and on the proposal to amalgamate the Calcutta vernacular classes.

(c) On the best way of transferring the native medical pupils to Hindustanee schools of medicine without causing inconvenience or loss, so as to set free the vernacular teachers for Bengalee classes only.

(d) Whether any reduction will be possible in the European staff of the Medical College when the vernacular classes move to Sealdah.

(e) Upon the rules under which selected Civil Surgeons might be encouraged to take medical apprentices at their district dispensaries and hospitals, and on the cost, if any, of such arrangements.

(f) Upon the point whether the one year's practical apprenticeship at a district hospital should be required before or after the candidate for a license passes his native doctor's examination.

(g) Upon the notice which should be issued, and the other arrangements which should be made for inviting the preparation of English and vernacular hand-books or text-books of medicine and surgery.

OPERATIONS OF THE PORT COMMISSIONERS DURING THE YEAR 1872-73.

RESOLUTION.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

MARINE.

Calcutta Port Trust.

Calcutta, the 25th August, 1873.

READ—

The Report of the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta for the year 1872-73.

1. The Lieutenant-Governor has again to congratulate the Port Commissioners on their most successful management of the great public interests entrusted to them, and on the vast benefit to the commercial and general community resulting from their labors. An immense change has been and is being wrought in the Port of Calcutta, and the facilities afforded to trade are increased in a manner for which the warmest acknowledgment of the Government is due to the Commissioners.

2. Para. 5. Progress of Works.—The Lieutenant-Governor observes that out of a total expenditure of Rs. 10,00,451 on new works during the year, a sum of Rs. 1,53,888 has been devoted to improving the accommodation for country boats and cargo boats at the inland vessels wharves. His Honor hopes that the Commissioners will continue to give their attention to providing improved accommodation for traffic of this class; he has already expressed an opinion that facilities should be provided by extensions of the public wharves northwards. The Strand Bank has been made up with only one break in the whole distance between the Armenian and Aheeroetollah Ghâts. The progress of the works and improvements of the wharves is satisfactory. The Lieutenant-Governor must still observe that the sums which it is proposed shortly to devote to accommodation for inland boats seem incommensurate to the largeness of the net receipts from this source. He would suggest that if one light pontoon landing stage proves a success, other stages of this kind might with advantage be added on the long line of boat wharfage.

3. Para. 7.—Although considerable silting has been going on and is still going on behind jetties Nos. 1 to 4, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that the jetties have not had any bad effect on the channel. It is still, however, evident that the silting about the jetty heads will be a source of constant anxiety and expenditure to the Commissioners. His Honor trusts that the dredger which has been ordered from England, and which is expected to reach Calcutta by the end of September, will be an effectual means of keeping down the silting.

4. Paras. 13-16.—The Commissioners expect to complete, during 1873-74, certain works* in hand which will cost them nearly 12½ lakhs of rupees. For these charges they have 12 lakhs available, but the Commissioners will have to provide the difference of Rs. 50,000 from another loan.

* Jetties, inclusive of export sheds.
Inland vessels wharves.
Machinery and plant (completion of Armstrong cranes).
Warehouse on Strand Bank lands.
Extension of new river-side road.

5. Para. 17.—The Lieutenant-Governor observes that at the close of the year 1873-74, when these works are completed, the Commissioners will have spent upon those improvements Rs. 35,34,850, of which Rs. 8,34,850 will have been provided out of their own profits, and the rest by loans from Government.

6. Paras. 20-22.—The question of providing accommodation for the export trade at the jetties has occupied much of the time and attention of the Commissioners during the year. The necessity for making provision at the jetties for the shipping of export cargo is evident, and without this provision the scheme of port appliances would be entirely incomplete.

7. Para. 32.—The aggregate income and expenditure on account of jetties for the past two years is as follows—

	1871-72.	1872-73	Increase.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Income	3,63,706	4,09,440	45,734
Expenditure	2,04,778	2,43,911	39,133

8. Para. 35.—Before the preparation of the budget estimates for the year 1873-74 a sub-committee was appointed to consider whether any reductions might be made in jetty charges, but it was found that, in consequence of the extraordinary charges to be met from the revenue for the repayment of the first instalment of the Government loan and towards the purchase of a dredger, no reductions were feasible, and the current rates have been maintained. The Lieutenant-Governor joins with the Commissioners in hoping that they will be in a position next year to reconsider the question of a reduction.

9. Para. 36.—His Honor is very glad to observe that the Commissioners have established a reserve fund in connection with the jetties at a rate of 10 per cent. on the capital expended on property (such as jetties and cranes) especially liable to injury in case of a cyclone. He is gratified to know that they have accepted the advice which he has given on former occasions, and that under this and other heads they have established the "Reserve," and "Depreciation" Funds, which he considers necessary to prudent finance.

10. Para. 39.—A sub-committee has been appointed to inquire into the occasional complaints that have been made against the working on the jetties. The Lieutenant-Governor is assured that the Commissioners will do all that is in their power to remove the cause of these complaints. It is probable that a sufficient remedy will be afforded by the construction of the new export sheds, which are being constructed large enough to provide temporary accommodation for import cargo in case the import sheds are blocked.

11. Para. 43.—The ordinary income and expenditure on account of inland wharves for two years stand thus—

	1871-72.	1872-73.	Increase.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs
Income	1,98,456	2,01,834	3,378
Expenditure ..	46,043	68,381	22,338

12. Para. 44.—The ordinary income and expenditure of the whole port for the two years is as follows—

	1871-72.	1872-73.	Increase.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Income	4,48,111	5,43,020	94,909
Expenditure ..	2,80,939	3,95,168	1,14,229

13. Para. 50.—The Commissioners have, the Lieutenant-Governor considers, very judiciously and prudently opened a "Depreciation Fund," in order to meet the cost of replacing boats, &c., actually worn out. The fund will consist of a percentage of the value of the block which will be credited to it year after year, the rate of percentage being calculated according to the average durability of the block.

14. Para. 52.—The Lieutenant-Governor views with approbation the reduction which the Commissioners have been able to effect in mooring hire on vessels trading to the port, and which was unequal in its incidence, the rates from June to October being double those payable from November to May. Henceforth the rates for the twelve months will be equal, and on the lower scale; and vessels moved to and from the jetties for the convenience of the Commissioners will be exempted from Harbour Master's charges.

15. Para. 53.—A net amount of Rs. 10,54,940 has been realized for Government during the year on account of pilotage, lights and buoys, and hospital dues, with no risk and no loss to Government, at a cost of Rs. 3,500. The system of maintaining only one agency for the realization of port and pilotage charges payable by vessels, partly to Government, and partly to the Commissioners, seems to have worked satisfactorily; and the thanks of Government are due to the Commissioners for the aid thus afforded.

16. Para. 54.—The number of sea-going vessels which entered and left the port, exclusive of dhoonies, tug and river steamers, has increased from 1,793 in 1861-62 to 1,909 in 1872-73. The gross tonnage of these vessels for those years was 1,337,632 and 2,284,319 respectively. The average tonnage of the vessels employed in the trade of the port, including steamers and sailing vessels, was 746 tons in 1861-62 against 1,196 tons in 1872-73, the average tonnage of the steamers and sailing vessels in the latter year being 1,531 tons and 1,017 tons respectively. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that there is a slight decline in the number of sailing vessels, both in arrivals and departures, from last year as follows—

	1871-72.	1872-73.	Decrease.
Arrivals	655	615	40
Departures	634	628	6
Total ..	1,289	1,243	46

While the steamers have increased as follows—

	1871-72.	1872-73.	Increase
Arrivals	300	338	38
Departures	303	328	25
Total ..	603	666	63

17. Paras. 69-71.—It was a condition in the deed of transfer of the Strand Bank lands that the Commissioners should annually pay to Government a sum of Rs. 40,000 for the maintenance and repairs of the Strand Bank Road from the Chandpal Ghât to the Kidderpore Bridge, the Eden Gardens, and some other works connected with the health and convenience of the residents of Calcutta; but on the application of the Commissioners to forego this annual payment, the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased, under separate orders, to surrender the contribution for two years, and to make over the sum of Rs. 80,000 as a Government donation towards the work of continuing northwards the Strand Bank Road and wharves, and attaining the great object of completing the circle of the town by connecting the Strand Road with the Circular Road at Chitpore. Meantime the Government has undertaken the burden of the works, which are eventually to be met from the Strand Bank fund. The balance of the rent received for the Strand Bank lands will be spent on a river-side road between Aheerectollah Ghât and the Chitpore Canal, which will, His Honor believes, prove a great acquisition to the town of Calcutta.

18. Para. 74.—The Lieutenant-Governor considers it to be altogether desirable that measures should be taken to prevent collisions and to ensure the efficient working and co-operation of the river and jetty police. The details of the Commissioners' proposals are under His Honor's separate consideration.

19. Para. 35.—The Lieutenant-Governor hopes to be in a position to carry out shortly the concentration of office buildings alluded to by the Commissioners.

20. His Honor fully appreciates the great value of the services that have been rendered to the port by Mr. W. D. Bruce, Vice-Chairman, and the energy, diligence, and skill that he has brought to bear upon his duties. He has read with pleasure the testimony borne by the Commissioners to the good service done by the several executive officers of the Port Trust.

21. The Lieutenant-Governor again congratulates the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, and Commissioners on the success of their undertakings, and desires to thank them cordially on behalf of Government and the public for the unremitting care and attention with which they have applied themselves to their duties.

CALCUTTA MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS.

RESOLUTION.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 21st August 1873.

READ—

The Report on the Calcutta Medical Institutions for the year 1872.

1. For the first time the results in the whole of the large medical institutions of Calcutta except the Native Hospital are reviewed together in this report, and the Lieutenant-Governor must thank Dr. Brown and his Secretary, Dr. Macleod, for a very complete and interesting analysis of the statistics bearing upon the health of Calcutta and its suburbs. His Honor would, however, ask the Surgeon-General to consider whether it is really necessary to include in future reports all the detailed tables given in the appendixes. They are more, certainly, than Government requires, and might, it is believed, be materially reduced without impairing the value of the report as a departmental record. No detailed account of the working of the Native Hospital is given in the Report, though the figures are included in the returns, probably because this is an independent institution, which has formed the subject of a Government resolution, dated 1st April last. In future, however, it would be convenient to include this institution also in the general review, and the Lieutenant-Governor cannot but think that the Governors and Dr. Macnamara will willingly give the Surgeon-General the means of doing so.

2. The total number of persons treated at the hospitals and dispensaries during the year was 251,039, or 15,366 more than in the previous year. Of these 20,805 were in-patients, and 231,134 received out-door relief. It is satisfactory to learn that the increased attendance indicates only increasing usefulness in the institutions affected, and not any increase of disease, the year having been indeed, but for the dengue epidemic, very tolerably healthy.

3. Dr. Brown analyses the percentages of age and sex, caste and race, so far as the returns enable him to do so, and compares the results with those of the Census. The percentages as regards sex and age are these—

	Men.	Women.	Children.
As by hospital returns	64·9	16·3	18·8
As by Census*	58·55	26·58	14·86

Women do not therefore seem to attend in proportion to their numbers. This was what might have been expected. As regards caste and race, the percentages are—

	Europeans.	Eurasians.	Mussulmans.	Hindus.	Other castes.
By hospital returns... ...	7·8	9·0	31·9	47·1	4·2
By Census	4·77		29·61	65·05	0·56

Europeans and Eurasians, Mussulmans, and other castes, seem therefore to avail themselves of medical aid more readily than Hindus. This reverses, as regards the Mahomedans, the conclusions of last year based on a comparison of the bare totals of attendance. The figures are incomplete, as no note of race or caste is kept for the native hospital out-patients. The Lieutenant-Governor is sure that the Governors would, if requested to do so by the Surgeon-General, consent to direct the registry of particulars of race and caste in the case of out-door patients in accordance with the system followed in other hospitals.

4. The death-rate on persons treated in the hospitals was 132 per mille, or the same as last year. Excluding cholera, it was 125 as against 127 in 1871. The table given in paragraph 5, comparing as it does not only the hospital rates, but the municipal returns of mortality, shows a great improvement in the public health during the last five years. In 1867 the hospital rate was 191, or, excluding cholera, 175. In 1868 it rose to 199, or, excluding cholera, 179, but since then it has steadily fallen to 132, as stated above. At the same time it must be observed that in comparing the different hospitals an element of uncertainty is introduced into these returns owing to the practice of rejecting cases believed to be hopeless at some of the principal hospitals, and sending them to the Pauper Hospital. Dr. Macnamara states that the growth of this practice is one cause for the diminution of the mortality in the Native Hospital. The Lieutenant-Governor has called for a special report on this subject. The municipal registration figures given in the return show that the death-rates of the last three years for the town generally are lower than those of the three preceding by a very marked difference, but the rate which was 22·6 in 1870 was 23·1 in 1871, and 26·4 in 1872 (not much under the rate of 1867, viz., 27·1). The rise in the rate is apparently to be ascribed chiefly to cholera.

* The figures in the report are not quite correct.

5. Setting aside the extraordinary epidemic of dengue, which, however, among 2,292 persons treated, caused only seven deaths, the table of diseases shows that the prevalent types of maladies were the same as in former years. Of 2,761 deaths, 306 were from fever, 217 from cholera, 301 from phthisis, 217 from dropsy, 682 from dysentery and diarrhœa, 33 from pneumonia, 270 from ulcers, 195 from debility. Bowel complaints account for the heaviest mortality, dysentery and diarrhœa being the most fatal form of diseases. Cholera was more prevalent than in 1871, and the rate of mortality among cases treated was high, 484·3 per 1,000. Typhoid fever was also very fatal, 93 deaths among 132 persons treated. Phthisis, dropsy, and ulcers come next in order of fatality. Small-pox has for some years past been almost unknown—thanks probably to the operations of the Vaccine Department.

6. The remarks made by the Surgeon-General in paragraph 8 as to the importance of fixing precisely the locality of cholera cases, are much to the point, and the Chairman of the Justices will be asked to draw the Health Officer's attention to them.

7. In paragraph 9 it is shown that the healthiest months in the year are those in which the heat is greatest, while the most unhealthy are the cold weather months. The influence of season upon disease is a subject of which very little is accurately known. As the Surgeon-General remarks, the collection of careful statistics may enable us in time to bring in meteorology to assist us in arriving at a clearer theory of causation than we now possess.

8. The Medical College Hospital.—The number of patients relieved by the Medical College Hospital was, in-door, 5,163, out-door, 42,213, the total number being slightly (469) below that of last year. The average daily sick was 266·90. The decrease in the number treated is entirely in out-door patients, and is said to arise from more careful registry, treating each person as one case, irrespective of the number of times he may be treated. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that this system is followed in all the hospitals now. It is very misleading to have the returns compiled on two different systems, and His Honor begs that the Surgeon-General will make sure that the proper plan is understood and followed.

9. The death-rate of the hospital was 115·8 per thousand, against 126·28 in 1871. In cases treated to a termination it was 121·8 as against 134·1. Excluding moribunds dying within twenty-four hours of admission, the rates for 1872 were, on treated, 90·9, and on cases terminated, 95·9. Dr. D. B. Smith gives in his report a very interesting analysis of the mortality rates of the hospital for the past ten years. Among Christian patients they have fallen from an average of about 95 per mille to 56, and among natives from rates ranging from 255 to 309 down to 168. The relative mortality among native patients is ordinarily much higher than among Europeans and Eurasians, but, strangely enough, during 1872 cholera, diarrhœa, liver abscess, and bronchitis were more fatal among the latter than among the former. Indeed the cholera death-rate in this hospital was last year unprecedentedly high, being for Christian patients, 692·3 per mille as against 321·4 in 1871, and for natives 607·4 as against 431·5. The absolute number of cholera patients has no doubt fallen greatly of late years, owing, it is universally admitted, to the improved conservancy and water-supply of the city; but the remarkable fatality of the cases in the Medical College Hospital last year is deserving of attention. The General Hospital returns for Europeans do not exhibit this feature, a fact which, unless explained, would seem to point to local causes affecting the Medical College Hospital rates. From page 68 it seems that of 132 cases, 15 came from ships in the river, 14 from Bow Bazaar, 12 from Chitpore, 11 from the suburb of Simla, and 10 from Bara Bazaar. The Health Officer of the Municipality should have his attention drawn to these facts of locality as soon as they come to notice during the year, that inquiry may be made while the matter is fresh.

10. From the analysis of results in surgical cases given by Dr. Smith, it seems that though not so low as in 1871, 1868, and 1863, the death-rate was less than in any of the other years of the decade, and cases of death by pyæmia and septicæmia were very few, six in all. But nevertheless the figure last year was much higher than in 1870 or 1871. So that it would almost seem as though, notwithstanding the general improvement on an average of years, there had been at work last year some special morbid influence making pyæmia more common. The following table compares the mortality after major surgical operations in the various hospitals. The freedom of the General Hospital from pyæmia is very noticeable.

Major Surgical Operations.

Institutions.	Total.	Died.	Remarks.
Medical College Hospital	211	36	6 from Pyæmia or Septicæmia. The rest from exhaustion, tetanus and other causes.
Ophthalmic Hospital	169	...
General Hospital	17	...
Pauper Hospital	...	...
Police Hospital	...	...
Sukea Street Dispensary ...	6	1	Tetanus.
North Suburban Hospital ...	9	...
Sumbhoo Nath Pundit's Hospital...	37	3	None from Pyæmia.
Alipore Dispensary	2	...
Arratoon Apcar Dispensary ...	...	...
Howrah General Hospital... ...	13	7	Pyæmia 2; gangrene 3.
Native Hospital	92	24	Pyæmia 5.
Total ...	556	71

11. The management of the various branches of the hospital, the lying-in ward, the ophthalmic hospital, the out-door dispensaries, and the dental dispensary, was, as usual, satisfactory.

12. Dr. Brown remarks that no progress has been made during the year towards building a new hospital or providing the present building with the additions which are considered necessary. The idea of erecting a new building had to be abandoned for want of sufficient funds. It was found that a new hospital and college on an approved plan and on a new site would cost not less than 15 lakhs of rupees. As the funds at the disposal of Government would not admit of so large an outlay, an ineffectual appeal was made to the native public through the British Indian Association and to the Justices of the Peace to contribute a portion of the required expenditure. Nothing has yet been done towards improving the present buildings owing to the objections raised by the Medical College authorities to any plan that could be undertaken with reasonable means. The requirements of the college and hospital are, however, steadily increasing, and the Lieutenant-Governor has no option but to do what he can with the money he can make available. He has already contributed to the municipal funds a large sum of money for effecting a thorough drainage of the neighbourhood, and the College Council has been asked to aid His Honor with suggestions for improving the present college and hospital buildings.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the legacy, moneys, and other funds belonging to the hospital have been brought under proper control. As suggested, all the floating deposits and accumulated interest may be at once invested in Government paper.

14. The experiment of training native midwives should certainly not be given up. It is satisfactory to see that three out of the four under tuition have passed the examinations.

15. General Hospital.—The addition to the civil hospital of all the buildings formerly occupied by the military sick make the General Hospital now a really first-class institution capable of accommodating about 300 patients. The average daily number of sick during the year was 182·25, and the death-rate 45·30, a rate below the average of the six years (1865—71) by 18·16, but exceeding that of 1871 by 8·78. The cause of this falling off is shown to have been mainly due to the greater prevalence of cholera.

16. The cholera death-rate was 446·8 per mille, as against 592·5 in 1871 (the result of comparison being the converse of that at the College Hospital); but the absolute number of cholera cases was 92 against 27. The improved rate of mortality of late years is attributed solely to the cases being brought under treatment at an earlier stage. The river-side dispensary will, if established, do much to secure this; but unfortunately the opposition of the military authorities to the erection of any building, however insignificant, on the Strand Bank has prevented its being placed where it would have been of most use.

17. Dr. Ewart draws attention to the sewers that still void themselves into the river, and to which much of the mortality among the sailors is attributed. The Chairman of the Justices will be asked to get a report from the Town Engineer upon this matter, and the Department of Military Works will be requested to report on the state of things as regards the Fort drains and the possibility of improving their arrangements.

18. Dr. Ewart's analyses of results under the other principal diseases are interesting, but call for no special remark further than that careful investigations into the nature of remittent fever ought to be quite possible with the staff, permanent and temporary, attached to the hospital. The fact that all the cases of heat apoplexy or sunstroke (insolatio) recovered is noteworthy. The Lieutenant-Governor does not see that any of our supernumerary Sub-Assistant Surgeons have yet been attached to this hospital.

19. The Surgeon-General's directions as to the mode of treating moribunds in the hospital returns have been approved already. He should see that they are duly attended to in practice.

20. It certainly seems inconvenient that when the hospital has only Rs. 25 a month to spend on books for the sick it should be prevented from buying cheap and second-hand from reading clubs out here, and should have to indent for new ones through the Secretary of State. The Government of India will be asked not to press the rule in the case of this institution, and meantime Dr. Ewart is authorized to buy second-hand books here. Perhaps if it were generally known how books and magazines are valued in a hospital like this many private donors would come forward to assist

21. The Nurses' Institution.—The Calcutta Nurses' Institution has again done much useful work, and though its balances have fallen somewhat, it has been able to increase its staff to supply the wants of the General Hospital. After the year closed, however, Government had to make a special grant of Rs. 2,000 to the Committee of Management to enable them to meet their working expenses, and it is hoped that the ladies of the Committee and the friends of the Institution have since been able to place its finances on a satisfactory footing.

22. The Municipal Pauper Hospital.—The Pauper Hospital, or Lazar House of Calcutta, maintains its high death-rate of 277 per mille, or 202 excluding absolute moribunds. Of the 1,518 deaths among the 5,467 persons under treatment, 303 died within twenty-four hours, and 494 more within a week of admission. Most of the cases when they come in are chronic and beyond all medical skill. Half the admissions are cases rejected by the other hospitals and then brought to the Pauper Hospital, and a large proportion of the remainder are picked up by the police in the streets. Everything has been done that can be reasonably expected to reduce the death-rate and increase the chances of these poor creatures, but without much perceptible effect. The attention of the Justices will be invited, through their Chairman, to Dr. Woodford's representations as to the necessity of enclosing the building and grounds of the hospital. The Lieutenant-Governor also, as intimated in paragraph 4 above, wishes to have full and exact report as to the present practice of the other large hspoitals in rejecting cases or sending them to the Pauper Hospital.

The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Surgeon-General that the present designation of Resident Apothecary is more appropriate than the proposed one of House Surgeon for the apothecaries attached to the Pauper and Police Hospitals.

23. The Police Hospital.—The Municipal Police Hospital returns show that the Calcutta Police is, as a body, healthy, the sick-rate being only 3 per cent. on strength, and the death-rate 2·14. The Chairman of the Justices will again be asked how the work of improving the drainage in the neighbourhood of the hospital is progressing, and his attention will be asked to Dr. Woodford's complaint that the refuse of the adjoining houses is emptied into the hospital compound. The Commissioner of Police will be requested to consider whether sufficient power to maintain proper order and discipline among the patients should not be delegated to the medical officer of the hospital. The Lieutenant-Governor awaits the report promised on the menial establishment of this institution.

24. The Sukea Street Dispensary has been treating a daily average of 101·85 out-door and 7·41 in-door patients. It has been decided to make it over to the Governors of the Native Hospital.

25. The North Suburban Hospital treats only in-door patients. It received 726 during 1872. The mortality rate was high, 26 per cent., accounted for by its being in the main a pauper hospital. The Surgeon-General should communicate with the Committee in order to the opening, if possible, of an out-door dispensary, which is much wanted in this quarter.

26. The Sumbhoo Nath Pundit Hospital has formed the subject of correspondence during the year. It treated 178 in and 6,379 out-patients during the year—a considerable advance on 1871; but the funds will be more usefully applied under the arrangements recently sanctioned, transferring the in-patients to a ward in the General Hospital and maintaining the separate institution as an out-door dispensary only.

27. The Alipore Dispensary is supported almost entirely by Government—a fact not very creditable to the charity of the neighbourhood in which it stands. It relieved 6,038 out and 175 in-patients during the year.

28. The Arratoon Apcar Dispensary at Garden Reach was established and is mainly supported by the liberality of a gentleman of well-known benevolence, Mr. T. Apcar. It relieved 8,402 sick during the year.

29. The Howrah Hospital.—The Howrah General Hospital is an important institution. The average daily sick was—

In-door	...	European	29·18
		Native	22·11
Out-door	...	European	13·92

The total treated amounted to 13,058, and the death-rate, including moribunds, to 218·5; excluding them, to 119·9. The Lieutenant-Governor begs again that the Surgeon-General will issue instructions to all hospitals as to a uniform mode of showing moribunds and cases in the returns. There is evidently from Dr. Elliot's report much uncertainty at present. The death-rate in this hospital appears to be very high as compared with others. From the report, however, it is gathered that the rate among Europeans was last year only 46·90 per mille, or very little over the General Hospital rate. Among the natives, on the other hand, the mortality was very high, 263 among 700 patients. Of these, 149 were moribund when admitted; but even the death-rate among patients not of this class was 194·52 per mille. The cause of this is probably the fact that Howrah is the terminus of a great railway line, and surrounded by factories of various kinds—causes which would bring into hospital many natives who would elsewhere have died in their houses unattended. But a special report on this subject is urgently required.

Europeans ...	Admitted	13
	Death-rate 266 6
Natives ...	Admitted	45
	Death-rate 325·0

31. There has been a falling off in the number of European in-door patients for some years past, attributed (1) to the establishment of the Sailors' Home on the Calcutta side; (2) to the removal of many of the railway staff to Assensole; and (3) to diminished popularity owing to changes in staff. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the last cause at any rate has now been removed. The liberality with which the employés of the East Indian Railway came forward to help the institution when in want of funds shows that its usefulness is appreciated, and the reforms lately introduced ought to have a good effect. The Government contribution to the hospital is liberal, and nothing more can be given should the medical officer's fears of deficiency of funds be realised.

32. The Calcutta Lock-Hospital reports have been reviewed in a separate resolution on the working of the Contagious Diseases' Act in Calcutta.

33. The Lieutenant-Governor will, in conclusion, ask the Surgeon-General to assure the gentlemen under whose able professional management the various institutions above reviewed are placed, of the continued interest which the Government takes in their labors and their results. His Honor's thanks are tendered to each and all of them, but their best reward is the consciousness that they are doing much to relieve suffering and advance the cause of medical science.

CARD SHARPING IN THE HOOGHLY DISTRICT.

No. 306, dated Burdwan, the 21st June 1873.

From—C. T. Buckland, Esq., Commissioner of Burdwan,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Judicial Department.

I have the honor to submit, for the information of Government, copy of a letter No. 298 of 17th June, from the Magistrate of Hooghly, and to recommend that section 11 of Act II (B.C.) of 1867 may at once be extended to the places named in the margin of paragraph 10 of the Magistrate's letter, and along the public road from the Boidyabatty railway station to Tarkessur, and to the towns of Boidyabatty and Bhudessur.

2. The circumstances reported by the Magistrate are very remarkable, and it is very necessary that immediate steps should be taken to put a stop to gambling by means of the well-known "three-card-trick," which is, I fear, an importation of Western science.

3. I regret that the subject was not brought to my notice sooner, as it has evidently run its course for at least a year, and the police have been vainly attempting to stop it under prosecutions for obstructing the road and obstructing the police in the execution of their duty.

4. I believe that a notification of the villages and the road and towns as recommended by the Magistrate will be sufficient for the purposes of the Act. I should be, however, glad to see a more general notification issued for the extension of the law to all towns, villages and places within the district of Hooghly, as such a notification would enable the Magistrate to suppress the offence wherever it appears, as it is only too probable that, if the offence is only prohibited locally, some of the gamblers may shift their quarters and prey on the silly people elsewhere in the district. If this cannot be done, I will direct the Magistrate to propose and submit a more comprehensive list of villages; and, under any circumstances, a clearer definition is needed of the riverside road running beside the Grand Trunk Road.

No. 298, dated Hooghly, the 17th June 1873.

From—F. H. Pellew, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Hooghly,
To—The Commissioner of Burdwan.

In reference to your No. 176, dated 14th ultimo, I have the honor to report on the gambling in the neighbourhood of the Tarkessur Road.

2. With regard to my not having before reported on it, I beg to explain that gambling to an extent requiring special action is only of recent growth; my attention had only been called to it very shortly before the Rajodhurpore dacoity, and then I passed orders to the police to endeavour to deal with it under the general criminal law.

3. It appears that gambling is practised more or less along the whole length of the road from Boidyabatty to Tarkessur; the villages of Chapsarah, Rajodhurpore, and Chinamore (on the road-side) contain most professional gamblers. It is estimated that at these three villages alone not less than seventy persons gain their livelihood by winnings from chance-way-farers going to or returning from the large Sewrafully or Boidyabatty markets held every Tuesday and Saturday.

4. The road from Tarkessur to Boidyabatty is the only one from the interior of the district that leads to the above places. On hât days the road is alive with people for miles, and professional gamblers are then at work from early morning till late at night. Gamblers are in greatest force at Tarkessur, and along this road, when the two great annual festivals at Tarkessur take place in February and April. During the last mêla the District Superintendent noticed a member of a gang of gamblers who was practising near Chapsarah. He was a young Mussulman, a resident of the 24-Pergunnahs, and a khitmudgar by profession; he found on him cards, opium, ganjah, gooli, and kolkis for smoking opium balls. He could give no good account of himself, so the District Superintendent sent him to the Serampore Joint-Magistrate. On the 4th instant, while the District Superintendent was travelling at 5 P.M. along the above-mentioned road, he came upon another gambling party. On the 11th instant, Narain Deen Tewary, Inspector, was passing along the road and was asked to interfere in a case in which the gamblers had gained Rs. 32. The Inspector got hold of them and persuaded them to return their gains to the complainant. Inspector Cavenaugh and the Sub-Inspector of Boidyabatty have caught persons gambling very often.

5. It appears that this gambling was first commenced so late as July last, since which time it has been rapidly on the increase. The professional gamblers are generally of the lower classes of Hindoos, such as Bagdis, Kaorahs, or Koibuttos. But in some cases, as has been shown above, Mussulmans join. Since the 1st January last as many as nine police cases resulting from this gambling have been prosecuted, all of which occurred close to Chapsarah. Eighteen persons were sent up for trial, eleven for obstructing the road by playing cards on it and collecting a crowd, and seven for obstructing the police when attempting to clear the road.

6. Gamblers in this part generally go about in gangs of seven or eight. To each gang is attached a boy of eleven or twelve years old who commences to play first with some other members of the gang. The boy wins and his winnings attract attention. By-and-by people sit down to try their hand with the boy, who, advised by one of the gang generally succeeds in winning his victim's money, then his goods, and sometimes the very clothes he wears; women also are great sufferers, for they generally stake the ornaments they have on their persons.

7. The other members of the gang go up and down the road showing rupees to likely individuals, pretending that they have won these by gambling with the boy.

8. Only three cards are used for gambling purposes. They are quickly shuffled together and thrown out for a person to choose which among them is the one determined upon before hand. The boy who is an expert at the trick invariably wins

9. The naibs, gomashtas, and chowkeedars along the road aid and abet this gambling, as they get a certain share of the winnings. Five chowkeedars of Rajodhurpore, Chapsarah, and Chinamore are notorious gamblers, and the District Superintendent was shown the other day a large well-built bari belonging to the son of a Bagdi chowkeedar, who, a year ago, is said to have had hardly a rag to his back.

10. Though the police protect the people that travel along this road from these gamblers to the best of their ability, they can do but little, and it is only when the road is obstructed or a breach of the peace occurs (by no means an uncommon occurrence) that they can interfere. Besides the Tarkessur Road, gambling prevails on the Grand Trunk Road from Serampore to French Chandernagore and on the river-side road running beside the Grand Trunk Road. I think it therefore desirable that section 11 of Act II of 1867 be extended along the road from Boidyabatty railway station to Tarkessur, and to all the villages marginally noted through which this road passes. At the same time I would suggest that the same section be extended to the towns of Boidyabatty and Bhudessur through which runs the Grand Trunk Road from French Chandernagore, and also the river-side road above alluded to. At Serampore the section is now in force.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 23rd August 1873.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	Remarks.
BENGAL.
	Western Districts.	1873.
Burdwan Division. 1	Burdwan ...	Aug. 26th*	2·51	Weather hot and cloudy. Rain general.	Prospects of crops generally good. Some damage has been done by floods in Culna, sugarcane slightly injured by rain, teel and kalai are being sown.	Fever prevalent.
2	Bancoorah ...	„ 23rd	2·20	Heavy rain in parts of the district; not much at head-quarters.	All are doing well.
3	Beerbhoom ...	„ 23rd	2·61	Heavy showers throughout the week.	Prospects of crops continue favorable.	Fever increasing in south and east of the district and cholera prevalent in some villages.
4	Midnapore ...	„ 23rd	0·67	Rainfall scanty and weather hot.	The scanty fall of rain is what the cultivators most wish, and they would have no objection to its continuance for some time longer. The reports of indigo and silk are average. The rice crop is promising, except in the lowest tracts, where it has been somewhat swamped.
5	Hooghly ...	„ 23rd	0·64	Clear and cloudy; wind from south-east.	The prospects of the crops are satisfactory.
	Howrah ...	„ 23rd	1·84	It rained more or less for four days throughout the district.	Transplanting of amun rice seedlings is nearly completed The rain has done good to all crops on the ground. The ryots have commenced to cut jute.
	Central Districts.
Presidency Division. 6	24-Pergunnahs ...	„ 26th*	1·62	Weather very warm and close.	Transplantation of amun still going on. Aus and jute are nearly ready for the sickle.	General health good, ordinary fever still prevailing at Satkhera and Barreepore.
7	Nuddea ...	„ 23rd	0·72	Hot and sultry ...	Favorable on the whole. Aus dhan is beginning to ripen. The out-turn of indigo is generally very poor. A large area is being sown with chillies.
8	Jessore ...	„ 23rd	1·22	Generally bright and sunny; not much rain. Wind generally from the south-west.	The aus is in some places submerged by the inundation. The prospects of amun are good.
Rajshahye Division. 9	Moorshedabad ...	„ 23rd	0·52	Hotter than last week, and with very little rain. No appearance of more rain.	Crops looking well. Amun backward for want of rain. The out-turn of aus is expected to be above the average in the north. The Bhagiruthee has done some damage in several places.
10	Dinagepore ...	„ 23rd	0·56	A fairly sufficient fall of rain early in the week but the latter portion has been very hot and steamy with very little rain.	More rain is required throughout the district for the winter rice crop both for that which has been planted out and for what remains.
11	Maldah ...	„ 23rd	1·30	The first two days rainy, the last five days warm and dry.	Owing to the scanty rainfall, the prospects of the crops are not good.
12	Rajshahye ...	„ 23rd	1·55	There has been good rain throughout the district during the past week.	The prospect of the rope dhan crop are not favorable notwithstanding the late rain. Aus dhan and the broad-cast amun crops are looking well. Mulberry, sugarcane, and urhur continue to thrive.

* Telegram of the 26th August received on the same day. Shows the rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

BENGAL.—(Contd.)
	Central Districts.—(Contd.)	1873.
Rajshahye Divs. 13	Rungpore ...	Aug. 23rd	5·73	Rain general, but more wanted to the south	Most crops progressing favorably.
14	Bograh ..	„ 23rd	5·21	More rain has fallen ..	The prospects of the crops have improved considerably, transplantation continues. Jute is being cut
15	Pubna ...	„ 23rd	0·23	Weather hot, with little showers of rain	Prospects of the rice crops fair.
Cooch Behar Division. 16	Darjeeling ..	„ 23rd	2·12	Occasional heavy showers and very misty.	In the terai the early crops are now ripening, and are being reaped in some places, the out-turn will not be quite so good as was expected, but the loss will not be serious. About three-fourths of the cold weather crops has been transplanted, the want of sufficient rain will, it is supposed, slightly affect the out-turn. In the hills progress continues favorable
17	Julpigoree .	„ 23rd	6·86	Very seasonable steady rain during the greatest part of the week.	Transplanting of hymunti dhan and cutting of bhadoi going on. All crops promise well.
	Cooch Behar ...	„ 23rd	9·30	Wet with some intervals of sunshine	Favorable. The abundant rain of this week has been very beneficial.
	Eastern Districts.
Dacca Division. 18	Dacca ..	„ 26th*	1·83	Weather dry and hot ..	Prospects of crops good, except in the west of the district where partial failure in amun expected.	Public health good Rivers still very low.
19	Furreedpore ...	„ 23rd	1·72	Hot and close; not much wind Bright sunshine nearly all the week.	The aus crop has almost been reaped; other crops on the whole doing well. The amun in the northern thannahs has suffered somewhat from the rise of the waters after the scarcity of rain.
20	Backergunge ...	„ 23rd	2·42	Rainy, specially during the first half of the week	Good.
21	Mymensing ..	„ 23rd	6·3	Sufficient, but not excessive rain.	Improving ..	River has considerably risen, but is still much lower than is usual at this time of the year.
22	Sylhet ..	„ 16th	7·57	Wet and cool ...	Hopeful, if the present weather continues.
23	Cachar ...	„ 16th	2·43	Cloudy, with rain	Weather favourable for the rice crops T prospects good.
Chittagong Divs. 24	Chittagong ...	„ 16th	9·05	Rainy and cloudy ...	Crops promising, but transplantation not yet completed	No report from the sub division Cholera still hanging about the north of the district.
25	Noakhally ...	„ 16th	10·86	Rainy and cloudy .	Aus dhan is nearly gathered in, and the transplanting of amun dhan not yet completed.
26	Tipperah ..	„ 23rd	3·22	Heavy rain at commencement of week, since hot and oppressive. Rainfall at Brahmunbariah 1·04	The south and centre of the district still send sufficently favorable reports, but the north requires rain, as the crops are scanty on account of the comparative drought
27	Chittagong Hill Tracts	„ 16th	5·55	Steady drenching rain throughout the week.	Aus dhan ripening. General prospects satisfactory.
	Hill Tipperah ...	„ 16th	4·23	Strong southerly wind, with occasional rain; generally cloudy.	Ploughing and sowing going on. Prospects good.
BEHAR.
Patna Divs. 28	Patna ..	„ 26th*	0·08	Weather very hot and close.	So far favorable to the crops, inasmuch as the floods are abating.	Sporadic cases of cholera throughout the district except in Behar where it still bears the epidemic form.

* Telegram of the 26th August received on the same day.

	No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known	State and prospects of the crops at date	Remarks
BEHAR.—(Contd.)			1873.
Patna Division.—(Contd.)	29	Gya ...	Aug 23rd	0·13	Clear and sunshine ..	Bhadoi crops very much injured, especially near rivers overflowing their banks. Paddy promising. Transplanting actively going on.
	30	Shahabad ...	„ 23rd	1·	Clear, but hot weather; no rain to speak of.	Aghani crop promising. Dry weather has done good to the bhadoi crop after the recent heavy rain. No returns from Bhubhooah.	Cholera subsiding.
	31	Tirhoot ..	„ 23rd	1·21	Hot, cloudy and sometimes rainy.	A good deal of rain has fallen in the north and north-east of the district, and there has been a great rise of the rivers Gunduck, Chota Gunduck, and Bagmati. The prospect of dhan is better here, bhadoi crops continue good. More rain is wanted for rice crop in other parts of the district	Cholera still prevails in several parts of the district.
	32	Sarun	„ 23rd	0·30	Weather close and sultry drizzling rain on Wednesday and Friday. Prevailing wind west.	Bhadoi crops are favorably progressing, early Indian corn is nearly ready to be harvested. Manufacture of indigo (first cuttings) and the transplantation of paddy seedlings are almost finished, second indigo crop hopeful.	Cholera and small-pox decreasing
	33	Chumparun .	„ 23rd	2 3	Sultry Light showers of rain now and then.	Bhadoi continues promising Rice prospects fair, more rain wanted in parts of the Betheah sub-division.	Cholera still reported in the ouh of the districts.
Bhaugulpore Division.	34	Monghyr ..	„ 23rd	1 21	Seasonable ...	The prospects are fair. In some places, however, the crops have been damaged by excessive rain. Report from sub-divisions favorable.
	35	Bhaugulpore ..	„ 26th*	0·30	Scarcely any rain, but heavy dews to the south of the Ganges, heavy rain to the north during the week	Bhadoi crops on the whole good, much rain is required to enable more paddy to be transplanted and for the benefit of that already transplanted.	General health good
	36	Purneah .	„ 23rd	2·98	Stormy ...	More rain wanted for transplanting aghany. Reaping of bhadoi has begun; an eight-annas crop expected.
	37	Sonthal Pergunnahs ..	„ 23rd	2·69	From the floods in the More, which is the great drain of the country between Doomka, Godda, and Deoghur, it appears that there must have been heavy rain.	Dhan and janera doing well. Everywhrere dhan almost all planted out.
ORISSA.
Orissa Division.	38	Cuttack ..	„ 26th*	0·02	Weather unequal Rainfall 4·2 at Kendrapara. None at Jajpore.	Prospects of crops fair, but rain much wanted especially for sarud.	Public health good as far as known.
	39	Pooree ..	„ 16th	2·54	The weather has been hot, with occasional showers of rain. Rainfall at Khoorda 2·11.	The weeding and transplanting operations in sarud fields of pergunnahs Rahang, Kotrahang, and Kotdish, were finished by the end of last week. Transplanting is still going on in sarud fields of pergunnahs Chowbiscood, Mulood, Bajrakot, and others. The seed grain sown in beali fields of pergunnahs Kotdish, Rahang, Lembai, and others, is shooting, and the young plants seem thriving. The other miscellaneous cold weather crops are promising Want of more rain is still felt by the people of the mofussil, viz at Banpore, Chowbiscood, and Parbodnai. Khoordha.—The rice crop continues still to be favorable. The process of transplanting is rapidly in progress. Linseed, cotton, jute, mandia, and other miscellaneous crops are also promising.

* Telegram of the 26th August received on the same day.

No.	District.	Date of return from each district.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather in the district as far as known.	State and prospects of the crops at date.	Remarks.
ORISSA.—(Contd.)		1873.
Orissa Divs. 40	Balasore ..	Aug. 23rd	0·81	Sun powerful and air close.	Generally promising. The usual operations being carried on with the sarud rice. Partial injury to the young crops on the south-west of the district from drought.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
41	Hazareebaugh ...	„ 23rd	2·67	Rain fell during the first three days of the week, but it has been fine since.	Crops doing well, transplanting paddy still going on.
42	Lohardugga ...	„ 23rd	2·34	Seasonable ...	In Chota Nagpore the prospects are very favorable. In Palamow the prospects of the rice, til, and cotton crops are good, but the maksi, goondli, and marwa crops have suffered severely from heavy rains.
43	Singbhoom ..	„ 16th	2·05	Favorable. Open weather during part of the week; sufficient rain has now fallen; and a few days of sunshine are required.	Favorable	Cholera abating in Ghatsella. Cholera reported at Seraikeyla. Two fresh cases in the jail.
44	Manbhoom ...	„ 23rd	0·18	Favorable ...	The crops are doing well, and have benefited by the late sunny weather.	A few cases of cholera still occur.
ASSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS.
45	Goalparah .	„ 16th	0·78	Cloudy and rainy, with occasional intervals of sunshine; atmosphere humid and cool.	Prospects of winter crops are not very hopeful on account of scanty falls of rain during the time of transplantation. State of other crops good.
46	Kamroop .	„ 25th	Nil	The weather was fine, hot and clear with occasional clouds.	Aus crop is almost gathered, outturn deficient. Shalee dhan is being transplanted, and looks poorly. Prospects of tea, cotton, and sugarcane favorable.	Public health good
47	Durrung ...	„ 16th	0·99	Sultry, no breeze; hot nights and mornings.	The aus dhan is being reaped—a full crop. Tea planters want more rain to bring out the leaf, which out-turn has been falling off lately.
48	Nowgong ...	„ 16th	4·16	Smart showers occasionally, with light south-westerly breeze, but rainfall scanty for time of year.	More rain wanted, or the salee crop will suffer. Weather seasonable and good for tea operations.	Cholera reported to be decreasing in the Chapori Mehals. A few cases of cattle murrain still reported.
49	Seebsaugor ...	„ 16th	5·97	Fair days; heavy rain at night.	There has been rain during the week, which was much wanted, and rice-planting is going on more briskly. Tea doing well.
50	Luckimpore ...	„ 16th	6·04	It rained every night and in the early morning, except one, during the week. The days were cloudy and comparatively cool. At North Luckimpore days hot, with rain in the early morning.	Crops promising well ...	Public health generally good.
51	Naga Hills ...	„ 9th	2·69	The weather has been all that could be wished for both in the hills and plains.	Favorable reports are now being received from all sides. The early joom dhan is now being cut, and an average crop is expected.
52	Khasi & Jynteah Hills	„ 16th	2·55	The weather is seasonable, but the rainfall is still below the average.	The standing crops are doing well.

ASSAM AND ADJACENT HILLS.—(Contd.)		1873.
53	Garo Hills	Aug. 16th	5·37	The weather has been seasonable, and good deal of rain has fallen.	In some of the villages the rice crop is rather backward In some places the Garos have reaped, in others the crop is ripe, and in others again it is backward. The drought in the early part of the season was prejudicial to the crops in some places The cotton crop looked fair, but until the dhan is removed, it is impossible to tell whether the out-turn will be good.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

The following resolution, passed at an official meeting of the East Indian Railway, regarding a reduction in the carriage of rhea fibre, is published for general information :—

Office Memo. No. 1325G-R, dated Simla, the 31st July 1873.

From—LIEUT-COL. K. C. PYE, Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of India, Public Works Dept.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Dept. of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce.

THE undersigned is directed to forward for information the accompanying copy of Resolution No. 473, passed at the official meeting of the East Indian Railway, No. 30 of 1873, on the subject of a reduction in the rate of carriage of rhea fibre.

Extract from Official Meeting No. 30, East Indian Railway, held on the 19th June 1873.

SUBMITTED the following extract from minutes of Agency Meeting No. 24, held on 17th instant :—

"Submitted Traffic Manager's No. 4451 of 9th instant, and enclosures.

"Lieutenant-Colonel Thelwall, of Mussoorie, inquired of the Traffic Manager if the Railway Company would be prepared to convey rhea fibre, when pressed, at the same rates as jute, hemp, &c., viz. 1st class, and stated that the manufacturers in England at present would only purchase the fibre in large quantities when in a very raw state, and that the fibre is therefore prepared of three qualities, the lowest being worth from £10 to £14 per ton in London, the second quality being worth from £15 to £20 per ton, and the first from £25 to £30 per ton, but that the second and third qualities are most in demand and produced at present. Further, that the expenses of cultivating and manufacturing, &c., &c., are very heavy, and unless the planters can secure their produce being carried to the seaports at a rate which will leave them some margin for profit, it would be useless their extending the cultivation on a large scale; that the produce of this fibre in the North-Western Provinces might be unlimited, should it be proved that it can be produced as a remunerative crop, the great obstacle now existing to its extensive development being the high rates of railway freight now ruling. The Traffic Manager replied that he did not see his way at present to recommend the Agency to reduce the rate as requested; that the article was admittedly a valuable one, and the higher class fibres could easily bear the higher rates; that it does not give the Company a full load for their wagons in weight; that he would be glad to do all he could to encourage a remunerative traffic, but that the amount the Company would earn at the reduced rate would not be sufficient to warrant the reduction; that after hearing again from Colonel Thelwall he would be glad to refer the matter to the Agency if he wished it, but that he could not recommend them to agree to his proposal or to bind the Company to so low a rate until something more was known of the traffic.

"Colonel Twelwall explained that the rhea was pressed into bales of 320lb each, covered with gunny and fastened with iron ties; that 7 bales go to the ton; and that the area occupied by a ton would be from 52 to 56 cubic feet; that the fibre in a rough state is what the London firms require, and that the high rate of freight at present is one of the great difficulties; that in a few years the cultivation of rhea will probably increase to an enormous extent if proper encouragement is given to induce its extension.

"The Traffic Manager of the Delhi Railway, to whom a similar representation was made by Colonel Thelwall, agreed with Mr. Batchelor that an alteration of rate at present was not desirable.

"At Colonel Thelwall's desire the matter has been placed before the Agency for decision.

"In the Agency's opinion rhea screwed to 8 feet per bale of 320lb may fairly be called fully screwed, and would give a full load.

"As regards value, it is sold by 'ton' and not per 'lb,' and the lowest quality is not much above jute, less than one-fourth that of cotton."

"No. 2377.—Resolved, that as this is a new trade which requires development, and as its conveyance will extend over the entire length of the line, the Agency are prepared to reduce to 1st class all rhea fibre screwed to 8 feet per bale of 300lb, but would let half-screwed bales stand as at present, viz. 2nd class."

With reference to Resolution No. 474 of Official Meeting No. 35 of 1872—

473.—Resolved, that the Resolution of the Agency be recorded, the reduced rate to take effect from 1st August next.

No. 1959, dated Simla, the 31st July 1873.

The Governor-General in Council observes that of late sanction has been frequently asked for immediate expenditure for which no provision has been made in the estimates of the current year.

His Excellency in Council desires to remind local Governments and Heads of Departments that, save for exceptional reasons, such expenditure should not be proposed, and cannot be sanctioned.

Whenever therefore a proposition of this kind is made, the fact that provision has not been made for the desired expenditure in the estimates should be prominently set forth, as well as the particular reasons why it is nevertheless considered indispensably necessary that the outlay should be immediately incurred and should not be postponed to the next financial year. Explanations should also be invariably given why the need for the expenditure was not foreseen in time to obtain sanction for its inclusion in the estimates.

In the absence of such special arguments, the Governor-General in Council will in future assume that it is intended that any expenditure proposed should have effect from the beginning of the following financial year and not earlier.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India, to the several local Governments, to the Heads of Departments under the Financial Department, to the Comptroller-General, and to the several Accountants-General and Deputy Accountants-General in independent charge.

The 19th August 1873.—The following proclamation, regarding the rates of road cess fixed by the Road Cess Committee of Hooghly, and regarding the liabilities and rights of ryots under the District Road Cess Act, has been issued in Bengali and English to the people of the Hooghly district, and is now published :—

PROCLAMATION.

DISTRICT OF HOOGHLY.

1. THE road cess leviable under Bengal Act X of 1871 has been imposed by the Road Cess Committee of the district of Hooghly for the road cess year 1873-74, at the rate of one pice per rupee on the assessed value of all lands, and also on mines, &c.; and at the rates following on the houses of persons who do not pay road cess, and on shops :—

Dwelling houses estimated to be of the present value of—

						Yearly Cess. Rs.	A.	P.
Not less than Rs.	100	but less than Rs.	500	...		0	8	0
„ „	500	„ „	1,000	...		1	8	0
„ „	1,000	„ „	2,000	...		2	4	0

2,000 and upwards, one rupee and eight annas.
for every 1,000 or part thereof of estimated present value.

Shops and buildings used for purposes of trade whose estimated present value is more than Rs. 25 and less than Rs. 100, to pay a yearly cess of 8 annas.

2. But municipalities in which the District Municipal Improvement Act and District Towns' Act are in force, are exempt from all road cess. The road cess is leviable from the zemindars, under-holders, and ryots, with each instalment of revenue or rent due, from and after 1st October next.

3. The rates at which the tax has been imposed have been notified by the Collector in the district and published in the Gazette, as required by Section 75 of the Act. Notice of the amount payable will also be given to the owner of each estate; and the Board of Revenue will circulate particulars of the modes, rates, and conditions under which the tax is to be levied by and from the various classes of tenure-holders and cultivators.

4. This proclamation is chiefly to inform the ryots of their liabilities and rights.

5. From and after 1st October next every ryot in the district of Hooghly is bound to pay to the person to whom his rent is payable, and along with his rent, half the rate of road cess imposed by the committee: that is, the ryot is to pay half of a pice for every rupee of rent. This tax then is of the nature of a cess at half a pice per rupee of rent payable by each ryot. By the provisions of the regulations no other cess is legal or recoverable by law; this one cess only has been imposed by law, and the zemindars and other holders are authorized to levy it at the rate named above.

6. As regards the house-tax, all house and shopholders are warned that they are not liable to pay the tax in any case unless the house or shop has been included, with the value thereof, in a roll of houses, assessed to the road cess posted in the village as the Act, Section 43, requires. All agricultural ryots and all landholders who carry on no other trade or profession are exempt from this house-tax. All houses of less than Rs. 100 value, and all shops of less than Rs. 25 value, are also exempt from this tax.

7. All persons assessed to the road cess are informed and assured by the Government that every pice levied under the Act will be spent in the district in which it is raised to improve the local roads, canals, and rivers, in the district, for the benefit of the inhabitants; nothing will be diverted to any other purpose than that which the law directs.

8. Sub-divisions of the district will be arranged, and a fair proportion of the proceeds of the tax will be apportioned for the petty roads of that sub-division. That money will be distributed and spent by local men, trusted by the inhabitants, who will be selected or elected for the purpose. Every tax-payer is encouraged and invited to claim that the tax shall be fairly applied to the village roads and local paths or water channels in which he is interested. The Government will use every effort to see that such local claims are fairly met, and that every tax-payer derives a fair benefit from the tax which he pays.

The following order issued by the Government of India in the Foreign Department is republished for general information :—

No. 1899.—Simla, the 22nd August 1873.—Notification.—Political.—Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, Foreign Department.—READ again the following correspondence on the classification of the Political Service under the Government of India :—

To Financial Department, No. 602G, dated 22nd March 1872.
To Secretary of State for India, No. 26, dated 19th April 1872.
To " " " " " 73, " 11th October 1872.
To Financial Department, No. 2356P, dated 19th December 1872.

RESOLUTION.—His Excellency in Council observes that at present the pay of political appointments is local, and came to be fixed at the present rate from a variety of circumstances, often of a fortuitous character, such for instance as the standing of the particular officer who was selected for the post for the time being, or the temporary importance of the particular duty out of which the appointment originated.

2. The attachment of fixed pay to particular appointments, other than the very highest and most important, leads to many difficulties and complications. One of the most obvious inconveniences is that once an officer has been appointed to a Political Agency, it is often difficult to transfer him to another Agency, where his services would be of more advantage to Government. Still more frequently, however, the effect of the present system is to render a transfer necessary when there are the strongest reasons against it. When, for instance, the time comes for the promotion of an officer who has done good service in a particular appointment, and has acquired a valuable degree of knowledge of a Native State, there is no means at present of doing him justice except by removing him to another and more highly paid appointment. Often, indeed, the character of the work is known to be so very different, that, in preference to filling up a vacancy by offering it to an officer of merit who has gained his experience elsewhere, it is found necessary to nominate one who, though of lower standing and possibly of inferior merit, has the accidental advantage of possessing to a larger extent the local knowledge and special experience which are felt to be indispensable. In such cases the result is inequality of promotion, and consequent uncertainty in the prospects of officers.

3. His Excellency in Council has therefore resolved henceforth to make the pay of Political Officers, except in the highest grades, personal, instead of being attached either to one particular place or to one particular class of appointments, so that an officer will carry with him the pay of the grade to which he belongs, to whatever post he may be appointed.

4. The officers holding the highest political appointments will be graded as Residents in three classes, and the salaries to be drawn by them will be local, and attached to the appointments they hold. The arrangement now sanctioned is set forth in the following table :—

5. There remain 35 other political appointments, of which a list is given in the margin. The officers holding these appointments will be graded as Political Agents and Political Assistants; and in each grade there will be three classes. In all cases the salaries will be personal, and not local. The arrangement is shewn in the following table :—

Classification.		Designation.	Rate of pay	Total pay of class.

6. Special allowances will be attached to certain appointments to which special considerations are applicable. These allowances will be drawn by the officer who may hold the appointment for the time being, and will not be drawn by an officer on leave or calculated in furlough allowances. The allowances and the appointments to which they are attached are the following:—

Appointments.	Monthly allowance.

* Besides Rs. 500 payable from Berar revenues.

7. His Excellency in Council believes that these arrangements are calculated to conduce to the greater efficiency of the political service, to define more clearly the position and prospects of Political Officers, and to enable the Government of India to make better arrangements than are now practicable both for the selection of candidates for political employment in the first instance, and for the transfer of officers to different appointments from time to time as circumstances may require. At the same time His Excellency in Council desires most carefully to guard against the impression that the reorganization and grading of the service is intended to interfere with the power which the Governor-General in Council has hitherto exercised, and in the public interests must continue to exercise, of selecting from any of the branches of the public service for political employment, especially in the higher grades, any officer whom he may consider to possess the necessary qualifications and special aptitude for political duty. There is probably no department of Government service in which it would be more undesirable in making selections for appointments to be guided solely by departmental or seniority claims.

8. The above arrangements cannot be introduced at once, but they will be acted on as vacancies occur and as opportunity offers; and they will not be permitted injuriously to affect the allowances, whether substantive or officiating, enjoyed by present incumbents.

9. This Resolution does not apply to political appointments held ex officio in combination with military commands, such as the appointment of Political Agent in Western Malwa, Superintendent of Hill Tracts, Meywar, &c.

ORDERED, that a copy of the above Resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

CIRCULAR.

IN accordance with paragraph 10 of the Resolution of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, dated 5th October 1872, and in conformity with a notification by the Commissioner of the Presidency Division dated 30th April 1873, an Examination of Candidates for Junior Scholarship, who desire to obtain the certificates of qualification in Drawing, Surveying, and Physical Geography, will be held in the Kishnaghur College, Jessore Zillah School, Calcutta Normal School, and the University Hall, College Square, Calcutta, on the 15th and 16th of September.

2. A fee of one Rupee will be paid by each candidate to the Head Master of the school to which he belongs; the Head Master will send nominal lists of candidates, who have paid the fees, to the Inspector of Schools, Presidency Circle, No. 22, Chowringhee Road, on or before the 9th September, and, in accordance with para. 12 of the said Resolution, will credit the fees collected to the funds of their schools.

3. The candidates must be furnished with certificates of having paid their fees, and produce them to the Officer in charge of the Examination at each centre, in order to be admitted to it.

4. Each candidate will deliver in the course of the day (at such time as may be convenient to the Officer in charge of the Examination) the specimens of his Survey works and drawings done during the year. The Officer in charge of the Examination will see that each sheet of the specimens submitted is signed by the Head Master of the candidate's school, which will be understood as the Head Master's certificate, that the sheet so signed is the genuine work of the candidate.

5. For the Surveying Paper each candidate will be allowed to bring into the examination a scale, a ruler, a protractor, and a pair of compasses.

6. The examination at each centre will be superintended by the following officers:—

UNIVERSITY HALL	...	The Inspector and the Deputy Inspector of Calcutta.
CALCUTTA NORMAL SCHOOL	...	Babu Gopal Chandra Banerjee, Head Master of the School.
KISHNAGHUR COLLEGE	...	Babu Sripati Mukherjee, Deputy Inspector of Schools, Nuddea.
JESSORE SCHOOL ...	...	Babu Jagut Chandra Banerjee, Deputy Inspector of Jessore, and Head Master, Jessore School.
PURULIA ...	...	Deputy Inspector and Head Master, Zillah School.
HAZARIBAG ...	...	Ditto	ditto	ditto.
RANCHI ...	...	Ditto	ditto	ditto.
CHYBASA ...	...	Ditto	ditto	ditto.

The examination will commence at half past 10 o'clock each day.

The Examiners are H. H. Locke, Esq., Principal of the School of Art; and Dr. Robson, Professor of the Presidency College.

H. WOODROW, M.A., Inspector of Schools, Presidency Circle.

No. 22, CHOWRINGHEE ROAD, the 2nd September 1873.

RULES FOR THE EXAMINATION OF CANDIDATES FOR SURVEY TEACHERSHIPS.

1. AN examination of candidates for certificates of qualification for employment as survey teachers will be held at the Presidency College, and at such other stations as the Director of Public Instruction may appoint, on the first Monday in February and August.

2. Candidates desirous of appearing at the examination must give notice to the Principal of the Presidency College of their intention one month before the date fixed for the examination, and they must state at the same time in what language they wish to be examined.

3. Each candidate for examination in English must forward with his application a fee of Rs. 4; and each candidate for examination in a vernacular language must forward with his application a fee of Rs. 2.

4. A paper of questions will be given in each of the following subjects:—

I. Surveying.—Including surveying by chain only, compass and chain, and by the plane table.

II. Mensuration—Of lines, surfaces, and solids.

III. Drawing.—Geometrical construction of figures, scales, plans, elevations, and sections of simple buildings or bridges.

Each candidate will also be required to make a survey of a piece of ground to be selected by the officer in charge of the examination, or by some person or persons appointed for the purpose by the Commissioner of the Division. This survey should be executed with the chain and compass, and should be of such extent as to occupy not less than three hours, during which time the persons in charge of this part of the examination should be present on the ground.

The field-book on the completion of the survey will be given to the officer in charge of the examination, and it will be plotted in his presence: as soon as the work of plotting is finished, the field-book and plan will be at once despatched to the Principal of the Presidency College.

5. The paper examination will take place on the same day all over Bengal. It is not necessary that the surveys should take place at the time of the paper examination; but they ought not to be delayed more than a month after the paper examination.

6. Full marks for each of the papers will be 100, and for the practical surveying 200; and in order to pass, a candidate must obtain half marks in each branch.

FORT WILLIAM, the 20th August 1873. W. S. ATKINSON, Director of Public Instruction.

EDUCATIONAL NOTICE.

IN the Burdwan Division the 18th and 19th of September are fixed for the preliminary examination of all candidates for junior scholarships who wish to qualify in Physical Geography, Surveying, and Drawing.

The following rules are issued in accordance with paragraph 11 of the Junior Scholarship Rules, for the guidance of those whom they may concern :—

1. Candidates from schools in the Districts of Hooghly, Howrah, and Burdwan, will present themselves for examination at the Hooghly College. Candidates from schools in the districts of Midnapore, Beerbhoom, and Bancoorah, will present themselves for examination at the Midnapore High School, the zillah schools of Bancoorah and Beerbhoom, respectively.

2. The Vice-President of each District Committee is requested to appoint a special committee of not less than three members of the local committee to hold the examination on the days fixed as above. The Secretary to the District Committee should, if possible, be a member of the special committee.

3. The Head-master of each school which sends a candidate to the examination should despatch to the address of J. R. Swindon, Esq., Professor of Engineering, Hooghly College, in a registered cover, well secured and sealed, specimens of each candidate's survey work and drawing, so as to reach its address on or before the 18th of September. Specimens submitted after that date will not be examined.

4. Two sheets of drawing and specimens of surveying with compass and field book, as well as with compass and plane table, must be submitted. Each sheet must be attested by the signature of the candidate and the Survey Master under whom he has studied. To each set of specimens will be attached a certificate in the following form :—

This is to certify that the specimens of Drawing and Surveying, signed by (here enter the name of candidate), of the (here give name and description of school) school, were prepared by him in school hours under the supervision and without the aid of the Survey Master.

Date———— (Sd.)————————

Head-Master.

5. The Head-master of each school should give a certificate to each candidate sent up by him, certifying that he has paid the prescribed fee, and that he has studied for twelve months in the school. Candidates presenting themselves without a certificate to this effect will not be admitted to the examination.

6. On each day of examination the question papers will be distributed at 11 A.M. Any candidate presenting himself more than ten minutes late will not be admitted. The answers of each candidate to each paper of questions must be finished and given in within three hours.

Toolsey Dass Roy, by his Attorney, C. F. Hunt.

The advertisement calling the meeting having been read by the Chairman—

It was proposed by S. Bird, and seconded by H. D. Thompson, and carried:—

That the Directors' reports and accounts for the half-year ended 30th June last, be adopted and passed as correct.

It was proposed by E. W. Burgett, and seconded by A. Strand, and carried:—

That a dividend be declared on the capital of the Company free of income-tax, at the rate of 7½ per cent. for the half-year, payable on and after 30th instant.

It was proposed by Khetter Mohun Mullick, and seconded by S. Bird:—

That the appointment of Mr. Shearin as a Director in room of Captain H. P. Lovell, resigned, be confirmed.

After the business for which the meeting was convened had been disposed of, several questions were put to the Chairman as to the alleged damage done to the Company's property by fire.

Satisfactory assurances were given that the damage done was slight, and the following telegram, dated 29th August, from the Assistant Manager at the mines, showing that the means adopted for flooding the adjacent mines had proved successful, was read, viz.—"Singaran: Water rushing into shaft No. 13."

Votes of thanks to the Chairman, proposed by N. Macmichael, seconded by E. Vancutsem, and to the Directors and Secretaries, proposed by E. W. Burgett, seconded by Khetter Mohun Mullick, terminated the proceedings.

PART V.

Acts of the Legislative Council of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third Publication.]

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 7th August 1873, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XII OF 1873.

An Act for the Repeal of certain Obsolete Enactments.

Preamble

Whereas it is expedient that the enactments mentioned in the schedule to this Act, which have ceased to be in force otherwise than by express and specific repeal, or have by lapse of time and change of circumstances become unnecessary, or which merely repeal prior enactments, should be expressly and specifically repealed; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Enactments in schedule repealed.

1. The enactments described in the schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of the same schedule :

Provided that the repeal by this Act of any enactment shall not affect any Statute, Act, or Regulation in which such enactment has been applied, incorporated, or referred to :

And this Act shall not affect the validity or invalidity of anything already done or suffered, or any indemnity already granted, or any right or title already acquired or accrued, or any remedy or proceeding in respect thereof, or the proof of any past act or thing.

Nor shall this Act affect any principle or rule of law, or established jurisdiction, form, or course of pleading, practice, or procedure, or existing usage, custom, privilege, restriction, exemption, office, or appointment notwithstanding that the same respectively may have been in any manner affirmed, recognised, or derived by, in, or from any enactment hereby repealed :

Nor shall this Act provide or restore any jurisdiction, office, custom, privilege, restriction, exemption, usage, or practice not now existing or in force.

Short title

Commencement.

2. This Act may be cited as "The Repealing Act, 1873"; and it shall come into force on the passing thereof.

And it shall come into force at once: Provided that sections four to sixteen (both inclusive), nineteen, twenty, twenty-four, and twenty-nine, shall not come into force in Coorg, or in the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, or in any of the dominions of the Princes and States in India in alliance with Her Majesty not situate within the limits of any Presidency, Lieutenant-Governorship, or Chief Commissionership in British India, until such day or respective days as the Governor-General in Council from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoints in this behalf.

Repeal of Acts.

2. Acts No. XXI of 1869 (to provide against European Vagrancy) and No. XXVIII of 1871 (to amend the European Vagrancy Act, 1869) are hereby repealed.

But all appointments and orders made, workhouses provided, certificates given, powers conferred, rules prescribed, and exemptions granted, under the former Act, shall be deemed to have been respectively made, provided, given, conferred, prescribed, and granted under this Act.

Interpretation-clause.

3. In this Act—

"Person of European extraction."

"Person of European extraction" includes Americans and Australasians:

"Vagrant."

"Vagrant" means a person of European extraction found asking for alms, or wandering about without any employment or visible means of subsistence:

"Master of a ship."

"Master of a ship" includes any person in charge of a decked vessel:

"Magistrate."

And in Parts III and V of this Act "Magistrate" means, within the limits of the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, a Magistrate of Police, and, outside those limits, a person exercising powers under the Code of Criminal Procedure not less than those of a Magistrate of the second class.

PART II.

PROCEDURE.

Power to require apparent vagrant to go before Magistrate.

4. Any Police officer may within the limits of the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, require any person who is apparently a vagrant to accompany him or any other Police officer to, and to appear before, the nearest Magistrate of Police, and may, without those limits, require any such person to accompany him or any other Police officer to, and to appear before, the nearest Justice of the Peace exercising the powers of a Magistrate of the first class under the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Summary inquiry into vagrant's circumstances.

5. The Magistrate of Police or Justice shall make a summary inquiry into the circumstances and character of the alleged vagrant; and if he is satisfied that such person is a vagrant, he shall record in his office a declaration to that effect.

Order to go to workhouse.

If he is further of opinion that the vagrant is not likely to obtain employment at once, or if he has reason to believe that a declaration of vagrancy has on any former occasion been recorded in respect of such vagrant, he shall require the vagrant to go to a Government workhouse, and shall draw up an order to that effect.

The vagrant shall then be placed in charge of the Police for the purpose of being forwarded to the workhouse, and the said order shall be a sufficient authority to the Police for retaining him in their charge while he is on his way to the workhouse, and to the governor of the workhouse for receiving and detaining such vagrant.

Forwarding vagrant to place of employment.

6. Where the officer making the inquiry mentioned in section five is of opinion that the vagrant is likely to obtain employment in any place subject to the local Government, or (when the vagrant is in any part of the said dominions) in any place subject to the nearest local Government, such officer may in his discretion forward the vagrant to such place in charge of the Police and draw up an order to that effect.

Such order shall be a sufficient authority to the Police for retaining the vagrant in their charge while he is on his way to such place of employment.

Assistance to obtain employment.

7. Upon his arrival at the place of employment the vagrant shall be taken before the nearest Magistrate of Police or Justice of the Peace exercising powers as aforesaid, to whom the order for transmission shall be delivered.

Such officer shall thereupon, to the best of his ability, assist the vagrant in seeking employment, and may in the meantime, if he think fit, keep the vagrant in the charge of the Police.

Should the vagrant fail to obtain suitable employment within a reasonable time not exceeding fifteen days from such arrival, such officer shall forward him to a Government workhouse in the manner provided by section five.

Subsistence allowance.

8. Every person while in charge of the Police, whether before inquiry as to his vagrancy, or while he is on his way, under section five, to the workhouse, or, under section six, to a place of employment, shall be entitled to an allowance for his subsistence at the rate of eight annas per diem.

The Magistrate of Police or Justice, before whom any vagrant is taken under section seven, may, if he think fit, order the vagrant to receive a similar allowance while he is seeking employment.

The local Government shall cause such allowance to be paid out of such funds at its disposal and in such manner as it may from time to time direct.

Power to give certificates.

9. Any Magistrate of Police or Justice of the Peace exercising powers as aforesaid may, on being satisfied that any person of European extraction is not likely to become a vagrant, give such person a certificate under his hand stating that for a certain time (mentioning it) not exceeding six months from the date of the certificate, and within certain limits (mentioning them), nothing in sections four, five, six, and seven shall apply to the holder of such certificate; and thereupon (subject to the provisions contained in sections twenty-three and twenty-four) nothing in sections four, five, six, and seven shall apply to such person for such time and within such limits as aforesaid.

Every such certificate shall be in the form set forth in the first schedule to this Act annexed, or as near thereto as circumstances will admit.

Form of certificate.

Power to invest certain officials with jurisdiction of Justices under sections 5, 7, 8, and 9.

10. The local Government may from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, invest any Justice of the Peace, District Superintendent of Police, or Assistant District Superintendent of Police, with the jurisdiction and powers conferred by this Part on a Justice of the Peace exercising powers as aforesaid.

PART III.

GOVERNMENT WORKHOUSES.

Provision of Government workhouses.

11. The local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, may provide workhouses with their necessary furniture and establishment, at such places as it may think proper, for the temporary reception of vagrants, or may, by writing under the hand of a Secretary to such Government, certify any building, or part of a building, not provided as a workhouse under the former part of this section, to be fit for a workhouse for the purposes of this Act. Every such certificate shall be published in the local official Gazette, and thereupon such building or part of a building shall, until the local Government otherwise orders, be deemed a Government workhouse under this Act.

Scale of diet.

The local Government shall allow the same scale of diet for the support of vagrants received in such workhouses as is for the time being allowed for Europeans confined in the local prisons or penitentiaries.

Superintendence of workhouses.

12. Every such workhouse shall be under the immediate charge of a governor, who shall be appointed, and may be suspended or removed, by the local Government.

Every such governor shall, if the local Government think fit, be subject to the orders of a Committee of Management appointed from time to time by such Government, or, in the absence of a Committee, to the orders of such officer as the local Government from time to time appoints in this behalf.

Search of vagrants.

13. Every such governor may order that any vagrant admitted to the workhouse under his charge shall be searched, and that the vagrant's bundles, packages, and other effects shall be inspected, and may direct that any money then found with or on the vagrant, shall be applied (subject to the orders of the local Government) towards the expense of carrying this Act into execution, and may order that all or any of the said effects shall be sold, and that the produce of the sale be applied as aforesaid, but subject to the like orders.

Discipline.

14. Vagrants admitted to workhouses under this Act shall be subject to such rules of management and discipline as may from time to time be prescribed by the local Government with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council.

Any governor of a workhouse (if authorised in this behalf by the local Government) may punish any vagrant who knowingly disobeys or neglects any such rule—

(a) by imprisoning him in solitary confinement for any time not exceeding seven days,

(c) by hard labour for any time not exceeding seven days.

And any such vagrant shall also, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punishable with rigorous imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months.

Refusal to accept employment.

15. The governor and the Committee of Management (if any) of every such workhouse shall use his and their best endeavours to obtain outside the workhouse suitable employment for the vagrants admitted thereto.

When such employment is obtained, any such vagrant refusing or neglecting to avail himself thereof, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punishable with rigorous imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month.

PART IV.

REMOVAL FROM INDIA.

16. If after the lapse of a reasonable time no suitable employment is obtainable for any such vagrant, the local Government may either (when he has entered into such agreement as hereinafter mentioned) cause him to be removed from British India in manner hereinafter provided, the cost of such removal being paid by Government;

Removal of vagrants.

Cost of removal.

or it may cause sections twenty-three and thirty to be read to him and may then release him.

17. Any vagrant or other person of European extraction may enter into an agreement in writing with the Secretary of State for India in Council, binding himself—

Agreements with vagrants.

(a) to proceed to such port in British India as shall be mentioned in the agreement;

(b) there to embark on board such ship and at such time as is directed by an officer appointed in this behalf by the local Government of the territories in which such port is situate, for the purpose of being removed from India at the expense of the said Secretary of State in Council,

(c) to remain on board such ship until she has arrived at her port of destination; and

(d) not to return to India until five years have elapsed from the date of such embarkation.

Every such agreement may be on unstamped paper, and shall be in the form set forth in the second schedule to this Act annexed, or as near thereto as circumstances admit.

Form of agreement.

18. The local Government of the territories in which the said port is situate, may enter into such contracts for conveyance or otherwise, and perform such other acts as may be necessary to carry out such agreement on the part of the said Secretary of State in Council.

Power to perform agreement.

PART V.

PENALTIES.

19. Any person refusing or failing to accompany a Police officer to, or to appear before, a Magistrate of Police or Justice of the Peace, for the purpose of preliminary inquiry, when required so to do under section four, shall be punishable, whether he be or be not an European British subject, on conviction before a Magistrate with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month, or with fine, or with both.

Refusal to go before Magistrate.

And any person who, when required under section four to accompany a Police officer to, or to appear before, a Magistrate of Police or Justice of the Peace, commits an offence punishable under section three hundred and fifty-three of the Indian Penal Code, may, whether he be or be not an European British subject, be tried by a Magistrate for such offence.

Assaulting Police.

20. Any vagrant who escapes from the Police while committed to their charge under the orders specified in sections five and six,

Escaping from Police.

or who leaves a workhouse under this Act, without permission from the governor,

Quitting workhouse without leave.

or who having with such permission left a workhouse for a limited time or a specified purpose, fails to return on the expiration of such time or when such purpose has been accomplished or proves to be impracticable,

Failing to return to workhouse.

shall for every such offence be punishable, on conviction before a Magistrate, with rigorous imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years.

21. Any person entering into an agreement under section seventeen, and failing to proceed in pursuance thereof to the port therein mentioned,

Failing to proceed to port of embarkation.

or refusing to embark when directed so to do under the same section,

Refusing to go on board ship.

or escaping from the ship in which he has so embarked before she has reached her port of destination,

Escaping from ship.

shall for every such offence be punishable, whether he be or be not an European British subject, on conviction before a Magistrate, with rigorous imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months.

22. Any person returning to India within five years of the date of his embarkation, pursuant to any agreement entered into under section seventeen, unless specially permitted so to do by the Secretary of State for India, shall for every such offence be punishable, whether he be or be not an European British subject, on conviction before a Magistrate, with rigorous imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years.

Returning to India.

23. Any person of European extraction found asking for alms when he has sufficient means of subsistence,

Begging.

or asking for alms in a threatening or insolent manner, or continuing to ask for alms of any person after he has been required to desist, shall be punishable, whether he be or be not an European British subject, on conviction before a Magistrate, with rigorous imprisonment for a term not exceeding one month for the first offence, two months for the second, and three months for any subsequent offence.

24. Every person imprisoned under sections nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, or twenty-three, shall, at the end of his term of imprisonment, be placed before the nearest Magistrate of Police or Justice of the Peace exercising powers as aforesaid, who shall, if he think fit, forthwith deal with him in the manner prescribed by sections five and six.

Procedure on close of imprisonment.

The order of transmission shall certify the fact of the previous conviction.

Penalty on shipmaster bringing European convicts to India.

25. Every master of a ship landing or allowing to land in any part of British India any person of European extraction who has been convicted in any other part of Her Majesty's dominions of felony, or of an offence which, if committed in England, would be felony, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable, for every such person so landed or allowed to land, to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees and not less than one hundred rupees, and, in default of payment, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two months, unless the defendant satisfy the Magistrate by evidence (which the defendant is hereby declared competent to give), that he had made due inquiry as to the person so landed, or allowed to land, and that he had no reason to believe that such person had been convicted as aforesaid.

Power to exempt certain shipmasters.

The Governor-General in Council may from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, exempt from the operation of the former part of this section the masters of any class of ships, on such terms as to the Governor-General in Council seem fit, and either in respect of all or of any of the persons on board such ships.

The Governor-General in Council may in like manner revoke any exemption made under this section.

Recovery of fines.

26. All fines imposed under this Act may be recovered, if for offences committed outside the local limits of the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, in the manner prescribed by the Code of Criminal Procedure, and if for offences committed within those limits, in the manner prescribed by any Act regulating the Police of such towns in force for the time being.

Payment of fine.

All fines recovered under this Act shall be paid to the credit of the Government of India, or as the Governor-General in Council from time to time directs.

Prosecutions.

27. All prosecutions under this Act may be instituted and conducted by such officer as the local Government from time to time appoints in this behalf.

Limits of jurisdiction.

28. In imposing penalties under this Part and Part III of this Act, no person shall exceed the limits of jurisdiction prescribed for him by the Code of Criminal Procedure in the case of offenders not being European British subjects.

Validity of proceedings where Magistrate is not the nearest.

29. No proceeding under this Act shall be deemed invalid by reason only that the Magistrate of Police or Justice, before whom a person, apparently a vagrant, was required to appear, or before whom a person was placed under section twenty-four, was not the nearest.

PART VI.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Deprivation of privileges of European British subjects under Criminal Procedure Code.

30. Any European British subject who, upon the summary inquiry mentioned in section five, has been determined to be a vagrant, or who has been convicted under section twenty-two or section twenty-three, shall, so long as he remains in India, be subject, beyond the limits of the said towns, to the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure (other than those contained in Chapter XXXVIII of the same Code) applicable to an European not being a British subject.

If from any cause he is committed or held to bail by a Justice of the Peace to take his trial before a High Court, he shall not be at liberty to object to the jurisdiction of such Justice of the Peace or High Court on the ground of anything contained in the former part of this section.

An office copy of the declaration recorded under section five shall be primâ facie evidence that the European British subject named therein has been, upon such inquiry, determined to be a vagrant.

Liability of importers of Europeans or employers, of soldiers becoming vagrants.

31. Whenever any person of European extraction lands in India, or being a Non-Commissioned Officer or Soldier in Her Majesty's Army, leaves that Army in India, under an engagement to serve any other person, or any Company, Association, or body of persons in any capacity, and whenever a sailor of European extraction, not being a British subject, is discharged from his ship in any British Indian port, and becomes chargeable to the State as a vagrant within one year after his arrival in India or leaving the Army, or discharge from his ship, as the case may be, then the person, or Company, Association, or Body, to serve whom he has so landed in India or left the Amry, or, in the case of a sailor, the person who is at the date of the discharge the owner or agent of the ship from which the sailor has been so discharged, shall be liable to pay to the Government the cost of his removal under this Act, and all other charges incurred by the State in consequence of his becoming a vagrant.

Recovery of charges.

Such costs and charges shall be recoverable by suit as if an express agreement to repay them had been entered into with the Secretary of State for India in Council, by the person, Company, Association, Body, owner, or agent chargeable.

Liability of consignee in case of Europeans who arrive in charge of animals and become vagrants.

32. When any person of European extraction lands in India, being or having been during his passage to India, or from one Indian port to another, in charge of, or in attendance upon, any animal, and becomes chargeable to the State as a vagrant within one year after his arrival in India, then the consignee of such animal,

or the agents in India for the sale of such animal, or, if such consignee or agent cannot be found, the agent to whom the ship in which such animal arrived in India was consigned, shall be liable to pay to the Government the cost of such person's removal under this Act, and all other charges incurred by the State in consequence of his becoming a vagrant.

Any such consignee or agent shall be entitled to charge the consignor or principal for any payment to the Government under this section.

"Consignee" defined.

For the purposes of this section 'consignee' includes any person who undertakes to dispose of such animal for the benefit to the consignor, and

'Agent' includes any person who undertakes the agency of such ship, though it may not have been consigned to him.

"Agent" defined.

33. The powers and duties conferred and imposed by sections sixteen and eighteen, on a local Government, may be exercised and performed by such class of officers as the local Government from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, appoints in this behalf.

Exercise of powers conferred on local Government.

34. The powers and duties conferred and imposed by this Act on Magistrates, Justices of the Peace exercising the powers of a Magistrate of the first class, and Police officers, respectively, may, in places beyond the limits of British India, be exercised and performed by such persons respectively as the Governor-General in Council from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoints in this behalf.

Exercise in Native State of powers conferred on Magistrates, Justices, and Police.

35. The Governor-General in Council may from time to time make rules, consistent with this Act, for the guidance of officers in matters connected with its enforcement.

Power to make rules for guidance of officers.

All such rules shall be published in the Gazette of India, and shall thereupon have the force of law.

THE FIRST SCHEDULE.

(See Section 9.)

WHEREAS E. F. of , a person of European extraction and holder of this certificate, has appeared before me and satisfied me that he is not likely to become a vagrant within the meaning of the European Vagrancy Act, 1873, THESE ARE TO CERTIFY that for the space of months from the date hereof and within the Province [or District] of nothing in sections four, five, six, and seven of the same Act shall be deemed to apply to him, unless he is found asking for alms when he has sufficient means of subsistence, or asking for alms in a threatening or insolent manner, or continuing to ask for alms of any person after he has been required to desist: IN ANY OF WHICH CASES he shall be liable to be imprisoned and otherwise dealt with as provided in sections twenty-three and twenty-four of the said Act.

(Signed) G. H.

Dated this day of 18 .

Magistrate of Police for the Town of or Justice of the Peace for exercising the full power of a Magistrate.

THE SECOND SCHEDULE.

(See Section 17.)

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT made this day of 18 BETWEEN the Secretary of State for India in Council of the one part and C. D. of, &c., [the vagrant] of the other part: Each of the parties hereto (so far as relates to the acts on his own part to be performed) hereby agrees with the other of them as follows:—

1. The said C. D. shall proceed forthwith to the port of [the port of embarkation.]

2. The said C. D. shall there embark on board such ship and at such time as an officer appointed in this behalf by the Local Government shall direct.

3. The said C. D. shall remain on board such ship until she shall have arrived at her port of destination.

4. The said C. D. shall not return to India until five years shall have elapsed from the date of such embarkation, unless specially permitted so to return by the said Secretary of State.

5. The said Secretary of State in Council shall defray the cost of the transit of the said C. D. to the said port, and of his lodging and subsistence during such transit and during his detention (if any) at the same port, and shall contract with the owner of the said ship, or his agent, for the passage of the said C. D. on board the said ship, and for his subsistence during the voyage for which he shall embark as aforesaid.

In witness whereof A. B. (by order of the Governor-General of India in Council [or the Governor of in Council, or the Lieutenant-Governor of , or the Chief Commissioner of], on behalf of the said Secretary of State in Council), and the said C. D. have hereunto set their hands the day and year first above written.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The primary object of this Bill is to make three amendments in the European Vagrancy Act (XXI of 1869) first, to enable the governors of workhouses to punish vagrants disobeying rules by solitary confinement, by reduction of diet, or by hard labor; secondly, to provide a punishment for vagrants who, with the governor's permission, leave a workhouse for a limited time, or a specified purpose, but fail to return on the expiration of such time, or when such purpose has been accomplished or proves impracticable; and thirdly, to render the owners and agents of ships from which foreign European sailors are discharged in British Indian ports, liable in case such sailors become vagrants.

These changes have been recommended by the Local Governments which have had most experience in the working of the Act.

The opportunity has been taken to amend section one of Act XXVIII of 1871, which does not provide for the case of an Australian who lands in India having been in charge of horses, not "during his passage to India," but during his passage from one port in British India to another.

As the Vagrancy Act has been already amended, it is thought preferable to adopt the method of repealing and re-enacting with the necessary modifications, rather than to add a third Act to the two in which the law on the subject is now contained.

NOTIFICATION.

The 8th September 1873.—The following additional rules for the guidance of officers in matters connected with the enforcement of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, have been sanctioned by the Governor-General of India in Council, and are published for general information, in conformity with Section 59 of the Act :—

Rule IX.—On the date on which payment of compensation in any case may become due under Section 41 of the Act, the Collector shall tender the amount to such of the persons entitled to receive it as may be present at his office in person or by agent duly authorized to receive the same. Should any such person be absent, and have no authorized agent at the Collector's Court, the Collector shall serve a notice upon him calling upon him to attend in person or by agent, within one week of his receipt of the notice, to receive the amount due to him, and warning him that on failure to appear the money will be invested in Government securities, and that no interest will be allowed in excess of the interest payable on such securities. Should such person neglect to appear within the time specified, the Collector shall, on being satisfied of the due service of the notice, invest the amount of the compensation money due to such person in Government securities, and hold the same in deposit until the amount shall be applied for by the person entitled to it.

On the application of such person, the Collector shall make over the Government securities to him, or shall sell the securities and make over the amount realized to him, and at the same time pay to him any cash balance which has been too small for investment, together with interest on such balance calculated at four per cent.

The Collector shall follow the same course in regard to any compensation money which may be refused by a person entitled to receive it, provided that such investment shall be limited to even sums of Rs. 500 or multiples of Rs. 500. The amount of compensation, if less than Rs. 500, and any fractional parts, if the compensation is above that sum, shall be held by the Collector in deposit bearing interest at four per cent.

Rule X.—From and after the date of investment of compensation money under the last preceding rule, no interest on the amount so invested shall be allowed in addition to that due on the said securities.

Rule XI.—Similarly, when a Collector has referred a case to the Civil Court under Sections 15, 38, or 43 of the Act, he shall at once invest the amount of compensation awarded by him in Government securities. In all cases of reference under Section 38, and in cases of reference under Sections 15 or 43, in which the Collector's award shall be confirmed by the Court, no interest on the amount so invested shall be allowed in addition to that due on the investments. Whenever, in a case of reference under Sections 15 or 43, a higher sum than was awarded by the Collector shall be awarded by the Court, the Collector shall pay to the persons entitled to receive it the difference between the amount of interest which may have accumulated on the Government securities from the date of investment and the amount of interest calculated at six per cent. under Section 42 of the Act from the date of the taking possession of the land.

No. 8.—Simla, the 26th August 1873.—Notification.—The following Statute is published for general information :—

36 VICTORIA, CHAPTER 32.

An Act to enable the Secretary of State in Council of India to raise Money in the United Kingdom for the Service of the Government of India. [16th June 1873.]

WHEREAS the Security Fund of the India Company created by Act third and fourth William Fourth, chapter eighty-five, is insufficent to redeem or commute the capital stock of the East India Company, and it is expedient that the Secretary of State in Council of India should be enabled to raise money in the United Kingdom on the credit of the revenues of India, in order to redeem or commute such capital stock, and also, to a limited amount, for temporary purposes :

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :—

Power to the Secretary of State in Council of India to raise any sums not exceeding £8,000,000.

1. It shall be lawful for the Secretary of State in Council of India, at any time or times, to raise in the United Kingdom for the service of the Government of India, such sum or sums of money not exceeding in the whole six millions of pounds sterling, as may be requisite to effect such redemption or commutation, such sum or sums to be raised by the creation and issue of bonds or debentures, or capital stock bearing interest, or annuities, or partly by one of such modes and partly by another or others, and also to raise any further sum or sums of money not exceeding two millions of pounds sterling due at any one time, such last-mentioned sum or sums to be raised by the creation and issue of bonds and debentures, but not of capital stock bearing interest, or of annuities.

Provided always, that, at the end of each of the half-years ending on the thirty-first day of March and thirtieth day of September in every year, the Secretary of State in Council shall prepare or cause to be prepared a return of all loans raised in England under the provisions of this Act or of any other Acts, chargeable on the revenues of India outstanding at the commencement of each half-year, with the rates of interest payable thereon, and the date of the termination of each loan, the debt incurred during the half-year, the moneys raised thereby during the half-year, the loans paid off or discharged during the half-year, and the loans outstanding at the close of the half-year, stating, so far as the public convenience will allow, the purpose or service for which moneys have been raised during the half-year; and that a similar return shall also be prepared of all loans raised in India; that such returns shall be presented to both Houses of Parliament within fifteen days after the expiration of the said half-yearly periods as regards the loans raised in England, and within three months as regards the loans raised in India, if Parliament be then sitting, or if not sitting, then within one week after Parliament shall be next assembled.

Bonds may be issued under the hands of two Members of the Council, countersigned by Secretary of State.

2. All bonds issued under the authority of this Act may be issued under the hands of two Members of the Council of India, and countersigned by the Secretary of State for India, or one of his Under-Secretaries, or his Assistant Under-Secretary, and shall be for such respective amounts, payable after such notice, and at such rate or rates of interest as the said Secretary of State in Council may think fit.

Debentures may be issued.

3. All debentures issued under the authority of this Act may be issued under the hands of two Members of the Council, and countersigned as aforesaid, for such respective amounts, and at such rate or rates of interest, as the Secretary of State in Council may think fit, and shall be issued at or for such prices and on such terms as may be determined by the Secretary of State in Council.

As to payment of principal and interest on debentures.

4. All debentures issued under the authority of this Act shall be paid off at par at a time or times to be mentioned in such debentures respectively; and the interest on all such debentures shall be paid half-yearly on such days as shall be mentioned therein; and the principal moneys and interest secured by such debentures or, by any debentures issued by the Secretary of State in Council of India under the authority of former Acts, shall be payable either at the treasury of the Secretary of State in Council in London or at the Bank of England.

Debentures transferable by delivery.

Coupons by delivery.

5. All or any number of the debentures issued under the authority of this Act, and all right to and in respect of the principal and interest moneys secured thereby, shall be transferable by the delivery of such debentures; and the coupons for interest annexed to any debenture issued under the authority of this Act shall also pass by delivery.

Capital stock and annuities may be created and issued.

6. Any capital stock created under the authority of this Act shall bear such a rate of interest, and any annuities to be created under the authority of this Act shall be at such rate per centum per annum, as the Secretary of State in Council may think fit; and such capital stock and such annuities may be issued on such terms as may be determined by the Secretary of State in Council; and any such capital stock may bear interest during such period, and be paid off at par at such time, as the Secretary of State in Council may prescribe previously to the issue of such capital stock; and such annuities may be terminable at such period as the Secretary of State in Council may prescribe previously to the issue of such annuities.

Transfer books of such capital stock and annuities to be kept.

7. In case of the creation and issue of any such capital stock or of any such annuities, there shall be kept, either at the office of the Secretary of State in Council in London or at the Bank of England, books wherein entries shall be made of the said capital stock and annuities respectively, and wherein all assignments or transfers of the same respectively, or any part thereof respectively, shall be entered and registered, and shall be signed by the parties making such assignments or transfers, or, if such parties be absent, by his, her, or their attorney or attorneys thereunto lawfully authorised by writing under his, her, or their hands and seals, to be attested by two or more credible witnesses; and the person or persons to whom such transfer or transfers shall be made may respectively underwrite his, her, or their acceptance thereof; and no other mode of assigning or transferring the said capital stock or the said annuities, or any part thereof respectively, or any interest therein respectively, shall be good and available in law, and no stamp duties whatsoever shall be charged on the said transfers or any of them.

Annuities deemed personal estate.

8. All annuities created and issued under the authority of this Act shall be deemed and taken to be personal and not real estate, and shall go to the executors, or administrators of the person or persons dying possessed thereof, interested therein, or entitled thereto, and not to the heir-at-law, nor be liable to any foreign attachment by the custom of London, or otherwise.

9. The whole amount of the principal moneys to be charged on the revenues of India under this Act shall not exceed eight millions, nor shall it be lawful to increase under this Act the permanent debt in England, secured on the revenues of India, beyond six millions or such lesser sum as may be required to redeem or commute the said capital stock.

The whole amount charged on revenue of India not to exceed £8,000,000.

10. Upon or for the repayment of any principal money secured under the authority of this Act, the Secretary of State in Council may at any time borrow or raise, by all or any of the modes aforesaid, all or any part of the amount of principal money repaid or to be repaid, and so from time to time as all or any part of any principal money under this Act may require to be repaid, but the amount to be charged upon the revenues of India shall not in any case exceed the principal money required to be repaid.

Power to raise money for payment of principal money.

11. All bonds and debentures to be issued under this Act, and the principal moneys and interest thereby secured, and all capital stock to be issued under this Act, and the interest thereon, and all annuities to be issued under this Act, shall be charged on and payable out of the revenues of India, in like manner as other liabilities incurred on account of the Government of the said territories.

Securities, &c., to be charged on revenues of India.

12. The provisions contained in section four of the Act of the session holden in the fifth and sixth years of King William the Fourth, chapter sixty-four, with respect to the composition and agreement for the payment by the East India Company of an annual sum in lieu of stamp duties on their bonds, and the exemption of their bonds from stamp duties, shall be applicable with respect to the bonds and debentures to be issued under the authority of this Act as if such provisions were here repeated and re-enacted with reference thereto.

Provisions as to compositions for stamp duties on India bonds extended to bonds, &c., under this Act.

13. All provisions now in force in any wise relating to the offence of forging or altering, or offering, uttering, disposing of, or putting off, knowing the same to be forged or altered, any East India bond, with intent to defraud, shall extend and be applicable to and in respect of any debenture issued under the authority of this Act, as well as to and in respect of any bond issued under the same authority.

Forgery of debentures to be punishable as forgery of East India bonds.

14. Provided always, that after this Act shall have come into operation, the said Secretary of State in Council shall, on or before the first day of May in each year, prepare or cause to be prepared a return of all moneys raised on loan under the provisions of this Act and of the Acts of the twenty-first Victoria, chapter three, twenty-second Victoria, chapter eleven, twenty-second and twenty-third Victoria, chapter thirty-nine, twenty-third and twenty-fourth Victoria, chapter one hundred and thirty, twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth Victoria, chapter twenty-five, and thirty-second and thirty-third Victoria, chapter one hundred and six; also a return of all stocks, loans, debts, and liabilities then chargeable on the revenues of India, at home and abroad, up to the latest period of time to which such return can be made out, which return shall show, under the various heads of loans, debts, and liabilities, the amounts outstanding at the beginning of the last year included therein, the loans, debts, and liabilities raised or incurred within that year, the amounts paid of or discharged during that year, and the amounts under the various heads remaining at the end of that year, showing the loans, debts, and liabilities in England and India, separately and combined; and such return shall also show the purposes generally for which the moneys raised during that year have been applied or are intended to be applied; that all such returns shall be presented to both Houses of Parliament within the first fourteen days during which Parliament may be sitting next after the first day of May in each year, and the provisions of any of the said Acts by which such returns are directed to be made at certain dates therein specified are, so far as regards such dates, hereby repealed.

Returns to be annually prepared of moneys raised on loan, &c., and presented to Parliament.

15. This Act shall not prejudice or affect any power of raising or borrowing money vested in the said Secretary of State in Council at the time of passing thereof.

Saving powers of the Secretary of State in Council.

16. Any capital stock created under this Act shall be deemed to be East India stock, within the Act twenty-second and twenty-third Victoria, chapter thirty-five, section thirty-two, unless and until Parliament shall otherwise provide; any capital stock created under this Act or under the Act of the thirty-second and thirty-third Victoria, chapter one hundred and six, shall be deemed to be and shall mean India stock within the Act of the twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh Victoria, chapter seventy-three, anything in the said last-mentioned Act to the contrary notwithstanding.

Stock created hereunder to be deemed East India stock.

Simla, the 25th August 1873.

No. $\frac{44}{1747-58}$.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, in the Home Department.

RESOLUTION.—The Resolution of Home Department, 11th September 1871, accepted the conclusion, established by reports from all parts of India, that the loss of human life from wild animals and venomous snakes is certainly enormous. And the Governor-General in Council desired that every means should be taken for the extirpation of destructive animals in the neighbourhood of human habitation ; the system of paying rewards for killing beasts of prey and venomous snakes being understood to be the most effectual method which the Government could employ. No limit was set to the amount of reward which might be given for killing wild beasts, but with regard to snakes the Local Governments were directed to make experiment, and to report after two years.

2. His Excellency the Governor-General in Council now requests that a report may be prepared and sent up by each Local Government and Administration, showing the measures that have been taken in accordance with the Resolution of 1871, and the effect, so far as it can be ascertained, of those measures. The experience of the past two years ought to throw some light upon the practical difficulties which have hitherto hindered a more rapid extermination of dangerous animals, wherever the attempt has been made in earnest. His Excelleney in Council will be glad to learn that no pains are spared to do what can be done by the local executive ; and His Excellency wishes also to be informed whether any additional orders by the Government of India are thought necessary.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the several Local Governments and Administrations, also to the Foreign Department, with the enquiry whether that Department is disposed to take steps for obtaining the necessary co-operation of Native States with any exertions that may be made in British India for destruction of wild beasts.

The following resolution, passed at an official meeting of the East Indian Railway, regarding a reduction in the carriage of rhea fibre, is published for general information :—

Office Memo. No. 1325G-R, dated Simla, the 31st July 1873.

From—LIEUT.-COL. K. C. PYE, Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of India, Public Works Dept.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Dept. of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce.

THE undersigned is directed to forward for information the accompanying copy of Resolution No. 473, passed at the official meeting of the East Indian Railway, No. 30 of 1873, on the subject of a reduction in the rate of carriage of rhea fibre.

Extract from Official Meeting No. 30, East Indian Railway, held on the 19*th June* 1873.

SUBMITTED the following extract from minutes of Agency Meeting No. 24, held on 17th instant :—

"Submitted Traffic Manager's No. 4451 of 9th instant, and enclosures.

"Lieutenant-Colonel Thelwall, of Mussoorie, inquired of the Traffic Manager if the Railway Company would be prepared to convey rhea fibre, when pressed, at the same rates as jute, hemp, &c., viz. 1st class, and stated that the manufacturers in England at present would only purchase the fibre in large quantities when in a very raw state, and that the fibre is therefore prepared of three qualities, the lowest being worth from £10 to £14 per ton in London, the second quality being worth from £15 to £20 per ton, and the first from £25 to £30 per ton, but that the second and third qualities are most in demand and produced at present. Further, that the expenses of cultivating and manufacturing, &c., &c., are very heavy, and unless the planters can secure their produce being carried to the seaports at a rate which will leave them some margin for profit, it would be useless their extending the cultivation on a large scale; that the produce of this fibre in the North-Western Provinces might be unlimited, should it be proved that it can be produced as a remunerative crop, the great obstacle now existing to its extensive development being the high rates of railway freight now ruling. The Traffic Manager replied that he did not see his way at present to recommend the Agency to reduce the rate as requested; that the article was admittedly a valuable one, and the higher class fibres could easily bear the higher rates; that it does not give the Company a full load for their wagons in weight; that he would be glad to do all he could to encourage a remunerative traffic, but that the amount the Company would earn at the reduced rate would not be sufficient to warrant the reduction; that after hearing again from Colonel Thelwall he would be glad to refer the matter to the Agency if he wished it, but that he could not recommend them to agree to his proposal or to bind the Company to so low a rate until something more was known of the traffic.

"Colonel Twelwall explained that the rhea was pressed into bales of 320lb each, covered with gunny and fastened with iron ties; that 7 bales go to the ton; and that the area occupied by a ton would be from 52 to 56 cubic feet; that the fibre in a rough state is what the London firms require, and that the high rate of freight at present is one of the great difficulties; that in a few years the cultivation of rhea will probably increase to an enormous extent if proper encouragement is given to induce its extension.

"The Traffic Manager of the Delhi Railway, to whom a similar representation was made by Colonel Thelwall, agreed with Mr. Batchelor that an alteration of rate at present was not desirable.

"At Colonel Thelwall's desire the matter has been placed before the Agency for decision.

"In the Agency's opinion rhea screwed to 8 feet per bale of 320lb may fairly be called fully screwed, and would give a full load.

"As regards value, it is sold by 'ton' and not per 'lb,' and the lowest quality is not much above jute, less than one-fourth that of cotton."

"No. 2377.—Resolved, that as this is a new trade which requires development, and as its conveyance will extend over the entire length of the line, the Agency are prepared to reduce to 1st class all rhea fibre screwed to 8 feet per bale of 300lb, but would let half-screwed bales stand as at present, viz. 2nd class."

With reference to Resolution No. 474 of Official Meeting No. 35 of 1872—

473.—Resolved, that the Resolution of the Agency be recorded, the reduced rate to take effect from 1st August next.

HIGH COURT.
ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.
Civil.

In order to the better arrangement of business and the obtaining of better sales when property is sold by Civil Courts in execution of decree, the Court is pleased to direct that every District Judge shall appoint a certain fixed day in each month on which, at an hour to be named, all sales of immovable property in execution of decrees in his own Court and in the inferior Courts at the Sudder Station shall be held. No sale of immovable property shall take place except on such fixed date or on the next open day (to which any sale not completed on the said fixed date may be adjourned). The notification of sale prescribed by Section 249, Code of Civil Procedure, shall be worded in accordance herewith, and the District Judge shall cause to be published in all Courts at the Sudder Station and at the Collector's Office, not less than 14 days before the date of sale, a list of such property to be sold.

2. The sale shall commence at the hour appointed, and in some suitable part of the Court-house, and the lots shall be sold strictly according to such list by the Nazir of the District Court. The sales are to be conducted in a business-like way. Without undue haste, but not to be unduly protracted.

3. The Judge shall also fix, on the report of the Moonsiffs who are not stationed at head-quarters, a certain day or days for the sale of immovable property, under similar conditions, at the Court of each Moonsiff, and the sales shall take place in each Court as above directed mutatis mutandis.

4. When the sale day in any case falls on a Sunday or other close holiday, the sale shall take place on the first open day thereafter.

By order of the High Court,
W. M. SOUTTAR,
Registrar.

RULES FOR THE EXAMINATION OF CANDIDATES FOR SURVEY TEACHERSHIPS.

1. AN examination of candidates for certificates of qualification for employment as survey teachers will be held at the Presidency College, and at such other stations as the Director of Public Instruction may appoint, on the first Monday in February and August.

2. Candidates desirous of appearing at the examination must give notice to the Principal of the Presidency College of their intention one month before the date fixed for the examination, and they must state at the same time in what language they wish to be examined.

3. Each candidate for examination in English must forward with his application a fee of Rs. 4; and each candidate for examination in a vernacular language must forward with his application a fee of Rs. 2.

4. A paper of questions will be given in each of the following subjects:—

I. Surveying.—Including surveying by chain only, compass and chain, and by the plane table.

II. Mensuration—Of lines, surfaces, and solids.

III. Drawing.—Geometrical construction of figures, scales, plans, elevations, and sections of simple buildings or bridges.

Each candidate will also be required to make a survey of a piece of ground to be selected by the officer in charge of the examination, or by some person or persons appointed for the purpose by the Commissioner of the Division. This survey should be executed with the chain and compass, and should be of such extent as to occupy not less than three hours, during which time the persons in charge of this part of the examination should be present on the ground.

The field-book on the completion of the survey will be given to the officer in charge of the examination, and it will be plotted in his presence: as soon as the work of plotting is finished, the field-book and plan will be at once despatched to the Principal of the Presidency College.

5. The paper examination will take place on the same day all over Bengal. It is not necessary that the surveys should take place at the time of the paper examination; but they ought not to be delayed more than a month after the paper examination.

6. Full marks for each of the papers will be 100, and for the practical surveying 200; and in order to pass, a candidate must obtain half marks in each branch.

FORT WILLIAM, the 20th August 1873. W. S. ATKINSON, Director of Public Instruction.

EDUCATIONAL NOTICE.

IN the Burdwan Division the 18th and 19th of September are fixed for the preliminary examination of all candidates for junior scholarships who wish to qualify in Physical Geography, Surveying, and Drawing.

The following rules are issued in accordance with paragraph 11 of the Junior Scholarship Rules, for the guidance of those whom they may concern:—

1. Candidates from schools in the Districts of Hooghly, Howrah, and Burdwan, will present themselves for examination at the Hooghly College. Candidates from schools in the districts of Midnapore, Beerbhoom, and Banccorah, will present themselves for examination at the Midnapore High School, the zillah schools of Bancoorah and Beerbhoom, respectively.

2. The Vice-President of each District Committee is requested to appoint a special committee of not less than three members of the local committee to hold the examination on the days fixed as above. The Secretary to the District Committee should, if possible, be a member of the special committee.

3. The Head-master of each school which sends a candidate to the examination should despatch to the address of J. R. Swindon, Esq., Professor of Engineering, Hooghly College, in a registered cover, well secured and sealed, specimens of each candidate's survey work and drawing, so as to reach its address on or before the 18th of September. Specimens submitted after that date will not be examined.

4. Two sheets of drawing and specimens of surveying with compass and field book, as well as with compass and plane table, must be submitted. Each sheet must be attested by the signature of the candidate and the Survey Master under whom he has studied. To each set of specimens will be attached a certificate in the following form:—

This is to certify that the specimens of Drawing and Surveying, signed by (here enter the name of candidate), of the (here give name and description of school) school, were prepared by him in school hours under the supervision and without the aid of the Survey Master.

Date———— (Sd.)———————

Head-Master.

5. The Head-master of each school should give a certificate to each candidate sent up by him, certifying that he has paid the prescribed fee, and that he has studied for twelve months in the school. Candidates presenting themselves without a certificate to this effect will not be admitted to the examination.

6. On each day of examination the question papers will be distributed at 11 A.M. Any candidate presenting himself more than ten minutes late will not be admitted. The answers of each candidate to each paper of questions must be finished and given in within three hours.
